The Chairman: In the first place, let me thank both the gentlemen who have spoken for their kind words of appreciation. We shall endeavor to arrange the report in a form which will, perhaps, be more acceptable. It has always been a verbatim report, but I think it might be improved upon, as regards the shape in which we send it out. As regards the second question—the method of farming—I am very glad that Mr. Clark replied to that question, because farming is not my trade. When I have been myself on the prairies I have constantly spoken to the farmers on the subject Mr. Powell introduced to our notice, and, so far as I have been able to collate evidence, I should say that the farmers are fully alive to the importance of not exhausting the soil, recognizing that the virgin soil is extremely fertile, it is, I should say, their prime object to keep it so, and I believe it would be correct to say that they look largely to the introduction of mixed farming for this purpose. Mixed farming as on the increase in Central Canada—considerably on the increase—and I think it is to mixed farming that they look. With regard to the question, to which Mr. Powell has drawn my attention on a previous occasion, the result will be that it will be paid off, on presentation, on the due date. It stands at 90, and, therefore, there will be a surplus to come to the credit of the investment account at a later date. As regards the charter, we are fully alive to the extreme importance of the renewal of the charter, but it would not be expedient for us to take any steps towards that end until the Bank Act in which the Canadian Mr. Clark has referred to, meeting that the Bank Act, which is now up for revision and renewal in Canada, will be passed without any material change. When that is done will be the time for us to approach the Treasury for a renewal of the charter, but it would not be expedient in our opinion to do so before that, but, Mr. Powell, you may rest assured we fully appreciate the importance of it, and that it is constantly before us.

The resolution was carried unanimously.

The Chairman: The directors who retire by rotation are Mr. J. H. Brodie, whose re-election has been proposed by Mr. J. H. Mayne-Campbell, just as Mr. Mayne-Campbell is, unfortunately, absent, I will propose him in his place; Mr. Glyn, I have pleasure in proposing myself, and Mr. F. Lubbock is proposed by Mr. Kendall.

These names were submitted individually to the meeting, and approved.

The Chairman—The next business is the election of the auditors.

Mr. D. Hanbey: I will propose their re-election. This is the first meeting of the company which I have attended, but I cannot quite agree with my friend there who regretted that there were not more members present, because I think it shows the absolute confidence of the proprietors in the bank. When I see they seem rather astonished to know I am a shareholder at all. We appear to have arrived at a prosperous state and I hope it will so continue.

Mr. Powell: As no names have been mentioned I will second the appointment of Mr. George Sneath and Mr. Nicholas F. Waterhouse as auditors. I always insist that we shall have real persons appointed as auditors, and not a firm. We have no hold on a firm; we want to know who the men are, and these two gentlemen I know very well.

The resolution was carried unanimously.

The Chairman: That concludes the business.

Mr. Powell: Before we separate, may I move a word of thanks to the directors and I believe the officers of the company are usually associated in one resolution. We have to thank the staff, both here and in Canada, for their strenuous efforts in the past year in the interests of the Bank, and, therefore, in our interests.

Mr. Clarke: I would like to have the privilege of seconding that motion. We have the results of their work here. I know a good many of the officials in Canada, and I may say they have the highest reputation. The interests of the proprietors are well looked after by the staff throughout Canada.

The resolution was carried unanimously.

The Chairman: We add very much indebted to you for your kind appreciation of the work that has been done.

The proceedings then terminated.

THE INSURGENTS.

The Revolt Against Leadership of Mr. Borden.

The Toronto World says that there is a revolt against the leadership of Mr. Borden. The revelation of discontent, it says, came through the naval debate, "during the course of which Dr. Edwards of Frontenac, voiced the hatred of the ultra-Orange element against the French-Canadians. Embittered by aspersions regarding their loyalty to the Empire, the members from Quebec got together and organized a party by themselves. Today they are linked with Henri Bourassa and look upon him as their leader instead of Mr. Borden."

There have been other rumors of uneasiness in the Conservative camp in Quebec. In his Halifax speech Mr. Borden said that the chief if not the only difference between himself and his colleagues in Quebec was as to the existence of an emergency in naval defence. He believes in the emergency; the French Conservatives not satisfied that it exists.

Mr. Borden in this speech frankly recognizes that there is a difference between the viewpoint of Quebec and that of the other provinces. It is a difference that must be recognized by both parties, and all public men. Mr. Borden's first thought was his wisest. In the first naval debate he had ample warning of the attitude of the Quebec section of his party in the speech of Mr. Monk. By co-operating with the government, as he did, he minimized the difficulty. But the fire-eaters and the extreme partisans of his following were not satisfied. Some of them are sincerely prejudiced against French-Canadians, or imbued with the notion that Imperialism can be imposed upon Quebec by force. Others thought that a grand opportunity for making party capital had been missed. A French-Canadian leader, with a large majority from Quebec, must surely be open to attack along Imperialistic lines—so they reasoned.

The attack, as we all know, failed miserably. The Liberals recognized that Quebec though she could not be coerced into ardent Imperialism, might yield to persuasion. By taking a moderate, self-respecting, sturdily Canadian position, the Liberals presented a united front in Quebec as elsewhere. The Conservative party was torn by dissensions, partly by its own violence, and partly by too great eagerness to make party capital.

Mr. Borden's fault or weakness lay in yielding to the insurgents, against his own better judgment. But how can the insurgents blame him? Which fire-eater among them is to accomplish the task of reconciling Quebec, and the Conservative party?

The wits of the opposition used to laugh at Sir Wilfrid's "many ways." They were the ways of Sir John A. Macdonald and of every man that has been successful in governing Canada or leading a Canadian party. We have a nation of varied racial elements, and of wide differences of opinion and sentiment. If these are to be united for common action, reason and persuasion must be used, not violence, coercion, and shame.

A new question is now before the people, our relation with the United States. The opposition will again be urged to take a violent unreasoning course, and to seek to embarrass the government by describing the arrangement with the United States as a base surrender. Mr. Borden will be again urged to fight, to do something spectacular. It will be interesting to see whether the counsels of violence are accepted, or whether Mr. Borden and his colleagues will be warned by the disastrous result of the attempt to make party capital out of naval defence.

National Mining & Tunnel Company

WHERE OUR MINES ARE

Our mines are in the greatest camp in America, Leadville, Col. Leadville has been producing gold, silver and lead for forty-nine years. Cripple Creek, famous on two continents, has produced but $90,000,000. Leadville has produced 425,000,000. Our mines are located on the most productive part of Sugar Loaf. John W. McMahon, Clerk and Recorder of the county, in a personal letter, says: "This mountain is known to contain the richest mineral belt in this rich county."

WHAT WE HAVE

Our properties consist of the following: 12 proven mines, 140 acres; contiguous to these, valuable mining properties, 61 acres; timber claims containing timbers for many years, 20 acres; the copper-gold ledge on the crest of the mountain, 145 acres, total 600 acres. The mountain is four miles long, two miles wide and eighteen hundred feet high. It has produced to an average depth of but 150 feet, where the copper acid waters prevented further operations by shaft, $12,000,000.

CONDITIONS FAVORABLE TO SUCCESS

We are driving a big tunnel in from the foot of the mountain, at right angles to these veins, and will drain out the acid waters, and have the vast ore body above us of easy access. Our mines, which have produced over $2,000,000, occupy a central position among these mines, an evidence that we shall cut through the heart of the mountain's rich known ore system, and affording a strategical position relative to other properties. On the right and left are mines which have produced millions, whose ores must come out through our big tunnel, and which must pay us satisfactory royalties.

Operation of our tunnel and mines by electric power. We are driving our tunnel by 75 h.p. electric motor, equipped with an air compressor for driving drills, trolley for operating cars, etc. Within six months we should reach our first proven mines, and should cut through the second and third, and become a large producer before the year closes.

Transportation by rail to the largest custom smelter in the world, four miles away.
Low freight rate, 30c per ton.
An insatiable market for our ore, and settlement the first of every month.
Large ore value, and low cost of production. Ores run 50 to 150 per ton by the car load. The total cost of production is about $8.00. The majority of the stock is pooled for ten years, and cannot be sold. Capitalists cannot get hold of the stock, and freeze anybody out.
The Directors are men of high personal and financial standing. The business will be managed ably and honestly, and every one will share alike in proportion to his stock.

On to Belleville.

It is learned that the Canadian Northern Ontario Railroad will be projected to Belleville this year instead of stopping at Trenton as at first proposed. Forty miles of the road has already been graded, the work being carried on at some fifteen different points along the route. The intention of the company was to keep the work between Toronto and Trenton this year, but as the result of the latest decision, it will be carried into Belleville, and the construction work advanced this summer.

VOL. XXXIII NO. 76 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO SATURDAY APRIL 2 1910 PRICE TWO CENTS

Say That 30,000 Will Sail for Canada in April

Twenty-Three Vessels with Settlers for This Country---Reciprocity with the United States

London, April 1.—It is stated that 30,000 emigrants will sail from Liverpool to Canada on twenty-three steamships in April. The increasing proportion of people going with capital is the subject of comment here. Interest has been aroused in Liverpool by the suggestion that a hostelry be provided emigrants who have to wait before the shipping office is open, and who are often exposed and inconvenienced by the lack of accommodation.

UNITED STATES WORSTED.

London, Apri, 1.—Canadian officials and experts now in Britain declare emphatically in interviews that Canada scored a triumph over the United States. They also state that no Canadian Government could afford to refuse reciprocity if it were offered because of the great advantage to the Dominion. The point emphasized by several Canadians is that England should not worry about the present trifling reductions to the United States, but apply herself more assiduously and sympathetically to cater for the Canadian trade.

"We want British made goods, not because of our loyalty, but because of their superiority," they said.

AUSTRALIA DOES BETTER.

London, April 1.—The London secretary of the Central Unemployed Body states that the body would be delighted to send more men to Australia. "If only because we get the money advanced for fares returned much more regularly and quickly than from those we send to Canada. Where we only get a dollar or ten dollars from the Dominion we often get a sovereign or ten pounds from Australia."

Sir G. Reid speaking at London, said he was sent here to increase emigration to Australia. He is making very strong representations to his government to arrange for thousands of poor law children to go to Australia. Juvenile emigration was the best emigration.

OBSOLETE SHIPS.

London, April 1.—In the House of Lords, Lord Brassey suggested that instead of scrapping vessels the admiralty should make a free gift of them for service in colonial waters. The Earl of Cromard, replying on behalf of the government, said: "There has been no demand by the Dominions for such ships. If they really wanted them the Dominions would have asked for them."

LAND SALES IN WEST.

London, April 1.—Hudson Bay land sales for the last quarter were 34,100 acres at £92,000. Town lots realized £23,700.

The Manitoba and North-West Land dividend is 6 per cent.

The British Canadian Trust, Limited, has been registered in Scotland with a capital of £250,000.

London, March 31.—In the Commons veto debate was resumed by F. E. Smith, who delivered a speech characterized by biting humor. He chaffed the members of the Cabinet, and parried some barbed shafts at the Labor party for having "come to heel" at the Liberal party. He thought the government ill-advised to commit themselves to a policy which would involve two more elections this year.

J. A. Simon replied to Mr. Smith He showed that the Lords had proved wrong on each occasion of great controversy. The Lords would never have confirmed the granting of self-government to the Transvaal if it had been necessary to ask them. Not a single measure of the Conservative Government had been rejected by the Lords in 40 years, while the list of rejected and mutilated Liberal measures continually increased. If the government pushed forward vigorously they would find a coalition and a united determination to address the balance between the two houses.

Hugh Cecil declared that there was no greater hypocrisy than to represent the Commons as a free deliberate assembly. He quoted the case of Harold Cox as an example.

Rumors are revived that Carrington is to be the next governor-general, but they are authoritatively denied as Carrington cannot be spared from the Board of Agriculture. Emigrants for Canada in January and February were 7,205; for Australasia 5,236; for South Africa 3,663.

OLDEST EUROPEAN MONARCH.

Grand Duke George is Eighty-five Years Old Today.

Berlin, April 2. — Grand Duke George II. of Saxe-Meiningen, who is known as the oldest of European rulers, entered upon his eighty-fifth year to-day. A dispatch from Meiningen says that in celebration of the birthday anniversary the city was beflagged in an unusually elaborate manner and a general holiday was kept by all classes. During the day messages of congratulation were received by the aged Grand Duke from all the crowned heads of the German States, one of the most felicitious of the greetings being that sent by Emperor William. The general health of the Grand Duke George is reported to be satisfactory, though he is suffering some from rheumatism. Of late years he has become totally deaf an exceedingly sore affliction in the case of one who in his time was reputed to be one of the greatest patrons and lovers of music in all Europe.

Says Sedition Rife in Egyptian Army

London, April 1.—The loudest cry of alarm yet sounded regarding the status of British rule in Egypt was voiced by the London Express today in an article pleading for more rigis repressive measures in Egypt.

If the Express' statement of condition in Egypt is true, the public is agreed that Col. Roosevelt was really in personal danger when he dared denounced the Nationalists in Cairo, their stronghold.

"It is no secret that sedition is rampant among the native officers of the Egyptian army," the Express says. "Secret societies are poisoning the people against the British, and are planning by means of terrorist methods to sweep the English from the country.

"Selected members from these societies have gone to Italy and to Switzerland to study explosives and the manufacture of bombs. The result of their study can be but one thing—a reign of assassination in Egypt.

"Investigation proves that the Egyptian conspirators are working hand-in-hand with the conspirators of India."

Now that Roosevelt has quit Egyp Now that Roosevelt has quit Egypt, it is feared that the Nationalists will renew their activities with increased vigor. The Express warns the public that a startling blow may fall at any moment.

SHOT DOWN IN THEIR OWN HOME

ROBBER ENTERED HOUSE AND SHOT TWO WOMEN.

Tragedy in Daylight in a Fashionable Home in Springfield, Mass. —Police Rounding Up.

Springfield, Mass., April 1.— Although four suspects are held in the central station on suspicion of having guilty knowledge of the murder last night of Miss Martha B. Blackstone 30, and the serious wounding of Miss Harriet Dow, 25, at the Dow home, on Roang Hill, the fashionable section of Springfield, it is by no means certain that the guilty man is included.

Mrs. Sarah K. Dow, her two daughters, Harriet and Lucy, and Miss Blackstone were seated at a table in the parlor, when a masked man walked in from an adjoining room. He had an automatic revolver in his hand, which he pointed at them, and demanded money.

Mrs. Dow gasped out that she had no money, but Miss Blackstone commenced screaming and started to run from the room. As she did so the man fired, the bullet entering her left breast and penetrating her heart. He then fired at Miss Harriet Dow as she started toward the prostrate Miss Blackstone, the bullet striking her in the left side of the head. Miss Dow is now in the hospital, and it was stated by the physicians today that she will likely recover.

The police have ordered all unknown men found in the city to be rounded up and compelled to give an account of themselves, while all surrounding towns have been asked to assist in the round-up.

Quite a Change.

Recently there was found a letter written in Kingston in 1843— 67 years ago, which is interesting as showing the market prices which then prevailed in Ontario. "Our market," the letter of long ago says, "are most excellent and very cheap." Mutton in the shambles sells for 2½. per lb., butter brings from 6c. to 7½c. per lb., but more frequently the former price. Geese can be bought for 1s 3d., turkeys for from 3s to 4s per pair and fowls from 1s to 1s 3d per pair. Potatoes are going at 10s per bushel and apples 4s 2d per barrel.

FOREIGNERS STRIKE FOR SHORT HOURS

CLAIM THEY HAVE TO WORK 12 HOURS A DAY.

At the Hamilton Steel Company's Plant—The police Were Ordered to the Scene to Prevent any Possible Trouble.

Hamilton, April 1.—Shortly before 7 o'clock this morning nearly two hundred foreign employes of the Hamilton Steel and Iron Company went out on strike. As yet, according to a statement issued by H. H. Champ, manager of the company, the strikers, who are mostly Italians did not make any demands nor give any intimation that they were going to walk out. However, it was learned later that the foreigners claimed they had to work twelve hours and a half to earn two dollars a day. The trouble started at the Queen street company's plant, where the rolling mills are situated. Nearly one hundred Italians refused to start work Fearing rioting the company appealed to the police and a posse of men under Chief Smith was sent to the scene. While the police were clearing the strikers off the rolling mills premises another hundred foreigners struck at the east end plant. Another detachment of officers were despatched there, and succeeded in chasing the foreigners from the company's yards. By noon it is expected that at least one hundred more foreigners will join the ranks of the strikers.

A leader of the foreigners declared today that the strikers would not return to work until the company gave them twenty cents an hour and a ten hour day. The police squads at the plant were reinforced at ten o'clock. As yet the foreigners have not attempted any demonstrations, although they are hanging about the company's premises and are not interfering with those at work. If the strike lasts for any length of time it will delay several large contracts the steel company is working on, and probably necessitate closing down.

SHOULD PAY HEAVY LICENSE.

Writer Believes City Should Tax Cheap Shows.

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Sir,—I take the liberty of suggesting through the columns of The Times that the City Council should place a heavy tax on the cheap shows which are in existence here. It would hardly be fair to tax them all alike, but a scale of prices should be made according to the number of seats in these places. This would not bear havily on the smaller places. I would commence by placing a tax of a dollar a seat per annum, after the first number of seats. That is, there would be no tax whatever on the first hundred seats, so that the smaller places would not suffer.

Now, Mr. Editor, any one who has a thought of the character of these "five cent shows" throughout the country cannot but come to the conclusion that they are an evil. There are some fairly clean ones, but as a rule they are not intended to elevate the morals of the community.

I see in some of the larger places action is being taken along the above lines, and I hope our council will not be long in taking similar action.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, I am, etc.,

MORALITY.

Coal Made Fire So Hot it Melted the Tin of the Stove

North Bay, April 1.—W. J. Baldry, who has just returned from the Metagami River county, where he was sent in charge of a party to investigate coal possibilities for the T. and N. O. Railway Commission, was in town today.

Mr. Baldry stated that on account of the lateness of the season and the imminence of a break-up, his party ade a very hurried trip. Still, test pits were sunk in one section at intervals of half a mile for several miles, and coal found each time. The coal was used as fuel in the camp stoves of the party, the only trouble experienced being that the stoves were of tin, and the heat generated was so intense that the tin was melted, causing discontinuance of the use of the coal.

According to Mr. Baldry there is at least a section of 100 miles of length, seamed with coal, and he states that the quality is the same as that found near Edmonton, semi-bituminous coal which can be used for steam or cooking, and which is very popular with farmers and ranchers of the prarie section where it is found and mined.

THE POWER BYLAW.

Ratepayer Wants the Bylaw Voted Down.

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Sir,—I think, Mr. Editor, it is now up to the ratepayers to put a stop to voting their money away. We are now face to face with high taxes, and the end is not yet. We have to provide for running the Carnegie library, the new sewerage pumping station in the south end, street paving, a new city hall, and dear knows what else. Where will it stop? I see 25 mills easily in sight, and I believe it will be three cents soon, unless the people put their veto on any more extra expenditure, such as the development of power to give away to concerns that require to be spoon fed.

I would not be adverse to establishment of a municipal lighting plant, to provide both house and street lighting, but not one penny for power for other people. Let those who require power get their supply from the local power companies, who have plenty to sell. It is all very well for Ald. Turner and others to prate about selling power at a profit. If power is so easily disposed of, why is it that the Peter borough Light and Power Company have so much to dispose of, and cannot get purchasers? I feel sure the ratepayers will not be misled, but will vote the bylaw down with such a majority that will show the promoters that further effort in that direction is hopeless.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, I am, etc.,

300,000 U. S. Coal Miners Quit Work

President Tom Lewis at the Helm of Negotiations on Behalf of the Workers —Will Mean Millions

Pittsburg, Penn., April 1.—Three hundred thousand soft coal miners in half a dozen States today celebrated the inauguration of the eight-hour day in the coal fields, and declared that they will not return to work until a new wage scale has been made with the operators.

In the Pittsburg field, where forty thousand miners were affected by the closing of the mines last midnight, pending the negotiations of a new scale, celebrations were held today at Carnegie and Brownsville. Following a parade at both places, the miners listened to speakers.

A meeting of operators was held today, when plans were discussed for the joint conference with the miners, which will be held early next week. President Lewis is expected next week, and will likely hasten an adjustment of the troubles here. District President Francis Feehan insists that no work shall be done at the mines until the operators agree to a settlement of the poweder question.

CONDITIONS BY STATES

The conditions in the various States this morning were as follows:

Illinois: Nine hundred mines closed and 75,000 miners quit work. Conference called for next Monday in Chicago; operators say men demand increase of ten cents a ton, which would mean an annual increase of $14,000,000; possibility of a four months' shut-down. Two months' supply of coal on hand; no immediate coal famine to Chicago industries.

Indiana: Eighteen thousand miners ordered to quit work last midnight, miners say shut down will be short-lived.

Asquith Won't Resign But He Will Ask for a Dissolution

London, April 1.—The Canadian Associated Press learns that the government will give only a week's consideration to the Veto bill after its introduction in the Commons. It is expected that the bill will be presented to the Lords before the end of April.

Should the government fail to pass the veto proposals through the Lords they will not resign, but advise dissolution, and ask the parliament for a vote on account to carry them through the general election.

It is anticipated dissolution will take place before the end of May.

The result of the Mid-Glamorgan bye-election is that Gibbins, the Liberal, gets 8,920 to Hartshorn's, Labor, 6,210. In the recent general election Sir S. T. Evans, the Liberal, defeated the Unionist, G. H. Williams, by 12,175 to 3,375.

TO FORCE ON AN EARLY VOTE

FACTS POINTING TO ASQUITH GOVERNMENT COURTING AN ELECTION IN MAY.

Apply Closure on April 14— Sir Robert Finley Moved Conservative Amendment to Veto Resolution.

London, April 1.—The official opposition amendment to Premier Asquith's resolution on the veto power of the House of Lords was moved in the House of Commons yesterday by Sir Robert Findlay.

It declares in favor of a strong and efficient second chamber, and expresses willingness to consider proposals for the reform of the Upper House, but it declines to proceed with the Government's proposals which destroy the usefulness of any second chamber.

Winston Spencer Churchill, the home secretary, declared that when the veto resolutions were disposed of, the Government would advance with the budget, regardless of the consequences. Unless the House of Commons carried the budget, it was idle, he said, to look to the King or to the country to carry the veto bill; but he predicted that at the proper time and under the proper circumstances they would succeed in carrying both the veto and the budget measures to the steps of the Throne.

WOULD ABOLISH TARIFF BARRIERS

NEW YORK HERALD WOULD LIKE TO SEE FREE TRADE BETWEEN CANADA AND U.S.

Detroit is Quite Joyful—Free Press Says it Was a Brilliant Victory for Both Sides.

Here is what American papers have to say about the tariff settlement:

New York Herald: "There is no question that the imposition of the maximum rates on both sides of the border would have been disastrous to both the Canadians and the Americans. That such a clamity has been averted is due to the fact that the representatives of both these peoples met and discussed the question without the intervention of foreign diplomatists. In his exposition of the situation to the Dominion Parliament yesterday Mr. Fielding, the finance minister exhibited a masterful grasp of the situation. Neither the Canadian people nor those of the United States will be at all disturbed by the vaporings of disgruntled individuals or newspapers on either side of the border, whose political or personal selfish interests would have been promoted by a disastrous commercial clash between the two contiguous and friendly countries. Still less will they be annoyed by the comments of transatlantic journals like the Morning Post of London.

A GOOD WORK.

We congratulate our esteemed contemporary, The Canadian Laundryman, on the stand which it takes against Chinese laundries. The Laundryman believes that these so-called laundries are, in many cases, nothing but opium joints and brothels, and that it is time that some effort was being made to put an end to that evil. This can only be done by the municipalities under by-law, and gives the form of such by-law.

We believe that Chinese laundries are undesirable. They are not the class of people who make citizens. On the contrary many of the inmates of these places come from overcrowded Chinese cities, and are liable to bring with them and to spread loathsome diseases. It is hardly to be expected that it could be otherwise. We hope towns and cities generally take early action along the lines suggested by The Laundryman.

LITTLE KNOWN ABYSSINIA.

Abyssinia, whose Negus or ruler, has just died, is not associated in the minds of most people with Christianity, but the Abyssinians, as a matter of fact, have practised a form of Christianity, said to consist mainly of external observances since the fourth century. Apart from Liberia, which is a republic, it is the only independent native State in Africa. That it has a population estimated at nearly eleven millions, thus considerably larger than Canada's is as unrealized as its adherence to the Christian faith. The Abyssinians proper claim to be of Semitic blood, and were probably originally immigrants from Persia.

The death of King Menelik recalls his pretension to being a direct descendant of Solomon and the Queen of Sheba, a claim on which he based his assumption to the Abyssinian throne. The title of Negus, meaning King of Kings, was assumed by Prince Kassai in 1872.

Abyssinia does not seem to be a very promising nucleus for a great native African nation, yet it seems rather hard upon the black races, who compose most of the population of Africa, that they have not the same opportunities for national life and political development as the white races have in Europe and America.

THE INSURGENTS.

The Toronto World says that there is a revolt against the leadership of Mr. Borden. The revelation of discontent, it says, came through the naval debate, "during the course of which Dr. Edwards of Frontenac, voiced the hatred of the ultra-Orange element against the French-Canadians. Embittered by aspersions regarding their loyalty to the Empire, the members from Quebec got together and organized a party by themselves. Today they are linked with Henri Bourassa and look upon him as their leader instead of Mr. Borden."

There have been other rumors of uneasiness in the Conservative camp in Quebec. In his Halifax speech Mr. Borden said that the chief if not the only difference between himself and his colleagues in Quebec was as to the existence of an emergency in naval defence. He believes in the emergency; the French Conservatives not satisfied that it exists.

Mr. Borden in this speech frankly recognizes that there is a difference between the viewpoint of Quebec and that of the other provinces. It is a difference that must be recognized by both parties, and all public men. Mr. Borden's first thought was his interest. In the first naval debate he had ample warning of the attitude of the Quebec section of his party in the speech of Mr. Monk. By co-operating with the government, as he did on that occasion, his difficulty was minimized. But the fire-eaters and the extreme partisans of his following were not satisfied. Some of them are sincerely prejudiced against French-Canadians, or imbued with the notion that Imperialism can be imposed upon Quebec by force. Others thought that a grand opportunity for making party capital had been missed. A French-Canadian leader, with a large majority from Quebec, must surely be open to attack along Imperialistic lines—so they reasoned.

The attack, as we all know, failed miserably. The Liberals recognized that Quebec though she could not be coerced into ardent Imperialism, might yield to persuasion. By taking a moderate, self-respecting, sturdily Canadian position, the Liberals presented a united front in Quebec as elsewhere. The Conservative party was torn by dissensions, partly by its own violence, and partly by too great eagerness to make party capital.

Mr. Borden's fault or weakness lay in yielding to the insurgents, against his own better judgment. But how can the insurgents blame him? Which fire-eater among them is to accomplish the task of reconciling Quebec, and the Conservative party?

The wits of the opposition used to laugh at Sir Wilfrid's "sunny ways." They were the ways of Sir John A. Macdonald and of every man that has been successful in governing Canada or leading a Canadian party. We have a nation of varied racial elements, and of wide differences of opinion and sentiment. If these are to be united for common action, reason and persuasion must be used, not violence, coercion, and abuse.

A new question is now before the people, our relation with the United States. The opposition will again be urged to take a violent unreasoning course, and to seek to embarrass the government by describing the arrangement with the United States as a base surrender. Mr. Borden will be again urged to fight, to do something spectacular. It will be interesting to see whether the counsels of violence are accepted, or whether Mr. Borden and his colleagues will be warned by the disastrous result of the attempt to make party capital out of naval debates.

THE NORMAL CHILD.

Some attention has been attracted to the career of William Sidis, who, at the age of eleven, successfully pursues a university course at Harvard. A surprising feature of the case is that his father, Dr. Boris Sidis, does not regard him as an infant prodigy in the accepted sense of the term. His mental growth, we are told, is the result "not of heredity, but of exceptional native talent, but of a special education he has received, an education having as its chief purpose the training of the child to make facile, habitual and profitable use of his hidden energies." Dr. Sidis is an eminent psychologist, who believes that we all have stores of latent physical and mental energy that only require to be aroused. His claims to have experimented successfully with his son, and he declares that any normal child would make as good a showing if he were given the same training. From the outset he stimulated the boy's interest in various lines of thought by resort to the principle of suggestion. From the first the furnishings of the child's room and his very games and amusements were arranged with a view to stimulating the young mind to active thought, and accurate, observant thinking. For mathematics at first the lad evinced a positive distaste, and yet at eleven years of age he lectures the faculty of Harvard upon that subject. Should Dr. Sidis' views ever be adopted widely, eight or ten working years would be added to the forefront of the brain worker's life, and an immense impetus might be lent to human accomplishment in various fields. On the other hand Dr. Goldwin Smith repeatedly has attributed the predominant utility of a never-relaxed concentration to the fact that, as a child, he was sent to a very little school.

The Finest Canoe Route on The Continent.

"Nearly half a century ago the Canadian Government spent close on three million dollars in locating, improving and maintaining the finest canoe route on the continent." This is the inviting introduction to an article by Mr. Bee, Croasdaile of Toronto, in "The World Today." The article refers to the old Dawson route, intended to furnish continuous water communication from Lake Superior to Fort Garry, in the days when a railway was only a dream of the most enthusiast.

Mr. Croasdaile traveled over the old routes, and besides laying up great stores of health and enjoyment, obtained the material for a most interesting article, an article which fills the reader with longings to drop work and follow the trail and smell the smoke of camp fires. The country visited is a vast playground, abounding in fish and game, as well as in charm for the lover of scenery that has not been spoiled by the march of civilization.

COST OF LIVING.

Is Becoming a Serious Problem in Canada.

The increased cost of living is becoming a serious problem, not only in Canada, but throughout the United States. The newspapers have tried to find reasons and to offer solutions, but still the cost keeps up. It is significant, therefore, that the New York World comments as follows with respect to the cost in that city of great wealth and extreme poverty:—

"Even patrons of the most expensive restaurants are to be made to feel the pinch of higher prices for food. All along the line up Broadway and Fifth avenue, hotels, chophouses and dining places have decided to increase their charges. An extra dime here and an extra dime there is to be added on all meat orders.

The actual cost of provisions, vegetables, meats, groceries and so on has little to do with the prices in these high-class restaurants. It may make considerable difference to cheap eating places and quick lunch counters when Chicago packers move quotations up and down, but a cent or two, more or less, for choice cuts of beef cannot enter largely into the figures on menu cards of the fashionable resorts. Their charges are based on other considerations than the elegance of service and luxury of surroundings, besides all the little accessories that flatter his vanity, are the things the diner pays high prices for.

"In the last twenty years the cost of living at the best hotels in New York has almost quadrupled. Not that the prices of mere necessities have risen in proportion, but habits of extravagance have become general. Extravagance on the part of their guests has been shrewdly cultivated as their best source of profits by the hotel and restaurant people, and the public has eagerly fallen in with the plan. There never was any idea of customers getting anything near the exact worth of their money, but merely something they were willing to pay a big price for. As James J. Hill said, it is not the high cost of living but the cost of high living that counts most in the way of expenses."

OUR NEW STORY.

Splendid Serial to Start in The Times.

In a few days The Times will begin the publication of a new and thrilling serial story, entitled "Satan Sanderson," by Hallie Erminie Rives, author of "Hearts Courageous," etc. Watch for the opening chapters.

The old fashioned way of dosing a weak stomach or stimulating the Heart or Kidneys is all wrong. Dr. Shoop first pointed out this error. This is why his prescription—Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed entirely to the cause of these ailments—the weak inside or controlling nerves. It isn't so difficult, says Dr. Shoop, to strengthen a weak Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, if one goes at it correctly. Each inside organ has its controlling or inside nerve. When these nerves fail, then those organs must surely falter. These vital truths are leading druggists everywhere to dispense and recommend Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Test it a few days and see. Improvement will promptly and surely follow. Sold by all dealers.

A SQUARE DEAL

Valentine Mines, Limited

(No Personal Liability)

A company is being formed under the laws of the Province of Ontario, capital $1,500,000, par value $1.00 per share, and to be known as the "VALENTINE MINES, LIMITED." This Company will acquire the property now known as the "Large" claim, being located immediately adjoining the Belmont and E. T. Mines, 660 feet from Silver Cross, 1,320 feet from the Drummon and Hargrave, and 2640 feet from Kerr Lake and Crown Reserve mines. Its location cannot be excelled, as it is in the famous Kerr Lake silver district. Its formation is Huronian conglomerate and diabase.

Only thirty days' work has ever been done on the property, but this has disclosed a well-defined pink cal-cite vein, which has been traced for 150 feet on the lot.

H. Laurence Brown, E.M., manager of Silver Cross, Belmont and E. T. mines, has reported on the property and recommended its purchase.

THE ACTUAL COST PRICE OF THE PROPERTY IS $28,500.

Of the Capital Stock 712,500 shares will be issued for the property and sold at five (5) cents per share. This will realize $35,625, of which $28,500 will cover the actual cost of the property, and the balance, $7,125, will be placed in the Treasury of the Company for development purposes.

J. H. Wadsworth & Co. will receive 150,000 shares as payment for services rendered and to be rendered. No brokerage commission will be paid by the Company on this offering.

There will still remain in the treasury 637,500 shares, of which 100,000 shares will be offered for sale at ten (10) cents a share.

WE HEREBY OFFER FOR SUBSCRIPTION 712,500 SHARES AT FIVE CENTS A SHARE.

WE CANNOT RECALL AN INSTANCE IN COBALT WHEREBY THE PUBLIC HAD THE OPPORTUNITY OF BUYING AN INTEREST AT ACTUAL COST PRICE. This is a case where the public gets the underwriters' profits; as positively no stock of any kind can be secured below five cents, and no further stock will be offered for less than ten cents. You can therefore see a profit of AT LEAST 100 PER CENT. in your investment.

The figures for March of this year were $43,651.38, and for the same month last year $27,432.62, an increase of $16,218.76.

Was Heavily Fined.

Evidently Police Magistrate Dumble intends to make it not only expensive to those who sell liquor to men whose named are on the prohibited list, but also to the men who do the drinking. At the police court yesterday a fine of $27.60 was registered against the man who sold the liquor, and $12.60 against the blacklister.

Law is Unworkable.

The law passed regarding all trains to reduce their speed to ten miles an hour at all grade crossings where accidents have occurred during the past ten years, has proved to be practically unworkable. It is now proposed to relegate the whole question to the Railway Commission. Travelers and shippers are complaining of the delays caused by reducing the speed of trains at numerous level crossings.

A pathetic incident was the marriage of his sister on Monday last, in St. James' church, who got back from her bridal trip in time to be with him when he passed away. His father and mother, and four sisters, Mrs. A. Payton, Mrs. AM. Lasett, Florence and Ruby, and one brother, John, are left to mourn his loss. A VERY SATISFACTORY REPORT.

The Canadian Railway Accident Insurance Company's Meeting.

We congratulate the management of the Canadian Railway Accident Insurance Company, on the splendid statement presented at the annual meeting of the shareholders, Ottawa has just reason to be proud of the success which has been achieved by the company during its life of fifteen years. In this connection we cannot do better than reproduce the remarks of the Ottawa Journal, which no doubt will be read with interest by many in this locality.

Established in Ottawa fifteen years ago, the expansion of the business of the Canadian Railway Accident Insurance Company has been little short of marvellous. As the report indicates, the premium income of the first year's operations amounted to $9,130.00, while for 1909 the premium income reached the magnificent total of $433,563.00. This is only one feature of the phenomenal success of this organization, the revenue of which today exceeds $385,150.00 per annum. By a wide margin it is declared to be the leading personal accident insurance company in Canada, having for several years written the largest volume of accident and sickness insurance.

That the progress during the year recently closed has been even more gratifying than in any corresponding period in the past is evidenced from an examination of the statement. In connection with the latter it is important to note that the Canadian Railway Accident Insurance Company endorses the policy, preferred by the Insurance Department, of giving to the public a statement in detail of the exact condition of its affairs. The statement of Revenue and Expenditure and Assets and Liabilities is itemized to the fullest degree, with the result that any reader can gain an intelligent idea of the company's affairs.

It is shown that during the year claims amounting to $158,509.00 were paid, which amount added to the claims paid in previous years aggregates the amount of $1,117,809.23 paid out by the company in claims since its inception. There is indicated a balance at the credit of profit and loss account of $63,673.00. There was transferred to the permanent reserve over $22,300.00. There was transferred to the permanent reserve over $22,300.00, the reserve fund at the end of the year amounting to $102,342.00, with a reserve fund (contingency) of $48,000.00. The increase in the reserve is thus worthy of special consideration, as the amounts referred to together with the reserve of $10,927.00, provided to pay possible commission on outstanding premiums brings the total reserve fund up to $170,269.86, an increase of over $34,386.00 over the preceding year. The amount of insurance written during the year was of course the largest on record, the number of policies written being 30,024 as compared with 28,344 in 1908. The gross amount of insurance in force in 1909 was $38,820,893.00, an increase of over $1,323,634.00.

It is of interest to note that all the directors were re-elected, Mr. Denis Murphy again occupying the President's office. To those in Ottawa who have watched the Canadian Railway Accident Insurance Company from year to year it is probably unnecessary to emphasize the outstanding factor which has contributed to its success—the untiring efforts of the General Manager, Mr. John Emo. All will agree that the company's progress has been due in a very large measure to his capacity for organization, his complete and thoroughly practical knowledge of the accident business, and his tremendous energy. Competitors often refer to the Canadian Railway Accident Insurance Company as "Emo's Company," and in view of his prominent association with its every evidence of success the designation is not misapplied. Mr. Emo has the good fortune likewise to have surrounded himself with an army of loyal and enthusiastic agents, now numbering over 325, located in every part of Canada, who have done splendid service in promoting the company's best interests and without whose continuous and enthusiastic co-operation the present results could not have been achieved.

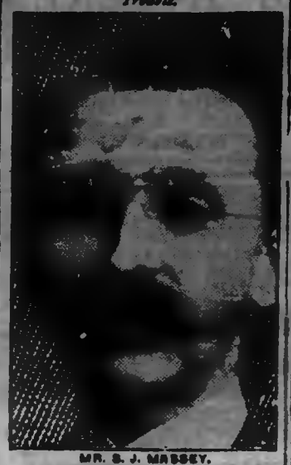
STOMACH INDIGESTION.

Peruna Strikes at the Root of the Trouble.



MR. S. J. MASSEY.

Mr. S. J. Massey, formerly a resident of Toronto, and a well-known business man, writes from 347 Guy street, Montreal, Quebec:

"I wish to testify to the good results I have derived from the use of Peruna.

"Having been troubled for several years with catarrh of the head, I decided to give Peruna a fair trial and I can truly say I have received great benefit from its use. It evidently strikes at the very root of the trouble and good results are soon noticeable.

"I have also found Peruna a very valuable remedy for stomach trouble and indigestion.

"I have no hesitancy whatever in recommending Peruna as a reliable catarrh remedy."

There are several kinds of indigestion. The trouble may be due to sluggishness of the liver, derangements of the bowels, enlargement of the pancreas, or it may be due to the stomach itself.

In nearly all cases of stomach indigestion catarrh of the stomach is the cause. The only permanent relief is to remove the catarrh.

Peruna has become well-known the world over as a remedy in such cases.

National Mining & Tunnel Company

WHERE OUR MINES ARE

Our mines are in the greatest camp in America, Leadville, Col. Leadville has been producing gold, silver and lead for forty-nine years. Cripple Creek, famous on two continents, has produced but $90,000,000. Leadville has produced 425,000,000. Our mines are located on the most productive part of Sugar Loaf. John W. McMahon, Clerk and Recorder of the county, in a personal letter, says: "This mountain is known to contain the richest mineral belt in this rich county."

WHAT WE HAVE

Our properties consist of the following: 12 proven mines, 140 acres; contiguous to these, valuable mining properties, 61 acres; timber claims containing timbers for many years, 30 acres; the copper-gold ledge on the crest of the mountain, 145 acres, total 400 acres. The mountain is four miles long, two miles wide and eighteen hundred feet high. It has produced to an average depth of but 150 feet, where the copper acid waters prevented further operations by shaft, $12,000,000.

CONDITIONS FAVORABLE TO SUCCESS

We are driving a big tunnel in from the foot of the mountain, at right angles to these veins, and will drain out the acid waters, and have the vast ore body above us of easy access. Our mines, which have produced over $2,000,000, occupy a central position among these mines, an evidence that we shall cut through the heart of the mountain's rich known ore system, and affording a strategical position relative to other properties. On the right and left are mines which have produced millions, whose ores must come out through our big tunnel, and which must pay us satisfactory royalties.

Operation of our tunnel and mines by electric power. We are driving our tunnel by 75 h.p. electric motor, equipped with an air compressor for driving drills, trolley for operating cars, etc. Within six months we should reach our first proven mines, and should cut through the second and third, and become a large producer before the year closes.

Transportation by rail to the largest custom smelter in the world, four miles away.

Low freight rate, 30c per ton.

An insatiable market for our ore, and settlement the first of every month.

Large ore values, and low cost of production. Ores run 50 to 150 per ton by the car load. The total cost of production is about $8.00. The majority of the stock is pooled for ten years, and cannot be sold. Capitalists cannot get hold of the stock, and freeze anybody out.

The Directors are men of high personal and financial standing. The business will be managed ably and honestly, and every one will share alike in proportion to his stock.

Collegiate Institue and Public School Salary Schedule Amended

Scheme for the School Board, City Council and the 57th Regiment to Act Jointly in Beautifying Central Park

The Board of Education met in regular session last night when there were present: Chairman Dr. Burnham and Trustees Dumble, W. H. Hill, B. F. Ackerman, Col. Miller, T. H. Adams, R. Fair and Dr. Morrison.

The minutes of the preceding meeting were read and confirmed.

The boiler inspector's report on the Public schools and Collegiate Institute steam boilers was satisfactory.

Mr. Arnott M. Patterson, who is just finishing his university course at Queen's, Kingston, wrote to the board thanking them for his appointment as science master of the Institute. He will take up his duties about the 16th inst.

The deputy minister of education wrote that the department could not allow the Collegiate Institute's present arrangement with the Y.M.C.A. regarding gymnasium accommodation to continue for a period of three or five years, without the Institute losing its present status. The department requires that the girls shall have equal advantage with the boys in the matter of gymnasium exercise The present arrangement cuts off the girls, and if this Institute is to be on the same standing as others suitable accommodation for physical as well as intellectual learning must be provided. The board will further consider this important matter.

Inspector Mowatt reported that the primary classes in the South Central school are congested, and suggested that half day courses be adopted.—Referred to the Supervision Committee.

Principal Keaner reported that Mr. W. R. Morris had presented the Institute with two volumes of Ralph Waldo Emmerson's Essays. The secretary was instructed to suitably acknowledge this much appreciated gift.

Dr. Morrison reported that Mr. Fessenden asks for an ammeter and a voltmeter for his boscr classes and ehetrical science—Referred to the Property Committee.

The reports of attendance at the Public schools and Collegiate Institute were satisfactory.

A number of accounts were referred to the Finance Committee for certification thereto.

Mr. D. W. Dumble presented the report of the Finance Committee recommending payment of a number of accounts, which was adopted as read.

Mr. R. Fair's motion that the treasurer be instructed to pay Mr. Wolstenholme $800 on account for coal, pending an adjustment of his bill of $941.47, was carried.

CARE AND UPKEEP OF CENTRAL PARK.

Mr. R. F. McWilliams was one of a deputation from the 57th Regiment to suggest the advisability of the board, the city and the regiment each appointing three members to act jointly in keeping in good condition and beautifying Central Park. He offered that it would be in the city's interests generally that what ever scheme was adopted for the upkeep of this park should be operated as a whole and not seperately.

Mr. Dumble thought that such a scheme would prove a wooden horse marching into Troy. The Institute has a nice lawn, while the armories frontage is simply a mass of weeds, and the soil not made according to contract. He could not see what the military gentlemen wanted except the privilege of marching over everything.

Both Messrs. Hill and Miller supported Mr McWilliams' suggestion and their resolution that the chairman appoint three members to act jointly with three representatives from the regiment and three from either the City Council or Horticultural Society was carried.

COMMITTEE ON APPOINTMENTS

Mr. W. H. Hill presented the following:

Gentlemen,—Your Committee on Appointments beg leave to report as follows:

1. That Mr. Arnott M. Patterson be appointed substitute on the Collegiate Institute staff for the months of April, May and June, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. G. W. Holford. Salary to be at the rate of $100 per month, and duties to start as soon after the 1st of April as possible.

2. That the Collegiate Institute salary schedule affecting the junior department be amended to read as follows, and to date from the 1st of September, 1910; minimum salary, $1250, increasing $50 per annum until the present maximum of $1400 is reached.

3. That the Public school salary schedule be amended as follows, and to take effect 1st September, 1910.

PROPERTY COMMITTEE.

Mr. R. Fair presented the following:

Gentlemen,—Your Property Committee beg leave to report as follows:

Regarding the matter of providing a gymnasium for the Collegiate Institute as called for in Inspector Wetherall's report on his recent visit of inspection, and which was referred to this committee, we beg to report that before taking any steps to being in a recommendation your committee considered it advisable to have a deputation wait on the minister of education, with a view of getting his consent to continue the present arrangement with the Y.M.C.A. for a period of from three to five years without losing our status, but exceedingly regret to have to report that the board's request would not be acceptable to tge department.

Your committee therefore refer the matter back to the board for further instructions.

The matter of the placing of fire escapes on the Ashburnham and East Ward schools, which was referred to your committee, is receiving their attention, and we hope to be able to report in the near future that the same have been satisfactorily erected.

ACCIDENTAL SHOOTING CAUSE OF DEATH

OF ERNEST GILBERT'S DEATH, SAYS THE JURY.

Coroner Gray Thinks Law Should Be Passed Preventing Inexperienced Persons From Using Them.

At the inquest over the death of Ernest Gilbert the following verdict was reached:

That Ernest Gilbert came to his death as a result of accidental shooting, was the finding of the jury in the inquest into the death of the young man who passed away in Nicholls Hospital on Thursday last, following the shooting affair of which he was the victim, in the woods on Easter Sunday.

THE EVIDENCE.

Chas. Gilbert said that four young men, including the deceased and witness, went out to the woods on Easter Sunday. They were in Spillsburys woods. They saw a squirrel and they chased it. Two of them were on one side of the fence, and two on the other. Young Spilsbury tripped and fell. He was carrying the rifle and it exploded, entering my brother. He was brought to the hospital. The deceased thought he was going to get better and asked witness to keep his job for him.

Orinz Spillsbury next called, said that they started out to the woods on Easter Sunday, namely, Charles and Ernest Gilbert, Fred Board and witness. Board and witness had guns In the woods he was chasing a squirrel, when he tripped and fell. The gun exploded and he saw Gilbert stand of him throw up his arms and yell. The shot had entered his side. Spillsbury said he had been using rifles ten or eleven years. He was only 16 years old.

"It is a wonder there haven't been more shot," the coroner remarked.

Dr. C. H. Amys called, stated that he, with Dr. McPherson, made the post mortem examination. The cause of the death was the damaged condition of the kidney and bowel, and the resulting complications, namely, onstruction of bowel, peritonitis and hemorrhage.

Dr. Amys said it was impossible to make a good examination owing to the fact that the body had been embalmed.

Crown Attorney Wood thought that the jury should urge the prevention of undertakers embalming bodies so soon after death, especially where the cause was accidental.

Dr. McPherson corroborated Dr. Amy's statements.

The jury was but a few minutes in reaching the verdict.

Mr. H. B. Collier Delivers Interesting and Instructive Talk.

Mr. H. B. Collier delivered a very interesting lecture last night in the Collegiate Institute on "Meteorites" to a good audience, under the auspices of the Astronomical Society. He explained their origin and relation to comets and other heavenly bodies.

The famous Victoria meteorite, loaned by the Toronto University, was on exhibition, and was a desired feature of the evening.

At the conclusion of the lecture a vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Collier for his address.

Majority 106 on the Veto Resolution

London, April 5.—At last night's session of the House of Commons the amendment to the veto resolutions which was introduced on March 31st, by the Right Hon. Sir Robert Finlay, was rejected by a vote of 357 to 251. The Findlay amendment declared that a strong and efficient second chamber was necessary, and that the commons is willing to consider proposals for the reform of the present second chamber, but declines to proceed with proposals that would destroy the usefulness of any second chamber and thus remove the only safeguard against any great changes being made by government of the day without the consent and against the wishes of the majority of the electors.

WOMAN LOST LIFE FOR GARMENTS

MRS. BARKER SUFFOCATED AT FIRE IN RAG FACTORY.

One Fireman Overcome—Disastrous Blaze in Toronto, Supposed to Have Originated From Spontaneous Combustion.

Toronto, April 5.—One woman dead, a fireman overcome by smoke, and $7,000 damage to buildings and stock, is the result of a blaze in the rag shop of E. Pullan, Adelaide and Maude streets.

Mrs. Anna Barker, 55 years of age lodging at 177 Richmond street, was found by the firemen lying between two presses and bales of rags, and it was impossible to revive her.

Fireman William Hawkins of the Portland division, collapsed, the result of swallowing too much smoke. His comrades worked over him for half an hour before he came around again.

The fire commenced about 3.30 p. m., though from what cause seems hard to determine. The sorting house is a long, narrow, two storey building, covered with tin sheeting. It is connected with a smaller brick building where the offices are, and where the finer stock is kept. This part of the establishment was not touched by fire.

CANADA'S SENATE AS AN EXAMPLE

OF WHAT THE HOUSE OF LORDS MIGHT BE, SAYS A BRITISH MEMBER.

School Boys for Canada—Dr. Gray Taking Them to His Ranch—B.C. Fruit Investments.

London, April 5.—Dr. Gray, headmaster of Bradfield College, sailed on the Virginian with a dozen Public school boys, eight of whom were trained at Bradfield. They are traveling second class. They are destined for his ranch in Calgary. The party is under the auspices of the Public Schools Immigration League.

The band of the Grenadier Guards will tour Canada in September and August.

In the course of the veto debate yesterday Mr. MacMaster argued that the proposals of the government amounted to something more than eliminating the powers of the Lords. If the Lords were deprived of of power to refer any question to the people, one of the greatest safeguards of the people's rights would be destroyed. They should endeavor to improve the second chamber, not to destroy it. He also showed that in Canada the senate had co-extensive powers with the commons, except in originating financial measures.

Why Not Go on the Land if There's So Much in Farming?

Ottawa, April 5.—The cost of living came up in the Agricultural and Colonization Committee today, and before the discussion ended the solution of the problem by greater reciprocity with the United States was advanced and supported.

Mr. C. J. Thornton (Durham) said that the situation was in the hands of the farmers.

Town people were suffering, while fortunes were being made out of five acre plots by intensive farming.

Mr. W. O. Sealey (Westworth) took violent exception to the classification of Canadian farmers with King Midas.

"If town people think that farmers are making barrels of money, there is any quantity of land in this country; let them go and do likewise," he said. "The increased cost of living is due to waste. Enough apples rot yearly around Hamilton to supply the city."

Mr. Thornton explained that he really agreed with Mr. Sealey, and suggested that a great publicity propoganda be started by the agriculture and colonization committee which would tempt town dwellers to adopt rural life.

"This committee should recommend that the government secure United States' markets for Canadian farmers," said Mr. William Wright (Muskoka).

"They are discriminated against shamefully. If any measure of reciprocity is to be obtained with the United States in the near future the agricultural interests should be considered.

A Sufferer of Twenty Years Comes Forward With a Real Cure.

"I can't remember any time during the past 20 years when my head specks would come before my eyes, and it seemed as if all the blood in my body wanted to rush to the head." Thus opens the letter of Mrs. Enoch S. Spry, of Putnam, P.Q., and continuing ger interesting statement she says; "Work or exertion made my heart beat terrible, and going up stairs caused such shortness of breath that it fairly frightened me. My doctor told me that it was poisons in the blood and if that was the cause Dr. Hamilton's Pills are the greatest blood reserver on earth. I tell you how I feel today, and you can understand what a great cure Dr. Hamilton's Pills have made. I feel strong enough now to work like a man, as for going upstairs on the run, it doesn't bother me at all. RAISE RATES IF WAGES GO UP

Lines Need More Money—Conciliation Board Has Been Appointed—U.S. Lines Raise Rates and Wages.

London, April 5.—According to local railroad officials here there is a move on foot on both the G.T.R. and C.P.R. roads to raise passenger and freight rates. Officials state that this course is necessary as a result of the repeated demands of employes for more wages.

American roads are already figuring the matter out, and a Grand Trunk official states that the New York Central are talking of raising their passenger rates to five cents a mile. Some lines have already raised rates.

Ottawa, April 5.—A Board of Investigation and Conciliation under the Lemieux Act, has been appointed to adjudicate upon the demand of the trainmen of the C.P.R. and G.T.R., other than firemen and engineers, for higher wages.

The board consists of Mr. J. E. Atkinson of Toronto, chairman.

Mr. Wallace Nesbitt, K.C., representing the companies.

Mr. J. G. O'Donoghue, representing the men.

The board will meet in Montreal next week.

The C.G.E. A Splendid Concern That Should be Encouraged

So Said Several Speakers at the Board of Trade Last Night---Mr. Meldrum and Dr. Morrison Claims That the Power Available at Water Works Dam Does Not Warrant the Expenditure of Seventy Thousand Dollars

The Board of Trade met in special session last night to consider the question of surplus power at the water works dam. President Gillespie presided and the meeting was characterized by a large attendance of prominent business and legal citizens, together with the Water Commissioners, and Mr. Larmonth and Mr. E. G. Patterson, manager of the C.G.E.'s local factory.

Messrs. Garbett and Kennedy, directors of the Peterborough Agricultural Society, asked the board's cooperation in an effort to persuade the council to purchase the present exhibition grounds or some other property for exhibition purposes.

Mr. D. O'Connell moved, seconded by Mr. R. F. McWilliams,—That a committee be appointed to wait on the City Council regarding this question.—Carried.

The great question of the hour—The C.G.E.'s proposition to rent the surplus power at the water works dam—here came up for discussion.

The C.G.E. are offering to build, equip and operate a power house at the dam and rent from the city 1000 h.p. from the city

h.p. at $2000 per year for 20 years, at the end of which time the power shall become city property. And they guarantee to spend $250,000 in extension of their present plant and premises here.

The opinion of the meeting was decidedly in favor of meeting the Canadian General Electric Company's requirements as far as possible, and several expressed themselves strongthat an institution like the C.G.E., that has been of so much benefit to Peterborough, should be encouraged even in preference to new industries.

MR. A. P. POUSSETTE

Favored the C.G.E.'s proposition and offered that its acceptance would prove an advantage to the city in every way.

MR. D. W. DUMBLE.

Was decidely antagonistic to the scheme and contended that the proposition was not one that a business man would make to a business man. He thought this matter should not be taken out of the hands of the Water Commissioners. Regarding this surplus power at the new dam the Water Commissioners' original scheme was to develop power and sell it to industries at cost.

DR. MORRISON.

Was not quite satisfied with the $70,000 power bylaw, and believed that the amount of power that can be developed at the dam does not warrant the expenditure of so much money. With a larger head of water we could develop electrical power at a cheaper rate than condition at this spot will permit. The development of power at this dam might cost much more than expected.

He was content to leave the matter in the Water Commissioners' and council's hands. The former's engineer will report on what power can be developed and at what cost, which will furnish a basis upon which to work. From his present knowledge of the situation he thought the city's offer of $1500 a year the first ten years and $5000 the next 10 years a fair one.

MR. LARMONTH

Thought the C.G.E.'s proposition the best they will offer. The price the city is asking would, taking into consideration the company's capital expenditure, interest, sinking fund and upkeep, bring their power up to just about what it is selling at in the city today. He figured out that were the company's proposition accepted they would not be getting power as cheaply as some people think. While the C.G.E. do not threaten to move their present plant to Toronto, all present and future extensions would be made in that city should they not get this power. If they spend $250,000 here this year there will be no question of their enlarging their plant in any other place in the future. He advised that the C.G.E. be treated liberally.

MR. T. F. MATTHEWS

Contended that the power at the water works dam is not a satisfactory power for the city to handle. Chances will have to be taken as to the flow of the river and what the city's requirements are. The council have not in any way attempted to take this matter out of the commissioners' hands.

MR. RUDDY

Offered that in the C.G.E.'s proposition the city has a chance of getting what we are out after—increased industrial activity. The C.G.E. is an industry we all know, and have confidence in. They are here to stay. Were this proposition made by a new industry, would you delay in arriving at a decision. He thought the people who are answerable to the ratepayers should assume the responsibility in this matter. Then if we employ an industrial commissioner, why not give him something to do? Let him take charge of all the water power the city has.

MR. B. F. ACKERMAN

Urged that no delay be suffered in dealing with this proposition, which is well worth considering. He thought the matter in safe hands.

MR. T. F. MATTHEWS

"There has been no delay. We have wired the commissioners' engineer, and he will be here tomorrow to consult with us.

MAYOR MORROW.

Supported Mr. Matthews in his assertion that there had been no delay in dealing with the proposition. Mr. Nicholls did not reply to the city's proposition until last Thursday, when he (the mayor) immediately called a council meeting, at which the commissioners were present. And another meeting will be held tomorrow (Wednesday) night. The council generally feels that it would be desirable to avoid issuing debentures now for $70,000 for a city power house, and if the power can be rented at a fair rate it would be agood move to avoid this capital debet. Many permanent improvements are needed, such as sewers and another sceptic tank.

MR. MELDRUM

Said the C.G.E., with their own proposition accepted, would not get very cheap power, when their investment, interest, sinking fund and cost of operating power house and transmitting the power to their works is considered. Then the public should know what the $70,000 asked for by the city is going to be expended upon. It would not cost $70,000 to build and equip a plant to develop the power available at the water works dam. The C.G.E. is a splendid concern for this city, and deserves all the consideration we can give them. They are a home company that have always carried out their promises and invested a large amount of capital here, which has materially aided the growth and promoted the general prosperity of Peterborough. Mr. Meldrum figured that, with the C.G.E.'s proposition accepted, their power would cost them at least $15 a horse power.

No resolution was passed, such action being considered out of place now that negotiations are on. but there were very few present who were not anxious for an agreement to be reached with the C.G.E.

One of the most soul-distressing accidents that can befall one is a bad ankle or wrist sprain. "If I had only known of 'Nerviline' earlier, I could have saved myself an enormous amount of pain, and many agonizing nights of sleeplessness." Thus writes P. P. Quinn, a young farmer living near Brockville. "I tumbled from a hay loft to the barn floor and sprained my right ankle and left wrist. They swelled rapidly and caused excruciating pains. It was not convenient to go to the city, and the liniment in the house was useless. When I got Nerviline relief came quickly. It took down the swelling, relieved the pain, and gave me wonderful comfort.

UNITED STATES NAVY.

The people of the United States are beginning to realise that it costs a great deal of money to be a world power. It was only in the middle of the eighties that our neighbors began to cherish the ambition to have a navy and one that would compare favorably with that of any of the great powers. For over one hundred years from the establishment of the Union, the statesmen of the United States were satisfied to concern themselves only with the country's domestic affairs. They saw that the nation was being strengthened every year by the immigrants from Europe, and in those days the newcomers were generally the pick instead of being as now to a considerable extent the human refuse of Europe. They also watched the great West changing fram a waste marked on the map as the Great American Desert," into prosperous commonwealth the home of hundreds of thousands of people, and apparently destined in the future to have a very important voice in the direction of National affairs. With an army limited by law to forty thousand men and never able to recruit to its full strength, and a navy that comprised a few cruisers, trim but comparatively inoffensive, the country seemed to get along very well without the European luxuries of a great standing army and a fleet which yearly became comparatively less powerful as the other countries continued to add to their armaments.

As we have said, it was not until about 1885 that the people of the United States came to think that they could not realize that full measure of prosperity which they believed they were destined to achieve unless they had a navy. And when they had begun to give practical effect to that idea, it was soon apparent that they would not be content unless they rivalled other nations in their armaments. What this ambition was going to cost was probably not so fully realized by the framers of the modern American Navy. During the present year the United States government is planning to spend $140,000,000 on its Navy, which is approximately $1.50 for every man, woman and child in the country. No further back than 1885, the total cost of the navy was only $14,000,000, and the amount about 25 cents per capita of the population. How expenditures of this kind grow, and how greatly modern vessels have increased expenditure may be seen from the fact that although at peace, the United States naval budget for this year shows that it is proposed to spend twice the sum expended at the time of the war with Spain.

President Taft, we think it was, who said that the opening of the Panama Canal, would enable a reduction of fifty per cent. to be made in the naval appropriations. But if the situation in the United States is like that in other countries, such an anticipation is not likely to be realised, and the United States will be found to maintain a navy only exceeded in strength by those of Great Britain or Germany. By the acquisition of transmarine possessions the United States has necessarily come to occupy an international position essentially different from that which it had previously held and with new responsibilities of which a powerful navy is at once an indication and an necessity.

TOO MUCH ARITHMETIC.

W. S. Lilly, in the Nineteenth Century, inveighs against the tyranny of the odd man in politics. "Can any human being out of Bedlam," he asks, "suppose that any sanctity attaches to the volition, or rather the whim, of the odd man?"

Other critics of democracy have dwelt upon the absurdity of 50 men ruling 49. But while they ridicule arithmetic, it is really they who are unable to look away from arithmetic. Before you can discover on which side are the 50, you must submit your proposal to the 99. There must be argument on both sides, there must be a mental process leading up to judgment in the mind of each elector. It is in this, quite as much as in the actual marking of the ballot, that the merit of democracy lies.

Vice-Admiral Fournier of the French navy has published his memoirs, in which he says the United States would, if war were declared between this country and Japan, be compelled to fight Great Britain also, and that the conflict might, before it ended, involve all the great powers, with England, Japan, Russia and France on one side, and the United States, Germany, Austria and Italy on the other. The admiral does not explain what he has been smoking.

The Burke' Falls Arrow tells of a farm in that neighborhood which is offered for sale at $1,300, and which has netted the owner $300 per year for the past five years over and above all living expenses. At that rate, the farm has not only paid for itself in that time, but has given the owner a living and a couple of hundred dollars besides. Farming in Ontario is not a bad business.

BRIGHTENING THE TOWN.

New Scheme for Lighting the Business Streets.

The following new scheme for lighting the streets of Owen Sound might be tried in Peterborough. It would no doubt make the streets look very pretty in the summer time. A despatch from Owen Sound says:

"A new scheme for lighting the main street will be tried by the Municipal Electric Light Department here. The plan is to light the main business block by lines of incandescent lamps strung across the street. A sample arch is already in commission and is attracting a lot of attention. The idea is to have similar arches erected one hundred feet apart, with cross arches at each corner. To do the two blocks of Second-ave. east between 8th and 10th-sts. would require thirteen arches. They would be lighted every night until eleven o'clock, when the arc lights would be turned on. This service, 365 nights a year, averaging three hours a night, could be handled at a cost of about $6,-800. The sample arch is a simple affair, consisting of a cable stretched between the poles and carrying the lamps hung two feet apart, with other lamps fixed to the side of each pole. The effect is good, both as to appearance and attractiveness, as a lighting factor. It is also looked upon as a good advertisement for the town."

It is safe to say that no product of any kind enjoys a more enviable reputation than does this famous Cosgrave Beer of Toronto in markets where it is offered.

A CORRECTION.

It Was Mr. Hickey, of Bethune St., North, Who Advocated a Cat By-law.

In the hurry necessitated in producing a morning paper, our report of Monday night's Council meeting, read that Mr. Hicks advocated the passage of a "Cat By-law." We certainly did not intend to write "Mr. Hicks," knowing full well that it was Mr. Hickey, of Bethune street, north, who urged the Council to draft a measure that would put a certain degree of restraint upon poor pussy's present unbridled liberty. Had we intended to credit "Ald." Hicks with the proposition, we should certainly have prefixed his name with the honorable title of "Alderman" that fits him so well. Through The Times' unfortunate misspelling of a name, at an early hour yesterday morning, the city generally was giving Ald. Hicks credit for an action he was not guilty of. This points to the value of this journal as a medium for giving citizens overnight's local news at a reasonably early hour the following day. We regret that the onus of Monday night's attack upon the inherent privileges of our domestic pets should have been shouldered upon Ald. Hicks; but at the same time wish it understood that, though mistakes occur once in a while, we never neglect giving Aldermen their official title. Our report read "Mr." Hicks, instead of "Mr." Hickey.

Tell Some Sick One

R Dr Shoop M D Racine, Wis.

Will you do me one of Discovery?

Will you tell some sick friend of this, my remarkable offer?

Tell him or her, that you have learned of a prescription by which they may be cured, and that it is absolutely and unconditionally free if it fails.

And you, my dearie, already know of Dr. Shoop's Restorative and its popularity.

For 20 years it has been the standard remedy for Stomach, Kidney and Blood ailments everywhere in America.

When the "inside" or controlling nerves of those vital organs begin to fail, it is Dr. Shoop's Restorative that has quickly stimulated, and strengthened, and brought them nerve and energy back to healthy health.

I do not know the disease, nor remember the Heart or Kidneys—for that is all wrong.

Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes direct to the actual cause of these ailments—the failing, disordered or controlling nerves. And herein lies the business to my success.

When these nerves are again made well and strong, then that is the certain end of all sick sickness.

To me it is a great satisfaction that I am the only physician able to say to the sick and sad, "Take my prescription for but 30 days, and if it fails to help you, the entire expense is mine—not yours."

Then why should the sick take any chance on any other medicine, when no maker dare not back it just as I do by this remarkable offer?

I also have a Rheumatic Remedy—and that remedy is covered by the same identical "no sale, no pay" protective plan.

Better, you are free to correspond me just as you would your home physician. My advice and the book below are yours—and without cost.

Perhaps a word or two from me will clear up some serious ailment. I have helped thousands upon thousands by my private prescriptions or personal advice plan. My best effort is surely worth your simple request.

So let me send you an order at once. Take the next step to make sick friends.

A postal will be me the opportunity.

I will have an honest and trustworthy drug-gist to whom you can conveniently go for the 30 day test.

But first, ask me for the order, for all these days are not sanctioned to give a free 30 day test.

So write me now and I will send, by return mail, that necessary permission, and my valuable book.

$&C ASPECT OF

ZAM-BUK

Zam-Buk spells saving to you! Suppose husband, wife or some member of the family sustains a cut or a bad scratch, which festers or turns to blood-poisoning. Result—off work! What does that mean at pay day? Zam-Buk prevents wounds, cuts or injuries "turning the wrong way." Apply it immediately, and it kills the poison and starts healing.

There is another aspect. If you have in the family, eczema, ringworm, ulceration, or any skin disease, try Zam-Buk first—don't spend money on experimenting! You will have to get Zam-Buk eventually. Do it now; and save cost of the other things.

Hear these persons:—

Mr. A. M. Brooks, Wellington Street, Stoulton, Ont., says:—"If only I had got Zam-Buk at first, it would have saved me scores of dollars; as well as hours of agony." Mr. Brooks has been cured of eczema. He says:—"My neck, chest and body were covered with the terrible disease. The itching, burning and smarting I suffered, none who has not gone through it can tell! Doctors' lotions, salves and prescriptions didn't do me a bit of good; and from one thing to another I passed, only to find them useless. With Zam-Buk it was different ... through a long story, I can say that a few weeks' ... with this great healing balm healed the sore. ... did me far good ... the terrible ... and ... me for help for over ten months!"

"If I had applied Zam-Buk in the first place, instead of trying the other preparations, I should have saved myself a lot of misery." So says Mrs. R. E. Bedford, of 867 Dovercourt Ave., St. Boniface, Winnipeg. Mrs. Bedford had a sore finger, which became poisoned. She says:—"It became ... my whole arm ... and throbbed ... I called in a doctor ... he lanced it. You may ... how I suffered, and despite the doctor's ... the finger finally festered, and got so bad that the doctor ... to the hospital. I feared, if I did, they would cut it off, so refused. One day we were advised to try Zam-Buk. We had ... everything else ... and were ... a trial. Well, it only took ... days to draw out the ... Then, bit by bit, it began to heal, and in less than three ... from first ... Zam-Buk the finger was healed ... perfectly healthy. If only I had got Zam-Buk at first!"

All skin injuries and diseases are cured by Zam-Buk. Eczema, ringworm, ulcers, abscesses, piles, bad legs, blood poisoning, cuts, burns, scalds, sores, chapped hands, chilblains, scaly eruptions, skin ... ...

VOL. XXXIII NO. 80 — PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO THURSDAY APRIL 7 1910 — PRICE TWO CENTS

The City Accepts the Canadian General Electric Co's. Proposition

The Water Commissioners and Aldermen a Unit in Selling Them Our Power at Two Thousand Dollars a Year for a Period of Twenty Years

The City Council and the Water Commissioners have accepted the C.G.E.'s proposition for the purchase of the surplus power at the water works dam, and it is hoped that no unforseen hitch will arise between the city and the company. Mr. Nicholls will be notified at once of the city's decision and upon a confirmative reply being received from him the $70,000 power bylaw that the ratepayers are asked to vote on in April 19th, will be withdrawn.

To a Times representative a large number of inquiring citizens expressed last night their hearty endorsation of the council's and Water Commissioners' action in this important matter.

Following is the Water Commissioners' decision and the council's resolution, offering to dispose of the city's surplus water power to Peterborough's big electric industry on terms that practically agree with the company's last proposition:—

WATER COMMISSIONERS.

Water Commissioner T. F. Matthews submitted to the council the following:

"That the commissioners inform the City Council that they are willing to dispose of the surplus water power at the new dam for a period of twenty years on the following general terms: The commissioners to reserve the right to use such quantity of power as may be required for water works purposes, and the purchaser to pay $2,000 a year and erect the building for the power station and furnish and instal machinery to develop such surplus power, and in addition to the $2,000 a year the building and all the machinery and appliances erected or placed on the property to become the property of the city at the end of the period, the agreement to contain proper and sufficient provisions to safeguard the interests of the city as to the character of the building and machinery and their maintenance, the control of the dam, and in all other respects as advised, and also a provision that if the commissioners use more than 500 horse power at other than times of fire and by so doing reduce the power available for the use of the purchaser below 1,000 horse power the purchaser shall be made an allowance therefor. It is strongly recommended that a satisfactory arrangement be made for public lighting of the city concurrent to an arrangement for the sale of the power."

COUNCIL'S RESOLUTION.

Ald. Turner mived, seconded by Ald. Buller,—That it having been represented to this council that the Canadian General Electric Company, owing to its increasing business requires to erect additional buildings and plant, and to obtain more electric power for the efficient operation of same; and contemplates the expenditure of at least $250,000 for said buildings and equipments in the city, provided said additional power can be obtained; and as the new water works dam is capable of developing more power than will be required for water works purposes, it would be in the interest of the city that such surplus power should be utilized, and made revenue producing. But for this purpose it would be necessary to construct and equip a power house at the said dam at a large expense, and it is at present doubtful if the same would show that the power could be disposed of, and the said company has proposed to the council that if the said surplus power be granted to it for a period of 20 years, that the company would pay for the same the sum of $2,000 per year and would construct the necessary power house, and put in the plant required, for the development and use of such power—which arrangement will ensure a steady and fair revenue to the city for the use of this power that otherwise might be unused.

This council therefore requests the Peterborough Water Commissioners to enter into an agreement with the said company for the development and use by the company of the said surplus power on such terms as will protect the interests of the city and not interfere with the proper and sufficient supply of power necessary for the present purposes of the Water Commissioners and providing that the said power house and plant will at the end of said term of twenty years become the absolute property of the City of Peterborough without payment to the company of anything therefore. Carried unanimously.

THE MEETING.

The council met last night. There were present, Mayor Morrow and Aldermen Bradburn, Gillespie, Duffus, Hicks, Phelan, Graham, Buller, Metheral, Batten, Turner, Morgan and Duncan. Also Water Commissioners Matthews, Moore and Hill.

Mr. T. F. Matthews in submitting the commissioners' resolution as above, said their engineer had advised them on the value of the power at the water works dam, which is a figure worth perhaps somewhat more than that offered by the C.G.E. In submitting our terms we don't particularly take into consideration the C.G.E.'s offer, but they are such as would apply to any company. Our engineer reports that the city would not require 500 or more h.p., perhaps for ten years to come, and the amount of power available at the water works dam by that time will probably be 1000 h.p. The purchasers could equip their power house for the development of 1000 horse power and enter into an arrangement for public lighting if such a course be deemed advisable. Mr. Matthews was optimistic of the amount of power available at this dam by the time the street lighting contract expires being sufficient for the purchaser to look forward to a public lighting proposition.

Ald. Hicks remarked that while some of the aldermen entertained different views of the situation, all are actuated with a desire to act in the interests of the city. He thought the water commissioners' proposition one very highly in the city's interests and showed their good judgment. "We cannot do better than leave the matter in the commissioners' hands."

Ald. Turner—"I saw Mr. Patterson today, and he said he would undertake to light the water works free gratis. I consider this concession of some importance to the city.

In looking forward to power for the city's future requirements, Ald. Turner remarked that Engineer Kennedy's report showed that we are getting a fair rate for street lighting under the present contract. "At any rate I am assured on every hand," he said, "that in three or four years we shall have sufficient power available for all possible purposes. Hon. J. R. Stratton had remarked that the city is power crazy but need have no fear for the future in that regard."

Ald. Turner's resolution was here put, to vote and carried unanimously."

GERMANY MENACED BY A VAST STRIKE

BUILDING TRADE OF COUNTRY MAY BE TIED UP.

Will Involve 250,000 Men—Employers Refuse Proposal That a Joint Committee Shall Draw Up Wage Tariff.

Berlin, April 7.—The prospect of the most extensive strike in the building trades which has ever occurred in Germany is held out by the decisive action of the delegates representing the Socialist Federation of Trades Unions, comprising 300,000 bricklayers, carpenters, masons, builders and laborers, at a meeting this evening, at which they unanimously rejected the proposed wage tariff which the Master Builders' Union had drawn up. Such a strike would affect at least 350,000 men, spread over the entire country. About 35,000 members of the Christian Trades Union in the same branches have also unanimously decided to join in throwing out the employers' proposal.

The workers demand that the tariff shall be drawn up by an equal number of representatives of workers and employers. The latter up to the present have rejected such a method of reaching an agreement. The men expressed themselves as determined to remain firm. They have been agitating for a considerable period for shorter hours and increased wages, pointing out the great rise in prices of the necessaries of life.

The employers appear equally firm. Their union will meet within a few days to take action relative to the workers' resolution. Should the demands of the men be refused, work will immediately cease.

GREAT ISSUE FOR PEACE TRIBUNAL

DEFINING THE FISHING RIGHTS OF CANADIANS AND AMERICANS.

Jurisdiction of Colony Will Be Determined at The Hague Arbitration Court in June—An Array of Brilliant Counsel.

Washington, April 6.—An array of counsel, greater in number and more illustrious in reputation than ever before, assembled at The Hague, to engage in the trial of a special case, has been retained to represent Great Britain and the United States in the determination of what undoubtedly is the most important issue ever presented to the great peace tribunal. Technically this is the determination of differences which have arisen between the two governments as to the true intent of the provisions of article 1 of the treaty of 1818, defining the fishing rights of Canadians and Americans in their respective waters. The issue of greatest importance is the determination of a right of a colony or a province, such as Canada or Newfoundland, by local legislation to deprive persons of rights conferred by treaty between the principals. On June 1st next the arbitration tribunal is to meet at The Hague to hear the oral arguments.

The arbitration court will consist of Dr. Heinrick Lammasch of Austria umpire, who will act as president; Luis M. Drago, Argentine Republic; Joukheer, A. F. De Savornin Lohman, of the Neitherlands; Judge George Gray of Delaware, and Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, chief justice of the Supreme Court of Canada.

The agent of Great Britain in this arbitration, is the Hon. A. B. Aylesworth, minister of justice in Canada. The counsel on the part of Great Britain are the Right Hon. Sir William Robinson, K.C., attorney-general of England; the Right Hon. Sir George Fialay, K.C., former attorney-general of England; Sir H. Erie Richards, K.C., and on the part of Canada, John S. Ewart, K.C., George Shipley, K.C., W. M. Tilley; and on the part of Newfoundland, the Hon. Sir Richard Morris, K.C., premier of Newfoundland; the Hon. Sir James Winter, K.C., former attorney-general of Newfoundland; D. Morrison, K.C., attorney-general of Newfoundland, and the solicitors are Messrs. Blake and Redden.

High Water Obstructs the Building of the Smith St. Bridge

Water Will be Lowered for Two Weeks to Permit of Work Being Proceeded With

At the council meeting last night, Contractor Conroy complained that he could not proceed with the construction of the Smith street bridge owing to the water being raised to an abnormal height by the Quaker Oats and Hydraulic Power companies. His letter said that he must insist that the water be kept at a level that would permit of him proceeding with the work.

Mr. W. H. Moore was present in Mr. Conroy's interests, and offered that they had endeavored to arrange with Mr. Larmonth for lowering the water, but without success. It is utterly impossible for the construction to be proceeded with while the water is at its present level. Mr. Conroy's contract provided that the water could be reduced temporarily five feet, and the contractor should not be expected to lower the water at his own expense which would amount to the value of his contract.

The city solicitor thought the matter could surely be arranged amicably without recourse to arbitrary proceedings.

Mr. Larmonth explained that the present level was due to abnormally high water. "If we lower the level now some factories will have to shut down. I told Mr. Conroy to figure on the present level, as we could not guarantee to lower the water at this season of the year. We are right down to our high water limit. Then our power level has increased enormously. The Quaker Oats people are using 500 h.p. more than last year, and the requirements of several other concerns have also increased. A reduction of five feet of water, which Mr. Conroy is asking for, would take off 700 h.p. We lowered one foot, and that's all we can do with our present load. The order of the court allows us 50 feet at our dam, not at Smith street, and we are only carrying 49. Lowering the water five feet at present would mean a loss of several thousand dollars; it would only cost Mr. Conroy $1000 to work under present conditions. It was merely a coincident that we raised the water the day Mr. Conroy started to work.

A lengthy discussion on the situation elicited the fact that the water in the back lakes is two or three feet lower than usual. Raising the water there would relieve the situation considerably.

Mr. Conroy's complaint was referred to the Power Committee, which met immediately after adjournment of council. Mr. Larmonth was present at this meeting and understanding that if given five feet lower water for two weeks Mr. Conroy could have his work sufficiently advanced to permit of the water being raised again without affecting his proceedings, Mr. Larmonth agreed to relieve the city from an embarrassing position by arranging for a reduction of the water for two weeks. This, of course, it must be understood will effect the lights some what, so citizens must not complain. This matter will be attended to at once.

The city's interests had been fully safeguarded against such a contingency as that which has arisen regarding the foregoing situation. But, of course the council are anxious that the Smith street bridge be constructed without delay, hence it is gratifying to know that this vexed question has been amicably settled.

TO REMOVE BUILDING.

Mr. C. Risbor asked council to guarantee that should he build his new premises near the C.P.R. station, Mr. Houdries' old building on Dalhousie street, which is on the street line, and would shut out his premises, would be removed. As a resolution ordering the removal of the building in question from off the public street had been passed by the council some time ago, Mr. Risbor was assured that it would be enforced. Mr. Risbor was also assured of sidewalk and sewer privileges on the usual conditions.

Better Train Service to North Country

A Matter of Importance to Peterborough—Should Be Taken Up By the Board of Trade at Once.

The Times would suggest that pressure be brought to bear on the Grand Trunk authorities with a view to securing better train accommodation with the northy country than at present exists. Here is our proposal: The train which leaves Haliburton every morning, reaches Lindsay about 9, where it remains sidetracked until 2.40 p.m., when it makes its return trip. Now, we would have this train, instead of making Lindsay the terminus, run through to Peterborough, reaching here at 10 and returning again say at 1.40. This would give the people of Haliburton County, and in fact, all along the line, nearly four hours every day in which to do business in Peterborough. It would be the means of diverting a considerable portion of the trade from Toronto to this city. Not only this, but it would be hailed with satisfaction by hundreds of people who have to make frequent business trips into the north country, which the present inadequate service does not afford. Passengers from Peterborough have now to spend several hours in Lindsay, both going and returning.

The fact that this train, which is known in Lindsay as the "Haliburton train," has to wait in Lindsay from 9 a.m. to 2.40 p.m., is the one reason why this accommodation should be granted, as little additional expense would be incurred in making Peterborough the terminus instead of Lindsay.

LAID AT REST.

Funeral of the Late Miss Nora McFadden.

The funeral of Miss Nora McFadden took place yesterday morning from the residence of her sister, Mrs. George Ball, at 9 o'clock to St. Peter's Cathedral, where solemn requiem high mass was celebrated by Fr. The pall bearers were Messrs. C. Rutherford, J. Lynch, T. McQuillan, F. McFadden, H. Mervin and H. Overend. The prayers at the graveside were recited by Father McFadden.

ONE MORE ELIXIR OF LIFE.

Mycolysine Decapitates Activity of Phagocytes, Says Dr. Doyen.

Paris, April 7.—Dr. Doyen, the noted surgeon, thinks that he has come nearer finding the elixir of life than anyone has before him. Anyway, he is greatly confident that he has found a means of prolonging life to a considerable extent. He made the announcement yesterday afternoon in a lecture in which he gave many technical details.

He said that he had discovered a liquid, which he calls mycolysine, which dissolves germs. It was known he said, that if it were possible to decapitate the activity of phagocytes the resistance of the human body would be greatly increased. In this case a majority of infectious diseases would disappear.

This problem he solved by the discovery of phagocytacous colloids, which form the basis of mycolysine. He insists that if employed rationally mycolysine will abolish a majority of the infectious diseases, especially those of the respiratory and digestive organs and of the skin.

London Woman Shot by Mysterious Intruder

Was Alone in Her Home When the Unknown Entered By the Window and Fired a Pistol at Her—She Fled, But Fell to the Floor, and Her Pursuer Put Three Bullets Into Her Body.

Robbery Not Thought to Be the Motive—Victim May Die—Assailant Made His Escape—Was Wearing a Black Christy Hat Which He Left Behind at the House.

London, Ont., April 5.—Attacked in her own home on the Wellington Road by an unknown man, Miss Elizabeth Frank was shot this afternoon and may die from her injuries. The man made his escape by jumping through a window frame and fled towards Westminster Township. He is described as well dressed, short of stature, with ruddy cheeks and black moustache. He was wearing black clothes and left a black Christy hat behind him, which, however, gives no clue to identification.

Miss Franks, who resides alone in a large house, was in her sitting-room, when there came the sound of shattered glass and she turned to face the man. She demanded his reason for coming there. He made no answer, but fired point blank at her. She fled from the room and he pursued her. At the door she stumbled, and as she lay prostrate the man fired three more shots at her and then struck at her with the revolver. Then, though the woman had not screamed, he seemed to grow suddenly afraid and, jumping through a window, made his escape.

The police seem doubtful as to whether robbery was his motive, as he passed by the woman's gold watch and money and did not take it. The surrounding country is being scoured in pursuit of the man.

One of the bullets entered the woman's neck at the left side, close to the jugular vein, and came out at the back of her neck. Another went through her ear and a third lodged in a sightless eyeball.

MORAN GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER

JURY FINDS HIM GUILTY OF LESS SERIOUS CHARGE AT NORTH BAY.

He Killed W. J. Dyson—Struck T. and N. O. Operator on the Head Three Times During a Scuffle.

North Bay, April 6.—Chief Justice Mulock presided at the assizes yesterday. Geo. T. Blackstock, K.C., was sufficiently recovered to act as Crown prosecutor.

James Moran, aged 19, charged with the murder of Wm. J. Dyson, a young T. and N. O. telegrapher, whose home was in Guelph, at Redwater on Dec. 21, was found guilty of manslaughter, after three hours' deliberation.

William Cornish, a sectionman, said that he and Moran were in Dyson's office, when an altercation arose over a car which had not been switched on time. Dyson finally ordered Cornish and Moran to leave the office, and, not being obeyed, secured a club and struck at Cornish, who dodged and clinched. Both fell to the floor, with Dyson on top, and choking Cornish. Moran told Dyson to let his chum up, and no attention being given, picked up Dyson's club and struck three blows on the head. Dyson died in about thirty minutes.

G. L. T. Ball, for the defence, pointed out that Dyson had used bad language, was the aggressor, and might have killed Cornish, in whose behalf Moran interfered.

Mr. Blackstock characterized the crime as deliberate murder, unnecessary and cruel, as two other men were nearby and Cornish was in no real peril. Moran's three heavy blows were hard to explain.

The Dog By-Law May Not be Legal

The city solicitor dropped a thunderbolt last night in the midst of an assembly of satisfied aldermen. He did not know that the dog bylaw was workable. He had left a draft of the measure with Ald. Turner on the understanding that it should not be passed in its crude form as he was not sure that some points in it were legal. He was doubtful if the leash clause would hold water, when a license fee was fixed, and was much surprised to find that council had adopted the bylaw without further consulting him.

A certain degree of consternation here prevailed, but Ald. Morgan's and Ald. Buller's faces were radiant. They have contended all along that both a leash and license clause would render the bylaw illegal.

Ald. Turner here explained that he had had no desire to override the solicitor, but people were coming in for their tags, and he had been under the impression that the bylaw was in shape to go ahead with.

It was finally decided to take chances on the bylaw being legal and to let it stand.

POLICE EXPECT TO CAPTURE ROBBER

THE WOMAN WHO WAS SHOT IN BROAD DAYLIGHT STILL LIVING.

Close to the Assailant—Man Hid in Swamp Till 6 P.M.—Evidently the Motive Was Theft.

London, Ont., April 6.—Miss Elizabeth Frank, victim of yesterday afternoon's shooting accident, is still in a very serious condition, though reported easier at noon.

The police are hot on the trail of her assailant, and an arrest is expected at any time. It has been learned that he remained hidden in the swamp in Miss Frank's property until nearly six. Then he was seen going easterly. One man noticed that the leg of his trousers was torn at the knee. The police also have his hat, which bears the name of a London maker. It is learned that he secured a hat about seven o'clock last night from a farmer about three miles east of the Frank place.

Miss Frank spent the night at her home, attended by Mr. and Mrs. Knowles, who have been her neighbors for 40 years. Mr. Knowles stated to a reporter that Miss Franks says she never saw the man before. She was sitting reading when she heard the window break and went to the kitchen. The man fired at her and the bullet went through her hair. She ran to the side door, and the man jumped through the window, and chased her. He caught her at the door. She struggled with him and he threw her to the ground, firing three shots, all of which took effect about her head. She knows of no one who would want to shoot her for any reason and thinks the man came to rob the house.

Miss Frank is very wealthy, and owns splendid farms, which she rents as pasture, and from which she derives a handsome income.

70 YEARS OLD.

Grateful for Medical Aid.

"Though I had passed my seventieth birthday," writes R. A. Silver from Duncan, P.O., "I am painfully aware that one of the penalties of old age is the slowing down of the activities of the system. One of the most dangerous conditions of old age is constipation, an indirect cause of many sudden death. I have used many medicines, but none so suited to old age as Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They are wonderful regulators—keep the stomach and bowels in perfect condition, prevent indigestion, biliousness, liver complaint and constipation. I recommend Dr. Hamilton's Pills because they never grip nor cause distress—just a mild tonic laxative."

Rainbow and Niobe will Arrive Soon

Ottawa, April 5.—The Rainbow and Niobe, the cruisers forming the nucleus of the Canadian navy, are expected to come out to Canada about the end of June, according to the latest advices received at the Marine Department. The Rainbow is still in the dock-yard, and, while the admiralty will place her in complete shape, it is stated that some necessary changes to make the ship suitable for training purposes will be made only when the money is voted by Parliament.

The Niobe will be ready to come out soon after the parliamentary appropriation for the purpose is ratified. She will be stationed at Halifax and the Rainbow on the Pacific coast.

PREPARE FOR LUMBAGO!

If You Have "Nerviline" Handy One Rubbing Will Cure the Pain.

Thousands Use "Nerviline."

The "strike" of lumbago is like a bolt of lightning—you never know when it is coming or where it is going to strike. Probably the one certain thing about Lumbago is the fact that it can be cured by Nerviline—the only liniment that penetrates deeply enough to reach the congested cords and muscles.

LETTER NO. 4675

"Years ago I strained my back and suffered considerably with weakness over the spine," writes Darius P. Millan, a well-known farmer, residing near Kingsville. "Then lumbago attacked the weak spot, for days at a time, I would have to lie up in bed bed, unable to move or turn. Liniments, poultices and hot applications failed to bring the desired relief, and I was in despair of ever getting really well again. I at last decided to test "Nerviline." I got five bottles from the drug store and had it rubbed on three times a day. The stiffness and pain left my back quickly, and by continuing Nerviline I was completely cured of Lumbago."

This is similar testimony to that of nearly five thousand Canadians who have written unstinted words of praise to the manufacturers of Nerviline. For the cure of lumbago, sciatica, neuralgia and rheumatism there is no liniment with one-fifth the pain-relieving power of Nerviline!

Refuse any substitute. Large 25c. bottles of Nerviline, or five for $1.00 at all dealers, or the Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

DUAL TELEPHONE SYSTEMS.

The manager of the Canadian Machine Telephone Company has applied to the Council of Lindsay for an extension of time in which to get started. Like Peterborough, the Company has been endeavoring to establish a dual system of telephones in that town. In his remarks to the Council Mr. McKay, the manager, refers to Peterborough as one of the places where his company has a successful exchange in operation. We do not know how the word "success" can be applied to its operations here. The Company spent a lot of money in putting in conduits and installing a plant. So far as we are aware there has never been one dollar collected by the company from its subscribers, although the Company's exchange has been in operation for some years. Just why this is, we know not, or is it our concern. We mention it merely to emphasize the fact that so long as the telephones are free, there can scarcely be much else than praise for the Company from its "subscribers." But what we do know, and what concerns us is, that a dual telephone system is a nuisance and should not be encouraged. They are about as useful as a dual post office system. As soon as the "opposition" secures a few subscribers, business men are in a way forced to have a telephone installed. But the chief reason why a second telephone company is not required, is on account of the fact that the splendid service of the Bell Company makes it unnecessary. The system is well nigh perfect, and the charges are extremely moderate.

FINE CLASS OF IMMIGRANTS.

The Canadian Pacific Railway seems to have been successful in securing for its model farms in the Calgary district, a type of immigrant who will be heartly welcomes by Canada. Fifty families, two hundred people in all, went through Montreal on a C.P.R. special the other day, bound for homes in the West, which have been erected for them by the railway company, and the description of the affluence afforded by the despatches is encouraging. Each has a minimum of $1,000 in cash, but better than that, many have expert knowledge of land cultivation, horse and cattle breeding, and dairying.

Many of their methods the new comers will have to adapt to Canadian conditions, but the thrift and intelligence which have contributed to their success in the old land will do the same for them here. They have learned, probably, to be careful of the soil, and that is a lesson which the Canadian farmer may well learn from them before it is too late. The example of the Western States, with their squandered soil-wealth and their acres of worn-out farms, is not one to be followed. The new settlers talk of scientific farming. If their reference is to the scientic preservation of soil-quality instead of the reckless waste of soil resources, it is the right sort of talk for Canada. Their experiences on the farm made ready for them by the railway company will be watched with interest.

Should he live to see next Sunday, General Booth will celebrate his eighty-first birthday, and for sixty-six years he has been preaching and organizing! From the time of his conversion at fifteen, until at thirty-six, he inaugurated the Salvation Army movement, he was engaged in evangelistic work. Since that time, he has been the center of an ever widening sphere of activities.

The work of his organization is not, in its entirety, familiar to people of other denominations. The general himself is nothing if not practical, and this characteristic has left its mark upon the Army. The presence of its officers in Toronto's daily police court has saved many young unfortunates from association with older criminals in the institution to which they would otherwise have to be sent. In undertaking to look after the future of these, the Army has engaged in a work which seems to have been altogether overlooked by the denominations. Its remarkable success has amply justified the experiment.

OUR NEW STORY.

In a few days The Times will begin the publication of a new and thrilling serial story, entitled "Satan Sanderson," by Hallie Erminie Rives, author of "Hearts Courageous," etc. Watch for the opening chapters.

OLDEST EUROPEAN MONARCH.

Grand Duke George is Eighty-five Years Old Today.

Berlin, April 2. — Grand Duke George II. of Saxe-Meiningen, who is known as the oldest of European rulers, entered upon his eighty-fifth year to-day. A dispatch from Meiningen says that in celebration of the birthday anniversary the city was befagged in an unusually elaborate manner and a general holiday was kept by all classes. During the day messages of congratulation were received by the aged Grand Duke from all the crowned heads of the German States, one of the most felicitious of the greetings being that sent by Emperor William. The general health of the Grand Duke George is reported to be satisfactory, though he is suffering some from rheumatism. Of late years he has become totally deaf an exceedingly sore affliction in the case of one who in his time was reputed to be one of the greatest patrons and lovers of music in all Europe.

London, April 1.—It is stated that 36,000 emigrants will sail from Liverpool to Canada on twenty-three steamships in April. The increasing proportion of people going with capital is the subject of comment here. Interest has been aroused in Liverpool by the suggestion that a hostelry be provided emigrants who have to wait before the shipping office is open, and who are often exposed and inconvenienced by the lack of accommodation.

UNITED STATES WORSTED.

London, Apri, 1.—Canadian officials and experts now in Britain declare emphatically in interviews that Canada scored a triumph over the United States. They also state that no Canadian Government could afford to refuse reciprocity if it were offered because of the great advantage to the Dominion. The point emphasized by several Canadians is that England should not worry about the present trifling reductions to the United States, but apply herself more assiduously and sympathetically to cater for the Canadian trade.

"We want British made goods, not because of our loyalty, but because of their superiority," they said.

AUSTRALIA DOES BETTER.

London, April 1.—The London secretary of the Central Unemployed Body states that the body would be delighted to send more men to Australia, "if only because we get the money advanced for fares returned much more regularly and quickly than from those we send to Canada. Where we only get a dollar or ten dollars from the Dominion we often get a sovereign or ten pounds from Australia."

Sir G. Reid speaking at London, said he was sent here to increase emigration to Australia. He is making very strong representations to his government to arrange for thousands of poor law children to go to Australia. Juvenile emigration was the best emigration.

OBSOLETE SHIPS.

London, April 1.—In the House of Lords, Lord Brassey suggested that instead of scrapping vessels the admiralty should make a free gift of them for service in colonial waters. The Earl of Granard, replying on behalf of the government, said: "There has been no demand by the Dominions for such ships. If they really wanted them the Dominions would have asked for them."

LAND SALES IN WEST.

London, April 1.—Hudson Bay land sales for the last quarter were 34,100 acres at £92,900. Town lots realized £23,700.

The Manitoba and North-West Land dividend is 6 per cent.

The British Canadian Trust, Limited, has been registered in Scotland with a capital of £250,000.

London, March 31.—In the Commons vote debate was resumed by F. E. Smith, who delivered a speech characterized by biting humor. He chaffed the members of the Cabinet, and parried some barbed shafts at the Labor party for having "come to heel" at the Liberal party. He thought the government ill-advised to commit themselves to a policy which would involve two more elections this year.

J. A. Simon replied to Mr. Smith. He showed that the Lords had proved wrong on each occasion of great controversy. The Lords would never have confirmed the granting of self-government to the Transvaal if it had been necessary to ask them. Not a single measure of the Conservative Government had been rejected by the Lords in 40 years, while the list of rejected and mutilated Liberal measures continually increased. If the government pushed forward vigorously they would find a coalition and a united determination to address the balance between the two houses.

THE MONTGOMERY HOTEL.

Splendidly Equipped Hotel a Credit to the City.

Yesterday a Times' representative had the pleasure of being shown through the Montgomery Hotel, (formerly the Cavanagh House) on Simcoe street. This fine property was purchased some time ago by Mr. Frank Montgomery, of Parry Harbour, and when Mr. Cavanagh retired from the hotel business, he had it completely overhauled, from cellar to garret, and refurnished throughout, changing it into a modern hotel. The bar has been finished in solid oak, and the dining-room has been made exceedingly attractive, the wall paper being rich and tasty, while the furniture is the best obtainable. In the rotunda handsome new oak chairs have been placed. The kitchen and bedrooms are also very fine. The decorations and furnishers have done their work well. The floors and woodwork have been richly finished in dark stain, the walls and ceiling having been brightened by paper of an artistic pattern and the floors have been handsomely carpeted. New beds have been placed in the bed rooms and they have also been refurnished throughout. The large guests' parlor in the front of the house is a model of what a hotel parlor should be.

The hotel is steam-heated and equipped with all modern conveniences.

Every arrangement has been made also to meet all the requirements of the rural trade. There is plenty of yard room and additional stable accommodation will be provided.

The heating equipment of the hotel was supplied by McGregor and Reid. The papering, painting and graining was in charge of Mr. Ralph Carton. F. D. Craig and J. C. Turnbull supplied the furniture and carpets and bedroom furnishings. The silverware and kitchen range were purchased from Adam Hall, Tait Bros., Toronto, supplied the bar fixtures and Mr. James Montgomery, the local carpenter, had charge of the carpenter work in connection with the improvements to the hotel.

Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed entirely to the cause of these ailments—the weak inside or controlling nerves. It isn't so difficult, says Dr. Shoop, to strengthen a weak Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, if one goes at it correctly. Each inside organ has its controlling or inside nerve. When these nerves fail, then those organs must surely falter. These vital truths are leading druggists everywhere to dispense and recommend Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Test it a few days and see. Improvement will promptly and surely follow. Sold by all dealers.

Valentine Mines, Limited

(No Personal Liability)

A company is being formed under the laws of the Province of Ontario, capital $1,500,000, par value $1.00 per share, and to be known as the "VALENTINE MINES, LIMITED." This Company will acquire the property now known as the "Large" claim, being located immediately adjoining the Belmont and E. T. Mines, 600 feet from Silver Cross, 1,320 feet from the Drummon and Hargrave, and 2640 feet from Kerr Lake and Crown Reserve mines. Its location cannot be excelled, as it is in the famous Kerr Lake silver district. Its formation is Huronian conglomerate and diabase.

Only thirty days' work has ever been done on the property, but this has disclosed a well-defined pink calcite vein, which has been traced for 150 feet on the lot.

H. Laurence Brown, E.M., manager of Silver Cross, Belmont and E. T. mines, has reported on the property and recommended its purchase.

THE ACTUAL COST PRICE OF THE PROPERTY IS $28,500.

Of the Capital Stock 712,500 shares will be issued for the property and sold at five (5) cents per share. This will realize $35,625, of which $28,500 will cover the actual cost of the property, and the balance, $7,125, will be placed in the Treasury o the Company for development purposes.

J. H. Wadsworth & Co. will receive 150,000 shares as payment for services rendered and to be rendered. No brokerage commission will be paid by the Company on this offering.

There will still remain in the treasury 637,500 shares, of which 100,000 shares will be offered for sale at ten (10) cents a share.

WE HEREBY OFFER FOR SUBSCRIPTION 712,500 SHARES AT FIVE CENTS A SHARE.

WE CANNOT RECALL AN INSTANCE IN COBALT WHEREBY THE PUBLIC HAD THE OPPORTUNITY OF BUYING AN INTEREST AT ACTUAL COST PRICE. This is a case where the public gets the underwriters' profits; as positively no stock of any kind can be secured below five cents, and no further stock will be offered for less than ten cents. You can therefore see a profit of AT LEAST 100 PER CENT. in your investment.

The mine will be under the management of H. Laurence Brown, E.M., whom we consider the best mining engineer in Cobalt.

Subscriptions at five cents per share will be received on the following basis:

All stock will be made out in the name of subscriber and deposited in The Crown Trust Company of Montreal, and an interim certificate issued to subscriber by the Trust Company. The stock will be held by the Trust Company until the Valentine Mines has disposed of sufficient amount of its Treasury Stock to properly finance its operations, but in any event the stock will be delivered not later than October 1st, 1910, upon surrender to the Trust Company of the interim certificate.

On or before October 1st this stock should be worth AT LEAST twenty-five (25) cents per share.

SUBSCRIPTION BOOKS ARE OPEN AT THE OFFICE OF J. H. WADSWORTH & CO., 704 E. T. BANK BLDG., MONTREAL, AND WILL BE CLOSED IMMEDIATELY UPON THE AMOUNT BEING SUBSCRIBED. Subscriptions will be allotted in order of their filing.

We advise you to telegraph or telephone your order immediately, as the issue will undoubtedly be over-subscribed. Never before has the public had an opportunity such as this, to get in on absolutely the ground floor.

The Directors in the Valentine Mines will receive no salary, but may be allowed $5.00 per day and expenses to each meeting. The minimum subscription to proceed to allotment will be one hundred (100) shares.

Coffee vs. The Boy

This is a story of a youngster who suffered so badly from the effects of coffee-drinking, that Dr. J. N. Hurty, Secretary of the State Board of Health of Indiana, had to take a hand.

The Indianapolis NEWS published a long account of the case—the news (V) went forth and papers throughout the country have given it much publicity.

From these reports we quote—

"An eleven-year-old boy (Roy Schoolman) of Indianapolis, had to be forcibly taken from school and given treatment. The constant use of coffee, it developed, had entirely changed the boy's happy, bright disposition to one of nervousness, with morose spells, when he attempted to fight everyone within reach. He was watched and his extreme addiction to coffee was discovered. One effect of the coffee is said to have been to deaden the brain faculties, changing the victim from an eager learner to a stupid school dunce, and a little later verging upon insanity. Since the coffee has been stopped physicians report that he is now resuming his normal mental tone."

Why marvel? Is this news to thoughtful people?

For fifteen years we have preached the harmful effects of coffee upon head, heart and nerves. Almost every day letters are received just as conclusive and impressive as this case. More than a thousand letters were received in one month from people all over the country with various "ills BEFORE they changed from coffee to POSTUM, and who either entirely recovered or were much benefited.

That coffee IS HARMFUL to many even in moderate quantity is an old, old truth, and that it is dangerous when used to excess has been time and again proven.

All of which proves to even a casual thinker that for

An Ancient Mountain Race.

The most ancient people still living in the mountains of India are the Todas. Long before the arrival of the other tribes of the region the Todas were the kings of this country, which they held in common without strife or treachery to one another. The Todas are a fine race, tall, well proportioned and with regular features. Their complexion is of a light brown, and their eyes are bright and intelligent. The men wear a linen or cotton garment that reminds a European of the Roman toga. Their bearing is proud and dignified; their countenances are pleasing; their fine straight hair is regularly cut and well kept. Their superior appearance, the mystery that surrounds them and the obscurity of their origin have caused certain students of ethnology to suppose that the Todas are descended from the soldiers of Darius or Alexander, the ancient conquerors of India.

Court Gazette et Hotels.

"To waken a deaf person who wishes to be called at a certain time in the morning is about the hardest proposition a hotel clerk runs up against," said a member of that fraternity. "To ring the telephone in custom, because the man can't hear. Knocking for the same reason is futile. Now and then a guest who has lost his hearing suggests that he leave his door open, so we can walk right in and shake him, but there are so many chances of somebody less guileless than ourselves walking in ahead of us that we can't consent to that simple expedient. It occurs to me that the man who can present a device for waking the deaf is sure of fame and fortune, and to men there the gratitude of the brotherhood of hotel clerks."—New York Globe.

National Mining & Tunnel Company

Our mines are in the greatest camp in America, Leadville, Col., a camp which has produced "a million a month for four hundred months."

We have four hundred acres in the richest proven belt of the county, containing twelve mines, which have already produced to shallow workings over $2,000,000. Our big tunnel being driven in from the base of the mountain will cut these vast ore bodies at depth, and make their millions of dollars worth of ore accessible to us.

Within five months we should cut into our rich ore bodies, and become a large producer before the year closes. It is confidently believed that the Company can pay fabulous profits in the very near future.

Albert Ganz, Mines & Mining, Box 215.

Leadville, Colo., Jan. 31, 1910.

Mr., Carey J. Hunter, Raleigh, N. C.

Dear Sir,—Your communication of the 24th inst. received. Regarding Sugar Loaf Mountain, the reports sent out of its production of the precious metals up to the time when the copper-acid waters made deeper sinking of shafts impossible, are not withdrawn.

Several weeks ago at the request of Mr. Horner, I accompanied him on a visit to the new tunnel and properties. On my part it was in fact a trip of inspection. I found the most complete and best equipped tunnel in the county. All the machinery is electrically driven, making a large saving in the cost of operating. This tunnel commands and the National M. & T. Co. own and control a mineralized area of 400 acres.

There are many shafts that have produced millions of values, but have been idle for years on account of the acid waters. The tunnel now being run is over 500 feet in length and, when advanced, will cross-cut all the veins at depths varying from 500 to 1,400 feet

I have personally known Mr. Horner many years. He has occupied positions of honor and trust. There are none as well posted on the mineralized area, geological conditions and the ore occurrences on Sugar Loaf Mountain as himself. It looks to me like a successful and legitimate mining enterprise.

Yours, truly, ALBERT GANZ.

We want a good live active agent to handle this stock in Peterborough and vicinity

The Canadian Pacific Purchasing Property

The Canadian Pacific Railway Company has purchased the property of the late Wm. English, on the bank of the river, immediately east of the Peter Hamilton Company's foundry. It is also said that the company has secured options on other property up as far as the market, the object being, it is understood, to erect freight sheds thereon.

The railway company is to get possession of the English property on May first, next.

BERESFORD GIVES ADVICE RE TRADE

TELLS THE OLD COUNTRY MERCHANTS HOW TO BOOM THINGS IN CANADA.

The Flow of Immigration— Still They Come, Some With Much Money and Some Without $$$.

London, April 7.—Admiral Lord Charles Beresford, M.P., today publishes a pamphlet giving advice for the development of British trade with Canada.

The recommendations include the securing of a first class resident commercial traveler, the distribution of catalogues and advertisements in Canadian style, longer terms of credit, quick shipping, maintenance of larger stocks, and the establishment of a branch of industries in the Dominion.

CANADIAN LIVE STOCK.

Detford statistics show that since 1893, when the trade began, 503,911 oxen and 296,861 sheep have been imported from Canada. Totals for 1909 are 46,004, and 60 respectively.

THAT £5 RULE.

The non-suspension of the rule that immigrants to Canada must have £5 with them is causing much inconvenience to immigrants here. The information department, which has just printed an enormous lot of miscellaneous literature, is announcing that thre is not £5 insisted on if the emigrant is going to a situation in Canada.

MONEY COMING HERE.

A London doctor with £39,000 and a Fleet street publisher with £19,000 are going to Canada. The Lake Erie sailed with 1,200 emigrants, mostly British. The Mount Royal, an extra boat advertised just a week ago, is already fully booked.

MR. RISHOR'S ENTERPRISE.

Peterborough's Leading Wholesale Grocer to Enlarge.

Mr. Charles Rishor, wholesale grocer, has secured a site for a new grocery warehouse on Dalhousie St., on the east side of George street, where he will erect commodious offices and warehouses. The new situation will enable him to unload direct from the cars into his warehouse, thus saving an immense amount of teaming.

Mr. Rishor has asked the council to have the building at present used by Messrs. Hornsby & Co., as a roller rink, removed from the street, and a sewer connection made. This will be done at once.

It is satisfactory to Mr. Rishor's many friends and customers to learn that his business has increased so rapidly that it has outgrown his present premises, and that his new quarters will enable him to handle it to better advantage, than heretofore.

SENATIONAL EXPERIENCES IN SEARCH OF A CURE.

$50 for One Specialist Alone.

The varied and costly experiences of some people who suffer from skin diseases and get into the hands of so-called "specialists" are rarely heard of. Almost daily the proprietors of Zam-Buk, and in many cases these letters tell a story of suffering in the search for cure which is truly pitiful.

Mr. Arthur Fairbank, of 547 Lansdowne-ave., Toronto, says: "Some time ago I had a bad eruption on my forehead, which I attribute to getting infected at the barber's. This eruption became very sore and spread over my scalp in the form of open sores. I went to a doctor, who treated me for it. Still the sores spread until almost the whole of my head was infected. As the doctor's treatment did me very little good I left it off and tried various home remedies. I also tried takine various aperient medicines to try and cure the outbreak through the blood. Still it was in vain.

"Then I tried blood mixtures, but not one of them did me any good. I was by that time in a shocking condition, and as a last resource I went to a skin specialist. He treated me for a period and it cost me over $50 but the sores got no better. They would itch and burn at times until I was nearly mad.

"One day a friend asked me why I had not tried Zam-Buk and gave me a little. That little bit of Zam-Buk did me more good than all the long treatment I had from doctors and specialists. I immediately sent for a supply of the balm and started right in to give it a proper trial. Very soon I began to see and feel a great improvement in the sores and I knew that at last I had got something that would cure me. Zam-Buk cured me, and at a trifling cost. Indeed, only a few boxes were necessary to make a few boxes were necessary to make a complete cure.

"Not only for skin diseases, but for cuts, burns, bruises, piles, inflamed eyes, etc., Zam-Buk is unequalled." All druggists and stores, 50c. box, or post free from Zam-Buk, Toronto, for price. Refuse imitations.

IMMIGRATION RUSH ON.

Winnipeg Full of People From Many Lands.

Winnipeg, April 8.—The tide of immigration into the West has set strong this spring and trains to, and through, Winnipeg are crowded with men, women, children, and goods—all seeking new locations in a country that has room and opportunity for all that come. Immigration figures for 1909—to March 31, 1910—showed a big increase over the preceding year and this year will undoubtedly do even better. Immigration agents have been working with great vigor in Great Britain and other European countries and the aggressive campaign carried on by land companies, and other interested parties, in the United States are all having marked effect on the rush of new people into the West and the year has every earmark of a record breaker of immigration figures.

Belgian Ruler 75 Years Old.

Brussels, April 8.—In striking contrast to the celebration or lack of celebration that characterized the birthday anniversaries of the late King Leopold during the latter year of his reign, was to-day's hearty observance on the part of the Belgian people of the thirty-fifth anniversary of the birth of their new ruler, King Albert. All the newspapers of Brussels to-day devote leading articles to the anniversary, and publish retrospects of King Albert's brief reign together with much favorable comment. During the day the King received messages of greeting from nearly all the crowned heads of Europe.

PLAN GREAT TREATY

AMERICAN REPRESENTATIVES TO MEET DOMINION'S SOON TO ARRANGE TRADE PACT.

Various Issues at Stake—Final Settlement of Boundaries, Fisheries, Seal and Tariff Questions Sought

Washington, April 8.—Within two months, according to the present plans of the administration, there will be a gathering in Washington or Ottawa, at which capital has not yet been determined, of representatives of the American and Canadian Governments for the purpose of negotiating a reciprocity and trade treaty between the two countries.

The felicitous exchanges between Secretary Knox and Minister Fielding, of Canada, which concluded the recent tariff agreement, contained an implied promise that an effort would be made to reach an understanding on broad lines that might settle for all time the various open issues regarding the land and water boundaries, the fisheries, the preservation of the seals and finally the tariff relations.

TARIFF INTERESTS EUROPE

Most of these matters are of concern purely to the two principals, but the developments in the negotiations relative to the tariff are awaited with the greatest interest by nearly all of the European powers, which may be depended upon to make instant demands for any concessions of special value that may be made by the United States to Canada, or vice versa.

As the extension of the concessions to all nations would result in making them practically valueless to the two countries involved in the negotiations it begins to appear that the President and Sir Wilfrid Laurier will be obliged to devise some strong arguments on which to base a refusal of the concessions to third parties.

The task will be made the more difficult for the reason that the German and French tariff arrangements contain provisions that they shall be terminable within periods of three months and that they are based upon the undertaking that no other country shall be accorded tariff rates lower than those set out in the agreements.

Just how a reciprocity treaty can be framed with Canada that will avoid the objection that it does give Canada preferences is the problem that the tariff expert board will soon have to face.

Ottawa, Ont., April 8.—The officials of the Dominion Customs Department have completed an investigation into the probable effects of the so-called "omnibus clause" of the Fielding-Knox tariff agreement, item 711 of the Canadian tariff. They find that under the rulings of the customs board since the present tariff went into force some 100 articles will be affected by the reduction of duty from 20 to 17½ per cent. None of these, it is asserted, will interfere with any Canadian industry, and none figure largely in the list of imports. Cotton-seed oil is the principal item affected.

In authoritative political circles it is reported to-night that there is a strong probability that Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Minister Fielding and possibly Messrs. Paterson and Cartwright will go to Washington in May or June to accept the invitation tendered to further discuss trade relations.

Fears Senate will Kill Miller's Betting Bill

It May Pass Commons in Spite of Hostility of French Members---Stratton Fights for It

Ottawa, April 7.—At noon today it looked as though there would be a big fight over the Miller bill.

Yesterday at midnight a compromise on the basis of the McColl-Sifton amendment was thought to be in sight. Today Sir Wilfrid Laurier refused to limit the debate, while Hon. J.R. Stratton came out squarely against compromise.

Judging from the applause and exclamations of the members on both sides of the House, the supporters of the bill are stronger today.

The impression here, however, is that the bill will probably pass the House of Commons and be thrown out by the senate.

The French members constituted the greatest menace to the bill in the Commons. It is estimated that 40 out of the 65 French members in the House will vote against it. Quebecis partial to Sunday games and sports of all kinds. While the inhabitants of that Province are not addicted to gambling they fear that the bill will kill the race meets. But many English members who are personally opposed to the bill will not defy the public opinion in the constituencies. They will probably vote for it and leave it to the Senate the unpopular task of throwing it out.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier moved that the House go into committee of the whole on the bill.

A Double Tragedy Near City of Guelph

Guelph, April 7.—Albert Adams and his wife, resident at Weltsenburg, eight miles from Guelph, were both shot to death by the former yesterday afternoon.

Adams is the village blacksmith, and the tragedy in which he was the leading actor, took place about four o'clock in his own home, which is a comfortable little white brick residence, standing beside the Blacksmith shop.

The only eye-witness was Louisa Hauck, a girl who had been hired by Mrs. Adams for a few days to help her with the house-cleaning. In the yard just outside the door the three little children, Mina, aged ten; Hughie, aged seven, and Harold, aged five were playing.

Adams, who had been quarreling with his wife a great deal all week and particularly yesterday morning, having been out on one of his occasional sprees, left for Guelph at 11 o'clock. He bought a new 32-calibre five-chambered revolver and returned in the afternoon, apparently with murderous intent. Upon his return he found his wife and Miss Hauck in the kitchen of their home, busy at wall papering. He sat in the corner of the room for a short time without saying anything to his wife. The women were busily engaged at their work and knowing that he was in one of his ill-tempered moods, though he did not appear to be drunk, they paid no attention to him.

"NOW OR NEVER," HE SAID.

"Have you nothing to say to me?" he asked his wife. Whereat the other woman replied that they were too busy to talk.

"Well, it's now or never," said Adams, and walking between the two women he drew the revolver from his coat pocket, and pointing it directly at his wife, in fact almost pressing it gainst her breast, he fired. The bullet entered a little too high to reach the heart, but punctured the large artery. Turning from him the woman ran out of the front door of the house, through the front gate and along the road a distance of over 100 feet to the C.P.R. crossing, screaming out that she was shot and calling for help. At the crossing she turned to run back to the house, but the internal bleeding weakened her so that she could not again reach her home, and she sank to the ground under a cedar hedge about 50 feet from the gate.

Louisa Hauck after seeing the shot fired, feared that Adams might fire upon her, and ran out of the back door across to Roth's Hotel, calling for help. Hearing Mrs. Adams' cries, however, she ran to where she was and wetting her apron she bathed the dying woman's head, and heard her breathe her last. She died with the words; "He has shot me, I am dying. Call the priest.

ANOTHER SHOT FIRED.

Dr. P. J. Kirby of New Germany, and the Rev. Father Foester, of the same place, arrived together very soon afterwards. They found Mrs. Adams lying dead where she had fallen, under the hedge and in a side room of which the women had been in the act of papering, they found the prostrate body of Adams, with a small bullet wound in his chest in almost the exact place as the wound which had killed his wife. Death in his case must have been just about as sudden, and they probably both breathed their last at the same instant.

In the revolver, which was found lying on the floor a few feet from his hand, there were three empty cartridges and two still unfired. The children, by the time the doctor and priest arived, were all crying and running back and forth between the prostrate bodies of their parents.

COULD SUPPLY GREAT WEST

LEADING FRUIT GROWER SAYS EASTERN CANADA CAN SEND ENOUGH.

Why California is Given a Look-in—Express Rates and Arrangement Regarding Special Terms Handicap Ontario.

Ottawa, April 6.—"The East can supply the West with fruit," said E. D. Smith of Winona; one of the greatest Canadian fruit growers, in talking to the Railway Commission this morning regarding the enquiry into the express rates.

"We can do it," he said, "if we can get fair express rates; we want to get lower rates because the old railway conditions which set the old rates have improved, while the present rates remained the same. We are now allowed to send only one car on an express train; if we send four cars they give us a special. In the fruit district we want to get three specials a week of four cars each. This would enable the express companies to reduce their rates still lower. As it is, California fruit gets our Western markets while we get it the ...

BAD DREAMS CURED.

A Winnipeg Man Tells of a Simple Escape From Indigestion. Remedy That Cured.

"Though I am an active hard working man, somehow I fell into a condition of poor digestion and disordered stomach," writes Mr. Eb. P. Whiney. "In the morning I had a very unpleasant taste in my mouth. My tongue was whitish and nothing tasted good. An hour or so after eating I experienced pain in my right side, gas formed in the stomach and caused great distress. Even in warm weather my hands felt clammy, and still worse my system was seldom regular. Brooding and despondency would now and then get hold of me and completely unman me. When unfit for work I tried Dr. Hamilton's Pills. In my case their wonderful curative power was like magic. So mildly did they work upon my system I at first thought they wouldn't benefit. But a few doses proved how much they helped the stomach, how quickly they brace up digestion. Food tasted natural, my appetite improved, my face looked clear and bright, and day by day as I gained in health so I gained in spirits. Today I am as sound, vigorous and well as any man could be. Dr. Hamilton's Pills did it all."

Beware of the dealer that may try to sell you an inferior pill to Dr. Hamilton's, which are sure to help and cure. Sold in yellow boxes, 25c. per box. All dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

ROOSEVELT MET HIS WATERLOO

AMERICAN PRIEST SAYS HE CAN'T RIDE ROUGHSHOD OVER THE VATICAN.

Other Priests Disagree—Ex-President Gets Congratulatory Messages From Editors of Catholic Papers

Washington, April 6.—"Theodore Roosevelt, the politician, has met his Waterloo. Like a 'bull in a china shop' he has attempted to jump the vatican and override the etiquette of the most august court the world has known. The court of Rome is not given to assisting in political exploitations, and has surely let Roosevelt know it in so uncertain manner."

Pro-Roosevelt and pro-vatican adherents in the controversy over the failure of the former president to be received by the pope are today discussing the above comment made by the Rev. Father Eugene Hannan, pastor of St. Martin's Roman Catholic church here.

"Roosevelt in his usual manner," said Father Hannan, "has now come forth and denounced the Methodist minister in Rome who defended his conduct. Why? In order that the Catholics of America may be appeased. But this will not suffice. The Catholics of America have little use for a man on a fence, and though he was the first Republican president to poll the great Catholic vote in America, he will find that he can expect little from the Catholics of this country in the future.

"Roosevelt is the greatest press agent the world has ever known, but the people of Europe haven't much use for the press agent in politics. He may swing the "Big Stick" in this country to his heart's content, but it is folly for him to attempt to ride rough shod over the vatican. To my mind he has learned his lesson, and the plaintiff inquiries that he has been making about the feelings to his American Catholic friends are but a weak attempt to hide the fact that he has made a miserable mistake and dismally failed in his hope of using the vatican for his own political ends."

CATHOLICS APPROVE.

The editors of several Catholic dailies and weeklies cabled Roosevelt that the lay sentiment among the Catholics was altogether favorable to him. The colonel would not disclose the names of the senders of any of these messages, but their receipt put him in a happier frame of mind than at any time since the controversy was precipitated.

All attempts to get a further expression from Roosevelt regarding the Catholic-Methodist row that is now under full headway met with failure. "I cannot be provoked into saying anything further," he declared. This was construed as a fling at the Rev. Dr. Tippie of the Methodist Church, who angered Roosevelt by his continued attack upon the vatican and Catholics.

"BOOKS AND BORROWERS."

Lecture by Mr. George H. Locke, M. A., of Toronto.

The last of the lectures of the season under the auspices of the Canadian Club, was given last night in the National Hotel banquet hall by Mr. George H. Locke, M.A., librarian of the Toronto Public Library. The subject of the lecture was "Books and Borrowers."

The chair was occupied by the president, Mr. H. R. H. Kenner, who introduced the speaker in a brief speech.

Mr. Locke on rising was received with applause. His remarks were largely of a humorous character, and were intensely interesting and instructive throughout. His reference to a public library was very forcible, setting forth its advantages as an educational institution. It was a university for the people, and one that is doing much good for the benefit of our race.

At the conclusion of the address a hearty vote of thanks to Dr. Locke was proposed by Mr. F. D. Kerr and seconded by Mr. Robert Fair, and carried unanimously.

A UNIQUE EXPOSITION.

One of Rare Character Opened in London.

London, April 8.—The Princess Christian at Olympia will this afternoon open the great exhibition devoted to the "Ideal Home." The magnitude of the exhibition, which is to last several weeks, quite eclipses any affair of its kind ever given here before. Thousands of dollars were spent in the decorations of the great building of Olympia, which has been totally transformed in appearance.

The chief features of the exhibition are a Tudor village, with its real bowling greens, waterfall, and growing grasses; a Russian cottage of the fifteenth century, especially brought over from Russia; cottage industries from Scotland, Ireland, Wales, and the English counties; a three thousand dollar villa built complete in three days by a famous firm of London builders, and numerous novelties connected with the furnishing and beautifying of the home.

A great success is predicted for the exhibition, which has the patronage of many titled persons and the elite of London's society.

Miss Frank Says That Prodger is the Man

Postively Identifies Him as the Man who Shot Her Three Times in Her Own Home

London, April 7.—While strolling quietly down King street yesterday afternoon, John Podgers was placed under arrest by Detectives Down and Egelton on a charge of being the man who on Tuesday afternoon shot Miss Elizabeth Krank four times at her home in Westminister township, just outside the city limits.

Prodgers was positively identified by Robert Bremner as the man who about six o'clock on Tuesday evening came to his house, about a mile distant from the scene of the shooting, and asked for a hat.

Detectives Egleton and Downs on searching Prodgers' room found the hat given by Bremner and a blue coat and vest such as the man was seen wearing when running away from Miss Frank's residence.

Robber Took Two Lives for $400 Loot

Pittsburg, April 6.—With five suspects under arrest the police are not yet satisfied they have the men who last night held up the Victor Banking Company's office at McKee's Rocks, killed the manager and cashier, and seriously wounded others. Several private detectives, deputy sheriffs and sheriffs, and Pittsburg officers are searching the surrounding country with orders to arrest all who cannot fully account for themselves.

The task of apprehending the bandits, however, is admittedly a hard one, as none of those alive who witnessed the hold-up secured a good enough look at the quartette of highwaymen/to positively identify them.

Robert King, shot in the groin, and Thos. Neary, shot in the breast, will recover. The thieves secured it was ascertained today, only $400. Last night it was believed that they got away with $5,000, but when the cash of the bank was counted today, most of the money was found intact.

MARTYRS TO DUTY.

General Manager Samuel Friedman and Cashier Ignatz Swartz died martyrs to duty. Realizing that the men entered the bank to loot, and not believing they would shoot, Swartz started to draw the money in front of him into the cash drawer, which locks automatically. As he did so one of the robbers fired, the bullet crashing through Swartz's brain. Friedman grabbed his revolver as the men reached through the wire partition and seized the cash on the counter. The lamplight flashed on the polished barrel of the revolver and the thieves turned to flee.

THE SECOND MURDER.

Friedman followed them into the street, and as he stood in the doorway, silhouetted in the light, the leader of the thieves fired and the bank manager fell dead.

The sound of the shots attracted the attention of a crowd of men in front of Green's Hotel, a block away They were fired on by the thieves and King and Neary fell wounded. The crowd made no further attempt to stop the robbers, who mounted horses and rode away.

GAS DISTENDED HIS STOMACH.

"My last wish will be," writes Harry P. OIL IN THE BRITISH NAVY.

The British navy was the first to employ oil as a fuel in connection with coal. Oil is used in all the new or battle ships and soon will probably be a permanent form of fuel to the extent of 1,500,000 tons a year. Of the world's output of oil the British Empire's proportion is a scant 6 per cent., while American production is about 64 per cent.—close on two-thirds of the whole. These figures show how absolutely Great Britain is dependent in this respect on foreign countries, and particularly on the United States, and how the increasing use of oil in English battle ships must rest largely on contracts entered into in this country.

As marked as the dependence of the British navy on American oil is the dependence of the British army on American meat. The Boer war, it is notorious, was fought on Chicago "tinned goods." Almost the first concern of England, if another war threatened, would be the capacity of the Chicago stock yards and the character of their output.

Just as the British navy is dependent on the Standard Oil Company and the British army on the Chicago stock yards, so is the British civilian public dependent, despite India and Canada, on the Minnesota and Dakota wheat fields and the Chicago Board of Trade. The British Empire is a bulky body, but it rests precariously on a slender base. When the navy that safeguards England's food supply is itself coming to be at the mercy of foreign countries for its motive power, is it any wonder that government is "seeing things" and that self-complacency and self-command are frazzling out into something that almost resembles panic?

AN HONEST POLITICIAN.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Was an Honor to the British Commons.

"Laws should be adapted to those who have the heaviest stake in the country; for whom misgovernment means not mortified pride or stinted luxury, but want and pain and degradation and risk to their own lives and to their children's souls." Mr. George Russell has put these noble words in the forefront of his memoir of the late Sir Wilfrid Lawson, and they give the keynote of the life portrayed therein.

Sir Wilfrid Lawson is described by one who knew him as an "absolutely honest man." His life shows it. He entered politics in 1868, and left them in 1883. Yet he was the same man all through. The ideals he fought for at Carlisle in 1868 he fought for until his death. He never faltered; he never changed. Some of his ideals have been accomplished. Others remain ideals. But there is not one which was, or is, not noble and unselfish.

He was once described as a "gloomy fanatic." Probably a more gross misdescription was never penned. He came of a sturdy Border stock. The Wybergha of Clifton have been there since the days of the Third Edward. The Lawsons of Brayton were another ancient Border family, which had again and again represented Cumberland in Parliament. In 1868, Sir Wilfrid Lawson looked round about him for an heir, as he was childless, and he chose his nephew, Thomas Wybergh, who assumed the name of Lawson, and from him our hero was descended. Young Lawson's life was that of an ordinary country squire, save that the religious surroundings of his home were more marked. But that there was little of stern nonconformism about the home at Brayton. "My father enjoyed a long day's hunting or shooting almost to the end of his life, and in skating and playing hockey on the ice he often tired out younger men."

And the love of open-air life and field sports passed on to the next. Many thousands have joined the question, "D'ye ken John Peel?" Young Lawson "ken'd" him, and he fought the hounds that Peel had hunted, improved the pack, and became Master of the Cumberland Foxhounds. Incidentally Sir Wilfrid strikes the right reading of the old song, "With his coat so gay" in the objectors' emendation of those who cannot conceive of a huntsman without a red coat. But Lawson says, his gray coat is no more a myth than himself, for I well remember the long, gray garment."

This, then, is the type of man who sought to enter politics in 1867. A typical English gentleman, bearing an ancient name, heir to a large inheritance; and a thorough sportsman. And, with all this, there was a sturdy Radicalism which never changed and never faltered.

The first essay for Parliament was unsuccessful, but in 1859 young Lawson stood with his uncle, Sir James Graham, of Netherby, Canningite, Whig, Peelite and Liberal, a hard-hitting politician of the old school, whose favorite aversion was Disraeli. Lawson was roused out of bed in the middle of the night by a deputation of Carlisle Liberals, and—"in my robes of repose"—he furnished his election address there and then. He was returned after a stiff contest, and took part in the fights of Lord Palmerston's last administration. Here, perhaps, we may finish off Sir Wilfrid's electoral experiences. He was turned out of Carlisle in 1865, but won the seat back in 1868 and held it until 1885, when he stood for Cockermouth and was defeated by ten votes, the Irish vote going against him. In 1886 the Irish vote went for him, and he held the seat until 1900, when death proved his undoing. Cumberland gave him a return in 1903, and he returned to Cockermouth in 1906.

An Australian Fairy.

It is on account of her bewitching dancing that Saharet, whose wonderful performance at the London Coliseum has created such a stir, has been so termed. Saharet is of Australian birth and English parentage, and is generally conceded to be the best acrobatic and Spanish dancer on the stage. Curiously enough, no one taught her how to dance, and all she knows of the art is the result of her own efforts. She trained herself by creating wonderful spirited movements, with the aid of a barrel-organ as an accompaniment, and when that was wanting she sang to herself a suitable tune. She has traveled all over the world, and considers that the greatest compliment ever paid to her was that of a Frenchman, who said she was exactly like the Empress Josephine in the latter's younger days. "Ah, but if I had been Josephine," said Saharet, laughingly, "Napoleon would never have left me for Marie Louise, and then—who knows?—he might not have had to go to St. Helena after all."

Pretty Bad Writing.

Rufus Choate is said to have been as bad a writer as Horace Greeley. A new house of Mr. Choate's being under construction, he had arranged to obtain designs for an ornamental chimney piece from a certain quarter. There was a long delay, but at last there came a letter from Choate which was really an intimation that he had been unable so far to obtain those designs. But the workmen at once began to construct the chimney piece. Choate's letter had been understood as a sketch of it.

Parallel with this is the legend that one of Napoleon's letters home from Poland was interpreted as a sketch of the field of the campaign.

Escapes.

Mother—Where is Mr. Asher? I thought you were going to play something for him.

Daughter—Ah, the wretch! As I was putting the children and the dog out of the room he slipped out with them.

Orderly.

Mr. Frostyer—I am glad you belong to our church, Mr. Barr; it is such an orderly organization. I never see you whispering to one another during service.

Mrs. Frostyer—No; none of us are on speaking terms.

OUR NEW STORY.

In a few days The Times will begin the publication of a new and thrilling serial story, entitled "Satan Sanderson," by Hallie Erminie Rives, author of "Hearts Courageous," etc. Watch for the opening chapters.

THE PEOPLE AND THE LAND.

Tariff and Land Reform Must Go Hand in Hand.

Tariff and land reform must go hand in hand if British agriculture is to be redeemed. At present the industry subsists not upon a commercial basis, but because of the sentimental attachments of the landlords to the soil. In the Old Land an agricultural holding is rarely, if ever, a profitable investment. Family pride cannot forever support agriculture. On the other hand, as the London Morning Post says, if the landed industry were wholly commercialized, English life would be robbed of one-half of its grace and graciousness. Nevertheless, the tilling of the soil must be made profitable. The land must afford livelihoods, and support a much larger population.

Tariff reform will help to attain these ends by securing for the farmer a greater share of the domestic market. The multiplication of small holdings will give the landed interest a broader basis in the national life. Mr. Lloyd-George's scheme of State and municipal ownership with leases to occupants will not work. The tiller of the soil must be given actual ownership. An interesting result of the Irish Land Purchase Act was recently developed. More than one exile to America has been tempted back to his native land by the bait of peasant ownership. The same system should work wonders in England and Scotland. State-aided purchases of small holdings should prove as effective in the larger island as in the smaller.

In Australia the state government loans money on easy terms to farmers and would-be farmers. In New South Wales a person anxious to settle on the land is able to borrow up to eighty per cent. of the value of the farm which he wishes to acquire. In other states of the common wealth the loan system keeps small land owners out of the grip of usurers, and prevents their property from being merged in large estates. The state treasury assumes no burden except in cases of heavy losses and such have never occurred.

So far fifteen thousand Australian farmers have availed themselves of these treasury loans to the extent of about $22,000,000. All the money voted for this purpose (about $40,000,000) will suffice to settle thirty-three thousand families on the land. The prospect is that Mr. Balfour, when he gets the opportunity, will inaugurate some such land bank system in Great Britain as an adjunct to tariff reform.

TO GUARD EMPLOYER.

Strike Insurance Will Indemnify Clients.

London, April 4.—The latest novelty in the industrial world is insurance against losses by strikes, which has been undertaken in Germany. This is an entirely new idea, and has been adopted as a necessity to protect manufacturers against the attacks of labor. When workmen lay down their tools in obedience to their leaders they are supported by the organization to which they belong, and by contributions from sympathetic unions, but an employer has no such guarantee, and looses not only the profits of the business that might have been done while his factory lies idle, but the interest upon the capital he has invested, and suffers from the demoralization of his business in various other ways.

There have been many, an unusual number of strikes in Germany lately, and the manufacturers as well as the strikers have suffered severely. This has led to the organization of the company with the long name, which, being translated into English, is the United Association of German Metal Industries for Indemnity Against Loss by Strikes.

During the year that the company has been in existence it has issued policies for the amount of $46,904,879, and has paid indemnities to the amount of $36,523. The conditions under which strike indemnities are paid are fully explained in the policies. Assistance is granted only when the stoppage of work was not caused by the fault of the employer, and that fact, it is thought, will make employers more careful and generous in dealing with their men. As long as their chance of securing indemnity depends upon their rational treatment of their employes the probabilities of a strike or a lockout are diminished. If an employer provokes a strike among the men he forfeits all claims upon his policy, just as much as he would if under a fire insurance policy he set his house afire and the question of responsibility is determined in a similar manner by professional adjusters. The amount of the policy is governed by the volume of business and the risks involved, just as fire insurance is governed by the value of the property, and when a strike occurs the adjusters calculate the damages, after considering the causes and circumstances under which it was ordered. It is believed that this plan will have a considerable effect in preventing labor troubles.

The old fashioned way of dosing a weak stomach or stimulating the Heart or Kidneys is all wrong. Dr. Shoop first pointed out this error. This is why his prescription— Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed entirely to the cause of these ailments —the weak inside or controlling nerves. It isn't so difficult, says Dr. Shoop, to strengthen a weak Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, if one goes at it correctly. Each inside organ has its controlling or inside nerve. When these nerves fail, then those organs must surely falter. These vital truths are leading druggists everywhere to dispense and recommend Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Test it a few days and see. Improvement will promptly and surely follow. Sold by all dealers.

London, April 5.—According to local railroad officials here there is a move on foot on both the G.T.R. and C.P.R. roads to raise passenger and freight rates. Officials state that this course is necessary as a result of the repeated demands of employes for more wages.

American roads are already figuring the matter out, and a Grand Trunk official states that the New York Central are talking of raising their passenger rates to five cents a mile. Some lines have already raised rates.

Ottawa, April 5.—A Board of Investigation and Conciliation under the Lemieux Act, has been appointed to adjudicate upon the demand of the trainmen of the C.P.R. and G.T.R., other than firemen and engineers, for higher wages.

The board consists of Mr. J. E. Atkinson of Toronto, chairman.

Mr. Wallace Nesbitt, K.C., representing the companies.

Mr. J. G. O'Donoghue, representing the men.

The board will meet in Montreal next week.

BALLOON FELL INTO SEA.

Nature Vents Her Fury— Dashes Man's Frail Works About—Professor Abegg a Victim.

Breslau, Germany, April 4.— Prof. Abegg, a noted German scientist, was killed today in the wreck of his balloon, the Silesia, at Tessin, 300 miles north-west of here.

The balloon, which had become unmanageable, descended with a crash. Abegg's skull was fractured, and he died three hours later.

The Silesia ascended with Prof. Abegg, Herr Gerstel, and a woman aboard. At Latzig, in Pomerania, Gerstel and the woman left the car, intending to be gone but a few moments. During their absence a squall struck the balloon, and it was driven at a terrific speed in a north-westerly direction.

A SQUARE DEAL

Valentine Mines, Limited

(No Personal Liability)

A company is being formed under the laws of the Province of Ontario, capital $1,500,000, par value $1.00 per share, and to be known as the "VALENTINE MINES, LIMITED." This Company will acquire the property now known as the "Large" claim, being located immediately adjoining the Belmont and E. T. Mines, 600 feet from Silver Cross, 1,320 feet from the Drummon and Hargrave, and 2640 feet from Kerr Lake and Crown Reserve mines. Its location cannot be excelled, as it is in the famous Kerr Lake silver district. Its formation is Huronian conglomerate and diabase.

Only thirty days' work has ever been done on the property, but this has disclosed a well-defined pink cal-cite vein, which has been traced for 150 feet on the lot.

H. Laurence Brown, E.M., manager of Silver Cross, Belmont and E. T. mines, has reported on the property and recommended its purchase.

THE ACTUAL COST PRICE OF THE PROPERTY IS $28,500.

Of the Capital Stock 712,500 shares will be issued for the property and sold at five (5) cents per share. This will realize $35,625, of which $28,500 will cover the actual cost of the property, and the balance, $7,125, will be placed in the Treasury o the Company for development purposes.

J. H. Wadsworth & Co. will receive 150,000 shares as payment for services rendered and to be rendered. No brokerage commission will be paid by the Company on this offering.

There will still remain in the treasury 637,500 shares, of which 100,000 shares will be offered for sale at ten (10) cents a share.

WE HEREBY OFFERF OR SUBSCRIPTION 712,500 SHARES AT FIVE CENTS A SHARE.

WE CANNOT RECALL AN INSTANCE IN COBALT WHEREBY THE PUBLIC HAD THE OPPORTUNITY OF BUYING AN INTEREST AT ACTUAL COST PRICE. This is a case where the public gets the underwriters' profits; as positively no stock of any kind can be secured below five cents, and no further stock will be offered for less than ten cents. You can therefore see a profit of AT LEAST 100 PER CENT. in your investment.

The mine will be under the management of H. Laurence Brown, E.M., whom we consider the best mining engineer in Cobalt.

Subscriptions at five cents per share will be received on the following basis:

All stock will be made out in the name of subscriber and deposited in The Crown Trust Company of Montreal, and an interim certificate issued to subscriber by the Trust Company. The stock will be held by the Trust Company until the Valentine Mines has disposed of sufficient amount of its Treasury Stock to properly finance its operations, but in any event the stock will be delivered not later than October 1st, 1910, upon surrender to the Trust Company of the interim certificate.

On or before October 1st this stock should be worth AT LEAST twenty-five (25) cents per share.

SUBSCRIPTION BOOKS ARE OPEN AT THE OFFICE OF J. H. WADSWORTH & CO., 704 E. T. BANK BLDG., MONTREAL, AND WILL BE CLOSED IMMEDIATELY UPON THE AMOUNT BEING SUBSCRIBED. Subscriptions will be allotted in order of their filing.

We advise you to telegraph or telephone your order immediately, as the issue will undoubtedly be over-subscribed. Never before has the public had an opportunity such as this, to get in on absolutely the ground floor.

Phone Main 6949 MONTREAL, Que.

The Directors in the Valentine Mines will receive no salary, but may be allowed $5.00 per day and expenses to each meeting. The minimum subscription to proceed to allotment will be one hundred (100) shares.

Under contract, dated March 15th, 1910, J. H. Wadsworth & Co., of Montreal agreed to cause to be transferred to the Company the property mentioned, a copy of the contract being filed, as is this document, with the Provincial Secretary at Toronto.

ADVERTISERS IN THIS ISSUE.

The Brendan.

A city man who went out into the Ozarks to learn to make railroad ties was asked by a native whether he was right or left handed.

The city man replied: "I'm wise to this left handed monkey wrench bunkum. I'm from the city, but I know there is no such thing as a left handed broadax." But he was wrong. A broadax is beveled on one side only. A left handed man must have an ax with the bevel on the left side.—Kansas City Times.

All Against Him.

A tailor who was defendant in a case tried in court seemed much cast down when brought up for trial.

"What's the trouble?" whispered his counsel, observing his client's distress as he surveyed the jurymen.

"It looks pretty bad for me," said the defendant, "unless some steps are taken to dismiss that jury and get in a new lot. There ain't a man among 'em but owes me money for clothes."

DAMES AND DAUGHTERS.

Marie Montessori, a lecturer in the university at Rome, is said to be the most intellectual woman in Europe.

Miss Helen Taft, the president's daughter, has the credit of being an excellent cook and of being able to make her own clothes.

Miss Anna Dreyfus of Chicago, a teacher of French, has been honored by the decoration of officer d'academie, conferred upon her by the French government.

Mrs. W. Eames Colburn, wife of the head of a Chicago banking firm, has built a modern seven room house for her thirty-five prize cats. The house is fitted up with brass beds, silk draperies and lace curtains.

Mrs. Harriot Stanton Blatch, president of the Equality League For Self Supporting Women, is not yet an American citizen, because she married an Englishman. She has determined, however, to be naturalized in due form, though she would prefer to have congress make her a citizen by special act, as was done in the case of Mrs. Nellie Grant Sartoris.

Lady Greville is one of the latest additions to England's long list of American bearers of titles. Only a year ago the new Lord Greville was a younger son, but his brother and father have died since, the brother suddenly. Lady Greville is a daughter of the late John W. Grace of New York and the widow of Hugh S. Kerr of New York, who died in 1907.

Progress and Labor.

A new system of telegraphing half tone photographs is said to be in successful operation between London and Manchester, England.

In the nineteenth century twenty feet a minute was regarded as a good standard rate of cutting for a planing machine. Today forty feet a minute may be considered the standard.

A steam dredge made in Holland for use at Nantes digs and carries off 360 cubic meters an hour. A swivel knife weighing tons and driven by a 300 horsepower machine cuts out clay as hard as iron, to be scooped up by the buckets, which hold two tons each.

In 1860 we stood at the bottom of the list of the four great manufacturing nations—namely, the United Kingdom, France, Germany and the United States. Forty-nine years later we stand at the head of the list, our manufactured product equaling that of the other great nations combined.

National Mining & Tunnel Company

Our mines are in the greatest camp in America, Leadville, Col., a camp which has produced "a million a month for four hundred months."

We have four hundred acres in the richest proven belt of the county, containing twelve mines, which have already produced to shallow workings over $2,000,000. Our big tunnel being driven in from the base of the mountain will cut these vast ore bodies at depth, and make their millions of dollars worth of ore accessible to us.

Within five months we should cut into our rich ore bodies, and become a large producer before the year closes. It is confidently believed that the Company can pay fabulous profits in the very near future.

Albert Ganz, Mines & Mining, Box 215.

Leadville, Colo., Jan. 31, 1910.

Mr. Carey J. Hunter, Raleigh, N. C.

Dear Sir,—Your communication of the 24th inst. received. Regarding Sugar Loaf Mountain, the reports sent out of its production of the precious metals up to the time when the copper-said waters made deeper sinking of shafts impossible, are not withdrawn.

Several weeks ago at the request of Mr. Horner, I accompanied him on a visit to the new tunnel and properties. On my part it was in fact a trip of inspection. I found the most complete and best equipped tunnel in the county. All the machinery is electrically driven, making a large saving in the cost of operating. This tunnel commands and the National M. & T. Co. own and control a mineralized area of 400 acres.

There are many shafts that have produced millions of values, but have been idle for years on account of the acid waters. The tunnel now being run is over 500 feet in length and, when advanced, will cross-cut all the veins at depths varying from 500 to 1,000 feet

I have personally known Mr. Horner many years. He has occupied positions of honor and trust. There are none so well posted on the mineralized area, geological conditions and the ore occurrences on Sugar Loaf Mountain as himself. It looks to me like a successful and legitimate mining enterprise.

Yours, truly, ALBERT GANZ.

VOL. XXXIII NO. 82 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO SATURDAY APRIL 9 1910 PRICE TWO CENTS

Splendid New Band Hall Now Occupied

Yesterday a Times' representative was shown through the splendid new quarters of the band on Simcoe St.,

Mr. J. A. Harper, secretary of this popular musical organization. The rooms are furnished in a manner that reflects the greatest credit on Mr. Harper and those associated with him in the work, no expense having been spared in furnishing and equiping the new quarters.. It can now we believe, be truthfully said, that Peterborough not only possesses one of the best bands in Canada, but also the finest band rooms. These rooms comprise rehearsal hall, reading room, library, billiard rooms, etc. Here the members, over forty in number, have all the comforts of club life with the other advantages referred to. On entering the building we were shown into

45 Lockers—Cherry finish, accommodation for each member's uniform and instrument.

Pictures.—King and Queen, top and bottom of hall, famous battle scenes, etc.

Reading Tables.—Two quarter-cut oak, a dozen of the leading illustrated papers and all the best magazines.

Finish.—Green pattern tapestry paper with border, woodwork, dark green and white.

THE LIBRARY.

Which was visited next, is said by visiting bandsmen to be one of the best, if not the best, musical library in Canada. The walls of the room are beautifully finished in light brown paper and white and green woodwork. Hardwork cabinet, cherry finish, divided into compartments all classified and in which the band's $2,500 music library is stored. There are only three bands in the Dominion in possession of a library equal or superior to this.

UNIFORM ROOM.

Finished in green and white and containing hardwood wardrobes for the storing of uniforms not in use.

BILLARD ROOM.

Dark green pattern tapestry paper with border woodwork, green and white, a first-class billiard table, easy chairs, appropriate pictures, Scotch inlaid linolium with dark red border.

LAVATORY AND BATHROOM.

Complete modern fixtures, etc.

In the work of fitting up these magnificent quarters too much credit cannot be given to the secretary of the Band, Mr. J. A. Harper, who has for so many years taken such a deep interest in its welfare, and to whose labors, in a great measure, is due the splendid position which the organization has attained throughout the country.

DEATH OF MRS. FOX.

Daughter of Mrs. A. R. Kidd Passes Away at Port Carling.

Word was received here on Thursday, of the death of Mrs. Fox, wife of Rev. Wesley Fox, which sad event took place at their home in Port Arthur on Wednesday last. Mrs. Fox was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Kidd of 45 Lock street, and leaves a husband and four young children to mourn the loss of a loving wife and mother. It appears that two or more of the children are ill with typhoid fever, and the task of nursing the little ones was too great for the young mother, who succumbed to the fatal disease.

A telegram was received by Mr. Kidd on Wednesday informing him of condition of the family, and Mrs. Kidd at once set out for Port Carling, arriving there a few hours before her daughter's death. It was a particularly sad case, and the bereaved family have the sympathy of their many friends in which The Times cordially joins.

The funeral will take place tomorrow (Sunday), at 1.40 p.m., from the residence of Mr. A. R. Kidd, Lock street.

TO BE TRIED FOR THE SWOPE MURDER

SENSATIONAL MURDER CASE IN KANSAS CITY.

Parties on Both Sides of Good Families and Well and Favorably Known—The Defendant a Son of a Well-known Baptist Minister.

Kansas City, Mo., April 9.—Intense interest is manifested here and throughout the State in the impending hearing of the case against Dr. B. C. Hyde, which has been set for next Monday. Dr. Hyde will have to face a series of eleven indictments, two of them charging him with murder in the first degree, one with manslaughter and eight with attempted murder. The case, which has features of unusual and highly sensational interest, promises to be the "cause celebre" of this section of the State.

The most serious charged under the indictment which the Grand Jury found against Dr. B. Clarke Hyde on March 5, of this year, are that he caused the death of Col. Thos. H. Swope and Christian Swope by giving them strychnine. The indictment for manslaughter it based upon the charge that Dr. Hyde caused the death of James Moss Hunton, a cousin of the late Col. Swope, by bleeding him. Perhaps not quite so serious, but far more sensational are the remaining eight indictments which charge Dr. Hyde with having attempted to murder Margaret Swope, Stella Swope, Sarah Swope, Lucy Lee Swope, Nora Bell Dickson, Georgia F. Compton, Mildred Fox, and Leonora Copridge by inoculating them with typhoid fever fgerms.

Dr. Bennett Clark Hyde, the defendant, is the son of a Baptist minister, now retired, at Lexington, Mo. He was graduated from the Wentworth Military Academy at Lexington, and went to Kansas City in the early 90's, and studied medicine. A short time after he had been licensed to practice Dr. Hyde was appointed police surgeon by Mayor Webster Davis. Before he had served a year he was removed for unprofessional con-

Leaped from Window to Pavement Below

New York, April 7.—Standing a few feet from the window of his bed room on the fifth floor of a fashionable Lenox avenue apartment house Harry Cohan, a former diamond broker, leaped forward headlong, crashed through the glass and plunged to the concrete pavement below. He struck on his head and was killed.

Cohan learned last week that he was incurably ill of a fatal malady. He was so upset by what his physicians told him that it was feared he would attempt suicide.

Immediate Steps Towards Reciprocity with Canada

President Taft to See Leaders of Ways and Means Committee---If Necessary a Round Robin will Circulate --Border and New England States are Eager

Washington, April 8.—Immediate action looking towards negotiations for a reciprocity treaty with Canada will probably follow a conference which President Taft arranged with the leaders in the Ways and Means Committee of the House. Representative Paine, chairman of the committee, will handle the committee end of the matter.

The president desires an early favorable report on a resolution introduced by Representative Butler Ames, of Massachusetts, which declares in favor of opening negotiations with Canada immediately. The resolution has been referred to the Ways and Means Committee and Ames has ascertained that unless something is done it will die there. He, therefore called on President Taft, who, he knew, was in favor of early action in the matter, and the president decided to use his influence.

While the president could open negotiations with Canada himself with out any authorization from Congress he feels that a debate on the subject on the floor of the House would bene fit the plans of the administration.

If the president is unable to persuade the Ways and Means Committee to report the bill, Representative Ames declares that he will circulate a round robin on the floor of the House in favor of a report. He says he has been assured of the support of the New England and Northern border States delegations.

Ross to Hang for the Murder of Chum

North Bay, April 8.—Walter Ross was last night found guilty of the murder of Percy Parkinson of Toronto, his companion on a prospecting trip, at Ramore, 200 miles north of this place last December.

Ross pleaded that he had shot Parkinson in self defence when he had been threatened by Parkinson with an axe, but medical evidence given yesterday was to the effect that the bullet had entered Parkinson's head behind the right ear. Trousers of the deceased, with pockets turned out, were exhibited.

Mr. McGarry, for the defence, said he had no witnesses, and he did not even put the prisoner in the box. He held that the Crown must prove murder beyond doubt. There had been no evidence of malice, and it was not reasonable to suspect that Ross would kill his chum for a few dollars when he knew that the crime must be fastened upon him. Parkinson must have swung around when the shot was fired and the point where the bullet entered the wall could have been the result of deflection, as admitted to be possible by Dr. Lowery. Dr. Johnston's opinion to the contrary should not be sufficient to send Ross to the gallows.

Crown Prosecutor Blackstock theorized that Parkinson was shot from behind, while sitting on a chair resting his head upon his hand. While with dramatic gesture the prosecutor pointed an accusing finger at Ross, he was unmoved, betraying neither by twitching muscles or apparent nervousness that he was affected.

Justice Mulock's charge to the jury was distinctly against the prisoner. The jury retired at 3.30 and returned at 4.30 with a verdict of guilty. Judge Mulock, in discharging the jury, remarked: "You have performed a painful duty, like good and true men."

The Pope Has Expressed Regret

Rome, April 7.—Some of the prominent ecclesiastics who were received by the pope today managed to introduce the subject of the Roosevelt incident. To these the pontiff expressed the deepest regret that he had been prevented from meeting and speaking with the former president, but he gave utterance to no opinion regarding the negotiations or the deadlock that followed.

The incident continues to be a live topic of popular discussion, and is emphasized by what the Liberal press calls the new mistake of Cardinal Merry Del Val.

The Messagero today says: "As long as this young and audacious Spanish cardinal dominates Leone City, the Italian Liberals must be on their guard."

ROSY COLOR.

Produced by Postum.

"When a person arises from each meal with a ringing in the ears and a general sense of nervousness, it is a common habit to charge it to a deranged stomach.

"I found it was caused from drinking coffee, which I never suspected for a long time, but found by laying off coffee that the disagreeable feelings went away.

"I was brought to think of the subject by getting some Postum and this brought me out of trouble.

"It is a most appetizing and invigorating beverage and has been of such great benefit to me that I naturally speak of it from time to time as opportunity offers.

"A lady friend complained to me that she had tried Postum, but it did not taste good. In reply to my question she said she guessed she boiled it about ten minutes. I advised her to follow directions and know that she boiled it fifteen or twenty minutes, and she would have something worth talking about. A short time ago I heard one of her children say that they were drinking Postum now-a-days, so I judge she succeeded in making it good, which is by no means a difficult task.

"The son of one of my friends was formerly a pale kid but since he has been drinking Postum has a fine color. There is plenty of evidence that Postum actually does make rich blood," as the almost trade mark says.

HEAVY FIGHTING IN ALBANIA

THE REBELS AND GOVERNMENT TROOPS MEET IN FORCE AND HUNDREDS FALL.

Bombarding the Villages—Tribesmen Want to Put Abdul Hamid Back on the Throne.

Belgrade, Servia, April 8.—Only the restoration of Abdul Hamid, the deposed Sultan, to the throne of Turkey will satisfy the Albanian tribesmen who are now in revolt throughout almost the whole extent of that province.

Today's despatches say that the large rebel army near Prishtina, which was temporarily checked by the Government troops under Djavid Pasha, has been reinforced, and is now engaged in another bloody battle with the loyalists.

The fighting is also continuing at Ipek and Djakova in Northern Albania. The rebels hold both of these towns, but are being bombarded by the government soldiers.

Estimates of the killed and wounded run into the hundreds, and from the fact that there are 15,000 rebels in the field and 20,000 soldiers, these estimates are believed to be conservative. Field hospitals have been established and are crowded with the wounded.

The rebellion is gradually spreading to other provinces, though there have been no outbreaks since then other than in Albania. The Djavid Pasha fears heavy additions to the rebel ranks is shown in his demand upon Cheftek Pasha for 10,000 more troops immediately.

His demands were answered by the despatch of 3,000 troops today. As quickly as possible other detachment will be rused to Albania.

Andrew Carnegie's Friends are Anxious

Multi-Millionaire Needed Two Men to Assist Him From His Automobile.

New York, April 6.—The friends of Andrew Carnegie, who returned here last night from the West, were considerably perturbed today over his physical condition.

At his home it was declared that he was merely fatigued, and that after a thorough rest he would be all right, but the fact that he required the assistance of two men in alighting from the car, and his personal appearance indicated physical unrest or ailment, has created uneasiness.

Judge Beck and Masons at War

Man Who Turned Roman Catholic Has Stirred Up a Peck of Trouble.

Edmonton, Alta., April 7.— A weekly paper has devoted several columns to an alleged attack on the Masonic Society by Judge Beck of the Supreme Court of Alberta. It declares that Beck, who used to be a Mason, but has recently become a Roman Catholic declared in a public meeting that he would not believe a Mason on oath where another Mason is concerned.

The case, it is alleged, was referred to Minister of Justice Aylesworth but he declined to take action as the alleged statement was not made from the bench.

A member of parliament from the West has declared his intentions of calling the attention of the premier to the affair on the floor of the House of Commons. The story has created an immense sensation. One of Beck's colleagues on the Alberta bench is a prominent Mason.

SBARRETTI'S NOTE ABOUT ROOSEVELT

APOSTOLIC DELEGATE MAKES A STATEMENT EXPLAINING VATICAN'S POSITION.

Vilification of the Pope—Practice of Methodists Warrants Stand Taken—Roosevelt's Revenge.

Ottawa, April 8.—His Excellency Mgr. Sbarretti, apostolic delegate to Canada, has given out this statement regarding the Roosevelt incident:

"In view of the attitude assumed by a certain portion of the press in this country with regard to the recent incident connected with Colonel Roosevelt's visit to Rome, I feel it my duty to make a brief statement of facts that will help enlighten public opinion as to the stand taken by the holy see.

"The position assumed and maintained, irrespective of persons by the vatican authorities, is simply the only one compatable with dignity and self respect. There is involved no question of tolerance or intolerance with regard to religious views as such, nor there are continually being admitted to audience with holy father non-Catholics of every denomination and even pagans.

The attitude of these Methodists in Rome towards the vatican, their bitter and aggressive antagonism to the Catholic faith and the holy see, and their misrepresentation and vilification of the holy father in order to pervert the poor and simple, have imposed the line of action adopted towards them.

"The violent and fanatical tone of the declaration published broad cast by the press as received from a prominent member of the Methodist proselytizing mission, and the grossly insulting language quoted from an American leader of that sect against one of the most distinguished and respected members of the American hierarchy, tend sufficiently to confirm the wisdom and prudence of the action taken in their regard."

Wife and Children Locked Up---Angry Husband Broke Door

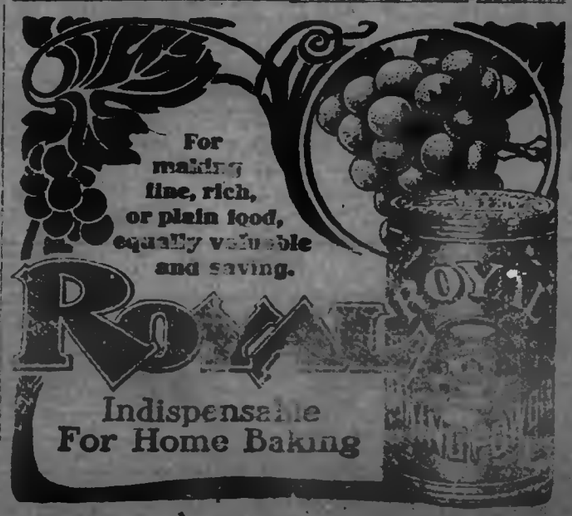
Ottawa, April 8.—It seems almost inconceivable that an English family having in their possession 200 pounds in money, and a great deal more in drafts, should be held up at Quebec by the government immigration officers and treated in an outrageous manner, yet that was the story told by Major Beatty (London), in the House this morning. He stated that the family in question consisted of a man, his wife, a son, and a daughter. The man had been a small English farmer, and had sold out all his possession, and came to Canada on the Empress of Britain with his family.

When they landed at Quebec the head of the family had on his person 200 pounds in British money and a much larger amount in drafts. The law requires that each immigrant shall have in his or her possession only $25. When the four reached the wharf, the father left the other three for a few minutes to look after some baggage. When he came back to the place his wife and children were gone. He walked about the landing for nearly an hour searching for them. His state of mind can be imagined.

Finally he was told by a trackman that a woman and two children were locked in a room upstairs. He went to the place indicated. The door was locked, and he heard his wife and children crying inside. Being a man over six feet in height, and of proportionate build, he met the situation by applying his shoulder to the door and forcing it open. He found his family safe, but the women were on the verge of hysterics. According to their story, the immigration officers came up to them during the absence of the head of the family, who had all the money. Finding that they had not $25 apiece to show immediately, the officers disregarding all ex room and locked the door.

If the father had not found them they would have been deported. Naturally the bulldog spirit of the English "immigrant" was roused to a pitch of extraordinary height, and he was disposed, not only to wreck the immigration office, but also "to chuck the blooming country and go back to Old England."

Major Beattie argued that such a policy would discourage the best class of immigrants from coming to Canada.



PUBLISH MY LETTER THE WORLD OVER.

The Words of Harold F. Beeby, Who Was Permanently Cured of Chronic Lumbago by "Nerviline."

"Three years ago I discovered that a man subject to lumbago might just as well be dead as alive." These words open the sincere, straightforward letter of H. F. Beeby, a well-known man in the plumbing and tinsmithing business in Portland.

"One attack came after another, and lumbago got to be a chronic thing with me. I could scarcely get on a day's work before that killing, crue, pain would attack my back. I used a gallon of liniments; not one of them seemed penetrating enough to get at the core of the pain. I read in the Montreal Witness about Nerviline, and got five bottles. It is a wonderful medicine—I could feel its soothing pain-relieving action every time it was der control with Nerviline. I built applied. When I got the disease unup my strength and fortified my blood by taking Ferrozone at meals. This treatment cured me permanently, and I urge everyone to give up the thick, white, oily liniments they are using, and try an up-to-date, penetrating pain destroyer like Nerviline.

PUBLISH THE ASSESSMENT.

The St. Catharines Star says: In 1900 the annual assessment of the City of St. Catharines was published and every ratepayer was entitled to a copy. Why has it never been printed since distributed? The reason given is that there are several persons in this city holding properties worth good fat sums whose assessment on such holdings are so low that influence is brought to bear to prevent a public scrutiny of all figures.

This may or may not be true, but it is true that the Trades and Labor body of this city has, and is anxious to have the report published each year; that three years ago practically every one seeking election to the City Council supported a movement then on foot to have the official list brought out, but the idea was never allowed to mature, that if there is no reason why publication should not be made there are several reasons why it should appear.

The present Council is jockeying now over the appointment of an assessor. The delay is occasioned almost solely by political motives on both sides, and to the discredit of the men who are sitting around the board. If the assessment were printed and distributed, what difference would it make who does the assessing? The ratepayers; rich and poor alike, would have a chance of examining the report, of deciding for themselves if any unfairness is practised.

Such progressive cities as Winnipeg, London and Hamilton have adopted this method as the best means of satisfying the always doubtful citizen that partially is not shown.

Were the printing an expensive proceeding there would be some tangible excuse against it, but the cost is comparatively light, and no ratepayer would object to a reasonable outlay that would entitle him to find out just what assessment is placed on each parcel of real estate. The advantages, in fact, are so many in favor of such a decision on the part of the Council that at the next meeting it would be justified in taking the step without serious debate.

The public has been discussing the subject for some time. Opinion is growing rather strong, and while the Journal believes that no member of the Council would deliberately block the civic machinery to serve personal or political ends, it is not always easy to convince taxpayers to the same view.

There could be no better way out of the present apparent deadlock. Certainly there will be some that will so set the minds of hundreds of people at rest on a matter upon which they are quite entitled to express their minds, both now and at the polls.

DAMES AND DAUGHTERS.

The only former mistresses of the White House living are Mrs. Grover Cleveland and Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt.

Mrs. Matthew T. Scott, president general of the Daughters of the American Revolution, has opened elaborate headquarters in the Arlington hotel in Washington.

Victoria Daniels, a nineteen-year-old Chicago girl, is the champion holly wreath maker of that city. She made 252 holly wreaths in one day of ten hours, exceeding by sixteen the record of 236 made by Emma Vogel a year ago.

Miss Helen Taft, daughter of the president, is a pretty girl, with blue eyes and fair hair. She is a fearless horsewoman, a tireless rider and the winner of a scholarship which, she is said to think, would enable her to continue her studies if she were to be thrown upon her own resources.

Miss Alice Paul, the American girl who was sentenced to an English prison for taking part in the recent suffragette outbreaks, comes of an old Quaker family of Moorestown, N. J. She took honors at Swarthmore college, and had a postgraduate course at the University of Pennsylvania and then went to England, where she was studying when she became interested in the equal franchise question.

Things Theatrical.

Frederick Lewis is to rejoin the Nethersole-Mariowe company.

Nance O'Neil has made a big personal success in "The Lily."

Dick Lee, to prove his versatility, undertook lately to play a different character in each of the four acts of "A Little Brother of the Rich" in New York.

Miss Mary Moore, the leading lady of Sir Charles Wyndham, who is accompanying him on his American tour, is also a partner with him in his London theater.

The place of George Arliss in "Disraeli" has been taken by Claude Rogal, who was the star's understudy. Mr. Rogal played the role of the French soldier in the story.

Recent Inventions.

To a Philadelphian has been granted a patent on a machine to pass tobacco leaves in bundles under X rays to kill the small insects which infest them.

A patent has been granted on an electric rat trap which resembles a rather flat bell. When a rat climbs up on it to reach the bait it completes a metal circuit.

A piano stool that will accommodate at one person under ordinary circumstances, but which contains leaves which can be spread to hold two to lay duets, has been invented by a Chicagoan.

By inventing a hairpin the prongs of which normally are close together, but which may be sprung open to insert, a Pennsylvania woman had designed a device more secure than pins of the usual form.

Sporting Notes.

The Boston Americans are after new grounds for 1912.

Cornell has won sixteen cross country runs ten times in eleven years.

Alfred Shrubb has won ninety-five out of 101 races since coming to this country nearly three years ago.

James A. Murphy of New York has bought his old love, Star Pointer, 1:59¼, and the first two minute pacer is certain of a good home as long as he lives.

Dan Patch, 1:55¼, has covered more than 70,000 miles since going into the exhibition business. What has been announced as his final appearance in public took place last Thanksgiving day at Los Angeles, where he scored over Minor Heir in 2:15¼.

Three Kings.

The German emperor is very popular with officers of the imperial army. His nickname among the Germans soldiers is Herr Lehmann.

King Edward was recently awarded four first prizes for his exhibits at the Smithfield cattle show. His majesty is a tenant farmer, not a landlord, and pays a large sum every year in rent and taxes for his holdings.

King Gustave of Sweden tried to find out the facts concerning the recent great strike in his country, but without complete success. Now he disguises himself and works among artisans of various sorts unknown that he may have knowledge of actual conditions at first hand. Recently he carried sacks of coal as a stevedore for several hours.

Short Stories.

There are over 7,000 businessmen in this country, and product of their brains last year was enough, to fill a train of cars over 400 miles long.

According to the Indian Spectator, a curious marriage is reported from Kathiawar, India, where a man of seventy has married a girl of nine.

Italy will commemorate this year the fiftieth anniversary of the proclamation of its kingdom by an international exposition at Turin from April till October.

Cosgrave's Beer

Words of praise have ever prevailed in advertising "copy." That a producer should wax enthusiastic over his own wares is but human. But it's the praise of the consumer that counts—and it is to a discriminating and critical public that "Cosgrave's" refers you.

It is safe to say that no product of any kind enjoys a more enviable reputation than does this famed Cosgrave Beer of Toronto in markets where it is offered.

Its well-ripened honesty of purpose, purity, brilliancy, body, and every other attribute that goes to make a perfect beer are ever in evidence.

OUR NEW STORY.
In a few days The Times will begin the publication of a new and thrilling serial story, entitled "Satan Sanderson," by Hallie Erminie Rives, author of "Hearts Courageous," etc. Watch for the opening chapters.

THE WESTWARD FLOW.

Another Trek Westward Has Begun in Earnest.

Another trek westward has begun Homeseekers crowd the stations. Many Winnipeg trains are run in sections. The prairies of the newer provinces attract more and more of our young men from the rural districts of Ontario, while no small proportion of the pilgrims are from eastern towns, clerks and salesmen who hope to do better in the newer and freer cities of the West.

No one who knows the West would minimize the advantages that it gives to the man with energy and courage. But the farms of Ontario are fertile. We have an abundance of excellent land. Yet good farms are being deserted, not alone by those who are going West, but because of the increasing movement towards the cities. Help is difficult or even impossible to secure. Immigrants go on to the Western Land of Promise. Native sons leave home. As a result the products of field and dairy are declining and the prices are going up.

Too often the man on an Ontario farm is content with an ordinary crop when by careful seed selection and scientific treatment he could have an extraordinary one. Fortunes can be made in the West, but they can be made in Ontario as well. Intensive farming is merely a name so far. It should and will become a practice as the influence of the Agriculture College grows. The growth of urban communities makes such a demand for food products that the Ontario farmer need never be at a loss for a profitable market. Moreover, in addition to the money return from scientific agriculture the Ontario farmer has many intellectual and social advantages.

These advantages and the possibilities of farming in Ontario might be set forth more fully by the Provincial government abroad. More, also, could be done to show the results to be obtained from agriculture in Ontario. No patriotic Canadian can do other than rejoice in the growth of the West, and feel a touch of inspiration at the amazing march of population towards the prairies. There is, however, every reason that we should make exceptional effort to attract tenant farmers and agricultural laborers to Ontario, and it is certain that many English, Irish and Scotch people will find in this province, and in Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island, exactly the conditions under which they are certain to prosper, and under which they can enjoy the comforts and conveniences of civilization to which they are accustomed.

WORRIES OF OPPOSITION.

Canada Said to Be a Hard Country to Govern.

Canada is said to be a hard country to govern, although if we were to make enquiries we should find that every community has troubles of its own. The difficulty is experienced not only by the government, in the strict and narrow sense, but by its supporters, but by the opposition. The opposition is in fact a part of the governing body, and has its own responsibilities.

There is, of course, greater freedom in opposition than on the other side of the speaker's chair, for the government must act, while the opposition has only to criticize and express its opinions. Yet with freedom there must be a certain unity of action in regard to great questions. The people, if they are to follow the opposition, must know where the opposition is going.

The question of the navy, it may be frankly admitted, was a difficult one for both parties. The creation of a Canadian navy was a new and important departure. It was hardly the appropriate material for an ordinary slang-whanging contest upon strict party lines. It was fit to be the subject of a great debate, such as that in which Confederation was discussed. If it had been treated in this way, the marked divisions between various sections of the opposition would not have been emphasized. There was room for doubt, for difference of opinion, for modification of opinion by argument.

But the opposition came to grief because it sought to make a party advantage out of the situation, and yet could not agree upon the line of action that ought to be taken. Agreement is not necessary for discussion and deliberation, but agreement is necessary for a vigorous assault. Between these choices the opposition fell, and the present talk of organization is partly due to that fall.

A SQUARE DEAL

Valentine Mines, Limited

(No Personal Liability)

A company is being formed under the laws of the Province of Ontario, capital $1,500,000, par value $1.00 per share, and to be known as the "VALENTINE MINES, LIMITED." This Company will acquire the property now known as the "Large" claim, being located immediately adjoining the Belmont and E. T. Mines, 600 feet from Silver Cross, 1,320 feet from the Drummon and Hargrave, and 2640 feet from Kerr Lake and Crown Reserve mines. Its location cannot be excelled, as it is in the famous Kerr Lake silver district. Its formation is Huronian conglomerate and diabase.

Only thirty days' work has ever been done on the property, but this has disclosed a well-defined pink cal-cite vein, which has been traced for 150 feet on the lot.

H. Laurence Brown, E.M., manager of Silver Cross, Belmont and E. T. mines, has reported on the property and recommended its purchase.

THE ACTUAL COST PRICE OF THE PROPERTY IS $28,500.

Of the Capital Stock 712,500 shares will be issued for the property and sold at five (5) cents per share. This will realize $35,625, of which $28,500 will cover the actual cost of the property, and the balance, $7,125, will be placed in the Treasury of the Company for development purposes.

J. H. Wadsworth & Co. will receive 150,000 shares as payment for services rendered and to be rendered. No brokerage commission will be paid by the Company on this offering.

There will still remain in the treasury 637,500 shares, of which 100,000 shares will be offered for sale at ten (10) cents a share.

WE HEREBY OFFERF OR SUBSCRIPTION 712,500 SHARES AT FIVE CENTS A SHARE.

WE CANNOT RECALL AN INSTANCE IN COBALT WHEREBY THE PUBLIC HAD THE OPPORTUNITY OF BUYING AN INTEREST AT ACTUAL COST PRICE. This is a case where the public gets the underwriters' profits; as positively no stock of any kind can be secured below five cents, and no further stock will be offered for less than ten cents. You can therefore see a profit of AT LEAST 100 PER CENT. in your investment.

The mine will be under the management of H. Laurence Brown, E.M., whom we consider the best mining engineer in Cobalt.

Subscriptions at five cents per share will be received on the following basis:

All stock will be made out in the name of subscriber and deposited in The Crown Trust Company of Montreal, and an interim certificate issued to subscriber by the Trust Company. The stock will be held by the Trust Company until the Valentine Mines has disposed of sufficient amount of its Treasury Stock to properly finance its operations, but in any event the stock will be delivered not later than October 1st, 1910, upon surrender to the Trust Company of the interim certificate.

On or before October 1st this stock should be worth AT LEAST twenty-five (25) cents per share.

SUBSCRIPTION BOOKS ARE OPEN AT THE OFFICE OF J. H. WADSWORTH & CO., 704 E. T. BANK BLDG., MONTREAL, AND WILL BE CLOSED IMMEDIATELY UPON THE AMOUNT BEING SUBSCRIBED. Subscriptions will be allotted in order of their filing.

We advise you to telegraph or telephone your order immediately, as the issue will undoubtedly be over-subscribed. Never before has the public had an opportunity such as this, to get in on absolutely the ground floor.

J. H. WADSWORTH & CO.

704 E. T. Bank Building

Phone Main 6949 MONTREAL, Que.

The Directors in the Valentine Mines will receive no salary, but may be allowed $5.00 per day and expenses to each meeting. The minimum subscription to proceed to allotment will be one hundred (100) shares.

Under contract, dated March 15th, 1910, J. H. Wadsworth & Co., of Montreal agreed to cause to be transferred to the Company the property mentioned, a copy of the contract being filed, as is this document, with the Provincial Secretary at Toronto.

DOING A LARGE BUSINESS.

Dominion Lightning Rod Company Reports Increasing Trade.

Mr. George Hartley, the energetic local district agent of the Dominion Lightning Rod Company of Dundas, informed The Times yesterday that his company was booking many orders from the farmers in this locality and around Lakefield. This company enjoys the reputation of furnishing the best rods on the market at a minimum cost. That lightning rods are of great value in the protection of property, is an undisputed fact. the testimony of the fire insurance companies is all that is needed to prove this.

The manager of the Farmers' Central Mutual Fire Insurance Company, Walkerton, says: "During our company's experience of thirteen years and the writer's experience of 25 years in the farm insurance business in this part of Ontario we never sustained a loss of 50 cents on buildings protected with lightning conductors."

The North Blenheim Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Company, says: "Reliable statistics tell us that in the year 1902 there were 296 fires by lightning in Ontario, and not one of these buildings had lightning rods on. In the experience of this company of over 43 years we have not lost a building by lightning which was equipped with lightning conductors. This is surely convincing evidence that lightning rods are a protection."

The company has also many testimonials from prominent farmers and others, all over the country.

Swope Murder

duct. When in October, 1898 several unusually bold grave robberies were committed, Dr. Hyde's name became connected with the matter, but no sufficient proofs were found against him. It was three or four years later that the announcement was made of Dr. Hyde's engagement to Miss Frances Swope, daughter of Mrs. Margaret Swope, of Independence, and niece of the late Col. Thomas H. Swope.

The engagement was strongly opposed by Mrs. Margaret Swope, but Miss Frances was determined to marry Hyde and even the fact that several breach of promise suits were filed against him, which did not reflect credit upon his character, did not change her determination. She became the wife of Dr. Hyde, and, after a while, truce was declared and a fairly cordial entent established between the Swope family and Dr. Hyde. The door of the Swope home was opened to the young doctor last summer and soon thereafter began a chain of events which caused the death of three persons and came near wiping out the entire Swope family.

The first victim was Judge Moss Hunton a cousin and trusted confidant of Col. Swope. He died October 13, 1909, and apoplexy was given as the cause of his death. Subsequent investigation developed the fact, however, that death was not caused by apoplexy and the State will attempt to show that Dr. Hyde was in some way responsible for the death of Mr. Hunton.

Col. Thomas H. Swope, a millionaire real estate and mine owner, who gave Swope Park to Kansas City, died suddenly on October 3, 1909, shortly after having taken a capsule at the direction of Dr. Hyde. Drs. Hekton and Haynes of Chicago, two eminent experts, who made an analysis of the viscera of Col. Swope found strychnine in his stomach and liver.

In the month of December a perfect epidemic of typhoid fever broke out in the Swope household. On December 1, Miss Margaret Swope, a niece of Col. Swope came down with typhoid fever. Two days later Chrisman Swope, her brother, developed symptoms of the disease and on December 6, he died in Independence, after having taken a capsule given to him by direction of Dr. Hyde. Like Col. Swope, young Chrisman Swope died after violent convulsions, and an analysis of his stomach also showed the presence of strychnine.

Between December 3 and 21 five other members of the Swope family and a colored maid became victims of typhoid fever, but all of them recovered. All of them are legatees under the will of Col. Swope, who left an estate valued at more than $3,000,000. It will be contended by the State that Dr. Hyde had contemplated to murder these legatees to increase his share in the estate and that he had inoculated them with typhoid fever germs which we had obtained under a plausible pretext from Dr. E. L. Stewart, a noted bacteriologist, on November 10, 1909.

National Mining & Tunnel Company

Our mines are in the greatest camp in America, Leadville, Col., a camp which has produced "a million a month for four hundred months."

We have four hundred acres in the richest proven belt of the county, containing twelve mines, which have already produced to shallow workings over $2,000,000. Our big tunnel being driven in from the base of the mountain will cut these vast ore bodies at depth, and make their millions of dollars worth of ore accessible to us.

Within five months we should cut into our rich ore bodies, and become a large producer before the year closes. It is confidently believed that the Company can pay fabulous profits in the very near future.

Albert Ganz, Mines & Mining, Box 215. Leadville, Colo., Jan. 31, 1910.

Mr. Carey J. Hunter, Raleigh, N. C.

Dear Sir,—Your communication of the 24th inst. received. Regarding Sugar Loaf Mountain, the reports sent out of its production of the precious metals up to the time when the copper-acid waters made deeper sinking of shafts impossible, are not withdrawn.

Several weeks ago at the request of Mr. Horner, I accompanied him on a visit to the new tunnel and properties. On my part it was in fact a trip of inspection. I found the most complete and best equipped tunnel in the county. All the machinery is electrically driven, making a large saving in the cost of operating. This tunnel commands and the National M. & T. Co. owns and control a mineralized area of 400 acres.

There are many shafts that have produced millions of values, but have been idle for years on account of the acid waters. The tunnel now being run is over 500 feet in length and, when advanced, will cross-cut all the veins at depths varying from 500 to 1,400 feet

I have personally known Mr. Horner many years. He has occupied positions of honor and trust. There are none as well posted on the mineralized area, geological conditions and the ore occurrences on Sugar Loaf Mountain as himself. It looks to me like a successful and legitimate mining enterprise.

Yours, truly, ALBERT GANZ.

Two Mysterious Tragedies at Tweed and Rainy River

Tweed Farmer Murdered in Cold Blood---Suspect to be Arrested--Rainy River Settler Shoots Down His Wife

Winnipeg, April 9.—J. Bryne, engineer of the steamer Fiperoses, is confined in jail at Rainy River to answer a possible charge of murder, and his wife lies in a very serious condition as a result of two revolver wounds in the head, received, it is alleged, at the hands of her husband. Mrs. Byrne was visiting at the home of Mark Barrett, a C.N.R. fireman today, and about two in the afternoon her husband appeared at the house. Mr. Barrett had gone out, and Mrs. Byrne was alone with a number of small children. Some words passed between Byrne and his wife, and it is alleged the former drew a revolver, and fired two shots at short range, both taking effect in the left side of his wife's head. He appears also to have struck her in the face, for, when found, her face showed several bruises as well as powder burns. One bullet was deflected by the skull and came out about the left ear, but the other bullet entered the back of the skull and has not yetbeen removed, owing to the patient being too weak to stand the operation. Bryne and his wife came to Rainy River from Sidney, C.B., last fall, and have since been living with his father-in-law, William Goodwin, an engineer on the C.N.R.

TWEED LABORER SHOT.

Tweed, Ont., April 9.—Lying lifeless in a ditch by a side road yesterday morning the dead body of William Masters, was found by his son, William, after a search of a couple of hours.

The body was lying face downward and it was apparent that the man had been dead for some time. Bullet holes were found in the coat and shirt sleeves, and it is presumed the victim was shot by someone standing to the back of him.

Masterais an old man over 70 years of age. He was a farm laborer and lived with his wife and five children, four boys and a daughter. They occupied a little frame house and a poor little patch of ground along the gravel road leading to Belleville, and about two miles out from Tweed.

OFTEN THREATENED MURDER.

Threats of shooting and killing one another have become so common among some families living in this locality that they were regarded as compliments. A resident might reckon on his importance in proportion to the number of threanings he received.

Friday morning Masters went out with his horse and wagon to gather wood along the roadway. He gathered his load along an old unused side road that led to the east about a fewrods south of his home. He was not more than a mile from home at any time during the morning, and had his load all on and was on his way home when he was shot.

The family were surprised to see the horse and wagon standing at the gate without Mr. Masters. Mrs. Masters looked down the road, but not seeing him, told Will, who is staying at home for a few days, to go and look for his father.

He went back over the road and finally found the old man lying on the roadside on his face. Thinking his father was sick he spoke to him and slightly raised his head, but found that he was dead.

Will left the body and ran back home, telling his mother and the neighbors of the accident.

Buried Passengers in Confused Mass Injuring Several and Killing a Brakeman.

Springfield, Ill., April 9.—In a collision between a crowded street car and a Chicago and Alton freight train on a grade crossing last night, Walter Foote, brakeman on the train was killed, and ten passengers in the street car were seriously injured. Miss Arthur Reid may die. The freight train backed into the street car, shattering the side of the car and burying the passengers into a confused mass. Foote was riding on the rear of the freight car.

JURY REFUSED TO RETIRE AGAIN

DID NOT ACCEDE TO JUDGE'S REQUEST IN THE GOUIN MURDER CASE.

Verdict "Not Guilty."—Crown Call Decision Travesty on Justice—Two Other Charges Will be Laid Against Prisoner.

North Bay, April 9.—Mr. G. T. Blackstock's address to the jury in the Gouin murder case was dramatic and terrible in its forces of accusation and the marshalling of evidence, while the judge's charge was damning to the last degree as to anybope for the prisoner, to whom the only ray of light musthave been the very ray of light must have been the very clever and telling address of his counsel, T. W. McGarry, K.C., who discredited the evidence of the Crown's principal witnesses and outlined proofs of the reasonableness of Gouin's story, besides setting up a strong theory of death from tuberculosis apart from any connection with the injury. The jury retired at 11.25, returning at 1.15. An unusual feature of the case was judge retarding the verdict until certain portions of the evidence wrongly interpreted by the Crown had been re-read and he asked them to again retire for consideration. This, the jury refused to do, stating that all the evidence had been carefully considered, and a verdict had been arrived at of "not guilty."

Prosecutor Blackstock characterized the verdict as a travest on justice, and announced that two other charges of wounding with intent would be pressed.

Judge Mulock made no comment in dismissing the jury, the court adjourning till 10 o'clock. Jurors and witnesses being ordered to report. Interest in the case is extraordinary, the court room being jammed to the doors and every available space occupied. Most of the spectators waited until early morning when a verdict was given, they were manifestly pleased with the verdict, although the demonstration was very mild.

It is conceded that McGarry's masterly defence saved his client from the gallows in the face of the heavy odds. Incident of alleged morphine injection to a witness, Ethel Crawford, before entering the witness box was explained, she having been given a harmless tablet after collapsing on the day previous.

NEIGHBOR CAN NOT BE FOUND

WARRANT ISSUED FOR HIS ARREST IN MASTER'S MURDER CASE.

Bad Blood Between Two—Authorities are at Work Investigating Every Possible Clue in Mysterious Tragedy Near Tweed.

Tweed, April 9.—The shooting of William Masters is the sole topic of conversation today. The post mortem examination made by Drs. Mather and Tuttle last night showed that the victim met an instant death. The ball passed from the right side through the clothing clear through the body and was found by the coroner's jury between the lining and cloth of the coat on the left side. The ribs on both sides were shattered, the heart completely ripped open from end to end and the lungs pierced.

The ball was of 44 calibre. The tragedy occurred within sight of the man's home about half a mile away. Nobody saw it. The victim was gathering firewood. His horse came home without him and a son started out to look for him and found him lying on his face dead. The body was warm when found about 10.30 a.m. Masters has had a lot of trouble with another neighbor and the officers have thought it best to look after this man. A warrant was issued for his arrest, but up to noon he has not been seen since about 11 o'clock yesterday, which was a short time after the finding of the body. No one in the neighborhood has seen this man about his home since the tragedy, and, so far, no reason has been given for his absence from home.

Mr. D. Hughes-Charles Presented With an Address.

On Saturday evening Mr. D. Hughes Charles was presented with an address by the members of the Peterborough Club, the occasion being his departure on a three months' trip abroad. There were about forty present to do honor to the departing citizen. An address was read by Mr. W. H. Denham, expressing the high esteem in which Mr. Hughes-Charles is held by his many friends in Peterborough, and wishing both himself and Mrs. Hughes-Charles a pleasant outing and safe return, a sentiment which The Times can assure them is heartily endorsed by the general public. They take their departure today.

LINDSAY DEPUTATION

Much Impressed With the Westrumite Pavement.

The Warder says that the Lindsay deputation consisting of Mayor Begg, Deputy Reeve Kylie, Ald. Lewis, Jno Carew, Peter Kennedy, Fred Knowlson and Thomas Begg returned from Brantford where they examined the Westtrumite pavements as the guests of the firm's representative, Ald. J. Moffatt.

Several streets paved with Westrumite were inspected in the telephone city, and also the process of manufacturing the pavement, which was watched with interest by the delegation.

In conversation with several members of the deputation, they were all of the opinion that the pavement was as good as any they had seen, and were of the opinion that it would be suitable for the streets of Lindsay. Several other pavements used in Brantford were examined.

The cost of Westrumite paving is considerably cheaper than many of the other pavements used throughout Ontario. The one particular point that impressed some of the deputation was that in case the pavement became broken or had to be taken up to repair sewers, water pipes, etc., that such repairs could be made at a small cost, as the material comes in barrels, and can be mixed and put down by almost any person.

That William street will be paved at once is now assured, but with what kind of pavement no one knows. Tenders will be called for at once, and the work will be commenced in a few weeks.

Britain Builds Largest Airship for the Navy

Immense Flyer Designed for Scouting in Wartime---Will Carry Burden of Twenty Tons---Speed Guaged at Forty Miles an Hour

London, April 9.—The new airship for the British navy is rapidly nearing completion at the works of Vickers Sons & Maxim- at Barrow-in-Furness. It will be the largest, one of the fastest, and the most powerful airship in the world.

Its great gas-containing body,built up rigidly with a new metal which is far stronger and only a trifle heavier than aluminum, will be 500 feet long and 50 feet in diameter, as against the 446 feet in length of the monster Zeppelin type of airships. The garage which faces the sea, is 600 feet long and 100 feet broad.

Gangs of men are now busy constructing a great "cradle." Upon this the airship will rest as it is pieced together. Practically every part of the airship is now ready,and only awaits the assembling proogss. The plan has been to distribute the making of the various sections over all departments of Messrs. Vickers Sons, and Maxim's works. By this means it has been possible to preserve great secrecy concerning all important details of construction.

Work is also about to commence upon a special launchway from which the airship will take flight. It is designed, in fact, for sea scouting. The airship's permanent quarters will be on the north-east coast, and it will be called upon to cruise for days at a stretch along the coastline and out to sea. With this work in view, reliability in stormy weather has been one of the chief aims, in the airship's construction.

The method of fitting together the sections of the airship's tremendous hull is particularly interesting. As one metal section follows another in position around the sides of the ship the whole of the hull can be made to revolveupon its cradle for the convenience of the fitters.

Its remarkable size will enable the airship to raise in the air a weight of close upon twenty tons. Its two 200-horse power petrol engines,which have already been subjected to tests for reliability, will give it a considerable speed through the air. It is hoped, in fact, that it will attain forty-five miles under fair conditions.

It now seems probable that the air ship will be ready for its preliminary trials in June or July next—the time mentioned by Mr. McKenna in the House of Commons not long ago.

Million Dollar Wedding in New York, Gould-Drexel Nuptials

Thousands of Guests and Group of Beautiful Bridemaids for Miss Marjorie Gould—Will be the Chief Social Event of the Entire Year

New York, April 9.—Complete arrangements for the wedding of Miss Marjorie Gould, beautiful daughter of multi-millionaire George W. Gould, to Anthony J. Dr[illegible] jr., of Philadelphia, have been made. The ceremony will be performed in St. Bartholomew's Episcopal Church in New York.

The wedding will be the chief social event of the entire year in the metropolis. Thousands of invitations are being issued for the ceremony itself and the reception that is to follow at the Fifth avenue home of the Goulds. It is estimated that the affair will cause the expenditure of approximately $1,000,000.

Of this about $200,000 alone will be used in bringing guests from Europe to the ceremony. Besides many passages on leading steamers, Geo. Gould has sent over his yacht, and his brother Howard, uncle of the bride-to-be, has also put his famous sloop Nigara at his niece's disposal. The Drexel yacht will bring over the Drexel family from England, with many of their friends.

As maid of honor Miss Gould has chosen her sister Vivian, who will be formally presented to society next year. Her bridesmaids will include the beauty and wealth of American society. They will be Miss Dorothy Randolph, daughter of Millionaire Philip Randolph; Miss Marjorie Curtis, "New York's prettiest girl;" Miss Margarita Drexel, sister of the groom, who is to marry Viscount Maidstone in June; Miss Elsie Nicoll Miss Beatrice Claflin, and Miss Hope Hamilton.

King Edward Much Troubled by Roosevelt

London, April 9.—Col. Roosevelt's entertainment here, particularly the luncheon at the Guild Hall, where the freedom of the City of London will be conferred on him, is puzzling the civic authorities about the questions of etiquet.

If Col. Roosevelt was still president royal honors would be accorded him at the Guild Hall. As it is, the precedent will be followed, probably, which was set when former President Grant visited the city in 1697. No royalties were invited to meet him at the Guild Hall, he was greeted by Cabinet ministers and other prominent public men.

Another vexing question of which the importance here may not be understood in America, is whether the honorable artillery or the London Rifle Brigade provide the guard of honor. The artillery acts as guard only to crowned heads. The civic authorities are seeking escape from these dilemmas by trying to learn how the King wishes Col. Roosevelt to be treated.

Col. and Mrs. Roosevelt will be met at the Guild Hall entrance by a reception committee, who will escort them to the library, where the freedom of the city will be conferred upon them.

There is no indication yet of how the King will especially honor Col. Roosevelt. Persons in the royal set say that John Ward, the squerry to the King, who married Ambassador Reid's daughter, will give a week-end party at his country residence, Chilton Park. There the King and Col. Roosevelt can meet with ceremony.

Court etiquet and precedent fetter the King; he is a slave to them. As there is no precedent for giving a royal dinner in honor of a private citizen it is likely that the King will receive Col. Roosevelt formally at one of the court functions.

A project is afoot for the House of Commons to entertain him at luncheon, but the plan may collapse because the lords claim the right to be associated in it; this the Liberals do not want. The solution of the difficulty will be furnished probably by the dissolution of parliament before or during Col. Roosevelt's visit.

ENTERTAINED BY J.P.MORGAN.

J. P. Morgan, it is reported here will given a banquet at Lever House his place at Roehampton when Col. Roosevelt will have the opportunity of meeting London's "malefactors of great wealth."

THE TRENT WATERWAY.

The Two Additional Sections Will Be Placed Under Contract.

As will be seen by reference to our advertising columns, the two remaining sections of the lower division of the Trent Canalis to be placed under contract at once. When these are completed the waterway will be navigable from Lake Ontario to Lake Simcoe.

The sections are numbered four and six. Number four covers a distance of eighteen miles from Campbellford to Chisholm's Rapids, and number six is Healey's Falls and comprises about two miles.

Healey Falls section is the intermediate ground between Randolph McDonald Co.'s contract and that of Brown and Aylmer. Healey Falls has a drop of seventy feet, and it will be necessary to build three locks and a very large dam. The locks will consist of a single and a double flight one.

On the No. 4 section from Campbellford to Chisholm's Rapids, there will be three single locks and one double flight one. There will also be three dams built on this part of the canal. The river here will require a considerable amount of dredging.

A Kindly Act.

On Friday evening a woman with four small children arrived in town on the C.P.R. local from the west, and were without means to procure a night's lodging. The woman was on her way to join her husband, who is working near Lakefield. She was turned away from several hotels, and it looked bad for the little family. Mr. Geo. N. Graham, proprietor of the Oriental, heard of them, and at once took them in and cared for them till next day when he sent them on their way rejoicing. It was a kindly act, and one that does Mr. Graham credit.

On Saturday Mr. Bert Turnbull left for Winnipeg, where he has secured a good position. He five year cared a good position. For five years he has been employed in the local C.P.R. Telegraph Company's office. He will be greatly missed by his many friends. The members of the Belmont Club took advantage of the opportunity of presenting him with a silver napkin ring, inscribed with the club's monogram. The presentation was made by Mr. Melville Jamieson, while Mr. Jas. T. C. Lang, expressed the regret of the members that the pleasant relations, would have to be severed, and wished him future good luck.

THE WEATHER.

Came Near Burying Man Who was Living

St. Thomas, April 9.—A rare occurrence in the practice of local physicians came under the experience of several practioners here recently in the case of Mr. George Lickman,who passed away after an illness of four months of locomotor staxia. The patient remained in a state of coma several days and was to all appearances dead. The case is not unknown to science, but so far as is known, this is the first instance of it in the practice of any local physician.

The man, who was 66 years of age, was critically ill and had been under the doctor's care for some time. Little hope for his recovery was held out by the physician to his relatives and he sank rapidly. The doctor called at four o'clock and found him living. But at five o'clock the patient apparently passed away. The relatives notified the undertaker and the doctor was called again to provide the death certificate, but his trained eye detected one or two symptoms of life, and he applied tests determining that life was not yet extinct, although the patient was totally unconsciousness.

The relatives undertook the vigil of watching the almost lifeless body until death finally came. So feeble were the signs of life of the patient that at least one physician of several who were called in consultation, pronounced him dead. Stethescopic examination, however, revealed heart pulsation, and circulation and respiration continued, though too faint to be evident to an ordinary observer.

HORSE DISTEMPER.

Prince Edward Farmer Solemnly Declares Nerviline is a Specific.

After fifty years' experience in raising horses I can safely testify that no remedy gives such good results for an all-round stable liniment as Nerviline. Thus opens the very earnest letter of J. J. Evanston, who lives near Wellington, P.E.I. "I had a very valuable horse that took distemper a month ago, and was afraid I was going to lose him. His throat s welled and hard lumps developed. His nostrils ran and he had a terrible cough. I NERVILINE tried different remedies, but was unable CURES to relieve my horse of his pain and suffering QUICKLY till I started to use Nerviline and sweet oil and rubbed the mixture on the throat and chest three times a day and you would scarcely believe the way that horse picked up. Nerviline cured him. I also have used Nerviline for colic in cows and horses, and earnestly recommend it to every man that is raising stock."

For strains, sprains, swellings, colic, distemper, coughs and colds, no liniment will prove so efficacious in the stable as Nerviline"—it's good for man or beast, for internal or external use. Wherever there is pain, Nerviline will cure it. Refuse substitutes. Large bottles 25c., five for $1.00, at all dealers, or The Catarrh ozone Company, Kingston, Ont.

CURBING BOTH HOUSES.

The New York Tribune's correspondent in London says that the government is proceeding boldly, and it seems that it is proceeding with what Sir John A. Macdonald used to call a prudent boldness. It has managed so far to steer through its manifest difficulties, to obtain a majority of 33 on the budget, and a majority of a hundred and more on the resolution curbing the power of the House of Lords.

It looks like good policy also to propose to shorten the term of a parliament from seven to five years. This proposal shows that the House of Commons is willing to curb not only the power of the House of Lords, but its own, and to increase the power of the people. Such a shortening of the term would weaken the argument that the veto of the House of Lords is necessary to prevent the tyranny of a single chamber. Under the five-year rule there would have been a general election at the close of the present year, so that the budget and all other questions would have been "referred to the people" without the confusion and ill-will that have been occasioned by the interference of the House of Lords. The House of Commons is thus placed in the position of endeavoring to strengthen the popular control over parliament with a revolutionary change in the constitution.

The shortening of the life of parliament is a much more practical means of securing this control than the spasmodic exercise of the veto power of the Lords. This veto power slumbers when there is a Unionist majority in the House of Commons, and springs into wakeful energetic life, when the majority is Liberals. The action is not only partisan, but irregular. Besides the idea of submitting one issue to the people in this way is chimerical. If the Lords by their veto force a dissolution, what ensues is not a referendum, but a general election, in which several issues are thrown into the arena together with all the passions of party politics. If there are to be more frequent general elections, better that they should come at regular intervals than that they should be the result of a quarrel between the two houses, which is likely to take the form of a class war.

The function of a second chamber, if such a body is necessary, is not to act as a mechanical check on the first, but to afford opportunity for deliberation in a cooler atmosphere. A calm, impartial, disinterested speech carries a weight that cannot be measured by votes. If the House of Lords came to be known as a body free from personal interest, class feeling, or party bias, it would have no difficulty in obtaining a hearing. An old saying sometimes attributed to George Washington, is that the second chamber answers the purpose of the saucer, as old-fashioned people used it—cooling the legislation as the saucer cooled the tea. Tried by this test the House of Lords fails, for it increases the heat of the political conflict, and embitters party controversy. The fault indicates the reform that is required.

GOLD AND SILVER MONEY.

How Uncle Sam Converts Bullion Into Beautiful Coin.

In a vault in the mint at Philadelphia are piles of bricks made of solid gold. Each brick is only as large as a cake of kitchen soap, but it weighs about forty pounds. In another vault the silver bullion is kept. These bricks are much larger and much heavier. Both of these metals are to be made into money for the United States. When the gold coins are to be made the precious metal is alloyed with copper and other metals to make it hard. Pure gold is so soft that it can be scratched with the finger nail, so is never used even for jewelry. After the gold has been hardened by adding the other metals to it it is made into ingots, which look like long gold wedges. They are about a foot long, as wide as a twenty dollar gold piece and two inches thick.

When the silver comes from the melting room it, too, is poured into strips or bars. The ingots of both metals are treated in the same way in the making of coins. One might think that our gold pieces and silver coins are made in molds, but a visit to the mint would show that to be untrue. The precious metals are rolled out into thin bands until they are of a certain width and thickness. These strips of gold or silver are then run under steel punches, which cut the metal into disks.

Each piece is then weighed by very exact scales, for each coin must contain so much gold or silver. After the weighing these blanks are shoveled into vats of acid, so that all the dirt may be eaten off of them. When dry the blanks are put into long tubes, through which they pass one by one between two dies. The upper die stamps the face of the coin, while the lower stamps the back. The great pressure of the two dies coming together has just force enough to make the impressions on the coins clear and distinct.

GRAY SQUIRREL'S LUCK.

How it Came About That He Secured a Handful of Nuts.

Gray Squirrel had a nest up in a maple tree near the kitchen door, from which he could peep down to see when Mrs. Reed, who lived in the house, put out a crisp crust of bread or a couple of nuts for his breakfast. Every morning he would watch, and kind Mrs. Reed never forgot to throw out something nice for him.

That morning, when Gray Squirrel peeped down at the house, there on the porch stood the grocery boy with a small basket of nuts. The boy knocked at the door, but no one replied, so he kindly placed the basket on the sill and went away.

Now, Gray Squirrel knew that never before had Mrs. Reed put so many nuts on the porch for him, but who else could she be buying them for? And, besides, that was where the nuts were always put. No sooner did the boy leave the yard than down the tree scampered Gray Squirrel in a hurry. He sat right there and ate one nut, holding it between his front paws, as squirrels always do. Then, taking them one at a time in his mouth, he carried them up to his nest till his nest was filled.

There were only a few nuts left in the basket when Mrs. Reed came out to see if it were there, and how surprised she was to see that they were almost all gone! She glanced up at the tree where Gray Squirrel sat chattering his thanks and said: "Gray Squirrel, you're been a little pilferer. Those nuts were not all for you."

But Gray Squirrel only chattered faster and looked straight at her with his bright eyes, as much as to say, "I thank you for leaving so many nice nuts for me."

A Coin and Card Trick.

Place on the forefinger of your left hand, held upright, a card; on the card place a fifty cent piece. You can remove this card without disturbing the coin. To do this you must flip the card forcibly with the middle finger of the left hand. The pasteboard will be propelled across the room, and the coin will remain upon the finger.

A Trick With Money.

O O O

and propose to any one to take away the middle one without touching it.

How to do it: Take the right hand place and place it upon the left; consequently the middle one has become the right hand one and is no longer in the middle.

Questions and Answers.

What is born at the same time as the world, destined to live as long as the world and yet never five weeks old? The moon.

Why are clouds like a cowardman? Because they hold the reins (reins).

Why should a lion be called blockhead? Because we wish her to lay on.

Why is the letter G like the eagle? Because it is the center of light.

OUR NEW STORY.

In a few days The Times will begin the publication of a new and thrilling serial story, entitled "Satan Sanderson," by Hallie Erminie Rives, author of "Hearts Courageous," etc. Watch for the opening chapters.

AMERICAN REPRESENTATIVES TO MEET DOMINION'S SOON TO ARRANGE TRADE PACT.

Various Issues at Stake—Final Settlement of Boundaries, Fisheries, Seal and Tariff Questions Sought

Washington, April 8.—Within two months, according to the present plans of the administration, there will be a gathering in Washington or Ottawa, at which capital has not yet been determined, of representatives of the American and Canadian Governments for the purpose of negotiating a reciprocity and trade treaty between the two countries.

The felicitous exchanges between Secretary Knox and Minister Fielding, of Canada, which concluded the recent tariff agreement, contained an implied promise that an effort would be made to reach an understanding on broad lines that might settle for all time the various open issues regarding the land and water boundaries, the fisheries, the preservation of the seals and finally the tariff relations.

TARIFF INTERESTS EUROPE

Most of these matters are of concern purely to the two principals, but the developments in the negotiations relative to the tariff are awaited with the greatest interest by nearly all of the European powers, which may be depended upon to make instant demands for any concessions of special value that may be made by the United States to Canada, or vice versa.

As the extension of the concessions to all nations would result in making them practically valueless to the two countries involved in the negotiations it begins to appear that the President and Sir Wilfrid Laurier will be obliged to devise some strong arguments on which to base a refusal of the concessions to third parties.

The task will be made the more difficult for the reason that the German and French tariff arrangements contain provisions that they shall be terminable within periods of three months and that they are based upon the undertaking that no other country shall be accorded tariff rates lower than those set out in the agreements.

Just how a reciprocity treaty can be framed with Canada that will avoid the objection that it does give Canada preferences is the problem that the tariff expert board will soon have to face.

Ottawa, Ont., April 8.—The officials of the Dominion Customs Department have completed an investigation into the probable effects of the so-called "omnibus clause" of the Fielding-Knox tariff agreement, item 711 of the Canadian tariff. They find that under the rulings of the customs board since the present tariff went into force some 189 articles will be affected by the reduction of duty from 20 to 17½ per cent. None of these, it is asserted, will interfere with any Canadian industry and none figure largely in the list of imports. Cotton-seed oil is the principal item affected.

In authoritative political circles it is reported to-night that there is a strong probability that Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Minister Fielding and possibly Messrs. Paterson and Cartwright will go to Washington in May or June to accept the invitation tendered to further discuss trade relations.

IMMIGRATION RUSH ON.

Winnipeg Full of People From Many Lands.

Winnipeg, April 8.—The tide of immigration into the West has set strong this spring and trains to, and through, Winnipeg are crowded with men, women, children, and goods — all seeking new locations in a country that has room and opportunity for all that come. Immigration figures for 1909—to March 31, 1910 — showed a big increase over the preceding year and this year will undoubtedly do even better. Immigration agents have been working with great vigor in Great Britain and other European countries and the aggressive campaign carried on by land companies, and other interested parties, in the United States are all having marked effect on the rush of new people into the West and the year has every earmark of a record breaker of immigration figures.

Belgian Ruler 75 Years Old.

Brussels, April 8.—In striking contrast to the celebration or lack of celebration that characterized the birthday anniversaries of the late King Leopold during the latter year of his reign, was to-day's hearty observance on the part of the Belgian people of the thirty-fifth anniversary of the birth of their new ruler, King Albert. All the newspapers of Brussels to-day devote leading articles to the anniversary, and publish retrospects of King Albert's brief reign together with much favorable comment. During the day the King received messages of greeting from nearly all the crowned heads of Europe.

HIGH SCHOOL EXAMS.

June 22nd to 24th is Period of Entrance Tests.

The annual examinations for high school and entrance in Peterborough and throughout the province will be held on June 22, 23 and 24. The matriculation and teachers' examinations will be held from June 27 to July 12. Announcement to this effect has been received by the local school inspectors.

As regards the high school entrance examinations, composition, spelling and geography will be the subjects for the first day, arithmetic and reading for the second and English grammar and writing for the third, while oral readings will be taken on one of the afternoons.

Paid the Old Debt With Interest.

Lindsay Warder: A well known Lindsay business man and manufacturer received a very agreeable surprise one day this week when he received a cheque for $400 from a source he never expected to receive it was from a man in the great wheatbelt of the Canadian West, who left Lindsay some twenty years ago. He secured a large part of his outfit from the Lindsay business man, but was unable to pay for the same at the time. The $400 covers the cost of the articles bought along with good interest. It was an item on the books which the Lindsay man never expected to receive, and it was crossed off as a "D.H."

Valentine Mines, Limited

(No Personal Liability)

A company is being formed under the laws of the Province of Ontario, capital $1,500,000, par value $1.00 per share, and to be known as the "VALENTINE MINES, LIMITED." This Company will acquire the property now known as the "Largo" claim, being located immediately adjoining the Belmont and E. T. Mines, 600 feet from Silver Cross, 1,320 feet from the Drummon and Hargrave, and 2640 feet from Kerr Lake and Crown Reserve mines. Its location cannot be excelled, as it is in the famous Kerr Lake silver district. Its formation is Huronian conglomerate and diabase.

Only thirty days' work has ever been done on the property, but this has disclosed a well-defined pink cal-cite vein, which has been traced for 150 feet on the lot.

H. Laurence Brown, E.M., manager of Silver Cross, Belmont and E. T. mines, has reported on the property and recommended its purchase.

THE ACTUAL COST PRICE OF THE PROPERTY IS $28,500.

Of the Capital Stock 712,500 shares will be issued for the property and sold at five (5) cents per share. This will realize $35,625, of which $28,500 will cover the actual cost of the property, and the balance, $7,125, will be placed in the Treasury o the Company for development purposes.

J. H. Wadsworth & Co. will receive 150,000 shares as payment for services rendered and to be rendered. No brokerage commission will be paid by the Company on this offering.

There will still remain in the treasury 637,500 shares, of which 100,000 shares will be offered for sale at ten (10) cents a share.

WE HEREBY OFFER FOR SUBSCRIPTION 712,500 SHARES AT FIVE CENTS A SHARE.

WE CANNOT RECALL AN INSTANCE IN COBALT WHEREBY THE PUBLIC HAD THE OPPORTUNITY OF BUYING AN INTEREST AT ACTUAL COST PRICE. This is a case where the public gets the underwriters' profits; as positively no stock of any kind can be secured below five cents, and no further stock will be offered for less than ten cents. You can therefore see a profit of AT LEAST 100 PER CENT. in your investment.

The mine will be under the management of H. Laurence Brown, E.M., whom we consider the best mining engineer in Cobalt.

Subscriptions at five cents per share will be received on the following basis:

All stock will be made out in the name of subscriber and deposited in The Crown Trust Company of Montreal, and an interim certificate issued to subscriber by the Trust Company. The stock will be held by the Trust Company until the Valentine Mines has disposed of sufficient amount of its Treasury Stock to properly finance its operations, but in any event the stock will be delivered not later than October 1st, 1910, upon surrender to the Trust Company of the interim certificate.

On or before October 1st this stock should be worth AT LEAST twenty-five (25) cents per share.

SUBSCRIPTION BOOKS ARE OPEN AT THE OFFICE OF J. H. WADSWORTH & CO., 704 E. T. BANK BLDG., MONTREAL, AND WILL BE CLOSED IMMEDIATELY UPON THE AMOUNT BEING SUBSCRIBED. Subscriptions will be allotted in order of their filing.

We advise you to telegraph or telephone your order immediately, as the issue will undoubtedly be over-subscribed. Never before has the public had an opportunity such as this, to get in on absolutely the ground floor.

J. H. WADSWORTH & CO.

704 E. T. Bank Building

Phone Main 6949 MONTREAL, Que.

The Directors in the Valentine Mines will receive no salary, but may be allowed $5.00 per day and expenses to each meeting. The minimum subscription to proceed to allotment will be one hundred (100) shares.

Under contract, dated March 15th, 1910, J. H. Wadsworth & Co., of Montreal agreed to cause to be transferred to the Company the property mentioned, a copy of the contract being filed, as is this document, with the Provincial Secretary at Toronto.

Summer Resorts of Ontario.

Experience, the testimony of thousands and the popularity of the several fishing, hunting and touring districts located on the lines of the Grand Trunk Railway System, is conclusive proof that they are the Elysium of the sportsman and the Mecca par excellence of the tourist.

The "Highlands of Ontario," is a land dotted with lakes and rivers that have their source in the northern forests, and flow until they join the vast inland seas, Superior, Huron, Erie or Ontario, whose waters are in turn borne by the broad St. Lawrence to the Atlantic Ocean. This great tourist railway reaches all the principal resorts in this vast territory, including Lakes Orillia and Couchiching, the Muskoka Lakes, a popular resort 1000 feet above sea level, where thousands of people annually make their summer homes for rest and recuperation—The Lake of Bays District where some of the finest summer hotels in Canada are to be found, and a locality replete with natural beauty and loveliness with splendid fishing—Maganetawan River the very heart center for sport, for rod and gun—Lake Nipissing and the French River where wild and rugged scenery is to be found, and the atmosphere filled with health giving properties—The Temagami Region, a forest reserve containing 3,750,000 acres of lakes, rivers and wilderness, the scenic grandeur of which is incomparable. Magnificent fishing and hunting in season. The 30,000 islands of the Georgian Bay is another most delightful and beautiful territory, where the most interesting trips may be taken. The steady increase of tourists to this locality is alone proof that it is becoming the most popular resort on the inland lakes. The Algonquin National Park of Ontario, a comparatively new and attractive region, little known to the lover of rod and gun, and the tourist has all the summer attractions that appeal to the denizen of the city. This territory has been set aside by the Provincial Government of Ontario solely for the delectation of mankind. The gamiest of black bass, speckled trout and salmon trout are found here in goodly numbers. Hunting is not allowed. The Algonquin Park covers an area of 2,000,000 acres, their being within its border there being no less than 1,200 lakes and rivers within its boundaries.

Good hotel accommodation is found in all the districts mentioned, and a postal card addressed to the District Passenger Agent's office, Grand Trunk, Toronto, Ont., or to the General Advertising Department, Grand Trunk Railway System, Montreal, will receive prompt attention and illustrated publications of any of the districts will be promptly sent to all enquirer

Our mines are in the greatest camp in America, Leadville, Col., a camp which has produced "a million a month for four hundred months."

We have four hundred acres in the richest proven belt of the county, containing twelve mines, which have already produced to shallow workings over $2,000,000. Our big tunnel being driven in from the base of the mountain will cut these vast ore bodies at depth, and make their millions of dollars worth of ore accessible to us.

Within five months we should cut into our rich ore bodies, and become a large producer before the year closes. It is confidently believed that the Company can pay fabulous profits in the very near future.

Albert Ganz, Mines & Mining, Box 215. Leadville, Colo., Jan. 31, 1910.

Mr. Carey J. Hunter, Raleigh, N. C.

Dear Sir,—Your communication of the 24th inst. received. Regarding Sugar Loaf Mountain, the reports sent out of its production of the precious metals up to the time when the copper-acid waters made deeper sinking of shafts impossible, are not withdrawn.

Several weeks ago at the request of Mr. Horner, I accompanied him on a visit to the new tunnel and properties. On my part it was in fact a trip of inspection. I found the most complete and best equipped tunnel in the county. All the machinery is electrically driven, making a large saving in the cost of operating. This tunnel commands and the National M. & T. Co. owns and control a mineralized area of 400 acres.

There are many shafts that have produced millions of values, but have been idle for years on account of the acid waters. The tunnel now being run is over 500 feet in length and, when advanced will cross-cut all the veins at depths varying from 500 to 1,400 feet

I have personally known Mr. Horner many years. He has occupied positions of honor and trust. There are none as well posted on the mineralized area, geological conditions and the ore occurrences on Sugar Loaf Mountain as himself. It looks to me like a successful and legitimate mining enterprise.

Yours, truly, ALBERT GANZ.

VOL. XXXIII NO. 85 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO WEDNESDAY APRIL 13 1910 PRICE TWO CENTS

125,000 Settlers Will Come to Canada from United States

Are Expected to Come Into the Western Provinces This Year, Says William C. Whyte—A Good Class of Settlers

Toronto, April 12.—That 125,000 settlers will come over from the United States into Western Canada this year, each one bringing an average of $1,000, is the opinion expressed by William Whyte, second vice-president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, in an interview, after his return from the Southern States.

"The class of settler that is pouring into the West this year is the best we have ever received, and numerically they are much in excess of any other season. The country is being developed properly.

"From the Motherland we are getting the better class as well, and they, too, are coming with funds to work with.

Mr. Whyte told of a talk he had with a New Yorker, where he expressed the opinion that within 15 years the Province of Saskatchewan would be growing more wheat than the whole of the United States. This was because the corn belt to the south was steadily encroaching on the wheat belt, and the later is being forced north every year.

"By that time the United States will be importing wheat from Canada. They will have to if the big mills are to be kept milling the grade of hard wheat that they have been accustomed to in the past."

From a railway standpoint, Mr. Whyte said that they are in favor of the long haul, but if that the farmer could ship their wheat to Minneapolis and get good prices for it, they would have more money to spend on other things, and in that way there would be nothing lost to anybody.

Speaking of the company's model farms, Mr. Whyte said that they were designed purely for the needs of the British tenant farmer. In the Old Country they are the "gaffers." Though not wealthy, they have never done much work themselves, always having an overseer.

"For that reason," he continued, "this class of men would be practically helpless if set down on unbroken land, so the company is breaking up some land for them, and is building houses for them. If the innovation is a success, there will be extensions in the future."

Mr. Whyte added that the C.P.R. was going very rapidly ahead, making extensions on their road and adding to their mileage.

Will Borden Resign Party Leadership?

Ottawa, April 12.—The Conservatives were in prolonged caucus this morning. Mr. Borden did not attend. At the conclusion a statement was issued to the effect that the reports which have lately appeared in newspapers concerning dissensions in the party were without real foundation.

The caucus unanimously passed a resolution expressing its implicit confidence in Mr. R. L. Borden, and its unanimous desire that he should continue as leader. It pledged him its allegiance and loyalty.

WOULD FOLLOW LEADER OUT.

Ottawa, April 12.—In the past few days a rumor has got abroad that Mr. Borden would resign the party leadership at the end of the present session. As a consequence a number of the Conservative members have signified their intention of waiting upon him, and of representing to him that if he retired they would quit public life with him. I understand that they have already seen Mr. Borden, but with what result is not known. Their intention was to appeal to his public spirit, and to press upon him his obligation to remain in the running with a view to securing a change of government at the earliest possible moment.

DECIDING CONVENTION DATE.

Today's caucus of the Opposition is likely to discipline some recalcitrant members, and the mischief makers will have less scope than heretofore. Late this afternoon the Central Committee in charge of the projected Conservative convention will meet to decide the date of that gathering. The majority of the delegates are in favor of it being convened in the middle of June. One objection to that date is the fact that in June many who desire to attend the convention will then be present in one or other of the militia camps A second difficulty is that, so sure as a date in June is decided upon, the Nova Scotia Government will precipitate a general election upon that day, and thus practically prevent the delegates from a whole Province from attending. On the other hand, the Western members would object to the gathering being held in the autumn, when the prairie provinces will be engaged in garnering their grain.

Possibly the upshot will be the postponement of the convention to 1911. By that time the awful extravagance and waste involved in the Government's administration of the National Transcontinental Railway will be still more abundantly apparent than at present.

BOARD OF HEALTH.

Dr. Young Pressing for Settlement of Bill.

The Board of Health held a regular meeting yesterday morning and tra meeting yesterday morning and transacted considerable business.

Those present were:—Dr. McNulty, chairman; Dr. Young, Dr. Burnham, and Mr. J. Edgar.

A letter was read from Dr. Hodgetts, chief health officer of Ontario, regarding pamphlets respecting communicable diseases.—Received.

Mr. D. O'Connell was heard in regard to the claim of Dr. Young for services rendered last year in connection with the smallpox outbreak. He asked the Board of Health to recommend to the City Council that the account be paid as the act authorized the council to make payments on the recommendation of the Board of Health.

Dr. Young was asked to supply an itemized statement of his account which will be considered by the board at the next meeting.

E. J. Hickey was heard and complained of cesspools on Bethune St., north of Smith. He was advised to get up a petition for a sewer.

On motion of Dr. Burnham and Dr. Young, the question of the place and times for public vaccination was left with the chairman and the medical Health officer.

A BLADE & SON'S FINE NEW GREENHOUSE.

Splendid Display of New Flowers Under 4500 Feet of Glass—A Modern Equipment.

"The annual miracle has begun. The slender red spire of the tulpit and the rounded yellow spatula of the narcissus are gently but persistently forcing their passage through the clodded earth, and are in process of being changed into the loveliest shades of leafage by the wonderful chemistry of sunshine. Our hope is for springtime gladdened by beautiful flowers. Do we do wrong then, to project faith, which we usually term a quality of understanding, into the vegetable kingdom, and say that the bulbs teach us a lesson in its application?"

A visitor to the new greenhouse of Messrs. A. Blade & Son, situated on the corner of Park and Dublin street, will enjoy a delightful hour, inspecting the beautiful show of flowering plants, foliage plants, ferns and palms, as well as the new modern structure and up-to-date methods employed for the propagation and culture of high-class stock.

Everything is at present in fine shape at these greenhouses, and hints promising for a good season a trade. The new crop is coming on splendidly and the extensive display of rich and varied specimens of flowering and foliage plants comprise collections of the favoring standard and many new and highly cultivated specimens, specially introduced by Blade & Son.

FEATURES OF THE NEW STOCK

Blade's new crop has been grown from the choicest stock procurable from the most reliable growers, and the result has been most gratifying Specially worthy of mention is the new variety of asters known as the "Rochester light pink," which has a strong robust growth and branching habit. This ideal flower grows to six inches in diameter when forced to its best. There are also 5,000 geraniums, principally of the John Doyle and S. A. Nutt variety, which make a brilliant showing. Other varieties are in begonias, stocks, tuberoses, cannas, petunias, nasturtiums, salvias, balsams, pansies, zinnias, and a fine showing of the new plumosa fern. Roses and carnations will occupy a prominent feature as well as many other blooming plants. There are also over 2,000 foliage plants ready for garden growers. Large quantity of early vegetable bedding—out plants in boxes and pots are coming on rapidly, to be ready for the kitchen garden, such as celery, tomato, cabbage, cauliflower and onion seedlinglings.

THE NEW GREENHOUSE PROPERTY.

The property secured by A. Blade & Son for greenhouse purposes consists of two acres of fine land, forming an eligible situation for floriculture, and runs north of Dublin street and east from Park street. Over 4,500 square feet of glass has been already put up in the two greenhouses, leaving room for further enlargements. A modern system of overhead steam heating has been installed, and patent ventilators, which have proved highly satisfactory.

A suitable office and work room are conveniently situated and facilities for packing and storing provided. Orders for floral designs, cut flowers, filling hanging baskets, verandah boxes, and vases, receive prompt attention, and between two and three hundred urns are already in for filling.

Blade & Son wish to remind the public that they are in no way connected with the "West-End Greenhouses." Their telephone is 508.

HATPINS AND CLUBS CARRIED BY WOMEN.

Determined Crowd Sees to Enforcement of Strike Against Meat Dealers.

New York, April 12.—Bands of determined women today marched through the East Side and other sections of the city, where the Kosher meat strike is on, to prevent the opening of the retail butcher shops, which closed yesterday, as a protest against the high meat prices.

Over one hundred thousand families, it is figured, have put a ban on meat, and the housewives are insistent that the retailers remain closed until the wholesalers drop the prices.

Kerosene, clubs, and hatpins have proved and effective armament of the women in closing up those shops which tried to defy them.

Buffalo, N.Y., April 12.—After a quarrel in which he was ordered to leave the house, Emil La Marre, a stockily built Frenchman, drew a revolver, and shot to death Mrs. Mary L. Teeft, proprietor of the boarding house, 176 Ellicott street, at one o'clock this morning.

Swept Over Dam Into Raging Waters

Yesterday while working on the new waterworks dam, a carpenter named Michael Sullivan, slipped and fell into the waters above the dam. Fortunately the plank on which he happened to be standing also fell into the water and the unfortunate man succeeded in getting hold of it. He was swept through the sluiceway and over the dam into the raging waters below.

For a time he disappeared altogether from view, and then reappeared among the breakers, still clinging to the life saving plank. He was finally rescued nearly a half a mile below in a thoroughly exhausted state, and taken to his home in Ashburnham. Beyond some bruises received by knocking against the plank in his mad career down the stream, he is little the worse for his exciting mishap.

The second general meeting of the popular campaign being conducted this week in Peterborough in the interests of social purity, was held last night in George street Methodist church, when the Rev. J. Aspinall McCuaig, vice-president of the National Christian League of New York, delivered a strong lecture on "Sex and Crime." Magistrate Dumble occupied the chair, and introduced the speaker in eulogistic terms. Many of the clergy of the city occupied seats in the audience, which was composed of representative members of all churches.

Mr. McCuaig introduced his subject by stating that the great preponderance of crime in the world has its root in sex perversion. This he demonstrated from the Scriptures and confirmed by reference to criminal statistics of prisons and asylums. He declared that crime will never be truly estimated till we learn that crime as commonly designated, is but the outward indication of a moral defection. It is not necessary that a man commit murder to be a murderer. He is a murderer, who has murder in his heart. "He that hateth his brother is a murderer." "He that looketh on a woman to lust after her is an adulterer." It naturally follows therefor that the chief point of moral divergence is the chief source of crime.

In regard to the sexual instinct in man it was shown that the darkness of ignorance and untruth that has prevailed in the minds of man regarding this imperial passion has resulted in it becoming the chief center of moral defection. With earnest emphasis the lecturer declared; "There is one problem of life upon which the home, the church, the school and the state give no information. It is the greatest problem of society—it is in every sense a fundamental problem—yet in it, the problem of sex, every man is a discoverer, and every man a discoverer of a dark continent."

In striking language it was declared that the evolution of a new home-life is the only safeguard against the evils that spring from sex passion. "The home is the true fruition of sex impulses. If homes of many children are not the fruitage of sexual instinct, the floods of sexual passion will overflow in crime and its attendant miseries."

With unmistakable logic it was shown that not only would the evolution of a true conception of the home thus curtail crime, but that from such elevated homes would go forth crime-proof men and women.

Announcement was made that a special course of lectures to women will be given in connection with the present movement; the first lecture of which will be given in the Young Women's Christian Association this afternoon at 4.15, on "Sexual Instinct in the Child."

Mr. McCuaig will preach tonight in St. Paul's Presbyterian church on "The Voice of God."

Horrors of War in Case of Invasion

London, April 12.—A timely warning concerning "the horrors of war in Great Britain" is given in a brochure just issued by Colonel Lonsdale Hale.

He is a soldier of great experience, and in terse, effective sentences he depicts the "miseries and sufferings of all non-fighters" in the event of an invasion of our island by a foreign foe.

"It is well for civilians to bear in mind that the moment invaders appear in any part of Great Britain the civilians living there will have to find for the hostile soldiers all the food and everything else that they want.

"Not only must they not in the least degree help their own soldiers, but they may even be compelled to work against them; and in civilians I include every kind and class of civilian in the part of the country, from the largest landowner or biggest manufacturer or collier owner down to the local crossing-sweeper.

"Nor will the invaders be content with simple fare. Indeed, they intend to live as comfortably as possible, and that their horses shall do the same. On lists of requisitions I find flour, bread, wine, brandy, butter, hams, cows, sheep, fowls, turkeys, bacon, corn, calves, potatoes, sugar, coffee, chicory, eggs, cattle, pigs, straw, forage, hay, oats, wood cider, liquors, milk, ducks, rabbits, salt, furniture, candles, pairs of boots, nails, socks, clothing, horses, harness, looking glasses, sheets and such minor things as pens, ink, pencil and paper.

"Then we, here and there, find money contributions—not in the way of a fine for misconduct, but levied when and where the inhabitants were unable to find in their locality the articles demanded."

After alluding to the "terrorizing" methods by which contributions will be secured, Colonel Hale states:

"And when to horrors such as these, not due, be it remembered, to fighting or the clash of arms, but simply to the mere presence of an invading army in a country, we add those arising from the total stoppage of all the ordinary normal food-earning occupations of life, the starving unemployed ranging all over the district in search of food to sustain bare life, of the loss of all means of procuring money for even the most pressing needs, the famine and the suffering of old and infant life alike which falls on the civilians, not the fighters, I marvel at the calmness and the indifference with which even the possibility of the presence of an invader in this country is sometimes spoken of and is regarded by rich and poor alike, in England, Scotland and Wales; it is the calmness, the indifference of complete ignorance."

Discussing the possibility of invasion, Colonel Hale says:

"It will not be until the calls elsewhere for the employments of portions of our fleets and of most of our regular forces that any invader will consider that the moment has arrived to utilize his already ready material strength and force.

"How soon that moment may come no living soul can tell. It may come at any time. Anyhow, we have but scanty time to prepare for it. A belief in our invincibility, which is not surely founded on close and careful reasoning and full knowledge, is a sure and certain passage not of victory, but of defeat."

So strongly does Colonel Lonsdale Hale feel on the subject that he renounced his party for the security of the country. He relates his own experience during the election.

"During the progress of the election Mr. Balfour, speaking at Hanley, expressed himself strongly and frankly as to the danger that possibly may come to us from across the water; a little later on Mr. Asquith in a speech, minimized these dangers. Although a Radical myself, a comparison of the two speeches settled my vote. The natural desire for self-preservation got the better of my political opinions and wishes.

"It seemed to me that at the present time we need at the head of affairs a man who is fully alive to the dangers actually threatening our very lives and liberties rather than a man who shows himself somewhat a disbeliever in the dangers, so I cast my vote for Mr. Balfour's follower instead of for the follower of Mr. Asquith."

Investigate Combines, Says Hon. Mr. King—The Cost of Living

If Public Had Means of Probing Fears Might be Allayed—Deals with the Increased Cost of Living and Causes which Have Led Up to It

Ottawa, April 12.—Hon. Mr. Mackenzie King, minister of labor, moved in the House today the adoption of the resolution which authorizes his combines bill. In so doing he went at considerable length into the increased cost of living.

Mr. King first dealt with the increased cost of living, proving by a great body of evidence that the cost of living has increased over the prices which prevailed in the decade 1890 to 1900 by about 30 to 35 per cent. In some cases the increase has been as high as 70 per cent.

Simultaneously there has gone on an immense activity in the formation of combines, mergers, trusts, etc. Mr. King gave copious figures as to the extent of the movement in the United States and then went on to show that of late there has been great activity of the same sort in Canada; he gave a remarkable list of Canadian mergers recently accomplished or in contemplation.

INVESTIGATE THE MERGERS.

These movements are in progress simultaneously, Mr. King said, and the tendency will be for the public to connect them. It was essential to have some means of making an investigation whereby the facts could be made known with accuracy.

Asked whether the mergers were responsible for the increase, Mr. King said that he would hesitate to answer before the investigation was held and the evidence was in.

The largest combine of all escape criticism altogether, they are the railways and the reason why the public do not object to large railways as such, or to their extension, is that the Railway Commission investigates their business, sees how they manage it, sees if their rates are excessive, and so gives confidence to the public. Once the public has the same means of investigating the mergers and combines it will have the same confidence as regards them.

The proposed legislation was not aimed at combines, it was directed against the abuse of power by them.

CAUSES OF HIGH PRICES.

Mr. King then went on to discuss the general causes of high prices. Among them he mentioned:

1. An increase is often a sign of increasing prosperity.

2. The extravagance of the wealthy classes, of late very marked, has attracted capital from the manufacture of goods such as the masses purchase to those bought by the wealthy. Then the standard of living has risen and more expensive habits have arisen; people order their goods by telephone, and from middlemen.

QUEBEC FARMER HAS DISAPPEARED

PARTY OF 150 MEN ARE ON THE SEARCH FOR THE MISSING MAN.

Also for a Big Tramp Who Was Seen on the Road With Red Stains on His Clothes—Foul Play?

Sherbrooke, Que., April 12.—Paul Hourd, a well-to-do farmer, of East Farnham, left Granby for home last Monday and there is no further trace of him except that his horse was found in pasture about a mile from his home on Tuesday morning. The search has been maintained by 150 men, but no clue can be ascertained.

The theory is that he met with foul play, as he had considerable money and a gold watch on his person. A big suspicious-looking tramp was seen last Tuesday on the road which Hourd would take, and his clothes were smeared either with blood or red paint. The authorities are on the lookout for this man.

Too much thanks cannot be given to those who have been at the head of the local association and with the support of the public a great work has been done by its members.

TO BRING BACK COOK'S STUFF

HARRY WHITNEY WILL GO TO ETAH FOR THE PAKIR'S INSTRUMENTS.

Leave St. John's in July—Principal Object, However, is to Obtain Some Big Game for Museums.

New York, April 12.—Another expedition to the Arctic, during which he expects to stop at Etah to recover the instruments of Dr. Frederick A. Cook, is being planned for this summer by Harry Whitney of New Haven, the first white man encountered by Cook on his returned from the north, and who first heard Cooks' assertion that he had reached the North Pole.

Paul Rainey, known as horseman, polo player and yachtsman, will accompany Whitney. Negotiations, commenced today, are now being made to charter a suitable vessel and it is expected the expedition will leave St. John's, Nfld., in July.

Overtures are said to have been made to Captain Samuel Bartlett, master of the schooner Jeannie, sent to the Arctic last year to carry relief to Commander Peary, to command the vessel.

The principal object of the trip will be to obtain specimens of big game for museums and zoological parks, and the recovery of Dr. Cook's instruments will be but incidental.

Whitney is said to feel that since he left the instruments at Etah, it is incumbent upon him to see that they are brought back and delivered to Cook's relatives.

JUST ESCAPED JAUNDICE.

Shows How Important It Is to Keep Liver and Kidneys Active.

When you read of the growing yellowness of the skin extending to the whites of the eyeballs, as described by Mr. J. P. Nostrand, a well-known grocer in Manchester, you will realize that jaundice is nothing to be sniffed at. "Despite the best medical skill my face grew more yellow every day. It is no fun," he writes, to be given a lemon and find its hue reflecting itself upon every part of the body. My physician informed me that a catarrhal condition had resulted in a plugging of the bile ducts and the absorption of the bile into the blood. I had some knowledge of the remarkable, stimulating and healing qualities of Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and started in using them. At first I felt better, had more appetite, and entire freedom from headaches. Then came an easier feeling in the region of my stomach and I saw an almost imperceptible fading away of the yellow tinge in my skin. I persevered; used Dr. Hamilton's Pills for twelve weeks. My reward was cure—today I am healthy, happy and well."

Nothing ever discovered has such an influence on liver diseases as Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut. Refuse any substitute. Price 25c per box, all dealers, or the Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

Mr. Joseph Frith has returned to the city after taking a car load of horses to Saskatoon.

For Ladies Only!

Women need Zam-Buk even more than men. For chafed places, inflamed surfaces, skin sore from friction from clothing, rough, red hands, unsightly face sores — for all these and a hundred-and-one needs that are peculiar to women, Zam-Buk is a boon.

Then there are the children! For their little cuts and burns and knocks—for skin rashes and skin sores, Zam-Buk is far the best. Why?

Best because it is pure. Best because it contains not one grain of mineral matter or poisonous coloring, not one bit of animal fat. It is antiseptic, soothing and healing.

A WIFE'S EXPERIENCE.

Mrs. Joseph Carr, who keeps a grocery store at 298 Hamburg Ave., Toronto, says:—"In all my years of housekeeping I have never yet used a preparation equal to Zam-Buk. It is nothing short of a wonder—a miracle. Indeed I cannot speak in terms too praiseworthy of its wonderful healing properties, and would not be without this remedy in my home at any cost. I have used it for sores, cuts, burns and other skin injuries, and consider it a household necessity, especially where there are children, as it heals all wounds and bruises in almost incredibly short time. My eldest son had occasion to use Zam-Buk for a badly inflamed toe, caused by an ingrowing toe nail. A few applications were all that was necessary to draw out the soreness and inflammation, and he has had no trouble with the toe since. PEACE, WAR AND HEROISM.

We are all familiar with the lines in Tennyson's Maud in which war is justified as a nursery of heroic virtue. Professor William James acknowledges the force of the contention and declares that a moral equivalent for war must be discovered. "Something heroic that will speak to men as war has done, and yet will be compatible with their spiritual natures as war has proved itself to be incompatible.

Professor James says that the fundamental failure of peace advocates has lain in their failure to grasp the psychology of the militarist. The militarist argues that war is a cheap price to pay for rescue from the only alternative supposed, "of a world of clerks and teachers, of coeducation and zoophily, of consumers' leagues and associated charities, of industrialism unlimited and feminism unabashed. No scorn, no hardness, no valor any more."

The answer to all this is obvious. Certain virtues are manifested in war; whether they are created by war is another question. Certain virtues are also evoked by fire, pestilence and storm. But nobody in his senses argues that we should set fire to buildings in order to encourage bravery in firemen, or spread disease in order to encourage heroism in nurses and physicians, or send men to sea in rotten ships in order to encourage heroism in mariners. Till evil is banished from the world there will be plenty of occasion for courage and fortitude. There is no need to multiply these occasions. "It is impossible but that offences will come; but woe unto him through whom they come."

Moreover, while war does evoke the virtue of courage, it also evokes such vices as hatred, injustice, and the love of domination. Ruskin says that we honor the soldier not because he is eager to kill, but because he is willing to die, and the distinction is just. But it cannot be denied that ignoble as well as noble passions are manifested in war.

Though Professor James seems at first to give in a little too easily to the glorification of war he comes in the end to the sound conclusion that abundant opportunity for heroism is to be found in every day life. He finds that the ignoble ease of peace is really enjoyed by only a few, and that the remedy is a more equitable division of ease and hardship.

There is nothing to make one indignant in the mere fact that life is hard, that men should toil and suffer pain. The planetary conditions once for all are such, and we can stand it. But that so many men by mere accidents of birth and opportunity, should have a life of nothing else but toil and pain and hardness and inferiority imposed upon them, should have no vacation, while other natively no more deserving never get any taste of this campaigning life at all—this is capable of arousing indignation in reflective minds. It may end by seeming shameful to all of us that some of us have nothing but campaigning, and others nothing but unmanly ease.

A little reflection will show the absurdity of dwelling upon the ignoble ease of men who work on skyscrapers, men who build railways, of men who do the work of the drain digger in "The Servant in the House," of women who do duty equally dangerous and toilsome. Professor James' moral equivalent for war is to draft off the gilded youth "to coal and iron mines, to freight trains, to fishing fleets in December, to dish-washing, clothes-washing, and window washing, to road building and tunnel-making, to foundries and stoke holes." The suggestion may not be practical. But it illustrates the truth that there is plenty of hard and dangerous work to be done without arousing the passions of war, and that the cankers of a long peace may be avoided by those who choose to play the heroic part.

CANADIAN IMMIGRATION.

Canadian immigration is the subject of a lengthy report recently submitted to the U.S. Congress. A special enquiry has been held, by a commission regarding the sources of the large influx of population in the Dominion during the past decade. Analyzing our immigration from Europe the report states that while 70 per cent. come to Canada from Northern and Western Europe, and 30 per cent. from Southern and Eastern Europe, the reverse was true regarding the United States. We get the cream of such immigration, the more desirable elements composed of homeseekers on the land, while our neighbors get the class that adds to the congestion of the cities. And the same is true of the immigration from the United States, over seventh eighths of which is classed as farmers or farm-laborers. It is noted that probably no other considerable movement of population from one country to another is so largely composed of agricultural people.

Of course the one fact explains the others, the Americans come from their dear lands to secure homesteads which Canada has in plenty and can give very cheaply or for nothing, while the United States has now little more good land to distribute, and prospectively only such as is reclaimed by irrigation. Immigrants of the farming class from Northern and Western Europe cannot hope to settle on the lands that have become so high priced that their owners find it profitable to sell them and take up the cheap soil of Canada.

It is found that of the 235,000 homesteads entered in Canada in the ten years 44.91 per cent. were by Americans.

The London Free Press points out that while Canada may congratulate itself upon receiving so large a proportion of the better class of farmers from the United States, the time is near when it should be asked whether we are not over generous in parting with our fertile sections too cheaply, whether the public domain, which is so productive and inviting to settlers should not yield more than it does to the general coffers. The best farm lands of this continent that remain for homesteading are ours of which the monopoly is equivalent to that of pulpwood or other natural product elsewhere nearly exhausted.

The report of Senator Dillingham is important as showing the interest that is being aroused by Canada's rapid expansion.

GAS DISTENDED HIS STOMACH.

Caused Palpitation, and Prevented Sleep. When Health Was Gone, Cure Followed Use of Nerviline.

"My last wish will be," writes Harry P. Pollard, a well-known boot and shoe traveller of Hartford, "that everyone with a bad stomach may learn as I did, before it's too late, that Nerviline is the one remedy to cure. Why, I was in mighty bad shape, my digestion was all wrong, and every night I would waken with a start and find my heart jumping like a threshing machine. This was caused by gas on my stomach pressing against my heart. When I started to use Nerviline I got better mighty fast. It is certainly a grand remedy for the travelling man. Keeps your stomach in order, cures cramps, prevents lumbago or rheumatism, breaks up colds and sore throat—in fact there hasn't been an ache or pain inside or outside for the past two years that I haven't cured with Nerviline. Do you wonder I recommend it?"

TESTIMONIAL NO. 4890

For general household use Nerviline has no equal; it will cure the aches and ailments of the entire family—refuse anything but Nerviline, 25c. per bottle, five for $1.00, all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

WOMAN SWALLOWED KNIFE.

Seventeen Physicians Worked With Her and Finally Removed It.

Los Angeles, April 11.—Seventeen physicians assisted at an operation for the removal of a table knife nine inches long from the stomach of Mrs Sarah Carlson, an insane woman. The operation was successful, and Mrs. Carlson is recovering. The knife had been in the stomach of the woman several hours before the physicians could be induced to believe that the woman, who told them of swallowing it, was not joking about the matter.

Woodstock Young Man Stopped in Front of an Engine to Push Deaf Person Out of Danger.

Woodstock, April 11.—The heroic action of a young man named William Elliott yesterday saved Mrs. McGinnis, an inmate of the House of Refuge from being killed by a C. P.R. freight train. The old lady was returning from church, walking along the track and did not notice a freig the track and did not notice a freight coming toeHard her at a fast speed. The engineer apparently thought the woman would step aside, and did not attempt to stop the train until 100 feet away. Young Elliott perceived the woman's peril, rushed towards the old lady, who is quite deaf, and succeeded in pushing her off the track just as the train whizzed by. Elliott himself had a close call, the side of the engine just grazing his coat as he cleared the track.

No Regimental Band.

The band has received official notice that it is no longer to be regarded as a regimental band. The regiment without a band would seem almost absurd, especially when the band which has always been maintained is famous as a musical organization, and did the greatest honor to the corps wherever it appeared. All hope that the trouble may yet be settled for the credit of our city.

Excursion From Port Hope.

A big Masonic excursion will be held to Peterborough from Port Hope on April 20th, the special leaving Port Hope at 1.30 o'clock. It is likely that Rochester Masons will also be on the excursion. The Port Hope Masons have written Mr. J. J. Turner, manager of the opera house, asking him to provide a suitable attraction for that date, and "The Holy City" will be given.

The deceased was taken suddenly ill on Saturday. She was 72 years of age and is survived by her daughter, Mrs. W. H. Ruse, and two sisters, Mrs. J. B. Christie of Trenton, and Mrs. Gouin, wife of the postmaster at Ottawa. The funeral will take place at West Toronto today, the remains being sent there in the morning on the 5.26 C.P.R. train.

A Reporter's Bravery.

While a horse attached to McCrea's milk wagon was dashing along Hunter street, minus a driver yesterday, in a sprint for freedom, Mr. A. C. Yokome, a local newspaper reporter, boldly rushed from the sidewalk, and managed to climb into the rig from the rear, and seizing the lines managed to bring the animal to a standstill. It was a clever act, but what else could be expected from a newspaper man.

Honored By His Comrades.

On Monday evening the members of the 57th Bugle Band presented Mr. Amos McWilliams, one of their comrades, with an address and a handsome gold locket. The address was read by Bugler George East, and Sergt. Bugler W. Sharpe made the presentation. The address was signed on behalf of the band by Messrs. G. Butcher, B. Mills, E. Main, S. Gibbs, Bugler Sergt. W. Sharpe, M. Drysdale, G. East, A. Wert, P. A. Weatherstone, A. Rae, C. Thornton, G. Huffman, C. Waram, T. Hanwell, J. Seymour, W. Fitzgerald, A. Rew. WHERE WILL IT END?

Correspondent Wants to Know About Taxes.

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Sir, — I would like to know through your paper, Mr. Editor, if you can tell us when the limit of high taxes will be reached. It seems to me that we can hardly hope for anything but a steady upward grade.

Here are a few items that should make people stop and think:

1. Two thousand dollars yearly required to run the new Carnegie Library.
2. Say $15,000 for pumping plant to dispose of the sewerage of the southern district, with a thousand or more per annum to operate it.
3. $60,000 for new city hall. This will soon be required.
4. $150,000 to pave the streets of the business section.
5. Addition to new Collegiate Institute building in the near future.
6. Last but not least a filtration plant which will cost anywhere from $50,000 to $100,000.
7. Trade commissioner at an expense of from $2500 to $3500 per year. While it is true the Ontario Legislature refused the city permission to pay this it is proposed to do it in a roundabout way, by making a grant of a couple of thousand or more annually to the Board of Trade with the assurance that it will be used for this purpose. This is illegal and will probably mean trouble to the City Council should they try it on.

It seems to me, Mr. Editor, with the above before us, that heroic action is necessary to meet the situation. Rents are abnormally high, especially business places and taxes are even higher in proportion.

I think, Mr. Editor, that it is up to the ratepayers themselves to take a hand in what is going on, and endeavor to secure some kind of form and order out of the chaos that now exists in the city's finances.

Thanking you, I am, etc.,

National Mining & Tunnel Company

Our mines are in the greatest camp in America, Leadville, Col., a camp which has produced "a million a month for four hundred months."

We have four hundred acres in the richest proven belt of the county, containing twelve mines, which have already produced from shallow workings over $2,000,000. Our big tunnel being driven in from the base of the mountain will cut these vast ore bodies at depth, and make their millions of dollars worth of ore accessible to us.

Within five months we should cut into our rich ore bodies, and become a large producer before the year closes. It is confidently believed that the Company can pay fabulous profits in the very near future.

Albert Ganz, Mines & Mining, Box 215.
Leadville, Colo., Jan. 31, 1910.

Mr. Carey J. Hunter, Raleigh, N. C.

Dear Sir,—Your communication of the 24th inst. received. Regarding Sugar Loaf Mountain, the reports sent out of its production of the precious metals up to the time when the copper-acid waters made deeper sinking of shafts impossible, are not withdrawn.

Several weeks ago at the request of Mr. Horner, I accompanied him on a visit to the new tunnel and properties. On my part it was in fact a trip of inspection. I found the most complete and best equipped tunnel in the county. All the machinery is electrically driven, making a large saving in the cost of operating. This tunnel commands and the National M. & T. Co. own and control a mineralized area of 400 acres.

There are many shafts that have produced millions of values, but have been idle for years on account of the acid waters. The tunnel now being run is over 500 feet in length and, when advanced, will cross-cut all the veins at depths varying from 500 to 1,400 feet

I have personally known Mr. Horner many years. He has occupied positions of honor and trust. There are none as well posted on the mineralized area, geological conditions and the ore occurrences on Sugar Loaf Mountain as himself. It looks to me like a successful and legitimate mining enterprise.

Yours, truly, ALBERT GANZ.

We want a good live active agent to handle this stock in Peterborough and vicinity

Alderman Turner Spent a Busy Time Monday

Answering Angry Power Consumers Who Suffered a Loss by Lowering of Water—Smith Street Bridge Muddle.

Arrangements May be Made for Work on Smith Street Bridge to Go on Next Week.

At last night's council meeting, Ald. Turner reported that Mr. Larmouth, manager of the Hydraulic Power Company, did lower the water at their dam, all his load would apparently permit of, but it was not sufficient to allow Mr. Conroy to proceed with the construction of Smith street bridge. And the lowering of the water to even 3½ feet at Smith street bridge raised such a storm of protests from power consumers that it had to be raised again to secure any degree of peace. He (Ald. Turner), who is chairman of the Power Committee, was kept at the telephone all day answering calls from angry citizens, enquiring what the city meant by allowing such a procedure, and who was going to pay the damages. Such firms as G. Walter Green, the Peterborough Cereal Co., Central Milling Co., and the Brinton Carpet Co., complained that they could not operate with reduced power without suffering considerable loss. He explained the situation the best he could, but his explanation did not satisfy power consumers. Subsequently, in an interview with Mr. Larmouth, the latter had assured him that Mr. Dunham, manager of the Quaker Oats Co., would write to Chicago for permission from Mr. Stuart to reduce the Quaker Oats Co.'s output for two weeks. If Mr. Stuart's consent to this is secured, beginning next Monday, the water can be lowered sufficiently for Mr. Conroy to proceed with his contract. Then for two weeks the latter's men will work night and day, and under such conditions he will be able to have work on the new bridge far enough advanced, in the given time to avoid any further delay from high water.

On the advice of Aldermen Hicks and Bradburn, the council will not commit the city so that it will be held responsible for any possible damage through this vexed question. But it is confidently expected that the matter will be arranged on the above lines.

Drunken Workman Tries to Slay French Premier

Armed with Brace of Revolvers and Knife the Crazed Intruder Sought to Force an Entrance to the Hotel where M. Briand was a Guest

Saint-Etienne, France, April 13.—A workman by the name of Duplanil, who was armed with a brace of revolvers and a knife, and declared that he wished to kill Premier Briand, was arrested today as he attempted to force his way into the hotel where the premier is stopping. Duplanil is believed to have been crazed by drink. Following his detention, he said he was hounded by spirits which urged him to slay M. Briand.

The premier is continuing in this district the electoral campaign which he opened at St. Chamond Sunday, when he encountered unfriendly demonstrations by anarchists and revolutionary groups. Duplanil, it was learned, has been following M. Briand since Sunday, when he mingled with the manifestants at St. Chamond.

DEATH OF MR. JNO. McPHERSON.

One of Peterborough's Oldest and Most Esteemed Citizens Passes Away.

By the demise of Mr. John McPherson which took place on Tuesday evening, Peterborough loses one of its oldest and most esteemed citizens. Mr. McPherson suffered a stroke of paralysis about 3½ years ago, from which he did not recover, and from the effects of which he finally succumbed. He bore his illness with Christian fortitude, and passed away in the knowledge of a glorious hereafter. He was born in Cavan township, and followed the occupation of farming, until he came to Peterborough, forty years ago, when he joined his son in the grain business. The late Mr. McPherson was seventy-eight years of age, and is survived by his wife, a sister, Mrs. G. Elliott of Emily, one daughter, Mrs. J. J. McBain, Vancouver, B.C., and two grandchildren, Mrs. G. W. Thompson of this city, and Mr. Hubert McBain of Vancouver, B.C.

The funeral service will take place at 2.30 this afternoon, for interment at the Little Lake cemetery. No flowers.

Death of John Irwin.

We regret to chronicle the death of Mr. John Irwin, eldest son of the late John Irwin, which took place at the family residence, Queen St., yesterday at 1.30 p.m. The deceased was 23 years of age, and is survived by his mother, one brother, Norman, and three sisters, Mrs. W. Kennedy, Mrs. J. Meharry and Violet, all of this city. The funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Confined to His Home for Weeks.

"Heavy work, severe straining and evil habits in youth brought on Varicose Veins. When I worked hard the aching would become severe and I was often laid up for a week at a time. My family physician told me an operation was my only hope—but I dreaded it. I tried several specialists, but soon found out all they wanted was my money. I commenced to look upon all doctors as little better than cure. One day my boss asked me why I was off work so much and I told him my condition. He advised me to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, as he had taken treatment from them himself and knew they were square and skilful. I wrote them and got Free Home Treatment. My progress was somewhat slow and nothing like Operation Treatment. My progress was somewhat discouraged. However, I continued treatment for three months longer and was rewarded with a complete cure. I could only earn $18 a week in a position when before treatment, now I earn sterling $31 and never loose a day. I take all methods know of your valuable treatment.

Canadian General Electric Company Accepts the Terms of Agreement

Mr. Nicholls Asks for Draft Copy of Contract for Approval of the Company's Soliciters—$70,000 Power By-law is Withdrawn

The city fathers met last night when there were present; Mayor Morrow, Aldermen Morgan, Duffus, Graham, Hicks, Bradburn, Metheral, Duncan, Phelan, Turner and Batten.

Mayor Morrow read a letter from Mr. Frederick Nicholls, general manager of the Canadian General Electric Company, in which he stated that the company's board of directors had accepted the Water Commissioners' proposition regarding the city's surplus power at the water works dam subject to the approval of their solicitors. In conclusion, Mr. Nicholls wrote that he would be pleased to have submitted to him from the Water Commissioners a draft copy of a contract for the approval of the company's solicitors.

The council generally were extremely gratified that so far negotiations have been satisfactory on both sides, and as soon as a contract safeguarding both parties' interests is signed, Peterborough will be assured of a big extension to the C.G.E.'s plant in this city. In fact the deal may now be considered practically closed. The City Council has taken a step that will please the great majority of citizens, for the general impression of ratepayers seems to be that the fostering of existing substantial factories is a move in the right direction.

The $70,000 bylaw, which was to have been voted on April 19th, is now withdrawn, and ratepayers are saved the trouble of passing their opinion on that measure. The C.G.E. proposes to erect and equip the new power house, which will revert to the city at the expiration of 20 years. They are to pay for our surplus power $6,000 a year, and guarantee to spend $250,000 in expanding their premises and plant here, which expansion would otherwise have been made in Toronto. There can be no question of the Canadian General Electric Co., fulfilling their promise, for past experience has proved their name to be the synonym for reliability in every way.

Ald. Phelan moved, seconded by Ald. Bradburn, — That the $70,000 power bylaw be withdrawn.—Carried unanimously.

RECEPTION TO LT.-GOVERNOR.

Ald. Duffus reported that the Reception Committee recommend that the Council meet the Lieutenant-Governor, Saturday, who will reach Peterborough on the 11.26 C.P.R. train. It was decided that the mayor and council meet the distinguished visitor, and accompany him over the lift lock in the steamer "Bob Hall," which Mr. McClellan, superintendent of the Trent Valley canal, says will be available for the occasion.

In the afternoon Lieutenant-Governor Gibson will lay the corner stone of the new Knox church.

CHEESE AND BUTTER MAKERS.

Annual Meeting Took Place Yesterday.

The annual meeting of the Cheese and Buttermakers' Association, Peterborough district, was opened yesterday morning, at the City Council chambers. There was a fair attendance. The chair was taken by Mr. T. A. Oakley, Norwood. Mr. R. W. Warde, the dairy instructor for this district, was present. He hoped the season just opening would be a successful one. He outlined improvements that could be made, throwing out many helpful suggestions that could be followed. Following Mr. Warde's remarks an address of special value to the cheese makers was given by Mr. G. G. Publow, superintendent of the Eastern Ontario Dairy School at Kingston. It was of an exceedingly instructive character and was followed by the deepest interest.

In the afternoon, Mr. Cameron, dairy inspector, gave an excellent address on practical subjects.

Mr. Duff of Norwood, followed with a very interesting talk.

Mr. Publow, superintendent of the Kingston Dairy School, and chief Dairy inspector for Eastern Ontario, gave an exhaustive address on cheese making, dealing with the subject in a way that was understood and appreciated.

A New Official.

Little Frances O'Brien Met with Fatal Accident

An extremely sad and fatal accident occurred last night about 5.30 when little Frances O'Brien, the two-year-old daughter of Mr. John O'Brien, was struck by the 5.30 G.T.R. train from Port Hope, and instantly killed. The accident occurred at the crossing near the boundary line between the city and North Monaghan.

The little tot was in the habit of meeting her father, who returned from work about that time. She had been trotting about the house and as her father was expected home any minute she slipped away unknown to the other members of the family, and got down to the track, where the little one without the sense of fear ran in front of the approaching train. She was hurled against a fence some distance away, and met instant death.

Coroner Dr. Gray was called and investigated the circumstances, but decided that an inquest was unnecessary.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien have the heartfelt sympathy of the community in their sad bereavement. It is just a little over a year since the death of a son, aged 18 years, which was caused by being jammed between two cars at Hamilton.

House of Refuge Project

Special Legislation Will Have to be Secured to Tax Ratepayers for Construction and Up-keep.

The House of Refuge Committee of the City Council met last night. There were present Mayor Morrow, Chairman Ald. Morgan, Aldermen Duffus, Hicks, Graham, Bradburn and Metheral.

Dr. Hallidny and Mr. J. B. McWilliams were also in attendance, representing the trustees of the Protestant Home.

It appears that any move in the direction of building a House of Refuge will have to be a purely Protestant one. Father McColl, at the last meeting of this committee distinctly pointed out that the Catholics are already taking care of their own poor, and his remarks led to the inference that there is no need for them to join with Protestants in a joint scheme for providing for the indigent.

Mr. J. B. McWilliams contended that legislation would have to be secured to permit of the city taxing the community separately for the erection and up-keep of a Protestant House of Refuge. It would be of no use submitting a bylaw to the people without first getting the Provincial Government's sanction of the project. He advised that Premier Whitney be corresponded with without delay. From what he could learn the F. Hall Poor Trust Fund is not in a position to co-operate in this movement. They are held down hard and fast by regulations that would not permit of any joint action with this committee.

It was decided that it would do no harm for the committee to discuss the situation with the Hall Poor Trust members and a meeting for this purpose will be called for next Tuesday, if convenient for all parties concerned. A committee will then be arranged to go to Toronto and interview the premier on the subject.

PASTY FOOD.

Too Commonly Used.

The use of pasty cereals is not advisable. A physician says: "Pasty cereals are very indigestible and a bad thing for the stomach, causing a depressed feeling and quite a train of disorders, particularly of the intestines and nerves.

Cereals, such as wheat and oats, can be cooked long enough and well enough to fit them for human use but the ordinary way of cooking leaves them in a pasty condition."

A gentleman from Evansville, Ind., says:

"My physician prohibited the use of oats and wheat for I was in a bad condition physically, with pronounced dyspepsia.

"He said the heavy paste was indigestible, but that Grape-Nuts being a thoroughly cooked food and cooked in such a manner as to change the starch into a peculiar sugar, could be easily digested.

"I have become very fond indeed of Grape-Nuts, and all the uncomfortable feelings have disappeared. I have gained nearly twelve pounds in weight, and have none of the distressed, full feeling after my meals that I had formerly. Grape-Nuts food has done the work."

Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

CANADIAN CUT WIFE WITH RAZOR

FORMER CONSTABLE AT NIAGARA FALLS, ONT., MADE A VICIOUS ATTACK.

Niagara Falls, Ont., April 13.—Following a quarrel at 2.30 this morning, Joseph Blount of 2345 Main street, Niagara Falls, N.Y., stabbed his wife Bertha, in the breast and afterwards cut his throat from ear to ear with a razor, and was a ghastly sight when found dead, wallowing in a pool of blood. His wife was removed to the Memorial Hospital, where some hopes are entertained of her recovery.

For some time past Blount has been away, and returned home this morning and demanded a dollar from his wife which she refused, offering him fifty cents only, whereupon he laid her low with the knife, after which he went into the bedroom and committed suicide.

Blount was 46 years of age, and the son of Mrs. Mary Blount of this city. He was police constable here for some years, and on being dismissed moved to the American side of the river, where he was a well-known character.

Blount was twice married. His first wife, who was one of the most important witnesses in the Birchal case, left him some years ago.

Vast Pulpwood Areas in Ontario and Quebec Must be Conserved

Toronto, April 13.—Forty-seven pulp and paper mills in the State of Wisconsin, scores of mills in the New England States and every important newspaper south of the international boundary line will regard with genuine concern the announcement of Prime Minister Gouin of Quebec, that his government will prohibit the export of pulpwood from the Crown lands of that Province before being manufactured in Canada. The decision of the prime minister of Quebec was known last year, and followed closely upon similar action by the prime minister of Ontario, Sir James Whitney. For tactical reasons the announcement was delayed until after the tariff adjustment. The tariff rapprochment has aroused a deeper interest in Canadian affairs, and the economic consequences of the actions of the Ontario and Quebec governments will soon become apparent—that is, the paper-making industry of the North American continent will gravitate to Canada, its logical place, close to the materials and the water powers. The shipping of Canadian pulp wood from Quebec to Green Bay, Wis., some fourteen hundred miles, then to be transferred by rail to the mills of the interior, is an absurdity that cannot last much longer. The policy of these two provincial governments is national in sentiment and will hasten the broader development of the country.

Hanged Dying Negro To Telephone Pole

Meridian, Miss., April 13.— Tom O'Neill, a negro, who shot and killed Jailer Temple here today, was shot and killed by officers in a fight in the basement of the jail. A crowd of nearly two thousand people took the dying negro from the officers, carried him to a telephone pole and hanged him. After the body was lowered the throat was cut, and the clothing saturated with oil and set on fire. The body was removed from the mob after the clothing had been burned. Temple was killed by O'Neill when he went to the assistance of a deputy whose revolver the negro had seized. George Williams, another negro, is charged with assisting O'Neill, and the mob threatened to lynch him also.

BORDER OUTRAGES WERE DISCUSSED

U.S. Alone is to Blame—But Our Immigration Policy of Selection Results in Hardships.

Ottawa, April 13.—The hardships of immigrants provoked a controversy in the House this morning and elicited a statement of policy from Hon. Frank Oliver, minister of the interior.

Mr. Jas. Armstrong (E. Lambton) began the discussion by calling the attention of the government to the case of a respectable Strathroy family which had been prevented from entering the United States at Port Huron, Mich., by American immigration officials.

Mr. Duncan Ross (E. Middlesex) rose on the government side of the House and confirmed the story told by Mr. Armstrong.

Mr. Armstrong contended that in other instances the American officials had insulted persons who had no intention of becoming residents of the United States. A. C. Macdonell (S. Toronto) criticised the government for not taking steps to inform immigrants of the regulations governing their entrance into Canada.

"A great many illiterate immigrants arrive in Canada without knowing that each must have $25," he said. "It is a great hardship for them when they are sent back to the countries they left."

Mr. Oliver rose again and replied: "The question which is at the root of immigration is whether we shall apply the selective principle or not. This government decided to admit only such persons as were likely to make desirable citizens. While cases of hardship on the part of immigrants are to be regretted they are bound to occur. The government must enforce its immigration laws."

STREET CAR ROW AT BRANTFORD

Brantford, April 13.—The city authorities and the Street Railway Co. clashed at 7 o'clock this morning, as a result of which Manager Kellett, of the company, will appear in police court this afternoon. The cars are also not operating on the Brant avenue section of the main line.

Brant avenue is being paved, and the trouble arose over the refusal of the company to stop traffic while work on the bricks between the tracks was in progress. These had been put in last fall, but are not satisfactory to the city. When ordered to stop the cars this morning Manager Kellett told his men to go ahead. The police force was on hand to carry out the mayor's orders, and when the company started operations the constables barricaded the tracks. Kellett ordered his men to remove the obstruction, and when they started to do so, the police interfered, with the result that Kellett and one employe, Ted Donovan, will appear in the court later in the day.

OTTAWA MAY BE EMPIRE'S CENTRE

IN A GENERATION OR TWO, SAYS A SPEAKER—NEW ZEALAND IS SPENDING MONEY.

Immigrants Bring Cash—Hundred Thousand Who Come to Canada This Year Will Bring £4,000,000.

London, April 13.—Speaking at the Royal Colonial Institute, Sir Gilbert Parker, referring to the press service to Canada via New York, stated that for long years the Canadian mind had received false impressions of England and English public life because of unblushing misrepresentation.

T. A. Brassey, in a lecture delivered in Australia, said that Canada finds that the maintenance of navies would be more expensive than they thought.

Lord Hindlip gave the opinion that in a generation or two the center of the Empire would shift from London to Ottawa.

NEW ZEALAND'S PURCHASE.

New Zealand, April 13.—The government has authorized the purchase of £5,000 of military equipment. The total expenditure will amount to £100,000.

MORE IMMIGRANTS.

London, April 13.—Four hundred and fifty Salvation Army immigrants will sail tomorrow. Many of them possess £100 and over. With last week's batch of 300, it is estimated that the total capital represented will be £80,000.

Of the 100,000 emigrants who are expected to go to Canada in 1910, they will probably represent nearly £5,000,000 in cash. Hundreds are now paying £3 extra to go via New York because they are able to travel direct.

FARMER TELLS INTERESTING STORY.

Whether Sick or Well, in Good Weather or in Stormy, He is Obliged to Work Always.

Market people complain about prices they have to pay for farm produce. They forget that rain or shine, warm or cold, the farmer must keep at it, or else the narrow profit, his bare living, will be lost to him.

A well-known Haldimand farmer, Mr. J. P. Pelletier, writes: "For nearly three years I was in poor health. A drenching storm caught me in the fields and wet me to the skin. I got home only to find I was threatened with inflammation of the bowels. I never got over it and felt weak and heavy and my system never worked quite right. But a farmer has to work—and I found myself going daiwn hill with stomach, liver and kidney troubles. Failure seemed to follow everything. I remained wretched and sick until advised to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills. It is not easy to describe the sort of feeling a sick man gets when he strikes a medicine that he can see is doing him a lot of good. I was overjoyed. Hamilton's Pills put new life into me and everything worked right. Since cured with Dr. Hamilton's Pills I haven't had a single symptom of stomach, liver or kidney trouble. I am free from headaches, languor and weakness, as strong, robust as a man could be." No better medicine for general family use than Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They are mild, healthful and certain to cure. Sold in yellow, 25c. boxes, all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

Sciatica

EXPECTED DEATH ANY DAY.

Another Case Where Life Was Saved and Health Restored By Nerviline.

We have all read and heard of the agonies of Sciatica, but only those who have been tortured by this dread malady can fully appreciate what it must mean to be cured after years of suffering.

It is because he feels it his solemn duty to tell to the world his faith in Nerviline that Victor P. Hires makes the following declaration. "For three years I was in the Royal Mail service and in all kinds of weather had to meet the night trains. Dampness, cold and exposure brought on sciatica that affected my left side. Sometimes an attack would come on that made me powerless to work. I was so nearly a cripple that I had to give up my job. I was in despair, completely cast down because the money I spent on trying to get well was completely wasted. I was speaking to my chemist one day, and he recommended Nerviline. I had this good liniment rubbed on several times a day and got relief. In order to build up my general CURED health and improve my blood I used Ferrozone. SIX one tablet with each meal I continued this treat- YEARS. ment four months and was cured. I have used all kinds of liniments, and can truthfully say that Nerviline is far stronger, more penetrating, and infinitely better than anything else for relieving pain. I urge everyone with lumbago, neuralgia, rheumatism or sciatica to use Nerviline. I know it will cure them."

There isn't a more highly esteemed citizen in Westchester than Mr. Hires. What he says can be relied upon. For six years since being cured he hasn't had a single relapse. Don't accept anything from your dealer but "Nerviline." 25 cents per bottle or five for $1. Sold everywhere or the Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

THURSDAY, APRIL 14, 1910.

THE WORLD'S ADVANCE.

At the recent University Club banquet in Albany at which both Earl Grey and President Taft were among the speakers, His Excellency incidentally touched upon the part which the establishment of the Rhodes Scholarships may have in bringing about a more thorough understanding between the different sections of the Anglo-Saxon world. This is a feature in connection with the scholarships which is not often emphasized, but is nevertheless of very great importance.

From all parts of the British Empire there go annually to Oxford young men picked from among the best. They mingle together, learn of one another's ideals and receive the benefit of one another's thought. On the completion of their years at Oxford many of them return to their respective home lands and with them they take tempered ideas and matured thoughts consequent upon their association with men of superior character animated like themselves with the spirit of Anglo-Saxon civilization.

More than this, the Rhodes scholars, include men from the United States. The association of these men with Rhodes men from all parts of the British Empire must bring to both classes a clearer understanding of the life and ideals of each nation. It must bring a clearer realization than the men would otherwise have of the great possibilities for good which there would be in a close association of the Anglo-Saxon people in works of international importance. What will in time result from the development of this understanding and this realization should be a great uplift to the world.

Given to the English speaking people "all over the earth a better understanding of and a greater love for one another" there must come "additional securities for the permanent peace of the world and the unchecked advancement of our highest hopes."

THE SAGE LOANS.

Millionaires in these days are troubled and anxious about their accumulated money, and almost eager to give it away for universities, libraries, and other public objects. It is even reported that some rich men would welcome suggestions as to how to use their fortunes.

Russell Sage in his lifetime was not regarded as a model of benevolence, but it must be said that there is both benevolence and good sense in Mrs. Sage's plan for helping the poor. It is not charity in the ordinary sense, but just such aid as a bank ought to afford to a business man. It is a chain of model loan offices extending through the State of New York, and lending money at moderate rates to those who would otherwise fall into the hands of a usurer.

"Borrowing dulls the edge of husbandry" and should be resorted to with prudence. The borrowed money may encourage extravagance by imparting a false sense of financial ease. But there are times when a loan is really required, may alleviate keen distress or turn the tide of fortune. In such a case a provision for borrowing at moderate rates is a real benefit. When usurious rates are charged the borrower instead of being relieved is more and more deeply involved, and in the end, perhaps ruined. To save him from such a fate is to make good use of the Sagemoney.

EVOLUTION OR REVOLUTION.

Each party in Great Britain accuses the other of practising revolutionary methods, as each accuses the other of producing financial chaos. Is it possible to solve the question of the powers of the Commons and the Lords by any process that can be fairly described as evolutionary? The proposed shortening of the life of parliament from seven to five years seems to be a process of that kind. A term of seven years is not a vital element of the British constitution. If the term were shortened, the power of the House of Commons would be diminished, and the power of the electorate increased. The argument that it is necessary to have a check on the domination of a single chamber would lose some of its force.

Another step of an evolutionary kind would be the frank acceptance by the House of Lords of a subordinate or rather an advisory position coupled with freedom from partisan spirit. Defenders of the House of Lords dwell upon the presence within its ranks of experienced statesmen, of men eminent in the professions, of men who have served the Empire with distinction. All these are reasons for listening to such men with respect, though not as if they were oracles. But we do not know that the House of Lords itself, having listened to the counsels of wisdom and experience will follow them. The decision of the upper house is obtained simply by counting heads, not by weighing brains. Critics of democracy like Mr. W. S. Lily are eloquent upon the folly of counting the heads of the electors, allowing the vote of the foolish to cancel that of the wise man. Is it any better to allow the vote of a young, indolent, or thoughtless peer to cancel that of Lord Morley.

Too much has been made of the function of the House of Lords as a mechanican check; too much of its power and too little of its value as a deliberate body. The Emoire has need of the highest statesmanship, and will liseten to anyone who speaks as a statesman, with freedom from passion and party prejudice. The House of Lords has suffered greatly from partyism. A Canadian governor-general once threw himself into an election with such zeal that he was regarded as the head of one party, and it is said that votes were actually tendered for him as if he had been a candidate. His action has not been regarded as a precedent to be followed by wise men. The influence of the King is due in large measure to confidence in his impartiality.

From this point of view nothing could be worse than the idea of the House of Lords "referring to the people" a question like the budget. The British constitution does not provide for a real referendum. The House of Lords can do only one of two things; kill the measure outright, or force a dissolution. In the latter case the election inevitably takes the form of a quarrel between Lords and Commons, in which the fiercest passions of party and class are sure to be aroused. Men talk of the violence of Lloyd George and Churchill and of their appeals to class prejudice. Such violence is the inevitable result of a head-on collision between the aristocratic and democratic governing bodies. No country could be governed in an orderly way by such a series of shock as would result from a repetition of the action of the Lords in the case of the budget.

Mr. Arthur Stevens of the Dominion Bank, Toronto, was home for the week end.

JOURNAL OF COMMERCE CALLS UPON HIM TO TAKE PROMPT ACTION.

Reciprocity Relations — The President Should Throw Closer Trade With Canada Straight Into Campaign and Test Public Opinion.

New York, April 12.—The Journal of Commerce editorially today deplores the timidity of the United States Government about reciprocity with Canada, saying in part: "Senator Aldrich and other extreme conservative leaders, are responsible for the past rebuffs to the Canadian Government, and if President Taft has an earnest desire to make good his assurances to the Governor-General of Canada, and to the minister of finance of the Dominion and accomplish anything substantial in the way of readjustment of trade relations on broader and more liberal lines, he will have to assert himself, take the initiative and make an appeal to public sentiment of the country.

"Mr. Taft cannot palter and put it off until the next Congressional elections are over and gain strength and support thereby.

"He should throw the issue straight into the campaign this year for the purpose of testing public opinion and rallying support for his policy. He should negotiate an actual treaty—it can be done in no other way—and have it ready to lay before the Senate."

DETROIT INTERESTS.

Detroit, April 12.—A Washington despatch says: Representative Edwin Denby of Detroit, is working with Representative Butler Ames of Massachussets in the effort to have Congress enact a reciprocity treaty with Canada during the present session. Mr. Denby says: "I believe a reciprocity treaty with Canada would settle the question of a trade war between the two countries for good and for all. President Taft has done his part in adjusting the difficulty, and it now rests with the members of Congress to perform their duty and negotiate a treaty that will be satisfactory to all parties concerned." The Foreign Affairs Committee will hold a meeting today, when the question of reciprocity treaty with Canada will come up for consideration.

Summer Resorts of Ontario.

Experience, the testimony of thousands and the popularity of the several fishing, hunting and touring districts located on the lines of the Grand Trunk Railway System, is conclusive proof that they are the Elysium of the sportsman and the Mecca par excellence of the tourist.

The "Highlands of Ontario," is a land dotted with lakes and rivers that have their source in the northern forests, and flow until they join the vast Inland seas, Superior, Huron, Erie or Ontario, whose waters are in turn borne by the broad St. Lawrence to the Atlantic Ocean. This great tourist railway reaches all the principal resorts in this vast territory, including Lakes Orillia and Couchiching, the Muskoka Lakes, a popular resort 1000 feet above sea level, where thousands of people annually make their summer homes for rest and recuperation—The Lake of Bays District where some of the finest summer hotels in Canada are to be found, and a locality replete with natural beauty and loveliness with splendid fishing—Maganetawan River the very heart center for sport, for rod and gun—Lake Nipissing and the French River where wild and rugged scenery is to be found, and the atmosphere filled with health giving properties—The Temagami Region, a forest reserve containing 3,760,000 acres of lakes, rivers and wilderness, the scenic grandeur of which is incomparable. Magnificent fishing and hunting in season. The 30,000 islands of the Georgian Bay is another most delightful and beautiful territory, where the most interesting trips may be taken. The steady increase of tourists to this locality is alone proof that it is becoming the most popular resort on the inland lakes. The Algonquin National Park of Ontario, a comparatively new and attractive region, little known to the lover of rod and gun, and the tourist has all the summer attractions that appeal to the denizen of the city. This territory has been set aside by the Provincial Government of Ontario solely for the delectation of mankind. The gamiest of black bass, speckled trout and salmon trout are found here in goodly numbers. Hunting is not allowed. The Algonquin Park covers an area of 2,000,000 acres,: their being within its border there being no less than 1,200 lakes and rivers within its boundaries.

Good hotel accommodation is found in all the districts mentioned, and a postal card addressed to the District Passenger Agent's office, Grand Trunk, Toronto, Ont., or to the General Advertising Department, Grand Trunk Railway System, Montreal, will receive prompt attention and illustrated publications of any of the districts will be promptly sent to all enquirers.

The old fashioned way of dosing a weak stomach, or stimulating the Heart or Kidneys is all wrong. Dr. Shoop first pointed out this error. This is why his prescription— Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed entirely to the cause of these ailments—the weak inside or controlling nerves. It isn't so difficult says Dr. Shoop, to strengthen a weak Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, if one goes at it correctly. Each inside nerve has its controling or inside nerve. When these nerves fail, then these organs must surely falter. These vital truth must surely falter. These vital truths are leading druggists everywhere to dispense and recommend Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Test it a few days, and see! Improvement will promptly and surely follow. Sold by all dealers.

TEN WERE HURT IN TRAIN WRECK.

Box Car Telescoped Coach Containing Immigrants—Call Was a Close One.

Ten were hurt

Campbellton, N.B., April 12.— A special train with four hundred immigrants who landed at Halifax from the Allan Steamship Hesperian on Sunday, left the rails near here today on the way West. Ten immigrants were injured; two seriously, but not fatally.

The accident was caused by a box car leaving the rails. The engine and tender followed and then the coaches piled up. One box car telescoped a passenger coach and it is a wonder that the passengers escaped alive as the coach was badly wrecked Four of the injured were placed in the hospital here. The track will be cleared in a few hours.

London, April 12.—During the consideration in the House of Commons yesterday of the Government's second resolution in regard to the veto power of the House of Lords (the resolution which limits the powers of the Lords in regard to general legislation), Prime Minister Asquith said that the continued existence of the House of Lords as a second chamber on the present basis was an anachronism, and it was an integral part of the Government's policy to get rid of that anachronism. But, he added the charges were to be put forward without prejudice to, and in contemplation of, alterations in the House of Lords.

HUGH STIRES, prodigal and criminal.

JESSICA HOLME, the beautiful heroine, helpless in the rush of events and the principal sufferer in a case of mixed identity.

MRS. HALLORAN, the camp oracle.

DAVID STIRES, stern, yet forgiving, and at the last made happy by another's unhappiness.

THE BISHOP, the victim of a misunderstanding.

EMMET PRENDERGAST, the false friend, perjurer and thief.

Chapter I

To my son Hugh, in return for the care and sorrow he has caused me all the days of his life for his dissolute career and his desertion, I do give and bequeath the sum of $1,000 and the memory of his misspent youth."

It was very quiet in the wide, richly furnished library. The May night was still, but a faint suspiration heavy with the fragrance of jasmine flowers stirred the Venetian blind before the open window and rustled the moon silvered leaves of the aspens outside. As the incisive professional pronouncement of the judge cut through the silence the grim face on the pillow of the wheel chair set more grimly, a girl seated in the shadow of the fire screen caught her breath, and from across the table the Rev. Henry Sanderson turned his handsome, clean shaven face and looked at the old man.

A peevish misogynist the neighborhood labeled the latter, with the parish chapel for hobby and for thorn-in-the-flesh this only son Hugh, a black sheep whose open breaches of decorum the town had borne as best it might till the tradition of his forbears took him off to an eastern university. A rock-ribbed life there and three wasteful years abroad had sent him back to resume his peccadilloes on a larger scale, to quarrel bitterly with his father and to leave his home in anger.

"Wait," came the querulous voice from the chair. "Write in 'graceless' before the word 'desertion.'"

"For his dissolute career and his graceless desertion," repeated the law

The parchment crackling under his pen, the parchment crackling under his pen.

Judge Conwell glanced curiously at Henry Sanderson as he blotted the emendation. He knew the liking of the cross grained and taciturn old invalid, St. James' richest parishioner, for this young man of twenty-five who had come to the parish only two months before, fresh from his theological studies, to fill a place temporarily vacant and had stayed by sheer force of personality. He wondered if aside from natural magnetic qualities this liking had not been due first of all to the curious resemblance between the young minister and the absent son whom David Stires was disinheriting so far as gold of feature went the young minister and the ne'er-do-well might have been twin brothers.

No one perhaps had ever interested the community more than had Harry Sanderson. He had entered upon his office with the marks of youth, good looks, self possession and an ample income thick upon him and had brought with him a peculiar charm of manner and an apparent incapacity for doing things in a hackneyed way. Convention sat lightly upon Harry Sanderson. He recognized few precedents either in the new methods and millinery with which he had invested the service or in his personal habits. Instead of attending the meeting of St. Andrew's guild, after the constant custom of his predecessors he was apt to be found receiving his visits of session with him in the sunny study that adjoined the gothic chapel where he shepherded his fashionable flock or tramping across the country with a briar pipe in his mouth and his brown spaniel Rummy coursing at his heels. His athletic frame and clean chiseled features made him a rare figure for the reading desk, as his violin practice, the cut of his golf flannels the immaculate elegance of his motor car, even the white carnation he affected in his buttonhole, made him for the younger men a goodly pattern of the cloth, and it had speedily grown to be the fashion to wear the brilliant young minister.

Something of all this was in the lawyer's mind as he paused—a perfunctory pause—before he continued:

"I do give and bequeath the sum of $1,000 and the memory of his misspent youth."

Harry Sanderson's eyes had wandered from the chair to the slim figure of the girl who sat by the screen. This was Jessica Holme, the orphaned daughter of a friend of the old man's early years, who had recently come to be house in the aspens to fill the void left by Hugh's departure. Harry could see the contour of throat and wrists, the wild rose mesh of the skin against the flouncy blue gown, the pleasant red bronze hair uncoiled and falling in a single braid and the shadowy pathos of her eyes. Clear hazel eyes they were, wide and full, but there was in them no depth of expression, for Jessica Holme was blind. As the crisp, deliberate accent painted the judicial period as with a subterranean echo of irrefutable condemnation Harry saw her under lip indrawn, her hands clasp lightly, then unclasp in her lap. Pliant, graceful hands, he thought, which even blindness could not make maladroit.

"Sir," rasped the old man.

"The residue of my estate, real and personal, I do give and bequeath to my ward, Jessica Holme"—

He broke off suddenly, for the girl was kneeling by the chair groping for the restless hand that wandered on the afghan and crying in a strained, agitated voice: "No—no—you must not! He is your son!"

"In the eyes of the law, yes. But not otherwise!" His voice rose. "What has he done to deserve anything from me? What has he had all his life but kindness? And how has he repaid it? By being a waster and a prodigal. By setting me in contempt and finally by forsaking me in my old age for his own paths of ribaldry."

The girl shook her head. "You don't know where he is now or what he is doing. Oh, he was wild and reckless, I have no doubt, but when he quarreled and left you wasn't it perhaps because he was too quick tempered? And if he hasn't come back isn't it perhaps because he is too proud?"

"Jessica, I've not forgiven him seven times. I've forgiven him seventy times seven. But he doesn't want forgiveness. To him I am only 'the old man' who refused to 'put up' longer for his fopperies and extravagances! When he left this house six months ago he declared he would never enter it again. Very well; let him stay away! He shan't come back when I am in my grave to play ducks and drakes with the money he misuses! And I've fixed it so that you won't be able to give it away either, Jessica."

The girl, still kneeling, turned half about with a hopeless gesture. "Oh, won't you help me?" she said. She spoke more to herself, it seemed, than to either of the men who waited.

"Sanderson," said the old man with bitter fierceness, lifting his hand, "I dare say you think I am hard but I tell you there has never been a day since Hugh was born when I wouldn't have laid down my life for him. You are so like! When I look at you I seem to see him as he might have been but for his own wayward choice! If he were only as like you in other things as he is in feature! You are nearly the same age. You went to the same college, I believe. You have had the same advantages and the same temptations. Yet you, an orphan, come out a divinity student, and Hugh—my son!—comes out a roisterer with gambling debts, a member of the 'fast set,' one of a dissolute fraternity known as 'The Saints' whose very existence, no doubt, was a shame to the institution!"

Harry Sanderson turned slowly to the light. A strange panorama in that moment had flashed through his brain—kaleidoscopic pictures of an early reckless era when he had not been known as the "Rev. Henry Sanderson."

"I think I ought to say that I was the founder, and at the time you speak of, the abbot of The Saints. I was in the same year with Hugh. We sowed our wild oats together, a tidy crop, I fancy, for us both. That page of my life is purged down. I speak of it now because it would be cowardly not to. I have not seen Hugh since college closed four years ago. But then I was all you called him—a waster and a prodigal. And I was more, for while others followed, I led. At college I was known as 'Satan Sanderson.'"

"It is the Hugh of the present that I am dealing with," said the old man. For David Stires was just and he was feeling a grim respect for Harry's honesty.

Harry acknowledged the brusque kindliness of the tone with a little motion of the hand. As he spoke he had been feeling his way through a maze of contradictory impulses. For a moment he had been back in that old irresponsible time; the Hugh he had known then had sprung to his mind's eye, an imitative idiot, with a certain grace and brilliancy of manner that made him hail-fellow-well-met, but withal shallow, foppish and incorrigible, a cheap and shabby imitator of the outward manner, not the inner graces, of good fellowship. Yet Hugh had been one of his own "fast set." They had called him "Satan's shadow," a tribute to the actual resemblance as well as to the palpable imitation he affected. Harry shivered a little. The situation seemed, in antic irony, to be reversing itself. It was as if not alone Hugh, but he, Harry Sanderson, in the person of that past of his, was now brought to bar for judgment in that room. For the instant he forgot how utterly characterless Hugh had shown himself of old, how devoid of all desire for rehabilitation his present reputation in the town argued him. At that moment it seemed as if in saving Hugh from this condemnation he was

Our mines are in the greatest camp in America, Leadville, Col., a camp which has produced "a million a month for four hundred months."

We have four hundred acres in the richest proven belt of the county, containing twelve mines, which have already produced to shallow workings over $2,000,000. Our big tunnel being driven in from the base of the mountain will cut these vast ore bodies at depth, and make their millions of dollars worth of ore accessible to us.

Within five months we should cut into our rich ore bodies, and become a large producer before the year closes. It is confidently believed that the Company can pay fabulous profits in the very near future.

Albert Ganz, Mines & Mining, Box 215.
Leadville, Colo., Jan. 31, 1910.

Mr. Carey J. Hunter, Raleigh, N. C.

Dear Sir,—Your communication of the 24th inst. received. Regarding Sugar Loaf Mountain, the reports sent out of its production of the precious metals up to the time when the copper-acid waters made deeper sinking of shafts impossible, are not withdrawn.

Several weeks ago at the request of Mr. Horner, I accompanied him on a visit to the new tunnel and properties. On my part it was in fact a trip of inspection. I found the most complete and best equipped tunnel in the county. All the machinery is electrically driven, making a large saving in the cost of operating. This tunnel commands and the National M. & T. Co. own and control a mineralized area of 400 acres.

There are many shafts that have produced millions of values, but have been idle for years on account of the acid waters. The tunnel now being run is over 500 feet in length and, when advanced, will cross-cut all the veins at depths varying from 500 to 1,400 feet.

I have personally known Mr. Horner many years. He has occupied positions of honor and trust. There are none as well posted on the mineralized area, geological conditions and the ore occurrences on Sugar Loaf Mountain as himself. It looks to me like a successful and legitimate mining enterprise.

Yours, truly, ALBERT GANZ.

Root Favors Reciprocity

Deep Interest Among Several Millions of People in Bringing About Satisfactory Agreement

Washington, April 14.—When leaving the White House today Senator Root was asked about the progress in getting Canada and the United States together for reciprocity.

"There is a tremendous sentiment all along the border of the two countries for reciprocity in natural products," he said. "The time has passed for reciprocity in manufactured products. Canada has adopted a policy of protection for her manufactured products, but there is unquestionably deep interest amongst several million of people of both countries in bringing about a mutually satisfactory understanding regarding reciprocity in natural products."

Canada Owes to World Protection of Her Forests U. S. Will Concur in Action

Washington cannot presume to say that a Canadian commonwealth has not the right to protect its natural resources in its public lands and to turn its raw materials into sources of employment for its own people. The Governments of Quebec and Ontario were not prompted to prohibit the export of pulp wood from Crown lands solely because they desired to force United States mills and employes into this country.

There was a broader reason, and that was to establish for all time control over vast forest resources, so that they could not be subjected to the depredations of private and alien interests. The people of the United States, with their depleted forests, are just as much interested today in the conservation of Canadi an pulp forests as we are ourselves. Some day their great newspapers and binderies must depend on Canada for their supply of paper. If Canadians protect and conserve these resources, as the people of the United States clearly have not done, a generation will rise to thank the public men of this country.

No men of broader vision live on earth than the United States manufacturers. They are practical, and accustomed to adjusting themselves to changing tariff and restrivtive trade conditions elsewhere

Looks Like Redmonites

Premier Asquith Decides to Dispose of Financial Measure Before Final Decision by Lords

London, April 14.—Premier Asquith's resolution to be proposed next Monday, allocating the time for the consideration of the Budget provides that all stages of the legislation must be completed on April 27.

The fate of the government depends upon the attitude of the Irish members. The fact that the premier has decided to dispose of the Budget measure before a decision by the Lords on the veto resolutions will have assumed a final form, indicates that a deal has been affected between the cabinet and the Redmonites and that the latter have decided to support the Budget.

OVER THIRTY-SIX MILLION DOLLARS TO BE SPENT THERE THE NEXT FEW YEARS.

Big Works are Projected — Some Four Thousand New Houses are Expected to go Up.

Quebec, Que., April 14.—With the many vast enterprises that are to be achieved in Quebec within the next five years this city is about to enter an era of progress that will considerably change the face of things and turn the ancient capital into one of the most progressive and busy cities in the Dominion.

A brief estimate of the work to be done shows that no less than thirty six millions and a half will be spent in Quebec during the next five years, and a detailed examination shows the cost of the various works as follows:

Hotel in Bailiff's Hands.

Lindsay Warder: Messrs. Stewart and O'Connor, solicitors for the McEvoy estate, this morning placed the Grand Union Hotel, opposite the market, in charge of the bailiff, Geo. Foster. The hotel has been conducted by Mr. Watson of Toronto, for the past nine months, and it is said that he left town on Monday morning. No person has any idea of Mr. Watson's whereabouts. Mr. Patrick Hickey has been appointed to assist Mr. Foster, and the hotel will be kept open by these men until such time as it is disposed of to some other person. Mr. John Wardrobe, formerly proprietor of the Benson House, has applied for license of the hotel.

LAID AT REST.

Funeral of the Late E. A. Frowde Held Yesterday.

The funeral of the late Mr. E. A. Frowde took place yesterday from the family residence, 409 Walton St., to Little Lake cemetery. As previously noted by The Times, Mr. Frowde was suddenly taken ill at Edmonton, a little over a week ago. The suddenness of his death at the age of only 28, in the midst of a useful career, has provoked widespread sympathy.

The funeral service was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Henderson, pastor of Charlotte Street Methodist church. The floral tributes were both numerous and beautiful. Among the offerings received were the following: Sheaf, Ladies' Auxiliary, Welland Y. M.C.A.; large heart, directors Edmonton Y.M.C.A.; wreath, staff Edmonton Y.M.C.A.; wreath, Mr. Chas. BAD ACCIDENT.

Building Fell at Shriners' Meeting in New Orleans.

New Orleans, April 14.—With a thunderous crash, which caused a panic among the thousands of masked merry makers on Canal street, a building at South Rampart and Canal streets, crashed this morning, crushing beyond recognition a 12-year-old boy and seriously injuring five other persons.

This is the Shriners' Mardi Gras, and great crowds of masked men, women, and children, were near the building, and in the vicinity.

Lindsay Warder: Mr. R. J. Menzies has been appointed local agent for the Otonabee Navigation Co., of Peterborough, and in a conversation this morning stated that he had already received encouragement and that in all probability would be able to announce in a few days two excursions to Orillia by boat and back by train. The Str. Manita will run the first trip of the season to Sturgeon Point on May 24th from Lindsay, and the Str. Otonabee on the same day will bring an excursion to Lindsay from Peterborough. Half Yearly Meeting of Directors Calls Forth Most Hopeful Declaration from Chairman Smithers

Melbourne, April 14.— The Argus and the Age agree that the Fusion Ministry has been defeated, and that the Laborites have an absolute majority in the House.

London, April. 14.— Mr. A. W. Smithers, presiding at the half-yearly meeting of the G.T.R., said the report in the opinion of the board was very satisfactory. By September 1,361 miles of the G.T.P., from Wolf's Creek to Fort William, will be finished. He praised the work of Mr. Hays and others in connection with the construction of the G.T.P.

They might encounter unexpected engineering difficulties, bad weather or temporary reaction from over confidence, or over speculation, but the directors would continue to pursue a policy of reasonable conservative finance which has kept their credit at a high level, and enabled them to build the old line and raise, on highly satisfactory terms the capital needed for the G.T.P.

DIVIDENDS DECLARED.

The report and accounts were unanimously adopted, the retiring directors and auditors re-elected, and dividends of 4 per cent. on the guaranteed stock and on the first and second preference stocks, payable on April 29, were declared.

Canada's Splendid Immigration Policy

A Leading Chicago Paper Says It Is Sound—Our Government Knows Exactly What is Wanted in the Country, and Goes About Getting It.

Chicago, April 13.—The Chicago Record-Herald says that some years ago "more population" was the cry in Canada, and aliens were welcomed from any quarter, "no questions asked." But a too liberal policy resulted in an overproduction of paupers and public charges, the charity societies began to complain, and the government found itself compelled to exercise discrimination and adopt pretty severe restrictions.

Today, according to a report made to Congress by the joint immigration commission, Canada appears to have an "ideal" immigration policy. She knows exactly what she wants, and she goes about getting it without much ado or red tape. She needs farmers and agricultural laborers, and the coming of such she encourages in every way. She pays commissions to agents for the right stuff; she maintains employment bureaus; she advertises; she has no prejudice against "contract labor."

But she does not want new recuits for the slums of the congested urban districts, and does not hesitate to exlude or deport those who appear undesirable or inseapable.

This policy is thrifty and businesslike, if not particularly altruistic. It is contrasted by the commission with our own less define and more benevolent policy and by implication the United States is criticised for weakness and lack of decision. However, our difficulties are infinitely greater than those of the Dominion and our conditions and needs very different. Superficial morals draws from Canada's practice should be avoided, and our immigration and alien distribution problems should be solved with regard not only to our industrial and commercial requirements, but also to our political and ethical traditions and principles.

AEROPLANE FELL INTO THE LAKE

LARGEST YET CONSTRUCTED—IT WAS SUPPOSED TO BE AMPHIBIOUS.

A Gust Overturned It.—The Two Engineers on Board Were Lucky to Escape Alive.

Plau, Germany, April 14.— Major Von Parseval's new aeroplane, the largest yet constructed, and which early this month underwent successful preliminary trials here, was caught in a violent and gusty wind while flying over Lake Plau today, and turning turtle fell into the waters. Engineers Blochmann and Hoff escaped uninjured.

They dropped with the machine but succeeded in freeing themselves from the wreckage and were picked up by a passing craft.

Major Von Parseval's invention is a monoplane, with a four-cylinder motor of 120 horsepower. It carried 100 pounds of benzine and was expected to remain in the air three hours. The breadth of the fuloanse was 45½ feet, and the length of the machine 45 feet. It was provided with torpedo-like floats for descending on water, and with wheels for a descent on land.

DROVE OPERATOR OUT.

Crazy Employe of G.T.R. Attacks Equipments of Two Stations.

St. Thomas, April 14.—A man named Copeman, and claiming to be an employe of the G.T.R. at Fort Erie yards, went crazy early today and started out on a rampage. He first visited the station at Stevensfield, and after chasing the operator out of the building, he made a clean up of all the telegraph instruments and other things. This done, he proceeded to Marshville, and repeated the operation. He is now headed for another station and officials all along the line have been notified to get ready and arrest him. Copeman broke away from the officers at Fort Erie.

Sword of Cromwell.

New York, April 14.—The sword of Oliver Cromwell was the most important sale yesterday at the Yarkes Mansion, where the American Art Association disposed of the last of the household belongings, and went to E. H. Lithfield of Brooklyn, for $1,500. The sword had been locked in a safe and was brought to light after the other articles had been scheduled. It was formerly in the museum of Warwickshire Museum, England. It is cast with medallions, the pommel corresponding. The broad blade is panelled, and bears the arms and motto of the Commonwealth of England. The sword is dated 1650. There were several competitors for it.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

WELL MERITED RECOGNITION.

Mr. and Mrs. Gliddon Honored By Madrigal Club.

On Wednesday a very enjoyable evening was tendered the members and a number of friends by Mr. and Mrs. Gliddon at the Conservatory. Dancing was indulged in by the 75 or more guests present. Mr. W. McIlroy added much to the enjoyment of the occasion by two songs, rendered in his well known masterly style. The feature of the evening, however, was the presentation to Mr. and Mrs. Gliddon by the members of the Madrigal Club, the former with a handsome umbrella and the latter with a beautiful hand satchel and silk parasol, together with an address, which was acknowledged by Mr. Gliddon in appropriate terms.

Miss Reesor who is severing her connection with the Conservatory, and who leaves in a few days for her home in Markham, was also remembered by her pupils and the staff. Mr. Gliddon in a few well chosen remarks, expressed his regret at losing Miss Reesor. Her departure from Peterborough would be a distinct loss in musical and social circles. Mr. Gliddon presented Miss Reesor with a handsome silver jewel case.

Messrs. Harold Cluxton, F. D. Kerr and John Green in neat speech es, tendered their congratulations to the Madrigal Club, and to Miss Julia Choate, who brought honor to her city, by her clever violin playing in the Earl Grey competition, obtaining second place in the very large number of competitors.

Those present are exceedingly grateful to Mr. and Mrs. Gliddon for their kind hospitality so pleasantly extended.

ECZEMA FOR NINE YEARS.

Zam-Buk Works Another Great Cure

Another wonderful cure of the dread scourge, eczema, by the great herbal Zam-Buk is reported from Montreal by Mr. Thos. Amesse, of 600 St. Tomothee St. He says:

"For about nine years my son, Emile, was a great sufferer from eczema. The disease broke out on his face and arms, which were covered with sores. These would scale over for a time, but would then break open again and cause him terrible agony. At other times they would itch and burn, and it was impossible for him to refrain from scratching. Yet scratching or rubbing only caused him more pain afterwards.

"We tried salves and soaps and preparations of all kinds, but it seemed that we could get nothing to benefit him. This state of affairs went on during nine long years, and you can well imagine the agony he suffered!

"Zam-Buk was recommended to us, but we feared it would prove like all other remedies had proved—useless! We got a supply, however, and it was not long before we found out its virtues. It eased the pain and removed the irritation. Then it began to heal the sores, until bit by bit the patch got less and less. The skin which was cracked and sore became soft and smooth, and in the end every trace of the disease was banished. The skin to-day is clear and smooth and there is no trace of the sores and ulcers and cracks, which for nine years caused him such agony."

Not only for eczema, but for ulcers, blood-poisoning, bad leg, varicose ulcers, itch, salt rheum, cold cracks, scalp sores, children's rashes and piles, Zam-Buk is a sure cure. Used as an embrocation it cures rheumatism and sciatica. All druggists and stores at 50c box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. You are warned against substitutes and harmful imitations.

MARK TWAIN ILL.

Celebrated Humorist Said to Be a Sufferer From Heart Trouble.

New York, April 14.—Samuel L. Clemens, better known as Mark Twain, the humorist, returned to New York from Bermuda today far from a well man. It was said when the steamer Oceana arrived he was confined to his berth suffering from heart trouble, and that he had been indisposed during the entire trip.

Mr. Clemens, the sudden death of whose daughter last winter, told severely on him, went to Bermuda early in the year in the hope of regaining his health. He had complained on his arrival from the island a short time previous when he came to spend Christmas at his home, of a continued pain in his left breast. He had hardly recovered from the shock of his daughter's death, when he again took passage for Bermuda, visibly run down and admittedly far from well.

Uncle Sam's Population Nearly Hundred Million

Washington, D.C., April 15.—Today marks the real beginning of Uncle Sam's great decennial task of counting noses and taking stock, a task imposed upon him by the constitution of the United States. This morning, in every nook and corner of the country, the 75,000 census enumerators will take the field with pencil and pad in hand. When their work is completed and the results tabulated by the wonderful electrical devices now in use in the census office in this city, Uncle Sam will know to what extent his family has grown during the past ten years. He will also know how rich he is, how prosperous he is, and how his farms, manufacturers, mines and quarries are faring and everything else worth knowing about himself.

How the population of the United States has grown:

Receprocity with the West Indies

London, April 14.— The Royal Commission on trade with Canada and the West Indies has informed Lord Crewe that in forming any reciprocal arrangements it is not desirable at present to deal with the islands as a whole. The recommendayion which the commissioners intended to make, will, therefore be of a permisive character, so that those colonies that may be willing to accept proposals may do so immediately, while others will have the option of adhering to them later. So far as Jamaica is concerned the opinion is prevalent there that the best means of promoting increased trade with Canada lies in the provision of a more frequent steamship service and cheaper telegraphic facilities.

Brodie Hoare, speaking at the general meeting of the Colonial Bank, said he was not sanguine of anything resulting from the commission. He could not see that it was possible for Canada to make seperate arrangements with the island.

Six Firemen Are Dead

New Haven, Conn., April 13. — Death in a terrifically intense fire which destroyed the New Haven county jail, and the adjacent shops of the New England Chair Company today, it is feared was the fate of half a dozen firemen.

When the companies were mustered this afternoon it was found that six men were not accounted for. The hospitals were caring for five other men who were badly burned and fully a score of other wounded firefighters were bravely keeping at work.

As nothing has been seen of the six missing men after an explosion occurred in the jail annex, it is feared that all were burned in the ruins and their bodies incinerated.

RACIAL ROW IS ON AT WINDSOR

RETAIL MERCHANTS REFUSE TO OBSERVE EMANCIPATION DAY AS CIVIC HOLIDAY.

Oddfellows Want Aug. 8—It is Said Whites Don't Want to Join Hands With the Blacks.

Windsor, Ont., April 14.—The Retail Merchants' Association of Windsor, are up in arms against the decision of the City Council to observe civic holiday on Emancipation Day. At the Council meeting last Monday night, the Oddfellows, who are very strong in numbers in Windsor, asked the council to set civic holiday on August 8th, as Walkerville would observe that date, and arrangements were being made between the two towns for a big celebration.

The Oddfellows declare Mayor Hanna agreed to advocate for that day. When the matter came before council on Monday night, the vote was six against six. Mayor Hanna broke the deadlock by voting for August 1st. Now there promises to be lively doings.

The merchants declared at last night's meeting of the association that they would not observe Emancipation Day as civic holiday, and will do business on that day, but will close on August 8th, in sympathy for Oddfellows. A petition will be circulated by the merchants asking that the date be changed by the council.

The whole trouble is the cause of the race question, the white refusing to celebrate with the blacks. Windsor has a large colored population.

SECOND IN COMMAND.

Events Indicate ex-Judge Doherty Will Be Mr. Borden's Lieutenant.

Ottawa, April 14.—While the fact that ex-Judge Doherty of Montreal, taking the place of Mr. Borden as leader of the Opposition in the House yesterday was due primarily to the latter's indisposition, the incident is taken as somewhat significant in confirming the rumor that Mr. Doherty is to become the first lieutenant of the party. There is no definite rule as to who leads the Opposition in Mr. Borden's absence. It usually devolves on some senior member, but yesterday's occurrence appears to have been a preconcerted affair, and, in the best informed circles of the party, it seems generally established, that Mr. Doherty is to be the second in command.

DEAKIN AGAIN IS DEFEATED

MAN WHO HAS THRICE BEEN PREMIER OF AUSTRALIA GOES DOWN.

Labor Party in Control—It Has 45 Members to the Fusionists' 27—Fisher Becomes Premier.

Melbourne, Australia, April 14. — Elections for members of Parliament were held throughout Australia yesterday and resulted in a decided victory for the Labor party. Mr. Andrew Fisher again becomes premier. Women polled largely everywhere. The unpopularity of the Fusionists in the industrial centers was demonstrated.

Intense interest was taken because for the first time a coalition party opposed the Labor Party. Both parties suported everything of an Imperial nature, and the loyalty cry was not raised.

The Labor party's program includes protection and State-regulated wages, compulsory military service, an Australian navy built out of revenue, nationalization of monopolies, a graduated land tax, restriction of public borrowing, and insurance against unemployment.

The complete results of the elections are:

Labor, 45.
Fusionists 27.
Independent, 1.
Independent Liberals, 2.

At the dissolution the Fusionists numbered 44, and the Labor and Independent Liberals, 31.

FRIDAY, APRIL 15th, 1910.

THE NEWCOMERS.

Migrants from the British Islands, from the continent of Europe, from the United States, Continue to pour into Canada. Occasionally some anxious one asks whether we can assimilate all these newcomers, and make them good and contented citizens of Canada. As for "homogeneity" in this country, it may be described as something difficult to pronounce and impossible to perform. We cannot expect that the civilization of Manitoba, of Saskatchewan, of Alberta, of British Columbia will be an exact copy of the civilization of Ontario. As well demand that it shall be an exact copy of the civilization of Quebec or of Nova Scotia. We need not be over-anxious about the peculiarities of newcomers, so long as they obey the laws and respect the rights of their neighbors.

In good time, if wisdom and forebearance are exercised by all, there will be as much assimilation as is good. Uniformity is not necessary. Diversity in customs and sentiments is quite compatible with sturdy Canadianism, and with hearty co-operation in all that promotes the common welfare of Canada. Old Canada was composed of a large element of population tracing its descent from the British Islands, and of another large element from France That situation gave Canadians good training in breadth and liberality. The problem was solved and a satisfactory arrangement made. It is not likely that another problem of equal magnitude will arise in the West. A very large proportion of the new settlers are from Canada and Great Britain, and another large proportion are people of the same stock from the United States. The only amalgam necessary is a vigorous and yet broad and generous Canadianism.

Out of this blending and toleration there will arise a distinct Canadian nationality. There are some who deny the existence or possibility of such thing as an American or "United Stateser," Canadians but the aborgines. But this contention leads to an absurdity. Upon the same ground it could be contended that there is no such thing as an American or "United Stater," and no such thing as an Englishman, because the original home of the English lay across the North Sea. By similar reasoning it might be proved that there is no such a thing as a distinct race or nationality, since we are all descended from Adam and Eve. The argument is not sound. New environment, physical and political, produces distinct national types, and so it will be with Canada. Modifications can easily be perceived in the second and third generation from the newcomers, and further modifications will come in the course of time. Our business is to make the type as good as possible.

Catarrh Cannot be Cured.

CANADIAN IMMIGRATION.

Canadian immigration is the subject of a lengthy report recently submitted to the U.S. Congress. A special enquiry has been held by a commission regarding the sources of the large influx of population in the Dominion during the past decade. Analyzing our immigration from Europe the report states that while 70 per cent. come to Canada from Northern and Western Europe, and 30 per cent. from Southern and Eastern Europe, the reverse was true regarding the United States We get the cream of such immigration, the more desirable elements composed of homeseekers on the land, while our neighbors get the class that adds to the congestion of the cities. And the same is true of the immigration from the United States, over seventh eighths of which is classed as farmers or farm-laborers It is noted that probably no other considerable movement of population from one country to another is so largely composed of agricultural people.

Of course the one fact explains the others, the Americans come from their dear lands to secure homesteads which Canada has in plenty and can give very cheaply or for nothing, while the United States has now little more good land to distribute, and prospectively only such as is reclaimed by irrigation. Immigrants of the farming class from Northern and Western Europe can not hope to settle on the lands that have become so high priced that their owners find it profitable to sell them and take up the cheap soil of Canada.

It is found that of the 235,000 homesteads entered in Canada in the ten years 44.91 per cent, were by Americans.

The London Free Press points out that while Canada may congratulate itself upon receiving so large a proportion of the better class of farmers from the United States, the time is near when it should be asked whether we are not over generous in parting with our fertile sections too cheaply, whether the public domain, which is so productive and inviting to settlers should not yield more than it does to the general coffers. The best farm lands of this continent that remain for homesteading are ours of which the monopoly is equivalent to that of pulpwood or other natural product elsewhere nearly exhausted.

The report of Senator Dillingham is important as showing the interest that is being aroused by Canada's rapid expansion.

"It cured me," or "It saved the life of my child," are the expressions you hear every day about Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. This is true the world over where this valuable medicine has been introduced. No other medicine in use for diarrhoea or bowel complaints has received such general approval. The secret of the success of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is that it cures. Sold by all dealers.

PUBLISH THE ASSESSMENT.

The St. Catharines Star says: In 1900 the annual assessment of the City of St. Catharines was published and every ratepayer was entitled to a copy. Why has it never been printed since distributed? The reason given is that there are several persons in this city holding properties worth good fat sums whose assessment on such holdings are so low that influence is brought to bear to prevent a public scrutiny of all figures.

This may or may not be true, but it is true that the Trades and Labor body of this city has, and is anxious to have the report published each year; that three years ago practically every one seeking election to the City Council supported a movement then on foot to have the official list brought out, but the idea was never allowed to mature, that if there is no reason why publication should not be made there are several reasons why it should appear.

The present Council is jockeying now over the appointment of an assessor. The delay is occasioned almost solely by political motives on both sides, and to the discredit of the men who are sitting around the board. If the assessment were printed and distributed, what difference would it make who does the assessing? The ratepayers, rich and poor alike, would have a chance of examining the report, of deciding for themselves if any unfairness is practised.

Such progressive critics as Winnipeg, London and Hamilton have adopted this method as the best means of satisfying the always doubtful citizen that partially is not shown.

Were the printing an expensive proceeding there would be some tangible excuse against it, but the cost is comparatively light, and no ratepayer would object to a reasonable outlay that would entitle him to find out just what assessment is placed on each parcel of real estate. The advantages, in fact, are so many in favor of such a decision on the part of the Council that at the next meeting it would be justified in taking the step without serious debate.

The public has been discussing the subject for some time. Opinion is growing rather strong, and while the Journal believes that no member of the Council would deliberately block the civic machinery to serve personal or political ends, it is not always easy to convince taxpayers to the same view.

There could be no better way out of the present apparent deadlock. Certainly there will be none that will so set the minds of hundreds of people at rest on a matter upon which they are quite entitled to express their minds, both now and at the polls.

OIL IN THE BRITISH NAVY.

The British navy was the first to employ oil as a fuel in connection with coal. Oil is used in all the new battle ships and soon will probably be a permanent form of fuel to the extent of 1,500,000 tons a year. Of the world's output of oil the British Empire's proportion is a scant 6 per cent., while American production is about 64 per cent.—close on two-thirds of the whole. These figures show how absolutely Great Britain is dependent in this respect on foreign countries, and particularly on the United States, and how the increasing use of oil in English battle ships must rest largely on contracts entered into in this country.

As marked as the dependence of the British navy on American oil is the dependence of the British army on American meat. The Boer war, it is notorious, was fought on Chicago "tinned goods." Almost the first concern of England, if another war threatened, would be the capacity of the Chicago stock yards and the character of their output.

Just as the British navy is dependent on the Standard Oil Company and the British army on the Chicago stock yards, so is the British civilian public dependent, despite India and Canada, on the Minnesota and Dakota wheat fields and the Chicago Board of Trade. The British Empire is a bulky body, but it rests precariously on a slender base. When the navy that safeguards England's food supply is itself coming to be at the mercy of foreign countries for its motive epower, is it any wonder that government is "seeing things" and that self-complacency and self-command are frazzling out into something that almost resembles panic?

THE SAGE LOANS.

Millionaires in these days are troubled and anxious about their accumulated money, and almost eager to give it away for universities, libraries, and other public objects. It is even reported that some rich men would welcome suggestions as to how to use their fortunes.

Russell Sage in his lifetime was not regarded as a model of benevolence, but it must be said that there is both benevolence and good sense in Mrs. Sage's plan for helping the poor. It is not charity in the ordinary sense, but just such aid as a bank ought to afford to a business man. It is a chain of model loan offices extending through the State of New York, and lending money at moderate rates to those who would otherwise fall into the hands of a usurer.

"Borrowing dulls the edge of husbandry" and should be resorted to with prudence. The borrowed money may encourage extravagance by imparting a false sence of financial ease. But there are times when a loan is really required, may alleviate keen distress or turn the tide of fortune. In such a case a provision for borrowing at moderate rates is a real benefit. When usurious rates are charged the borrower instead of being relieved is more and more deeply involved, and in the end, perhaps ruined. To save him from such a fate is to make good use of the Sagemoney.

Summer Resorts of Ontario.

Experience, the testimony of thousands and the popularity of the several fishing, hunting and touring districts located on the lines of the Grand Trunk Railway System, is conclusive proof that they are the Elysium of the sportsman and the Mecca par excellence of the tourist.

The "Highlands of Ontario," is a land dotted with lakes and rivers that have their source in the northern forests, and flow until they join the vast inland seas, Superior, Huron, Erie or Ontario, whose waters are in turn borne by the broad St. Lawrence to the Atlantic Ocean. This great tourist railway reaches all the principal resorts in this vast territory, including Lakes Orillia and Couchiching, the Muskoka Lakes, a popular resort 1000 feet above sea level, where thousands of people annually make their summer homes for rest and recuperation—The Lake of Bays District where some of the finest summer hotels in Canada are to be found, and a locality replete with natural beauty and loveliness with splendid fishing—Magnetawan River the very heart center for sport, for rod and gun—Lake Nipissing and the French River where wild and rugged scenery is to be found, and the atmosphere filled with health giving properties—The Temagami Region, a forest reserve containing 3,750,000 acres of lakes, rivers and wilderness, the scenic grandeur of which is incomparable. Magnificent fishing and hunting in season. The 30,000 islands of the Georgian Bay is another most delightful and beautiful territory, where the most interesting trips may be taken. The steady increase of tourists to this locality is alone proof that it is becoming the most popular resort on the inland lakes. The Algonquin National Park of Ontario, a comparatively new and attractive region, little known to the lover of rod and gun, and the tourist has all the summer attractions that appeal to the denizen of the city. This territory has been set aside by the Provincial Government of Ontario solely for the delectation of mankind. The gamiest of black bass, speckled trout and salmon trout are found here in goodly numbers. Hunting is not allowed. The Algonquin Park covers an area of 2,000,000 acres, their being within its border there being no less than 1,200 lakes and rivers within its boundaries.

The old fashioned way of dosing a weak stomach, or stimulating the Heart or Kidneys is all wrong. Dr. Shoop first pointed out this error. This is why his prescription—Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed entirely to the cause of these ailments—the weak inside or controlling nerves. It isn't so difficult, says Dr. Shoop, to strengthen a weak Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, if one gets at it correctly. Each inside nerve has its controling or inside nerve. When these nerves fail, then these organs must surely falter. These vital truth must surely falter. These vital truths are leading druggists everywhere to dispense and recommend Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Test it a few days, and see! Improvement will promptly and surely follow. Sold by all dealers.

POUND PILLOWS SOAKED WITH OIL.

Crown May Have Another Link in Evidence in McLaughlin Murder Case.

Uxbridge, April 12.—The carpenters who are busy rebuilding the home of the McLaughlin tragedy discovered, while tearing down part of the building, a couple of the pillows that were oil-soaked. The discovery looks bad, and adds much to the theory that the house was set on fire, and will no doubt form another link in the chain of evidence that will be presented by the Crown during the trial next month at Whitby.

The workmen are also of the opinion that the house was fired in more places than one, namely under the staircase. From examination it is surmised that there was a fire kindled in the south bedroom, in the closet going down cellar and in the south end of the little hall upstairs.—editoria.

ARE YOU IN DANGER?

You May Be Neglecting a Small Ailment and Thereby Inviting Serious Danger.

That little maladies grow into serious diseases we all know. Upon the stomach, liver and kidneys, rest mainly the work of maintaining health. Most of your little sickness come from derangement of these organs. Experience proves they are very frequently out of order, not badly perhaps, but even if only slightly out of order, it acts upon the strength and regularity of the the mind and the spirits and upon system.

It won't pay you to neglect your health; at the first sign of headache or langor take Dr. Hamilton's Pills and note how bright you feel next morning. You'll have a grand appetite, enjoy your breakfast and feel full of energy to go to work upon.

Your food soon tastes so good that you can eat more than ever before and, of course, you grow stronger, ruddy, vivacious, just sparkling with energy and good health.

Soon your friends will notice the improvement, and by continuing to tone up your system with Dr. Hamilton's Pills you lay the sound foundation of permanent good health.

There is no medicine better for men, women or children, nothing for family use half so beneficial as Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut. To look well, keep well, and feel well, use Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 25c per box, at all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

National Mining & Tunnel Company

Our mines are in the greatest camp in America, Leadville, Col., a camp which has produced "a million a month for four hundred months."

We have four hundred acres in the richest proven belt of the county, containing twelve mines, which have already produced to shallow workings over $2,000,000. Our big tunnel being driven in from the base of the mountain will cut these vast ore bodies at depth, and make their millions of dollars worth of ore accessible to us.

Within five months we should cut into our rich ore bodies, and become a large producer before the year closes. It is confidently believed that the Company can pay fabulous profits in the very near future.

Albert Ganz, Mines & Mining, Box 215.

Mr. Carey J. Hunter, Raleigh, N. C. Leadville, Colo., Jan. 31, 1910.

Dear Sir,—Your communication of the 24th inst. received. Regarding Sugar Leaf Mountain, the reports sent out of its production of the precious metals up to the time when the copper-acid waters made deeper sinking of shafts impossible, are not withdrawn.

Several weeks ago at the request of Mr. Horner, I accompanied him on a visit to the new tunnel and properties. On my part it was in fact a trip of inspection. I found the most complete and best equipped tunnel in the county. All the machinery is electrically driven, making a large saving in the cost of operating. This tunnel commands and the National M. & T. Co. own and control a mineralized area of 400 acres.

There are many shafts that have produced millions of values, but have been idle for years on account of the acid waters. The tunnel now being run is over 500 feet in length and, when advanced, will cross-cut all the veins at depths varying from 500 to 1,400 feet

I have personally known Mr. Horner many years. He has occupied positions of honor and trust. There are none as well posted on the mineralized area, geological conditions and the ore occurrences on Sugar Leaf Mountain as himself. It looks to me like a successful and legitimate mining enterprise.

Yours, truly, ALBERT GANZ.

We want a good live active agent to handle this stock in Peterborough and vicinity pleading for himself as he had been, for the further chance which he, but for circumstances, perhaps, had needed too.

"You," he said, "have lived a life of just and balanced action. It is bred in the bone. You hate all loose conduct, and rightly. You hate it most in Hugh for the simple reason that he is your son. The very relation makes it more impossible to countenance. He should be like you—of temperate and prudent habit. But did you and he start on equal terms? Your grandfather was a Standish; your ancestry was undiluted Puritan. Did Hugh have all your fund of resistance? With me it was the turning of a long lane. Hugh perhaps has not turned yet. A breath of that past life had swept anew over Harry, the old abandon recoil again had rushed upon him. I gave his voice a curious energy as it ended: "And I have seen how far a man may go and yet—come back!"

There was a pause. The judge had an inspiration. He folded the parchment.

"Perhaps it would be as well," he said in a matter of fact way, "if the signing be left open for the present."

He rose as he spoke and laid the document on the table.

For a moment David Stires sat in silence. Then he said, with a glint of the old ironic fire: "You should have been a special pleader, Sanderson. There's no client too bad for them to make out a case for! Well—well, we won't sign tonight. I will read it over again when I am more equal to it."

For long the old man sat alone, musing in his chair. At length he sighed and took up a magazine. He was thinking of Harry Sanderson.

"Hugh Him!" he said aloud. "No Stires would ever do that."

Chapter 2

HARRY SANDERSON and the judge parted at the gate, and Harry walked slowly home in the moonlight.

The youthful fellow felt that he had resurrected when he had called himself his old nickname of "Satan Sanderson" he had left so far behind him, had buried so deep, that the ironic turn of circumstance that had dragged them into view seemed intrusive and malicious.

He had saved an old college mate from possible disinheritance and the grind of poverty for David Stires' health was precarious. He thought of this with a tinge of satisfaction. The least of that peculiar clan, one who had held his place not by likable qualities, but by a versatile talent for entertainment, Hugh Stires yet deserved than much Harry Sanderson had never shirked an obligation. "As man sows"—words used by the old man—recurred to him. Did any man reap what he sowed, after all? Was he, the "Satan Sanderson" that was, getting his deserts?

* * * * * * *

The later night was very still, and the moon, lifting like a paper lantern over the aspen tops, silvered all the landscape. In its placid radiance the white house loomed in a ghostly pallor. The windows of one side were blank, but behind the library shade the bulbous lamp still drowned like a monster glow-worm. From the shadowy side of the building stretched a narrow L, its front covered by a rose trellis whose pale blossoms in the soft night air mingled their delicate fragrance with that of the jasmine.

Save for the one bright pane there seemed now no life or movement in the house. But outside in the moonlight a lurching, shabbily clothed figure moved, making his uncertain way with the deliberation of compound intoxication. The rush of the window was lifted a few inches, and he paused slowly at the yellow shade.

"Dirty old silver top," he interrogated, "are you in the morning?"

He reeled against an albino bush and smote his head with owlish gravity as he disentangled himself. Then he staggered serenely to the rose trellis and, shouldering up beside with an amiable thirst, leaned against it, peering drunkenly to the upper window, shut in behind with a knife and his interest in. He pulled jokingly closed both windows and lower blinds before he turned on the electric light.

In the room in which he now stood he had stored the trivial treasures and birthed his maturer fancies. It should have had deeper human associations, too, for once, before the house had been enlarged to its present proportions, that chamber had been his mother's. The Marechal Niel rose that clambered to the window sill had been planted by her hand. In that room he had been born. And in it had occurred that sharp, corrosive quarrel with his father on the night he had flung himself from the house vowing never to return.

As Hugh Stires stood looking about him it seemed for an instant to his clouded senses that the past six months of wandering and adventure were a dream. There was his bed, with its clean linen sheets and soft pillows. How he would like to lie down just as he was and sleep a full round of the clock! Last night he had slept—where had he slept? He had forgotten for the moment. He looked longingly at the spotless coverlid. No; some one

He made difficult selection from these.

Mass Meeting for Boys.

A mass meeting of boys took place last night in the Y.M.C.A. Boys' Department, when Mr. A. McCuaig delivered a very instructive and interesting address.

BLACK AND RICH.

Is the Way Postum Should Be

A liquid food that will help a person break a bad habit is worth knowing of. The president of one of the state associations of the W. C. T. U. who naturally does not want her name given, writes as follows:

"Whenever I was obliged to go without coffee for breakfast a dull, distracting headache would come on before noon. I discovered that, in reality, the nerves were crying out for their accustomed stimulant.

"At evening dinner I had been taught by experience that I must refrain from coffee or pass a sleepless night. While visiting a physician and his wife I was served with a most excellent beverage at their dainty and elegant table, and, upon inquiry, discovered that this charming beverage was Postum and that the family had been greatly benefited by leaving off coffee and using Postum.

"I was so in love with it, and so pleased with the glimpses of freedom from my one bondage of habit and so thoroughly convinced that I ought to break with my captor, that upon my return home I at once began the use of Postum and have continued it ever since.

"I don't know what sick headache is now, and my nerves are steady and I sleep sound, generally eight hours. I used to become bilious frequently and require physic; now seldom ever have those experiences.

"I have learned that long boiling absolutely essential to furnish good Postum. That makes it clear, black and rich as any Mocha and Java blend. Please withhold my name, but you may use the letter for the good it may do."

Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

Complaint of Letterers.

Yesterday a prominent citizen, who has only been a few months residing in Peterborough, complained to The Times of the gangs of idle men and boys who congregate on the street corners. He said that such conduct should not be tolerated in any place in the country. These men, he claims block up the sidewalks and pedestrians have often either to elbow them aside and squeeze their way through these motley throngs, or step out on the streets and pass around them. Especially to ladies is this objectionable.

HABEAS CORPUS SIGNED IN APPEAL

FOR THE FIRST TIME IN OSGOODE HALL RECORDS DIVISIONAL COURT GRANTS THIS WRIT.

Ackers to be Released—Is in Belleville Jail on Sentence for First Offence Under License Act.

Toronto, April 15.—For the first time on appeal and for the second time under any circumstance, the Divisional Court signed today a writ of habeas corpus. In 1887 a similar writ was granted by the Divisional Court, but Osgoode Hall records, it is said contain no other precedent.

James Ackers, who was given three months at Belleville, for a first offence under the Liquor License Act, applied to Chancellor Boyd for a writ of habeas corpus. His lordship refused, and Ackers appealed to the Divisional Court, which granted the writ.

The writ was issued today, signed, by Chief Justice Falconbridge, Mr. Justice Britton, Mr. Justice Riddell, and Registrar A. F. Maclean.

The writ, which is addressed to the keeper of the Hastings county jail at Belleville, requires him to "have before the Divisional Court on Monday, April 18, the body of James Ackers," etc.

Ackers will not be at Osgoode in the flesh on Monday, but his counsel will appear for him, and argument will be heard for and against his release.

Ackers has served about half his term. The warrant of commitment is one of the things he attacks.

All writs bear the name of Sir John Alexander Boyd, K.C.M.G., president of the High Court. The Acker's writ is no exception, even though Chancellor Boyd did dismiss Acker's original motion.

Important to Ladies.

It is not often an opportunity occurs at your door to see the latest Parisian and New York styles in Hair Goods, yet such is the case, as Prof. Dorenwend of Toronto, is visiting this town and invites your inspection of these goods at his private apartments reserved at the hotel.

These hair goods styles, when properly adjusted protect and ornament the head, soften and beautify the expression of the face, and consequently tone up an aged appearance. Be sure and see them at the Oriental Hotel on Friday, April 22nd.

AGAINST LOWERING THE WATER

Why Should Power Users Have to Suffer?

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Sir,—I am surprised at the lack of business methods in the council in regard to lowering the water on the Hydraulic Company's reservoir in order to save the contractor for the new Smith street bridge some money. As a business proposition it certainly would seem to me that the precedent is bad. When Mr. Conroy figured on this job, I am told that he was warned by Mr. Larmonth to be sure and allow for putting in coffer dam at high water. It appears that he did not do this, (while other tenderers did) expecting that he would have pull enough with the "powers that be" to have the water in the reservoir lowered.

Now, Mr. Editor, I claim that this is not fair, It is like the way contractors for cement walks were permitted to use a cheaper brand of cement than the specifications called for, and were thus able to underbid their competitors.

Why should the city be compelled to do without street lights, under these circumstances? Is it not decidedly out of place for the council to "butt in," and try to force Mr. Larmonth and power users to submit to inconvenience and loss? I hope Mr. Larmonth will have backbone enough to stand by his patrons as I am sure he will.

Thankingyou, Mr. Editor, I am,
FAIR PLAY.

Laid at Rest.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Mary Jory, took place yesterday afternoon, and many friends and acquaintances paid their last tribute of respect to one whom had been held by them in the highest esteem. Service was held at the home of Mr. D. Bellegherm, and those officiating were Rev. Mr. Wilson of Toronto, a brother-in-law of the deceased, Rev. Mr. Wallace, a former pastor at Flinton, where the late Mrs. Jory had resided, and Rev. J. G. Potter. The singing of "Never Alone," and "We Shall Know Him," was very impressive. Interment took place at the Little Lake cemetery.

A Delightful Dance.

In our issue of yesterday we omitted to notice the fifth annual dance of the Pill Pounders which took place in the Foresters' Hall, Simcoe street on Thursday evening, and which proved to be one of the best enjoyable social functions of the season. About one hundred couple were present, and excellent music for dancing was provided by the Misses Doris. At midnight luncheon was served. Coleman catering to the entire satisfaction of all. The committee, of which Mr. Ernie Mein was the secretary, are to be congratulated on the success of the event.

Twenty Men Buried by a Landslide at Bagotville, Quebec

Fifty Barrels of Dynamite and 200 Barrels of Powder Went off Suddenly--- Seventeen Men are Probably Dead

Quebec, April 15.—Twenty men were buried at about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon at Bagotville, county of Chicoutimi, about 200 miles from Quebec, when a premature explosion caused a landslide of about 75,000 cubic yards of earth and rock that crashed down upon the camp in which the men were sleeping.

The accident occurred in a cut that was being made on the farm of Mr. Simeon Larouche, about three miles from the village of Bagotville. A gang of men were at work blasting, while the night gang were at rest in a camp near the dump. The works were being made for the construction of the Ha Ha Bay Railway and fifty barrels of dynamite and 200 barrels of powder had been prepared for explosion.

It appears that the man working the battery did not give the usual warning and set the blast on fire, causing the unexpected slide of some 75,000 cubic yards of stone earth and gravel that rushed down from the cliff on the little camp below, where the men of the night gang were at rest. Without a moment's warning the unfortunate men were buried in a huge mass of debris, and it took considerable time before their fellow workmen could organize effective measures of rescue, for their task was rendered more difficult with the approaching darkness.

The work, however, was pushed ahead, while medical aid was summoned from the villages of St. Alphonse and Bagotville.

BRITISH CONSUL FORCED TO FLEE

MOB IN CHANGSHA FORCES OFFICIALS TO BOARD MERCHANT SHIP.

Nankow, April 15.—The situation at Chang-Sha, the capital of Hunan, is most grave. The rioting began by the natives in revenge for the action of Chinese officials in cornering and controlling the export of rice continues.

The Governor's Yamen, in which the missionaries had sought refuge, was set on fire by the rioters and destroyed.

The missionaries and other foreigners fled, and were taken aboard a merchant steamer in the harbor.

The British consulate and customs offices have been abandoned.

Two more British gunboats are hurrying to the scene, making a total of four. No fatalities are reported.

The property known to have been destroyed are the buildings of the Wesleyan China Inland Mission, of the Methodist China Inland Mission, and of the Norwegian Mission.

The endangered missionaries included Rev. Gilbert Warren, Rev. W. H. Watson, Rev. E. Cooper and wife, all Methodists. Warren is the mission superintendent of the entire Hunan Province.

The Wesleyan Mission has 700 converts in Chang-Sha, and there is danger that the mob may attack them. There are a number of other missions in Chang-Sha, including the Yale station, and several stations of the London Missionary Society.

MISSIONARY DIES OF PLAGUE.

Amoy, April 15.—Plague has broken out at Amoy, and its victims include Dr. J. A. Otte of the Reformed Church of America, who is dead here. Dr. Otte was a medical missionary in Amoy City. In 1889 he opened the Neerbosh Hospital in Sio-Kho. He left China for a time, but returned in 1897.

PUFFINESS UNDER EYES—SWELLING FEET

These Symptoms are Among the Surest Indications of Real Kidney Disease.

For nearly a year my kidneys failed to do their work, writes William F. Plankett, a well-known dairyman residing in Britannia, "I had swollen feet so badly that at times I could scarcely walk, my skin grew yellowish, and a general puffiness under the eyes gave my face a very unnatural appearance. My strength failed, and as I am a working man, loss of time and the prospect of serious illness caused me great anxiety. I read of several cures from Dr. Hamilton's Pills and decided to get five boxes. Now I feel it my duty to testify that they are the best kidney, liver and stomach medicine on earth. While my kidneys were so badly affected after all I think it was because the liver and bowels were clogged up. Anyway in less than a month the swelling in my feet ceased—my skin lost its yellowish cast—my eyes grew clear and natural, and, considering my age is nearly sixty. I am as fit as most men. Dr. Hamilton's Pills are a wonderful medicine that every man can use to advantage."

Don't be misled into using any other pill but Dr. Hamilton's. Sold in yellow boxes at 25c. per box, all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Company, Kingston, Ontario.

Feverish Haste in Building the Navy

Vienna, April 15.—In the Reichsrath today the finance minister admitted that the government was preparing to build four additional Dreadnoughts. He added, however, that he had not yet advanced a farthing for such purposes.

WHY THIS HURRY?

Berlin, April 15.—According to the Vossische Zeitung the Stabilimente Tecnico of Trieste, which has built nearly the whole Austrian navy, has agreed to commence the construction of two Austrian Dreadnoughts without waiting for the sanction of the delegations.

The Danube dock yard at Fiume has taken a similar course with regard to two others, while the armor and gun manufacturers will give their co-operation on the same basis.

From the British standpoint it is important to bear in mind that just at present Austria and Germany appear to be working together. The vessels being ostensibly built for Austria may on completion be turned over to Germany.

Manager Has Right to Order Hats Removed

London, April 15.—Henry Curtis Bennett, a Baw street magistrate, today rendered judgment that the management of a theater has the right to eject women patrons who refused to remove their large hats.

The action had been instituted by Mrs. Blanche Eardley, the authoress, who charged Frank Curzon, manager of the Prince of Wales theater, with a technical assault. Mrs. Eardley attended a matinee wearing an enormous hat. A man seated just behind her insisted upon the removal of the hat. She was irrated by the man's manner and refused to take off her hat. Curzon was appealed to and Mrs. Eardley was called into the corridor, and when she remained firm in her refusal to remove the hat he would not permit her to return to her seat. In dismissing the case, the magistrate declared that Curzon had acted admirably and in the interests of theater-goers.

An Exciting Time at Westminster

There is Little Doubt but There Would Have Been a Fight but for the Intervention of Peace-Makers

London, April 15.—There was a tempestuous evening in the House of Commons. Scenes of excitement and anger succeeded one another, and at the time of adjournment the tempers of some of the members were so aroused that there is little doubt that there would have been a fight, but for the intervention of peace-makers.

The Government's main anti-Lords resolution was being debated. Closure was to be applied at 7.30 o'clock and a vote taken.

Within a few minutes of 7.30 Premier Asquith tried to make his expected statements regarding the course the Government would pursue if the House of Lords rejects the resolution. The Opposition resented this because the impending closure would preclude discussion.

Ex-Premier Balfour took advantage of the rules of the House to interrupt the premier's statement. It then became a battle of strategy between Asquith and Balfour. The latter invoked the support of the chairman of committees, and after a keen tussle obtained the chairman's ruling against the premier.

STORM RAGED ABOUT.

It would be difficult to give an adequate idea of the storm that raged around the contending leaders while this little duel was in progress. Mr. Balfour's interposition at the outset evoked an angry outburst from the government's supporters, which was answered by equally tumultuous shouts by the Opposition. The anger of his opponents grew to fury as Mr. Balfour met Mr. Asquith at every point.

The Liberals, Irish and Laborites, yelled "Shame!" But Balfour refused to be moved from his purpose to discuss the premier's statement.

Taunts, cheers and yells were bandied by the opposing parties, each utterance of the premier and ex-premier and the chairman producing fresh gusts, until the chairman ruled in Mr. Balfour's favor and asked Mr. Asquith to defer his statement.

PREMIER SEEMED HURT.

Mr. Asquith took the situation calmly, but he seemed to be hurt. The guillotine then fell, and the resolution, aimed to cripple the House of Lords, was passed by a vote of 351 to 246, a majority of 105.

Then the resolution limiting the duration of Parliament to five years instead of seven was carried, 334 to 236.

The motion to adjourn was agreed to, and Mr. Asquith arose to leave. Then his supporters gave him a tremendous ovation, while the Opposition shouted ironically: "Why not cheer for Redmond" Tempers were at a white heat. Somebody on the Unionist side shouted; "Dynamitards," at the Irish. It stung them to a fury, and a fight seemed likely, but the cooler members interposed.

Among the many angry incidents was one in which William Redmon and A. S. Wilson were antagonized. It seemed inevitable that they would come to blows, but Mr. Burns and others seperated them.

Girl Left for Home but Never Arrived

Montreal, April 15.—With a view to obtaining further clues which might enable them to clear up the mystery which surrounds the disappearance of Miss Nellie Priestland of Jarvis, Ontario, who has been missing since the 24th of March, Detective Lehuquet, of Chief Carpenter's staff, today visited the room in which she boarded at 85 University street here. Mrs. Walker, proprietress of the house, informed the police that she was sure the body of Miss Priestland would be found in a trunk the missing girl had left in the room. Lehuquet forced the lid but there was nothing inside which would lead to further clear up her disappearance. Miss Priestland left the University street house early on the 24th of last month, saying that she was going home on a visit. She carried a dress suit case. The first inkling people here had that she had not reached her home was through a post card written by one of the family in Jarvis, asking why she did not write.

Constable Declares Marks in Earth By Fence Correspond With Prisoner's Boots—Review of Events.

Tweed, Ont., April 15.—This is an agricultural community, but farmers forsook the plow seeding yesterday, numbers of them journeying in their conveyances into town to be present at the coroner's investigation into the death of William Masters which took place last Friday forenoon.

The town hall was packed to suffocation. Windows were thrown wide open and hats were used as fans. Considering the intense excitement and that the big crowd could only get standing room, there was fairly good order, but the constable had to make a number of appeals.

About the coroner, Dr. Farrell, inside the railing, were grouped the jury, the constable, Detective Miller who has been giving the case some very careful study and work, Crown Attorney P. J. M. Anderson, K.C., of Belleville; D. E. K. Stewart, of Madoc, who is acting in the interests of Robert Parker; members of the medical profession, the official stenographer, and the representatives of the local and city press.

A review of the events that occurred at the home of Masters was given by his wife and two sons, and general evidence was given by a number of other witnesses.

County Constable Sedore exhibited the rifle, revolver and bullets that were taken from the home of Parker. These were duly marked, and placed as exhibits to be used as may be required hereafter.

Gilchrist has sown much good seed, which in due time will reap a rich harvest. The members of the association regret the loss of Mr. Gilchrist to our city, but humbly pray that in his new field of labor he shall be sustained and owned of God with much work."

Mr. Gilchrist has been appointed general secretary of the local Y.M.C.A., and will arrive from Quebec to take charge on or before the first of May.

The Quebec Chronicle publishes the following resolution of the Ministerial Association of Quebec City, which was carried unanimously at a largely attended session of that body by members and others.

"Resolved, that the members of the Quebec Ministerial Association place on record their appreciation of the work of Mr. H. M. Gilchrist during his three years' residence in Quebec City as secretary of the Y.M.C.A. As a member of the association, Mr. Gilchrist has given a number of valuable papers, which were practical and helpful. He has faithfully assaumed all the duties which were apportioned to him, giving able service by song and speech at special meetings and public gatherings, and willingly doing anything to aid the ministers of the different churches. In his own work as secretary of the Y.M.C.A. he has labored with untiring zeal, and with sincere Christian devotion to bring the men and boys to a saving knowledge of the Lord Jesus Christ, and enlist them to yield a life service to the Kingdom. DEMAND ACTION.

U.S. Must Act on Reciprocity With Canada.

New York, April 14.—The Journal of Commerce says: "Fresh attention was drawn to Canada's reciprocity problem by the Quebec announcement of the intention of the Provincial Government to prohibit the exportation of pulpwood. This means that the United States Government must act on Canadian reciprocity at once. We must have closer trade and closer relations with Canada.

"In spite of the detailed attention given to this question during the negotiations with Canada, the United States authorities are not wholly clear as to the exact nature of the program contemplated by the Provincial Government in all its details. Nor are they certain of its effect. They are, however, positive that it will be detrimental to the interests of the United States paper producers, and they understand that the policy will subject them to renewed pressure from those who are suffering from the present tariff.

NOT BEAR ON IMPORTERS.

"The action of Quebec will not bear upon importers of papers, as our total retaliatory duties are lower on paper coming from the Provinces and countries that prohibit export than on that from those which levy an export tax. Importers will, therefore, pay slightly less duty on imports from Quebec under the new regime. But the action will entail a very severe hardship upon those who have been getting their pulpwood from Quebec.

"The announcement has been very disappointing to the officials at Washington, as there had been an impression that Canada would not go further in her pulpwood policy pending reciprocity negotiations. This, however, was contrary to Canada's distinct statement to us while negotiations were under way.

"The news from Quebec is widely discussed and the general opinion is that the incident has emphasized the need for the opening up of reciprocity negotiations at once, and would tend still more strongly to drive the administration to a definite action for reciprocity.

"One of the largest cattle raisers in Canada, W. A. Henback, of Saskatchewan, interviewed Mr. Taft at Washington. After the conference, he said: "I am confident that a reasonable reciprocity arrangement would be favorably entertained by the Canadian people."

A COMMENDABLE BILL.

Though a young legislator, Hon. Mackenzie King has shown himself to be a man of keen observation and one who is anxious during his parliamentary career to benefit mankind in some practical way. His bill to investigate combines, monopolies, trusts and mergers is intended, not simply to charge every human ill to the credit of such combinations, but to be able to find out when necessary wherein combinations of capital are working to the disadvantage of the public at large. As he pointed out in his speech before the House, many of the staples used in the United States are controlled by trusts which are of such enormous size that they cannot fail to inspire alarm. At present there are industrial concerns in the United States as follows:

15 with a capital of over $100,000,000.

38 with a capital of over $50,000,000.

165 with a capital of over $10,000,000, and

451 with a capital of over $5,000,000.

Of the franchise trusts, 16 have over $100,000,000; 41 over $50,000,000, and 150 over $5,000,000.

The great railroads' trusts of the United States are capitalized at over one billion.

In Canada great mergers have been formed in recent years and more are in the course of formation. Some of them are bound to work out to the disadvantage of the consumer. He will have to pay the shot.

The object of the bill is most commendable if it does not cost too much to operate it. Mr. King is showing evidences of knowing political economy in more than a theoretical sense.

Cosgrave's Beer

Words of praise have ever prevailed in advertising "copy." Find a producer should wax enthusiastic over his own wares—is but human. But it's the product of the consumer that counts—and it is to a discriminating and critical public that "Cosgrave's" refers you.

It is safe to say that no product of any kind enjoys a more enviable reputation than does this famed Cosgrave Beer of Toronto in markets where it is offered.

Its self-evident honesty of purpose, purity, brilliancy, body, and every other attribute that goes to make a perfect beer are ever in evidence.

HORSE DISTEMPER.

Prince Edward Farmer Solemnly Declares Nerviline is a Specific.

"After fifty years' experience in raising horses. I can safely testify that no remedy gives such good results for an all-round stable liniment as Nerviline. Thus opens the very earnest letter of J. J. Evanston, who lives near Wellington, P-E- "I had a very valuable horse that took distemper a month ago, and was afraid I was going to lose him. His throat a welled and hard lumps developed. His nostrils ran and he had a terrible cough. I tried different remedies, but was unable to relieve my horse of his pain and suffering till I started to use Nerviline and sweet oil and rubbed the mixture on the throat and chest three times a day and you would scarcely believe the way that horse picked up. Nerviline cured him. I also have used Nerviline for colic in cows and horses, and earnestly recommend it to every man that is raising stock."

NERVILINE CURES QUICKLY

For strains, sprains, swellings, colic, distemper, coughs and colds, no liniment will prove so efficacious in the stable as Nerviline"—it's good for man or beast, for internal or external use. Wherever there is pain, Nerviline will cure it. Refuse substitutes. Large bottles 25c., five for $1.00, at all dealers, or The Catarrh ozone Company, Kingston, Ont.

RETAIL MERCHANTS REFUSE TO OBSERVE EMANCIPATION DAY AS CIVIC HOLIDAY.

Oddfellows Want Aug. 9—It is Said Whites Don't Want to Join Hands With the Blacks.

Windsor, Ont., April 14.—The Retail Merchants' Association of Windsor, are up in arms against the decision of the City Council to observe civic holiday on Emancipation Day. At the Council meeting last Monday night, the Oddfellows, who are very strong in numbers in Windsor, asked the council to set civic holiday on August 8th, as Walkerville would observe that date, and arrangements were being made between the two towns for a big celebration.

The Oddfellows declare Mayor Hanna agreed to advocate for that day. When the matter came before council on Monday night, the vote was six against six. Mayor Hanna broke the deadlock by voting for August 1st. Now there promises to be lively doings.

The merchants declared at last night's meeting of the association that they would not observe Emancipation Day as civic holiday, and will do business on that day, but will close on August 8th, in sympathy for Oddfellows. A petition will be circulated by the merchants asking that the date be changed by the council.

The whole trouble is the cause of the race question, the white refusing to celebrate with the blacks. Windsor has a large colored population.

Rheumatic poisons are quickly and surely driven out of the blood with Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy—liquid or tablet form. Dr. Shoop's booklet on Rheumatism plainly and interestingly tells just how this is done. Tell some sufferer of this book, or better still, write Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis., for the book and free test samples. Send no money. Just join with Dr. Shoop, and give some sufferer a pleasant surprise.

OVER THIRTY-SIX MILLION DOLLARS TO BE SPENT THERE THE NEXT FEW YEARS.

Big Works are Projected — Some Four Thousand New Houses are Expected to go Up.

Quebec, Que., April 14.—With the many vast enterprises that are to be achieved in Quebec within the next five years this city is about to enter an era of progress that will considerably change the face of things and turn the ancient capital into one of the most progressive and busy cities in the Dominion.

A brief estimate of the work to be done shows that no less than thirty six millions and a half will be spent in Quebec during the next five years, and a detailed examination shows the cost of the various works as follows:

Quebec bridge and approaches $16,000,000.
Dry dock and ship building yards, $5,000,0000.
Grand Trunk Pacific terminals, $3,-000,000.
Quebec and Saguenay Ry., $2,000,-000.
Q.R.L. and P. Co.'s improvements, $1,500,000.
Customs house and other government public buildings, $1,000,000.
Harbor improvements, including extension Louise Dock, etc., $2,000,-000.
Canadian Pacific Hotel and station extension, $1,500,000.
Four thousand new houses at an average cost of $2,000 each, $8,000,-000.
Civic improvements in Limoilou, etc., including two bridges over the St. Charles River, $500,000.
Total, 236,500,000.

SECOND IN COMMAND.

Events Indicate ex-Judge Doherty Will Be Mr. Borden's Lieutenant.

Ottawa, April 14.—While the fact that ex-Judge Doherty of Montreal, taking the place of Mr. Borden as leader of the Opposition in the House yesterday was due primarily to the latter's indisposition, the incident is taken as somewhat significant in confirming the rumor that Mr. Doherty is to become the first lieutenant of the party. There is no definite rule as to who leads the Opposition in Mr. Borden's absence. It usually devolves on some senior member, but yesterday's occurence appears to have been a preconcerted affair, and, in the most informed circles of the party, it seems generally established, that Mr. Doherty is to be the second in command.

The old fashioned way of dosing a weak stomach, or stimulating the Heart or Kidneys is all wrong. Dr. Shoop first pointed out this error. This is why his prescription—Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed entirely to the cause of these ailments—the weak inside or controlling nerves. It isn't so difficult, says Dr. Shoop, to strengthen a weak Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, if one gains at it correctly. Each inside nerve has its controling or inside nerve. When these nerves fail, then these organs must surely falter. These vital truths are leading druggists everywhere to dispense and recommend Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Test it a few days, and soul improvement will promptly and surely follow. Sold by all dealers.

SAVED HER FINGER.

Mrs. B. E. Bolwell, of 337 Provencher Ave., St. Boniface, Winnipeg, says:—"Some time ago my [illegible] took diphtheria, and while attending them the poison entered a small scratch on the second finger of my left hand. This became very sore and began [illegible] soon set in. For months after the children were quite well I was suffering from a shockingly bad finger. The scratch was caused originally by a pin, and in itself, was not at all serious. The consequences, however, of neglecting this scratch, were very serious ones. When the blood-poisoning set in [illegible] positions I decided I had in the hospital. There, however, did not save the desired effect. Quite on the contrary the finger became more and more swollen and [illegible] inflamed. It then began to fester, and I had to call in a doctor. He lanced the finger to let out the pus, and you can imagine how painful the finger was. Despite his care, however, it again festered and [illegible] matter, liniments, and other preparations which the doctor gave me seemed absolutely unable to bring about a cure. [illegible] The danger then arrived [illegible] into the St. Boniface Hospital. I feared that if I went to the Hospital the finger would be amputated. We were told of a case similar to my own in which Zam-Buk had effected a cure when everything else had failed and the doctor had said that only amputation could save the person's hand.

We, therefore, decided to give Zam-Buk a trial. A supply was procured, and we commenced the Zam-Buk treatment. It only needed a few days to show the wisdom of this step. The blood-poisoning and inflammation were reduced, the pain [illegible] to some less acute, and it was evident that very shortly that the trouble was being reduced to a less and still less area. We persevered with the Zam-Buk and in the end the festering sore was thoroughly cleansed, then healed. In under three weeks from first commencing with Zam-Buk, the finger was entirely well; and I had expended Zam-Buk in the first place, instead of trying ordinary preparations, no doubt I should have saved myself hours and hours of acute agony."

All sufferers should note this case. Zam-Buk is a sure cure for blood-poisoning, festering sores, [illegible] from horses' kicks, bruises, cuts, [illegible] sores, piles, bad legs, varicose veins, scalds, chilblains, sand cracks, [illegible] and all skin diseases. Rubbed well into the pores of the skin, Zam-Buk is unequalled for [illegible] Refuse to accept substitutes. Zam-Buk can be had from all druggists and stores, at 50c. box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price.

Conroy—Doyle.

The Flint, Mich., Journal, has the following: David Edward Conroy of Peterborough, Ont., and Miss Ambrosia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Doyle, of this city, were united in marriage at 10.30 o'clock this morning at St. Michael's Catholic church in the presence of a large company of guests. Rev. Fr. T. J. Murphy officiated with nuptial high mass.

The church was artistically decorated with palms and pink roses, and as Mrs. Kate Bradley, organist, and Miss Ethel Lee and Mrs. Carey, violinists, played the bridal chorus from "Lohengrin" the wedding party entered the church and passed down the center aisle to the altar. The ushers were Frank N. Pelter, of Flint, and Frederick Conroy of Peterborough, Francis Conroy assisted as best man.

The bride was attired in a handsome gown of white satin with trimmings of Brussells lace and carried bride's roses. She wore a long tulle veil. Miss Helen Doyle, maid of honor, wore a gown of white lace with a pink and white picture hat and carried pink roses. Miss Josephine Conroy, the bridesmaid, wore pink satin and carried pink roses. She also wore a creme-colored picture hat.

Following the ceremony at the church, a wedding repast was served to relatives at the home of the bride, 606 Garland street. The appointments were in pink and green.

Mr. and Mrs. Conroy were the recipients of a number of beautiful gifts from their friends. They left later in the afternoon on an extended wedding trip which will take them to Edmonton, Alberta, province, where they will make their home. The groom is a contractor, and was engaged in that business in Peterborough.

Among the guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. D. Conroy and Mrs. Edward Conroy of Peterborough; Mrs. D. Ryan, Miss Theresa Ryan and Miss Mabel Doherty, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hendricks of Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. George Waste, Toledo.

might appear [illegible] not show to be worn in his present condition. It was scarcely 10. Time enough for that afterward.

He drew out the drawer of a chiffonier, opened a closet and gloated over the order and plenty of their contents. He made difficult selection from these and, steadying his progress by wall and chair, opened the door of an adjoining bathroom. It contained a cleaning bath with a needle shower. Without removing his clothing he climbed into this, balancing himself with an effort, found and turned the cold faucet and let the icy water, chilled from fourteen depths, trickle over him in a myriad stinging needle points.

It was a very different figure that reentered the larger room a half hour later from the slinking mediark that had climbed the rose trellis. The old rags, a heap of soiled and sodden humanity; the new stood forth shaven and fragrant with fresh linen and clean clothing. The maudlin had vanished, the gaze was unvexed and bright, the whole man seemed to have settled into himself, to have grown more merchantant, debonair. He held out his hand, palm outward, between [illegible] and his eye. There was not a tremor of nerve or muscle to be studied. No headache, no fever, no uncertain feet or trembling hands or swollen tongue after more than a week of deep potations. He could still "bear up" as he used to do (with Blake, the butler, to help him) when it had been a mere matter of an evening's business. And how like it felt to be decently clad again!

He crossed to a cheval glass. The dark, handsome face that looked out at him was clean cut and aristocratic, perfect save for one blemish—a pale line that slanted across the right brow, a birthmark, resembling a scar. All his life this mark had been an eyesore to its owner. It had a trick of turning an evil red under the stress of anger or emotion.

On the features, young and vigorous as they were, subtle lines of self indulgence had already set themselves, and beneath their expression, cavalier and caressing, lay the unmistakable stigmata of inherited weakness. But now the glass did not see. He recorded himself with egotistic complacency. Here he was just astounded as ever. He had had his fling and taught the governor" that he could get along well enough without any paternal help or advice.

He attentively surveyed the room. It was clean and dusted—evidently it had been carefully tended. He might have stepped out of it yesterday. Not a thing had been disturbed—yes, one thing. His portrait that had hung over the bed was not in its place. A momentary sense of trepidation rushed over him. Could his father really have meant all he had said in his rage? Did he really mean to disown him?

For an instant he faced the hall door with palpitant hands. Somewhere in the house, unconscious of his presence, was that ward of whose coming he had learned. Moreau was a good friend to have warned him. Was she part of a plan of reprisal—her presence there a tentative threat to him? Could his father mean to adopt her? Might that great house, those grounds, the bulk of the wealth, go to her, and he, the son, be left in the cold? He shivered. Perhaps he had stayed away too long!

As he turned again, he heard a sound in the hall. He listened. A light step was approaching—the swish of a gown. With a sudden impulse he stepped into the embrasure of the window, as the figure of a girl paused at the door. He felt his face flush. She had thrown a crimson kimono over her white nightgown, and the apparition seemed to part the dusk of the doorway like the red breast of a robin. She held in her hands a bunch of the pale Marechal Niel roses and his eye caught the long, rebellious sweep of her brunette hair and the rosy tint of bare feet through the worsted meshes of her night slippers.

To his wonder the sight of the figure in the room seemed to cause her no surprise. For an instant she stood still as though listening, then entered and placed the roses in a vase on a reading stand by the bedside.

Hugh gasped. To reach the stand the girl had passed the spot where he stood, but she had taken no note of him. Her gaze had gone by him as if he had been empty air. Then he realized the truth: Jessica Holme was blind! Moreau's letter had given him no inkling of that. So this was the girl with whom his father now threatened him! Was she counting on his not coming back, waiting for the windfall? She was blind—but she was beautiful! Suppose he were to turn the tables on the old man, not only climb back into his good graces through her, but even—

The thin line on his brow sprang suddenly scarlet. What a supple, graceful arm she had! How adroit her fingers as they arranged the roses! Was he already wholly blackballed in her opinion? What did she think of him? Why did she bring those flowers to that empty room? Could it have been she who had kept it clean and fresh and unaltered against its return? A confident, daring look grew in his eyes. He wished she could see him in that purple tie and velvet smoking jacket. What an opportunity for a romantic self justification! Should he speak? Suppose it should frighten her!

Chance answered him. His respiration had conveyed to her the knowledge of a presence in the room. He heard her draw a quick breath. "Some one is here!" she whispered.

He started forward. "Wait, wait!" he said in a loud whisper as she sprang back. But the voice seemed to startle her the more, and before he could reach her side she was gone. He heard her flying steps descend the stair and the opening and closing of a door. [illegible]

National Mining & Tunnel Company

Our mines are in the greatest camp in America, Leadville, Col., a camp which has produced "a million a month for four hundred months."

We have four hundred acres in the richest proven belt of the county, containing twelve mines, which have already produced in shallow workings over $2,000,000. Our big tunnel being driven in from the base of the mountain will cut these vast ore bodies at depth, and make their millions of dollars worth of ore accessible to us.

Within five months we should cut into our rich ore bodies and become a large producer before the year closes. It is confidently believed that the Company can pay fabulous profits in the very near future.

Mr. C. L. T. Fisher,

President National Mining & Tunnel Co.,
Lynchburg, Va.

Dear Sir,—My active mining experience extends over a period of more than thirty years and my intimate experience on Sugar Loaf Mountain more than twenty years of that time.

I am acquainted with all the mines on this mountain and positively know that they have produced many millions of dollars in gold and silver values, and for every million that has been mined near the surface, you may confidently expect to extract ten millions along the line of your tunnel. Your advantage in drainage and great depth attained, together with the most economical system of mining makes your project the most safe and alluring that has ever come under my observation. Knowing well the success that will certainly be yours, I congratulate you.

VOL. XXXIII NO. 89 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO MONDAY APRIL 18 1910 PRICE TWO CENTS

The Quaker Oats Co. will Build Another 600,000 Bushels Elevator

Providing Obsolete Streets are Closed---Another Flour Mill and Other Extensions in the Near Future---Expenditure of Upwards of $200,000 Now Arranged For

The Quaker Oats Company, apart from the 600,000 warehouse they have just started to build, are now arranging for the erection of an elevator of approximately 600,000 bushels capacity, to cost $125,000 or $130,000. And this elevator, it is expected, will in time be supplemented either by another one or by enlargement to the capacity of another 500,000 bushels. In fact, Mr. W. H. Dunham, the company's energetic local superintendent, asked for a new million bushels elevator, but only got permission to erect at present one of 600,000 bushels capacity. This in itself means a big thing for Peterborough, but according to Mr. Denham's statements at a council meeting Saturday night, the company's extensions will in time include a large flour mill and other buildings. In fact their operations are growing so rapidly that the company is perforce obliged to immediately take steps to assure their future expansion in Peterborough not being handicapped in any possible way. Hence they are now asking the council to close up Murray street along their westerly property line, and also the roadway from the southerly line of Murray street to London street, heretofore known as Mill street. Murray street apparently has a blind end at the Quaker Oats property, at any rate as far as practical use goes, while Mill street is not used by the public, and it only seems reasonable that the company's request should be granted in furtherance of their scheme for expansion. So big an institution as the Quaker Oats Co., should be fostered in every legitimate way, as long as private interests are not jeopardized.

The company is anxious to commence building the proposed new elevator in two weeks time. They also require a rearrangement of their tracks across Hunter street, and a new spur line. Their requirements are embodied in the following letter received by the city fathers Saturday night:—

"To the Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Peterborough:

"Gentlemen,—Enclosed find blue print showing the proposed re-arrangements of our tracks across Hunter street. Also a proposed spur line to connect with the C.P.R. at Simcoe street and with our tracks at the north of Murray street. We find it necessary to install this new siding as shown on the blue print in order to make way for a proposed new elevator of approximately 600,000 bushels capacity.

"In order to do this it will necessitate the grading down of the end of Murray street, filling in part of the raceway, and the occupation of the roadway along the raceway for some distance. Inasmuch as this roadway is only used by ourselves, and is not used by the public, or in fact by any one, we would ask that the council close Murray street along our westerly property line, and also close the roadway from the southerly line of Murray street to London street.

"We have now before the Railway Commission the plans of the re-arrangement of tracks, and before they can approve of them they desire a resolution from the City Council, permitting them to cross Simcoe street, if such permission is necessary (as we believe the junction of the spur line with the C.P.R.'s main spur line will no doubt be on their right of way of 66 feet); also permission to cross Murray street at the north end of the property. We would be pleased, therefore, if you would grant us this permission by resolution, so that we can forward same to the Railway Commission immediately. Also favor us with copies of all bylaws so far passed regarding the crossings on Hunter street, and a certified copy of your resolution permitting the crossing of Simcoe street and Murray street. This will allow us to give the Railway Commission the necessary information at once; and in the meantime we will be pleased to have you grant the concession regarding the closing of Murray street and the roadway as above noted.

"Yours truly,
"The Quaker Oats Co.
"W. H. DENHAM,
"Superintendent."

Aldermen Morgan and Graham did not like the idea of closing Murray street.

Ald. Morgan thought the people should have access to the river via Murray street, but the majority present could not see any virtue in that point, and it was contended that no person would wish to drive over the steep grade of Murray street on to old Mill street and northward to reach London street.

Mr. Denham suggested that Murray street ends at the Quaker Oats property.

Ald. Morgan—"No, it does not; it continues on in East Peterborough."

Mr. Denham replied that it may do so, but it is not shown on the map. Besides, no one uses the street beyond the company's westerly property line, or the roadway north of London street, and he thought the council might grant the small concession asked in order to facilitate the erection of another big elevator, to say nothing of further extensions in the near future.

Ald. Hicks was not quite sure of existing conditions in the locality in question and would like time for investigation before committing himself as to the closing of Murray St.

The council generally were anxious to grant the concessions asked, providing no public or private interests are prejudiced, and passed the following resolution:

Ald. Bradburn moved, seconded by Ald. Hicks,—That the C.P.R. be granted permission to cross Simcoe and Murray streets with tracks to the Quaker Oats mills; and that the request to close Murray street and Mill street be referred to the Board of Works to report.—Carried.

This answered Mr. Denham's pressing requirements as far as the crossings are concerned, and he will await the report of the Board of Works re closing of the streets in question.

We regret to say that Mr. John Finlay, ex-M.P., who has been ill for the past few weeks, took a more critical turn yesterday and his recovery is said to be rather doubtful. —Norwood Register.

Knox Church Corner Stone Laid by the Lieutenant-Governor

A Large Number Present to Witness the Interesting Ceremony and Hear the Speeches

A large assemblage of the friends of Knox church gathered at the corner of Rubidge and Wolfe streets, on Saturday afternoon where the new church is in course of erection.

Among those on the platform were His Honor the Lieut.-Governor J. M. Gibson, K.C., and aide-de-camp., Hon. J. R. and Mrs. Stratton, His Honor Judge Huyshe, the Misses Dickson, Sheriff Hall, Miss Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Dickson Hall, Mrs. R. H. Fortye, Rev. Robt. and Mr. Pogue, Rev. H. J. and Mrs. Keith, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hill, Mr. R. Winch, Mr. Wm. Davidson, Rev. Canon Davidson, Rev. Dean Langfeldt, Rev. H. R. Trumpour, Rev. G. W. Henderson, Rev. E. A. Pearson, Rev. C. H. Coon, Rev. R. Riddiford, Rev. J. R. Webb, Rev. J. G. Brown, Rev. John Fee, Rev. J. G. Potter and Rev. D. A. McKenzie, moderator of Presbytery of Peterborough.

The services began at 3.30, and were opened by invocation and reading of Scripture by Rev. Mr. Potter, and the consecration prayer by the Rev. D. A. McKenzie, moderator of the Presbytery of Peterborough. The Rev. Mr. Keith announced that the tin box to be deposited in the cavity below the stone contained copies of the daily papers, coins used in Canada, charter of the Adult Bible class, which had donated the stone, historical sketch, list of office bearers of the church, those who have been united with the church, and a copy of the hymn sung at the opening of the present building.

Lieut.-Governor Gibson.

The Lieut.-Governor was then called upon to lay the stone, and Mr. A. McKenzie presented his honor with a handsome silver trowel with silver mounted horn handle. The trowel was suitably engraved. When the stone was lowered into its place, and the governor's touch assured the assembly that all was over and the declaration that this stone was well and truly laid.

Lieut.-Governor Gibson's speech was that of a Christian statesman. He considered it a great pleasure and privilege to come to Peterborough and be welcomed by the Mayor and members of the City Council, and to have the opportunity to see many features unknown to him before. As a Presbyterian he had always enjoyed an interest in movements like the present. As Lieut-Governor he was always interested in the growth of all of the Christian churches, for such marked the development of the moral forces that were always helpful to the State. He had seen mission churches grow into very useful churches. He suggested regularity and punctuality. There was at this point considerable laughter, for owing to the fact that the time of the distinguished visitor had been [illegible], the proceedings [illegible] one hour. However [illegible] noticed the reference and emphasized regularity of attendance at church. Nothing aroused his indignation more than to see young gentlemen with red jackets and paraphenalia going out to the golf links, when the people were wending their way to the churches.

He deplored the carelessness of men regarding their church relation. He did not know how the catechism was regarded by the churches in Peterborough but he would always stand by the answer to the first question, "Man's chief end is to glorify God and to enjoy Him forever." He hoped that whatever the financial standing of the church at its completion he knew that the people would give regularly and systematically. Many were very careless regarding their obligation, and gave a beggarly nothing practically. He believed men ought to make a sacrifice, when it was to do such a great good. True religion was a case of making sacrifices. Faith and works must go together. Good works were but the evidence of a man's faith. "The tissues of our life are woven in colors all our own, and in the field of destiny we reap what we have sown."

He closed by wishing the congregation all success—freedom from accident in building operations, and congratulations on their enterprise.

Mayor Morrow.

His Worship the Mayor was delighted to be associated with the Lieut.-Governor on such an occasion, and in his capacity as mayor was deeply interested in whatever was going to make for the moral uplift of the city. He wished the congregation all success.

Hon. J. R. Stratton.

Congratulated the Lieut.-Governor for his great interest in the betterment of the people of this great Province. Peterborough was becoming a city of churches. There were 17 churches representing all denominations or one for each one thousand of the population. People believed that in the construction of churches they were doing their best for the upbuilding and the civilization of their country. Advanced civilization necessitated the erection of churches.

Greetings From Other Churches.

The greetings from the other churches in town followed:—The Rev. G. W. Henderson for the Methodists, Rev. H. R. Trumpour for the Church of England, Rev. Mr. Riddiford for the Baptists, and Rev. D. A. McKenzie, moderator of Peterborough Presbytery, and Rev. J. G. Potter representing the Presbytery, and the Rev. R. Pogue on behalf of the parent church, St. Paul's. Mr. Pogue closed the proceedings with the benediction.

Luncheon was afterwards served in the present building.

Victoria Day celebrations are in order in almost every town and city in the land. What's the matter with Peterborough?

FIRE AT RICE LAKE.

Old Landmark at Gore's Landing Destroyed By Fire Sunday Morning.

Sunday morning about 4 o'clock, the house known as the F. W. Barron homestead, at Gores Landing, Rice Lake, was totally destroyed by fire. The building was unoccupied, having for some years been used as a summer residence by Mrs. Bombright. The house and furniture were a total loss.

The blaze lit up the country for miles around. Mr. F. W. Barron was the father of Judge Barron, Stratford, formerly of Lindsay, and Mrs. A. P. Poussette of this city.

The loss will probably be about $8,000, partly covered by insurance.

WELCOMED BY CITY

His Honor Lieut.-Governor J. M. Gibson, K.C., and Party Welcomed to Peterborough by Mayor Morrow and City Council—Trip Over the Lift Lock.

On Saturday last His Honor the Lieut.-Governor J. M. Gibson and Capt. Young, A.D.C., arrived in the city on C.P.R., about noon, in connection with the laying of the corner stone of the $23,000 church, which is being built by the congregation of Knox Presbyterian church. At the station the party were met by Mayor Morrow and members of the City Council, after which they embarked at the Wolfe street wharf on the Government steamer "Bob Hall" on a trip over the lift lock. Here they were met by carriages and taken for a drive around the city, visiting the various places of interest. At one o'clock they drove to the beautiful home of the Misses Dickson, Dickson street, where luncheon was served, the entire party going at half-past two to Knox church for the ceremony of laying the corner stone. A full report of the proceedings at the church will be found elsewhere.

Retaliatory Rates on Wood Pulp and Paper from two Provinces

Washington, D.C., April 16.—The latest development in the Canadian tariff situation came to light when it was learned that government officials who have been figured by the action of Quebec with respect to the prohibition of the exportation of pulpwood and considering the idea of revoking the treasury decision in which the wood pulp situation now rests.

The existing plans call for the levying of retaliatory rates simply upon wood pulp and paper made of pulp wood cut on Crown lands. This has not proved very effective as a means of retaliation because the proportion of the wood cut on crown lands as compared with the wood cut on private lands is small.

The idea now is to extend the ruling or interpretation of the provisions of the retaliatory duty provided for in the tariff, and which is now levied on wood pulp, and on paper when either is made from wood pulp cut on crown lands to such products when made from pulp wood cut on private lands. There is no difficulty in doing this inasmuch as it would require only a reversal of the treasury.

To do so would result in imposing upon all paper coming from Quebec and Ontario, a tariff of some 60 or nearly that per ton now collected on the paper made of wood cut on private lands.

Kitchener is Sorry; Can't Visit Canada

New York, April 16.—Lord Kitchener, when asked last night why he was not going to visit Canada said: "It is a matter of great regret to me that I cannot. The fact of the matter is my mission now demands that I hasten home. There is urgent demand that certain reports which I have to make should be in the hands of the government."

"Has your haste anything to do with Australia?"

"Yes. Australia is one of the main subjects of my report. Australia's condition is now a defenceless one. Railroads have not been constructed with regard to strategical use, and are wholly inadequate. There is also an absence of any properly conducted military staff. To supply this I shall urge the organization of a military college."

"Do you fear encroachments from Japan in Australia?"

"That is a matter that I cannot discuss."

Governor-General to Visit Peterboro' Next Saturday

Address of Welcome at Armories, Outside or Inside, According to Weather---Program for Entertainment is Being Arranged

His Excellency, Earl Grey, Governor-General of Canada, will, according to present arrangements, visit this city on Saturday next, April 23rd. The vice-regal party will arrive on the 11.28 a.m. G.T.R. train, and will, it is expected, remain until evening, when they will proceed to Toronto, where his excellency is to unveil a memorial to South African heroes on Sunday, April 24th.

The city fathers met Saturday evening to discuss a program of entertainment for the Governor-General. There were present, Mayor Morrow, Aldermen, Gillespie, Buller, Phelan, Morgan, Graham, Duncan, Hicks, Bradburn, Dufus, Hon. J. R. Stratton, M.P. for West Peterborough, and Col. Stevenson. The following program was roughly outlined:

Guard of honor, consisting of troopers and infantry.

Reception at station.

Civic address of welcome at armories when the freedom of the city will be formally tendered his excellency. If fine in front of the building, if wet inside the armories.

Luncheon.

Over the lift lock, up and down—in the Bessie Butler.

Drive around the city to principal industries, such as the Quaker Oats, and the C.G.E.

It is not yet known how many will constitute the vice-regal party nor the exact hour at which they will leave Peterborough, hence it was not possible to go into details of their reception and entertainment on Saturday next. But the meeting was unanimous that Peterborough do the thing handsomely and rise to the occasion in a manner befitting so important an event as a visit from Canada's Governor-General. The Reception Committee will not be stinted in any way, especially as Hon. J. R. Stratton has generously offered to take upon himself the entertainment of any other distinguished visitor or visitors during the year whom the city may find it inconvenient to entertain.

Earl Grey is being corresponded with as to whether the above outlined program will meet with his approval, and the city officials will probably receive an answer by Tuesday, embodying other information that will assist the Reception Committee in arranging all details. Hon. J. R. Stratton will also interview his excellency either tonight or Tuesday morning in this regard.

As soon as all local arrangements are decided upon, the public will be notified of the exact details through the press.

It is unfortunate that the 57th has no regimental band now. The band will undoubtedly turn out for the city, but a citizens' band will not have the same effect on so distinguished an occasion as a first-class military one, such as Peterborough has heretofore been proud of.

Incidentally, it might here be remarked that his excellency the governor-general is in the habit of giving to each member of the House of Commons at Ottawa a five minutes' interview pertaining to local conditions in their several constituencies. With his well-known interest in his native town, Hon. J. R. Stratton availed himself of his five minutes to eulogize Peterborough as a place of exceptional interest to visitors, with its splendid industries, its beautiful natural and cultivated surroundings, to say nothing of the famous lift lock. And this coming visit of his excellency, on a date, when otherwise no important public function is arranged for, is probably the result of the honorable gentleman's five minutes' interview.

DEATH OF JAS. McCULLOUGH.

Another Old Resident of Peterborough Passed Away.

Another old resident of this city passed away on Saturday in the person of James McCullough, at his residence, 317 McDonnell street. The deceased had been ill about a week from paralysis of the brain.

The late Mr. McCullough was of a genial disposition and was an honest and upright citizen and as a result had many warm friends who will regret to learn of his death.

He came to this country in 1853, from Cothill, County of Cavan, Ireland, and settled in Peterborough, where he has lived in the same house for 47 years. The deceased was a staunch Orangeman, and belonged to Diamond Lodge, No. 89, was a Liberal in politics and a member of George street Methodist church.

He leaves to mourn his loss, a wife, three sons, and six daughters. 26 grand children and three great grand children. The daughters are:—Mrs. Jos. Kennedy, Mrs. A. Pitton, Mrs. J. Pitton, Mrs. G. Carmichael, Mrs. J. Rolland, all of Toronto, and Mrs. W. Cole, Peterborough. The sons are Jas., of Toronto; John, of Hamilton; Robert, of Winnipeg.

His children were at his bedside when he passed away. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2.30 o'clock from the residence, 317 McDonnell street. Interment in Little Lake cemetery.

CONCERT AT BRIDGENORTH.

Some of Peterborough's Best Talent Contributed to the Program.

A very delightful concert was held at Bridgenorth on Friday night under the auspices of Court Bridgenorth, Canadian Order of Foresters. The hall was filled to the doors and a particularly good concert was given. The chair was occupied by Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P., and during the evening an address on the Canadian Order of Foresters was given by Mr. W. C. Strong of Brantford. The program, which was arranged by Mr. Andrew Jobe of Bridgenorth, was of a high order of merit. The Flood orchestra was heard to advantage in several numbers, and the Telford family also won loud applause in their selections. Vocal solos were given by Miss Edna Pringle of Peterborough, Mrs. Young of Smith, Mr. George Chandler of Peterborough, and Mr. James O'Brien of Bridgenorth. Mr. R. J. and Master Cyril Devel gave a piano duet and Mr. and Mrs. Devey made a big hit with the vocal duet, "The Country Courtship." Mr. McLaren of Peterborough, delighted the audience with his humorous selections. Dr. Holloway of Peterborough, gave a short address.

Those in attendance from Peterborough report very hospitable treatment at the hands of the Bridgenorth people.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

INDIANS STARVE IN FAR NORTH

TWELVE DEATHS ARE ALREADY REPORTED FROM FOND DU LAC.

Winnipeg, April 16.—A despatch from Fort Chippewyan tells a terrible story of starvation and privation. In the immediate vicinity of Fort Chippewyan the natives are living on muskrat, but farther north the Indians are said to have suffered severely throughout the winter, and sixty or more have died from starvation and dysentery. At Fond du Lac there have been twelve deaths since last February in a comparatively small band, and in other settlements also much privation has been experienced.

At the time of writing the despatch, which bears no date, provisions were at a very low ebb at Fort Chippewyan. The Hudson Bay Company there had a short time previously run out of flour, but fourteen bags were secured from Fort Smith, ninety-eight miles farther north, where there was a supply of Vermilion brand, which was sold at $15 for 100 pounds, furs only being accepted in payment, and as this supply will not last long, the settlement was anxiously waiting for navigation to open, when the company's scows are expected to bring relief.

LIVER LAZINESS.

Those Who Lack Energy and are Unsuccessful Should Read This Closely.

"I am only thirty years old, yet for almost two years I have felt more like seventy-five. I have found it difficult to sleep at night and in the morning feel so depressed and heavy that effort was difficult. My hands were always clammy and perspiration on slight effort would break out all over me. It was not unnatural that I should begin to brood over the chance that I would soon be unfit to do my work, and this dread made my sleepless nights perfect misery. After repeated trials of medicine and mixtures Dr. Hamilton's Pills gave me the first glimpse of hope. From the very first I could see they were different from other pills. They didn't gripe and acted as naturally as if nature and not the pills were cleansing my clogged up system. My spirits rose, I felt much better, the sluggish action gave way to normal activity. Dizziness and headaches ceased, appetite, good color and ambition to work returned and have remained. I am like a new man and I thank Dr. Hamilton's Pills for it all."

This was the experience of J. E. Parkhurst, a well-known grocer dealer in Jefferson. Follow his advice, use Dr. Hamilton's Pills for your stomach, kidneys and liver, and you will enjoy long life and robust good health. All dealers sell Dr. Hamilton's Pills, in Yellow boxes, 25c. per box. From the Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

DOCTORS CONDEMN OILY LINIMENTS.

The Public are Warned to be Careful of These Strong-Smelling Oily Liniments Containing Harmful Acids, Ammonia, Etc.

Many people have clung to the old-fashioned idea that a thick, greasy liniment is the best kind. Doctors say not—and they know.

Recently a number of these white, oily liniments were analyzed, and they were found to contain an enormously high percentage of harmful acids, and such irritating chemicals as ammonia, etc. For the moment they may cause a warm sensation when first applied, but their continued use never cures rheumatism, and only deteriorates the skin, sets up inflammation and causes endless trouble.

When a doctor warns you to quit using a white, oily liniment—do so. He knows that a thick liniment can't penetrate, can't sink through the pores and reach the seat of the pain.

When asked his opinion a few days ago, Dr. Roberts stated that he considered a strong, penetrating, pain-subduing liniment, such as Nerviline, to be superior to any of the white ammonia liniments. In his twenty-five years of practice he had witnessed cases of rheumatism, sciatica and lumbago that simply would not Nerviline cured them. The same physicians also spoke of the great advantages of keeping a preparation like Nerviline in the house always, because of cramps, diarrhoea, stomach disorders, earache, toothache, headache, and such minior ailments. Nerviline is a first-class cure. There is scarcely an ache or a pain, internal or external, that Nerviline won't cure. In thousands of homes no other pain-relieving medicine is used. Fifty years' continued success and the endorsement of the profession are proof that Nerviline is the liniment for the home.

MONDAY, APRIL 18, 1910.

THE PULP SITUATION.

"We must have a closer trade relations with Canada." This opinion expressed by the New York Journal of Commerce, is born of the action of the Quebec Government in prohibiting the export of pulp wood cut from Crown lands. The Journal of Commerce knows that American paper mills are dependent largely upon Canadian spruce, and it imagines that a general reciprocity treaty endorsed by the Dominion Administration might render nugatory the action of the Provinces of Quebec and Ontario. For that reason the Journal of Commerce is prepared to sign a reciprocity treaty tomorrow. It is heedless of the difficulties in the way. Like Mr. Snodgrass, it takes of its coat with the greatest deliberation, and announced that it is going to begin.

Converting Congress is the first task before our confrere. After the recent tariff settlement the President asked Congress for an appropriation for the purpose of making preliminary investigation with respect to reciprocity with Canada. The vote was passed, the money was not granted, whereupon does not see the need for reciprocity. The "stand-pat" Republicans are not disposed to lower tariff walls to any country. The election of Mr. Payne in Massachusetts on a reciprocity platform is one incident only. It may be that after the November election this Democratic Congress in the teeth of Republican veto may be compelled to enter into a reciprocity treaty with Canada. But in the meantime Congress knows no better than the Journal of Commerce that reciprocity for wealth while to this country we have vast areas of agrarian and abundant water power in close proximity. The United States could be greatly enhanced if it would comply in the Republic. They are dependent upon Canada, and must become more dependent year by year. The natural and the economical method of using the resources of Canada is to build mills within speaking distance of the forests, to operate them by water power or electricity generated from water power, and to sell the pulp to the paper manufacturers. That policy commends itself to the Canadian people. It commends itself to the Governments of Ontario and Quebec—one Conservative, the other Liberal. If reciprocity would prevent the realization of this project it would not be welcome on this side of the border.

The kernel of the question is that, generally, the Journal of Commerce wants our raw materials to build up American industries. We prefer to keep our raw materials at home and build up our own industries. Continental free trade is as dead as last year's bird nest.

THE NEWCOMERS.

Migrants from the British Islands, from the continent of Europe, from the United States, Continue to pour into Canada. Occasionally some anxious one asks whether we can assimilate all these newcomers, and make them good and contented citizens of Canada. As for "homogeneity" in this country, it may be described as something difficult to pronounce and impossible to perform. We cannot expect that the civilization of Manitoba, of Saskatchewan, of Alberta, of British Columbia will be an exact copy of the civilization of Ontario. As well demand that it shall be an exact copy of the civilization of Quebec or of Nova Scotia. We need not be over-anxious about the peculiarities of newcomers, so long as they obey the laws and respect the rights of their neighbors.

In good time, if wisdom and forebearance are exercised by all, there will be as much assimilation as is good. Uniformity is not necessary. Diversity in customs and sentiments is quite compatible with sturdy Canadianism, and with hearty cooperation in all that promotes the common welfare of Canada. Old Canada was composed of a large element of population tracing its descent from the British Islands, and of another large element from France That situation gave Canadians good training in breadth and liberality. The problem was solved and a satisfactory arrangement made. It is not likely that another problem of equal magnitude will arise in the West. A very large proportion of the new settlers are from Canada and Great Britain, and another large proportion are people of the same stock from the United States. The only amalgam necessary is a vigorous and yet broad and generous Canadianism.

Out of this blending and toleration there will arise a distinct Canadian nationality. There are some who deny the existence or possibility of such thing as an American or "United Stateser," Canadians but the aborgines. But this contention leads to an absurdity. Upon the same ground it could be contended that there is no such thing as an American or "United Stater," and no such thing as an Englishman, because the original home of the English lay across the North Sea. By similar reasoning it might be proved that there is no such a thing as a distinct race or nationality, since we are all descended from Adam and Eve. The argument is not sound. New environment, physical and political, produces distinct national types, and so it will be with Canada. Modifications can easily be perceived in the second and third generation from the newcomers, and further modifications will come in the course of time. Our business is to make the type as good as possible.

OIL IN THE BRITISH NAVY.

The British navy was the first to employ oil as a fuel in connection with coal. Oil is used in all the new or battle ships and soon will probably be a permanent form of fuel to the extent of 1,500,000 tons a year. Of the world's output of oil the British Empire's proportion is a scant 6 per cent., while American production is about 64 per cent.—close on two-thirds of the whole. These figures show how absolutely Great Britain is dependent in this respect on foreign countries, and particularly on the United States, and how the increasing use of oil in English battle ships must rest largely on contracts entered into in this country.

This is marked as the dependence of the British navy on American oil is the dependence of the British army on American meat. The Boer war, it is notorious, was fought on Chicago "tinned goods." Almost the first concern of England, if another war threatened, would be the capacities of the Chicago stock yards and the character of their output.

Just as the British navy is dependent on the Standard Oil Company and the British army on the Chicago stock yards, so is the British civilization quite dependent, despite India and Canada, on the Minnesota, and Dakota wheat fields and the Chicago Board of Trade. The British Empire is a lofty body, but it rests precariously on a slender base. When the story that safeguards England's food supply is itself coming to be at the mercy of foreign countries for its motive power, is it any wonder that government is "seeing things" and that self-complacency and self-command are dwindling out into something that almost resembles panic?

BAD ACCIDENT.

New Orleans, April 14.—With a thunderous crash, which caused a panic among the thousands of workmen in factory shops on Canal street, a building at South Rampart and Canal streets, crashed this morning, crushing beyond recognition a 10-year-old boy and seriously injuring five other persons.

This is the Shriners' Mardi Gras, and [illegible] of masked men, women, and children, were that the building, and in the vicinity.

MOB IN CHANGSHA FORCES OFFICIALS TO BOARD HER-CHANT SHIP.

Nankow, April 15.—The situation at Chang-Sha, the capital of Hunan, is most grave. The rioting began by the natives in revenge for the action of Chinese officials in cornering and controlling the export of rice continues.

The Governor's Yamen, in which the missionaries had sought refuge, was set on fire by the rioters and destroyed.

The missionaries and other foreigners fled, and were taken aboard a merchant steamer in the harbor.

The British consulate and customs offices have been abandoned.

Two more British gunboats are hurrying to the scene, making a total of four. No fatalities are reported.

The property known to have been destroyed are the buildings of the Wesleyan China Inland Mission, of the Methodist China Inland Mission, and of the Norwegian Mission.

The endangered missionaries included Rev. Gilbert Warren, Rev. W. H. Watson, Rev. E. Cooper and wife, all Methodists. Warren is the mission superintendent of the entire Hunan Province.

The Wesleyan Mission has 700 converts in Chang-Sha, and there is danger that the mob may attack them. There are a number of other missions in Chang-Sha, including the Yale station, and several stations of the London Missionary Society.

MISSIONARY DIES OF PLAGUE.

Amoy, April 15.—Plague has broken out at Amoy, and its victims include Dr. J. A. Otte of the Reformed Church of America, who is dead here. Dr. Otte was a medical missionary in Amoy City. In 1889 he opened the Neerboeh Hospital in Sio-Kho. He left China for a time, but returned in 1897.

FOR THE FIRST TIME IN OSGOODE HALL RECORDS DIVISIONAL COURT GRANTS THIS WRIT.

Ackers to be Released—Is in Belleville Jail on Sentence for First Offence Under License Act.

Toronto, April 15.—For the first time on appeal and for the second time under any circumstance, the Divisional Court signed today a writ of habeas corpus. In 1887 a similar writ was granted by the Divisional Court, but Osgoode Hall records, it is said contain no other precedent.

James Ackers, who was given three months at Belleville, for a first offence under the Liquor License Act, applied to Chancellor Boyd for a writ of habeas corpus. His lordship refused, and Ackers appealed to the Divisional Court, which granted the writ.

The writ was issued today, signed by Chief Justice Falconbridge, Mr. Justice Britton, Mr. Justice Riddell, and Registrar A. F. Maclean.

The writ, which is addressed to the keeper of the Hastings county jail at Belleville, requires him to "have before the Divisional Court on Monday, April 16, the body of James Ackers," etc.

Ackers will not be at Osgoode in the flesh on Monday, but his counsel will appear for him, and argument will be heard for and against his release.

Ackers has served about half his term. The warrant of commitment is one of the things he attacks.

All writs bear the name of Sir John Alexander Boyd, K.C.M.G., president of the High Court. The Acker's writ is no exception, even though Chancellor Boyd did dismiss Acker's original motion.

DROVE OPERATOR OUT.

Crazy Employe of G.T.R. Attacks Equipments of Two Stations.

St. Thomas, April 14.—A man named Copeman, and claiming to be an employe of the G.T.R. at Fort Erie yards, went crazy early today and started out on a rampage. He first visited the station at Stevensfield, and after chasing the operator out of the building, he made a clean up of all the telegraph instruments and other things. This done, he proceeded to Marshville, and repeated the operation. He is now headed for another station and officials all along the line have been notified to get ready and arrest him. Copeman broke away from the officers at Fort Erie.

Sword of Cromwell.

New York, April 14.—The sword of Oliver Cromwell was the most important sale yesterday at the Yerkes Mansion, where the American Art Association disposed of the last of the household belongings, and went to E. H. Lithfield of Brooklyn, for $1,500. The sword had been looked in a safe and was brought to light after the other articles had been scheduled. It was formerly in the museum of Warwickshire Museum, England. It is cast with medallions, the pommel corresponding. The broad blade is paneled, and bears the arms and motto of the Commonwealth of England. The sword is dated 1650. There were several competitors for it.

SECOND IN COMMAND.

Ottawa, April 14.—While the fact that ex-Judge Doherty of Montreal, taking the place of Mr. Borden as leader of the Opposition in the House yesterday was due primarily to the latter's indisposition, the incident is taken as somewhat significant in confirming the rumor that Mr. Doherty is to become the first lieutenant of the party. There is no definite rule as to who leads the Opposition in Mr. Borden's absence. It usually devolves on some senior member, but yesterday's occurence appears to have been a preconcerted affair, and, in the most informed circles of the party, it seems generally established, that Mr. Doherty is to be the second in command.

The old fashioned way of dosing a weak stomach, or stimulating the Heart or Kidneys is all wrong. Dr. Shoop first pointed out this error. This is why his prescription—Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed entirely to the cause of these ailments—the weak inside or controlling nerves. It isn't so difficult, says Dr. Shoop, to strengthen a weak Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, if one gains at it correctly. Each inside nerve has its controling or inside nerve. When these nerves fail, then these organs must surely falter. These vital truth must surely falter. These vital truths are leading druggists everywhere to dispense and recommend Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Test it a few days, and see! Improvement will promptly and surely follow. Sold by all dealers.

Tell Some Sick One
It Is Free If It Fails.

Will you do me and Humanity a favor? Will you tell some sick friend of this, our liberal offer?

Tell him or her, that you have learned of a preparation (a remedy that for years may go by the name of) by chemistry and recommended for ills like his.

And you, no doubt, already know of Dr. Shoop's Restorative and its remarkable record.

For 20 years it has been the standard remedy for Stomach, Kidney and Heart ailments everywhere in America.

When the "inside" or controlling nerves of these vital organs begin to fail, as Dr. Shoop's Restorative does exactly what it is guaranteed to do, namely, restore and strengthen these nerves and restore health to the body.

I do not want the Stomach, nor even the Heart or Kidneys—for that is all wrong.

Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes direct to the cause of these ailments—the inside, invisible, inside or controlling nerves. And besides this the nerves to any organ.

When the nerves are again made well and strong, then that is the certain end of all such ailments.

There is but a few cents worth of this, and the only physician able to say to you what it will do is Dr. Shoop. Take my prescription for half to three days, and if it fails to help you, the entire expense is rather yours.

Then only should the sick take any chance on any other medicine, when no maker dare not back it just as I do by this remarkable offer?

I also have a Rheumatic Remedy—and that remedy is covered by the same identical "no help, no pay" protective plan.

Send me, you are free to command me just as you would your home physician. My address is on the book below are yours—and without cost.

Perhaps a word or two from you will show me some serious ailment. I have helped many thousands by my private prescription and personal advice plan. My best effort is surely worth your simple request.

So let me send you an order to "come. Take the message to some sick friend.

A postal will bring the opportunity.

I will have an honest and frank word to say about it, and will tell you how you can conveniently go for the first test.

But first, ask me for the order, for all druggists are not authorized to give out my remedy. So write me now and save all delays. Remember that tomorrow never comes. Address Dr. Shoop, Box 12, Racine, Wis.

Let It Be Seen.

(To the Editor of The Times:)

Sir,—I hope those that have the matter of securing a chime of bells for St. John's church will get busy. There would doubtless be a liberal response to a call for aid, as citizens of every class and creed would contribute. Only, however, on one condition, and that is that the bells be of the best. We do not want a cheap lot at any price.

The C.P.R.'s Love of Flowers.

Thousands of miles of the Canadian Pacific lines are being made into flowery paths. Over 60,000 packages of flower seeds are being sent out this spring by the floral department to the company's employees, who are enthusiastically co-operating with Mr. N. S. Dunlop, the head of the department, in his great work. There are thirty-two different varieties of seeds, and large parcels containing one of each of them are made up and distributed amongst the employees all along the lines between the Atlantic and the Pacific. Great Britain, China, Japan, Germany, India, South America, Iceland, Russia, California, Holland, Bermuda and other lands are yearly called upon to provide these seeds, bulbs and shrubs which ornament the lines of the C.P.R., and the department secures the best quality. At nearly every station are to be seen pretty garden plots and well-kept lawns, which are brightening what were once unsightly and uninteresting spots and making them places of beauty. It will not be many years before the C.P.R. will have magnificent flower gardens at its 2,000 stations, and the line itself will become a perfect road of roses.

Mr. J. H. Laing Remembered.

Before leaving the city for Toronto Saturday morning, Mr. J. M. Laing was presented with a gold Y.M.C.A. watch fob by the boys of the local association. Mr. Laing has been secretary of the boys' department for the past four months, and has done good work in that branch of the work of the association. The presentation of the fob was accompanied by an address which was read by Wallace Armstrong and Harold Lees made the presentation. Mr. Laing made a suitable reply thanking the boys for their kindness, which he assured them was deeply appreciated.

Pen Up Your Chickens.

The time of making garden is near at hand and it is also time to pen up the chickens. There is perhaps nothing that causes so much hard feelings in a locality as for chickens to wander on a neighbor's premises and garden. Some say they do not do any harm. That makes no difference, your neighbors do not want to be annoyed with your chickens, and you should not cause trouble by allowing your fowls to run at large. A hen that will not stay in the enclosure will usually make a fine Sunday dinner.

Coughs that are tight, or distressing tickling coughs, get quick and certain help from Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy. On this account Druggists everywhere are favoring Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy. The tender leaves of a harmless lung-healing mountainous shrub give to Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy its curative properties. Those leaves have the power to calm the most distressing Cough, and to [illegible] bronchial membrane. Test it once yourself, and see! Sold by all dealers.

First Trip of Steamer Manita.

Lindsay Post: Mr. R. J. Menzies has been appointed Lindsay agent for the Otonabee Navigation Co., of Peterborough and expects to make the maiden trip out of Lindsay per steamer Otonabee on Thursday, May 26th with a moonlight at night. On the 27th the steamer will make that popular water and rail trip, Lindsay to Peterborough. The str. Manita will make her first trip to Sturgeon Point May 24. She will be in Lindsay a few days prior to the 24th. Any information Mr. Menzies has at hand will be freely given.

Every family and especially those who reside in the country, should be provided at all times with a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment. There is no telling when it may be wanted in case of an accident or emergency. It is most excellent in all cases of rheumatism, sprains and bruises. Sold by all dealers.

Mr. Conroy Angry.

Our friend, Mr. David Conroy, seems to have taken offence at a letter which appeared in The Times on Saturday last, signed "Fair Play," in regard to lowering the water in the river in order to facilitate the work on the new bridge at Smith street. He entered this office and used language that would not look well in print. Our friend David, may have been trying to emulate Samson of old, who put the Philistines to route with the jawbone of an ass, when he attempted to bear down on this great family journal in such a way. Be that as it may, The Times might say just here that it owes him no ill-will, and would rather do him a good turn than otherwise, notwithstanding his bad opinion of us. So you see when this g.f.j. gets a crack on one cheek, it turns the other one also.

Prevention—those Candy Cold Cure Tablets—will safely and quickly check all colds and the Grip. Try them once and see! 48-25c. Sold by all dealers.

shaded lamp, the wheel chair and the feeble old man with his furrowed face and gray mustaches. What he himself should say he had not had time to reflect.

The figure in the chair looked up as the door opened. "Hugh!" he cried and half lifted himself from his seat. Then he settled back, and the sunken, indomitable eyes fastened themselves on his son's face.

Hugh was melodramatic—cheaply so. He saw the girl start at the name, saw her hands catch at the kimono to draw its folds over the bare white throat, saw the rich color that flooded her brow. He saw himself suddenly the moving hero of the imagery, the tractive force of the situation. Real tears came to his eyes; tears of instinctive feeling, due partly to the cheap whisky he had drunk that day, whose outward consequences he had so drastically banished, and partly to sheer nervous excitation.

"Father!" he said, and came and caught the gaunt hand that shook against the chair.

Then the deeps of the old man's heart were suddenly broken up. "My son!" he cried and threw his arms about him. "Hugh, my boy, my boy!"

Jessica waited to hear no more. Thrilling with gladness and doubting with the sudden recollection of her bare throat and feet, she slipped away to her room to creep into bed and lie wide eyed and thinking.

What did he look like? Of his face she had never seen even a conventional presentment. Through what adventures had he passed? Now that he had come home, forgiving and forgiven, would he stay? He had been in his room when she entered it with the rescue—must have guessed, if he had not already known, that she was blind. Would he guess that she had cared for that room, had placed fresh flowers there often and often?

Since she had come to the house in the supreme Jessica had found the imagined figure of Hugh a dominant presence in a horizon lightened with a throng of new impressions. The direful catastrophe of her blindness—it had been the sudden result of an accident—had fallen like a thunderbolt upon a nature elastic and joyous. It had brought her face to face with a revelation of mental agony, made her feel herself the hapless martyr of that cart thing called chance. She had always lived largely in books and pictures, and her world was still full of ideals and of brave adventures. Gratitude had made her love the morose old invalid with his crabbed temper, and the wandering son, choosing for pride's sake a remorseless battle with the world—the very mystery of his whereabouts—had taken strong hold of her imagination. Of the quarrel which had preceded Hugh's departure she had made her own version. That he should have come back on this very night, when the disinheritance she had dreaded had been so nearly consummated, seemed now to have an especial and an appealing significance.

Presently she rose, slipped on the red kimono, and, taking a key from the pocket of her gown, stole from the room. She ascended a stairway and unlocked the door of a wide, bare attic where the moonlight poured through a skylight in the roof upon an unfinished statue. In this statue she had begun to fashion, in the imagined figure of Hugh, her conception of the prodigal son—not the battered and trunk filled wayfarer of the parable, but a figure of character and pathos erring through manhood's pride and spirit. The unfinished clay no eyes had seen, for those walls bounded her imperial domain.

When Hugh went shamefacedly up the stair from the library the artificial glow that had tingled to his finger tips had faded. The poise of mind, the certitude of all the faculties of eye and hand that his icy bath had given him, were yielding. The penalties he had dislodged were returning re-enforced. He was rapidly becoming drunk.

He groped his way to his room, turned out the light, threw himself fully dressed upon the bed and slept the deep sleep of deferred intoxication.

Chapter 3

IN a June day a month after Harry Sanderson sat in his study, looking out of the window across the dim summer bowl of heat, intelligently [illegible] could see the long white marl road tending in a broad curve between clover stippled meadows to skirt the willow green bluff above the river. There, miles away on the high bank he could distinguish the railroad bridge, a long black skeleton spanning "the hole," a deep, dark haunted pool, the deepest spot in the river for fifty miles.

National Mining & Tunnel Company

Our mines are in the greatest camp in America, Leadville, Col., a camp which has produced "a million a month for four hundred months."

We have four hundred acres in the richest proven belt of the county, containing twelve mines, which have already produced to shallow workings over $2,000,000. Our big tunnel being driven in from the base of the mountain will cut these vast ore bodies at depth, and make their millions of dollars worth of ore accessible to us.

Within five months we should cut into our rich ore bodies, and become a large prodecer before the year closes. It is confidently believed that the Company can pay fabulous profits in the very near future.

Dear Sir,—My active mining experience extends over a period of more than thirty years and my intimate experience on Sugar Loaf Mountain more than twenty years of that time.

I am acquainted with all the mines on this mountain and positively know that they have produced many millions of dollars in gold and silver values, and for every million that has been mined near the surface, you may confidently expect to extract ten millions along the line of your tunnel. Your advantage in drainage and great depth attained, together with the most economical system of mining makes your project the most safe and alluring that has ever come under my observation. Knowing well the success that will certainly be yours, I congratulate you.

Three Wagon Loads of Liquor on the Way to Church

Biggest Seizure of Liquor which Has Ever Taken Place in the North Country ---11,000 Bottles of Whiskey

The Provincial police have developed a suspicious disposition which gave deep offence to a party of churchgoers near Elk Lake on Sunday. Incidentally their inquiring nature led to the biggest seizure of liquor which has ever taken place in the north country.

Three wagon loads of people were on their way to church on the Charlton-Elk Lake road on Sunday when a party of Provincial constables caught up to them and demanded to see what was in the wagons. There were protest and recriminations on the part of the churchgoers, gradually rising to the point of hectic language and violence. But the officers insisted and the search accordingly took place.

The result was the discovery of just eleven hundred bottles of whiskey, the biggest seizure ever made. The party did not go on to church, but will, instead, appear before the police magistrate. The Licensee Department will sell the fire-water.

The roads in the mining camps are breaking up, and it is thought that this was an attempt to get in the summer's supply of liquor to Elk Lake before they became impassable.

500 Every Day Leave the United States

Winnipeg, April 18.—The American immigration is said to amount to 500 people every day of the week. Each week there are approximately five hundred cars of settler's effects. The rush through Portal has become so great that the Canadian Pacific have men at work laying four additional tracks there. They are also building there a platform 1,000 feet long. Dr. Hilton, the chief assistant in Ottawa to Dr. Rutherford, is established there protecting Canada against the introduction of horses with infectious diseases. The number of inspectors ther have been doubled by the Dominion Government and everything possible is being done to protect settlers from unnecessary delay.

The move aim New Ontario appears to be as large as ever. Homesteaders' trains arrive daily in Winnipeg from Toronto.

North Portal, Sask., April 18. — Settlers arriving here from the U.S. give some weird accounts of stories being circulated by trainmen, commercial travelers, and merchants along the line in North Dakota. These people see the best class of farmers slipping from their grasp, so to speak, and do their best to deter the intending settler from maiving any farther towards Canada. But notwithstanding all the stories the crowds of settlers continue to pour through this gateway, bound for the Canadian West, and they say the treatment they receive from the Canadian officials at the boundary is away beyond anything they had anticipated. Not only in every kindness shown to themselves, but their horses and cattle are given the best of attention.

Are Shouting for War with Peru

Guayaquil, Ecuador, April 16. — The government has called into service the first reserves. About 1,000 reservists paraded the streets last night, shouting for Ecuador and demanding war with Peru.

The return of Ecuadorean families from Peru has been made the occasion for great patriotic demonstrations. Crowds have met the returning Ecuadoreans at the wharves, and accompanied them with a great show of enthusiasm to their dwellings.

President Alfara is expected here soon from Quito. Guayaquil capitalists have offered the government all the money required for the war, have settled their dispute

It is rumored that Chili and Peru have settled their dispute regarding the Provinces of Tacna and Arica, and this has aroused great interest, as that would be likely to mean at least a partial withdrawal of Chilean support from Ecuador.

The Peruvian minister at Quito is having daily conferences with the Ecuadorean foreign minister, with a view of reaching an amicable adjustment of differences, but, it is said, little progress has been made.

Killed in Calgary.

A despatch from Calgary, Alta., dated April 16th, says:

"Alex. Clark, partner with Sidney Tivey in the Calgary Quick Print Works died in the General Hospital this morning from what is supposed to be concussion of the brain though the circumstances surrounding his death are mysterious. He was taken to the hospital unconscious a few days ago with a bruise on his head. It is said that he was assaulted and robbed. Deceased, who was well known in Toronto, London and Winnipeg, was about 33 years of age and single, was born in Kincardine, and worked at the Winnipeg Free Press office, coming here a few weeks ago. An inquest will be held because of ugly rumors in connection with the affair. Deceased's family has not yet been located."

RAISE IN THE TIMBER CHARGES

DUES INCREASED FROM 50 TO 150 PER CENT. AND GROUND RENT RAISED.

Are Fixed for Ten Years—Government to Control the Fire Rangers and Lumbermen Pay the Wages.

Dues on pine sawlogs raised from $1 to $1.50 per thousand.

Dues on square timber raised from $20 to $50 per thousand cubic feet.

Dues on hemlock raised by 25 cent per thousand.

Ground rents raised from $1 to $5 per mile.

Transfer fees raised from $1 to $5.

Licensees of timber berths will now pay all the costs of fire rangers, instead of a half as at present. Province retains control of them.

These changes are to remain unchanged for the next ten years.

An important advance has been made by the Ontario Government in the price it will charge lumbermen for raw material. In a statement made to the press, Hon. Frank Cochrane, minister of Lands, Forests and Mines, explained what these changes will be, and that it has been felt for some time by the government that it should share in the increased amount which timber in the rough stage is bringing in today.

The price of pine has been raised from $1 to $1.50 per thousand feet. Squared timber will cost $50 per thousand cubic feet in future, instead of $20 as formerly, and the cost of hemlock has gone up by 25 cents per thousand also. Another change is that by which ground rents have been increased from $3 to $5 per mile. This change frankly follows a similar one made in the Province of Quebec just a short time ago. There is also a rise in the cost of transfer fees of from $1 to $5 per mile.

Another change which is likely to cause some dissatisfaction among the lumbermen is that by which owners of limits shall be expected to pay the fire rangers, instead of the government paying them as formerly. It has been announced that the rate now established shall remain unchanged for the next ten years.

A significant feature of these changes is that they follow on the heels of the announcement of a conservation policy with regard to the timber by Sir Lomer Gouin, Premier of Quebec. The two Provinces are now practically at one on this matter, and both premiers are avowedly in favor of a policy which will conserve as much as possible the lumber resources of their respective Provinces.

Hon. Mr. Cochrane stated that for a long time the government had been of the opinion that it should make something out of the greatly increased value of timber berths of long standing. Both interests, that of the lumberman and that of the public, had been considered. In his opinion the changes made would not have a very serious effect on the lumbermen, and would at the same time give a considerable increase to the revenues of the province from this source.

"In 1687 the dues on old limits were increased from 75 cents to $1," said Mr. Cochrane. "That is a long time ago. We have now doubled the rise then made. The making of square and waney board timber is a wasteful process and we have made a substantial increase in these dues. Hemlock is coming more into use now, and we have made a substantial increase on that as well. There are other small increases, but they are not of much importance.

"Then we have increased the ground rent to $5 per mile, and this rate will obtain all over the Province. The last increase on this was in 1887 also. The timber limeneers urged that there should be a fixed period of time in which the dues should not be raised further, on the grounds that should they want to secure themselves with a bank or sell their property they are handicapped by not knowing where they are. We considered that there was a great deal of truth in this, and have made ten year as the period during which no further changes will be made."

An Interesting Address.

A very interesting address was given last night in St. Andrew's church by Rev. Harold Clarke, B.A., of Honan, China, who has done splendid work in that far-off mission field. He had some exciting and hazardous experiences during his service in the far east, having acted as interpreter for a distinguished explorer through the western part of China into the borders of Thibet. The address was illustrated by lantern views shown by Mr. H. O. Fiske. There was some excellent musical numbers rendered which added much to the enjoyment of those present.

Earl Grey Asks to Repeat the Performance of the Geisha

At 7.30 last evening, Mr. R. J. Devey received a telegram message from F. C. T. O'Hara, esq., hon.sec., of the Executive Committee of the Earl Grey musical and Dramatic Trophy Competition, stating that his excellency and suite would be pleased to have the "Geisha" put on at the Grand Opera House on Saturday, when their Excellencies Lord and Lady Grey would have an opportunity of witnessing a complete production of this excellent opera and also of publicly expressing their congratulations to the company on the excellence of their work.

It will be remembered that Mr. Devy and his company of local amateurs staged and sang this difficult opera at Toronto recently in competition with the whole of Canada, for the Earl Grey musical trophy, and while the award went to the Ottawa Symphony Orchestra from the judgment of an American critic. His excellency the governor-general expressed his highest approval of the work of the Peterborough Operatic Company, and regretted that he had been privileged to see but one act of the Geisha. The Geisha Company is to be congratulated upon the exceptional notice that their work has elicited from the governor-general, and his excellency particularly hints that the same lifts Peterborough into the front ranks of amateur musical and histrionic talent.

To a Times representative, Mr. Devey said he had immediately upon receipt of the governor-general's request arranged with his company for another production of the Geisha in the opera house on Saturday next—afternoon or night—according to his excellencies pleasure.

The Geisha is an expensive opera to stage, and Mr. Devey who assumed all responsibility for the late production, lost money on his venture, owing to the expenses in connection with the competition at Toronto. On Saturday next, however, the attendance, at prices to be announced later will undoubtedly insure a balance on the right side of the ledger.

Incidentally it might be remarked that a vice-regal request is equivalent to a demand.

Great Nation is Humiliating Its Self-Respecting People

Says the Journal of Commerce Respecting United States' Attitude on Pulpwood Prohibition—Main or Michigan Would do Exactly the Same as Quebec has Done

New York, April 18.—In a sharp editorial entitled "Wood Pulp Folly" the Journal of Commerce attacks American greed, upholding the Canadian pulp policy, and says: "Nothing could be more unworthy a great nation or more humiliating to its self-respecting people, than the fuss that has been made over the question of trade in pulp. Ontario and Quebec are only doing exactly what Maine or Michigan would do. The tariff somewhat reduced the duty on pulp and paper, when it ought to have removed it altogether, but it has imposed a special exaction where any obstruction is imposed in Canada upon an export of wood.

"This is a petty business calculated to cause ill-feeling, but it hurts our own people far more than those of Canada. Pulp wood comes free of duty from Canada, but why not let it be ground into pulp and bring that in free, which would result in the cheapening of paper? Our trade relations with Canada are disturbed and embarrassed by this contemptible fuss over wood pulp grown on Crown lands in Ontario, Quebec, and by the greed of a pampered trust."

THE EARL GREY TROPHY.

Saturday Night's Criticism of Peterborough's Talent—Warm Tribute of Praise for Miss Lavinia Halihan.

Toronto Saturday Night has the following:

The two Peterborough entries were face to face with a very difficult situation. The Madrigal Club had to compete with choristers who have received as fine a training as may be obtained anywhere, and those who presented "The Geisha," were handicapped by the fact that their production, though entered for the musical trophy, had its dramatic element as well. The participants did not shine as actors and their ensemble was bad, but they rendered the choruses well, and Miss Lavina Halihan, who sang the part of Mimosa San, was probably the best vocalist heard during the week. There was unfortunately no way in which her talents could be officially recognized, much as his excellency and the various judges might have wished it. She was not entered for the solo competition, the ensemble production in which she figured was distanced by the other offerings; and her talents as an actress, apart from her singing abilities, did not justify her the consideration as a candidate for the Margaret Anglin bracelet. Therefore Miss Halihan had to be content with the applause universally bestowed upon her.

Predicts War if America Pushes Far East Plans

Tokio, April 16.—An anonymous writer in the Tokio Central Review fears that if America continues her endeavor to increase her interests in the far east war may result with Japan. The principal cause of anti-Japanese feeling in America, he says, is the secret service funds of shipbuilding yards, which wish to benefit by an increase in armaments. German Jews in America are also asserted to utilize every occasion to foster anti-Japanese feeling.

Mr. Suglura, a Japanese proprietor of a printing office in San Francisco, in an interview today, declared that anti-Japanese feeling is so intense in America that soon it will be an impossible place for Japanese of any class to live unless the Japanese government changes its policy. The situation, he declares, is becoming intolerable.

Work on Canal.

Lindsay Post: The steamer "Herbert" with Wm. Quinn, foreman, Peterborough, and a gang of men, will commence in a few days to haul stone from the lift lock at Kirkfield to the reach between locks 1 and 2, to rip-rap the banks of the canal. This will be their headquarters and they will have their cookery located here. It is anticipated that they will operate in this vicinity the greater part of the coming season, which will cause a large amount of money to be circulated in this locality.

A UNIVERSAL FOOD.

Following Nature's Footsteps.

"I have a boy, two years old, weighing forty pounds and in perfect health, who has been raised on Grape Nuts and milk.

"This is an ideal food and evidently furnishes the elements necessary for a baby as well as adults. We have used Grape-Nuts in large quantities and greatly to our advantage.

One advantage about Grape-Nuts food is that it is pre-digested in the process of manufacture; that is, the starch maintained in the wheat and barley is transformed into a form of sugar by the same method as this process is carried out in the human body, that is, by the use of moisture and long exposure to moderate warmth, which grows the diastase in the grains and makes the remarkable change from starch to sugar.

Therefore, the most delicate stomach can handle Grape-Nuts and the food is quickly absorbed into the blood and tissue, certain parts of it going directly to building and nourishing the brain and nerve centers.

DOG OWNERS FINED.

Hamilton Dog Owners are Made to Suffer.

Editor Morning Times:

Sir,—As there has been so much abuse heaped upon the City Fathers by dog owners on account of the dog by-law, I take the liberty of asking you to publish the following taken from a Hamilton paper of Saturday last:

"Mrs. John Rogers, Mrs. Griffin and Ogilivie Stephens were each fined $100 this morning for allowing their dogs to run at large without muzzles.

"Three other persons were fined $5 for allowing their dogs to be on the streets, although they had muzzles.

"These fines are the result of an active campaign the police are inaugurating to keep the dogs off the streets."

Peterborough dog owners should take warning by this and see that the bylaw is observed.

Yours truly,

ANTI-DOG

Woman Drowned in River Identified as Mrs. Arthur Best

Police of Detroit are Now Looking for the Husband, who was with This Woman When Last Seen—Theory is That he Threw Her off the Dock

Detroit, Mich., April 18.— The body of Mrs. Arthur J. Best, who disappeared from her home in Detroit on March 12 last, was found in the lower Detroit River Sunday afternoon, and, though horribly decomposed, was positively identified by members of her family at the county morgue this morning. The police are now looking for her husband, a young man whose home is near Comber, Ont., and who was with her the night upon which she was last seen alive.

HUSBAND WAS RELEASED.

Best was under arrest a few days after his wife's disappearance, but was released because the police had no evidence that his wife was not still alive.

It was believed that the woman, who was seen floating down the river on a cake of ice, near the Detroit side, that night, and who slipped off and sank from sight as assistance was at hand, was Mrs. Best, but this could not be established at the time. The police theory is that Best threw his wife off the dock into the river.

Comber, April 18.—The body will come here for burial. Best came to Comber after being released by the Detroit authorities, but his stay was brief. The Detroit police are asking for his whereabouts. It is supposed that he is at Harrow, where his mother lives.

If in Doubt About the Right Pills to Use Read the Following. Letter Carefully:
"I am one of those persons whose system requires aid," writes Mr. Young Gledhil, from Pieton, "but it is so easily affected by reason of the great sensitiveness of the bowels that ordinary drastic pills inflict great injury to the delicate coating, and excite such persistent activity as to be with difficulty checked.
"I wish in the highest terms to express the great value of Dr. Hamilton's Pills in cases like mine, and I am sure also for elderly people and the very weak, there is no pill like them.
"Speaking of my own experience with Dr. Hamilton's Pills, I can say they have proved the most stimulating pills for the liver I have found. The old fashioned way of dosing a weak stomach, or stimulating the Heart or Kidneys is all wrong. Dr. Shoop first pointed out this error. This is why his prescription— Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed entirely to the cause of these ailments—the weak inside or controlling nerves. It isn't so difficult, says Dr. Shoop, to strengthen a weak Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, if one gains at it correctly. Each inside nerve has its controling or inside nerve. When these nerves fail, then these organs must surely falter. These vital truth must surely falter. These vital truths are leading druggists everywhere to dispense and recommend Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Test it a few days, and see! Improvement will promptly and surely follow. Sold by all dealers.

CANADIAN GOODS.

Mr. W. T. R. Preston, Canada's Trade Commissioner in Holland, has sent the following to the Commerce Department at Ottawa.

Very little can be said about opportunities in Holland for an extension of trade between the Dominion and the Netherlands, other than to say that about everything that can be exported from Canada in the way of eatables for human consumption and fodder for animals will always find an active demand here, including a constant demand for greases and fats for the local manufacture of various forms of margerine.

Among the cereals imported from Canada, barley is especially valued. More than 50,000,000 guidens worth are brought in from various countries annually. Much of this is used for malting and cattle feeding. The Canadian produce has the peculiar qualities necessary in the manufacture of the famous Holland gin, has a distinct place in the market for that purpose, and is a competitor for favor with the barley imported from the lower Danube.

Notwithstanding the fact that Holland exports enormous values for human consumption to Great Britain, there is a steady market for Canadian produce. It is surprising, however, to find that a considerable quantity of Canadian products reach Holland through Boston and New York. In many instances these are accredited in the public statistics as importations from the United States.

Canadian agricultural implements should be energetically pushed in the Netherlands. It is possible that certain other classes of Canadian manufacturers will also find a market. phase is now being carefully investigated.

For apple, sun-dried or evaporated, there is an inexhaustible market in Europe. Rotterdam is one of the principal entry ports for Central and Southern Germany, while Amsterdam is a great trading center for the northern part of the continent, and the possibility of shipping certain classes of goods profitably elsewhere is not overlooked by Dutch traders.

No goods should be shipped to this country that are not of the best quality or not properly graded. More trade is lost to Canada by failure on the part of Canadian shippers to realize that want of fair dealing on their part closes the door for future transactions. Consignments of Canadian products that have been made to this side of the Atlantic have seriously interfered with a greater extension of Canadian trade.

Satan Sanderson

By HALLIE ERMINIE RIVES,

Author of "Hearts Courageous," Etc.

COPYRIGHT 1909, THE BOBBS-MERRILL COMPANY

CONTINUED.

Since the ... evening of the will making Harry had learned that the long lane had had no true turning for Hugh. He had sifted him through and through. At college he had put him down for a weakling—embellished, misdemeanant. Now he knew him for what he really was—a moral weakling, a scamp in embryo, a decadent, realising an ugly propensity to a deplorable finale. A consistent career of loose living had carried Hugh far since those college days when he had been dubbed "Satan's shadow." While to Harry Sanderson the eccentric and egoistical had then been, as it were, the mask through which his temperament looked at life, to Hugh it had spelled shipwreck. Harry Sanderson had done broadly as he pleased. He had entertained whom he listed, had gone "slumming," had once bored to a finish for a wager a local pugilist whose acquaintance he affected, known as "Gentleman Jim." He had been both the hardest hitter and the hardest drinker in his class, yet withal its most brilliant student. Native character had enabled him to persist, as the exasperating function of success which dissipation declined to eliminate. But the same natural gravitation which in spite of all aberration had given Harry Sanderson classical honors had brought Hugh Stires to the imminent brink of expulsion. And since that time, without the character which belonged to Harry as a possession, Hugh had continued to drift aimlessly on down the broad lax way of profligacy.

The conditions he found upon his return, however, had opened Hugh's eyes to the perilous strait in which he stood. He was a materialist, and the taste he had had of deprivation had sickened him. In the first revulsion, when the contrast between recent famine and present plenty was strong upon him, he had been at anxious pains to make himself secure with his father—and with Jessica Holme. Harry's mental sight—keen as the hunter's sight on the rifle barrel—was sharpened by his knowledge of the old Hugh's intuitive knowledge gained in a significant formative period. He saw more clearly than the townsfolk who in a general way had known Hugh Stires all their lives. Week by week Harry had seen him regain lost ground in his father's esteem. Day by day he had seen him making studious appeal to all that was romantic in Jessica, climbing to the favor of each on the ladder of the other's regard. Hugh was naturally a poseur, with a keen sense of effect. He could be brilliant at will, could play a little on piano, banjo and violin, could sing a little and had himself well in hand. And, feeling the unconscious chord of romance vibrate to his touch, he had played upon it with no unskilful fingers.

Jessica was comparatively free from that coquetry by means of which a woman's instinct experiments in emotion. Although she had been artist enough before the cloistered years of her blindness to know that she was comely, she had never employed that beauty in the ordinary blandishments of girlish fascination. But steadily and unconsciously she had turned in her darkness more and more to the bright and tender air with which Hugh clothed all their intercourse. Her blindness had been of too short duration to have developed that fine sense-perception with which nature seeks to supplement the darkened vision. The incredulous marks which ill governed living had set in Hugh's face, the self indulgence and egotism, she could not see. She mistook impulse for instinct. She read him by the untrustworthy light of a colorful imagination. She deemed him high spirited and debonair, a Prince Charming, whose prideful rebellion had been atoned for by a touching and manly surrender.

He began to play

All this Harry had watched with a painful sense of impotence, and this feeling was upon him today as he stared out from the study toward the white porch glistening in the sun.

At length, with a little gesture expressive at once of helplessness and puzzle, he turned from the window, took his violin and began to play. He began a barcarole, but the music wandered away through insensible variations into a moving minor, a composition of his own.

It broke off suddenly at a dog's fierce snarl from the yard and the rattle of a thrown pebble. Immediately a knock came at the door, and a man entered.

"Don't stop," said the new comer. "I've dropped in for only a minute. That's an ill tempered little brute of yours. If I were you I'd get rid of him."

Harry Sanderson laid the violin carefully in its case and shut the lid before he answered. "Rummy is impulsive," he said dryly. "How is your father today, Hugh?"

The other tapped the toe of his shining patent leather with his cane as he said with a look of ill humor:

"About as well as usual. He's planning now to put me in business and expects me to become a staid pillar of society—'like Sanderson,' as he says forty times a week. How do you do it, Harry? There isn't an old lady in town who thinks her parlor carpet half good enough for you to walk on. You're only a month older than I am, yet you can wind the whole vestry and the bishop to boot around your finger."

"I wasn't aware of the 'idiotry,'" Harry laughed a little—a distant laugh. "You are observant, Hugh."

"Oh, anybody can see it. I'd like to know how you do it. It was always so with you—even at college. You could do pretty much as you liked and yet be popular too. Why, there was never a jamboree complete without you and your violin at the head of the table."

"That is a long time ago," said Harry.

"More than four years. Four years ... a mouth ... [illegible] ... ing."

THE WOLTER TRIAL

New York, April 16.—The district attorney's office has completed all preparations for beginning the murder trial of Albert Walter Wolter, which is on the docket for next Monday, to be called before Judge Warren W. Foster, in Part V. of the Court of General Sessions. The defendant, a Saxon boy of eighteen years, is charged with having murdered Ruth Amos Wheeler, a handsome girl of fifteen years, and with having dismembered and partly burned her body. The crime which was committed less than a month ago, was of an unusually brutal and fiendish nature, and created considerable sensation at the time.

Assistant District-Attorney Frank Moss, who has been at work almost constantly since the discovery of the crime, collecting evidence against Wolter, is confident of being able to convict the accused of the crime with which he is charged. He has in his possession what he considers to be a strong chain of circumstantial evidence, sufficient, he believes to prove the guilt of Wolter.

The first link in the evidence to be submitted by the prosecution will be the admission of Wolter that he wrote a postal card to the Merchants' and Bankers' Business College, where Miss Wheeler had studied stenography, asking that a stenographer be sent to his home at No. 224 East Seventy-fifth street. The card which was handed to Miss Wheeler, and which she probably had in her possession when she entered Wolter's apartments, has not been found, but the card was seen by several witnesses, who particularly noted upon it the impression of a rubber stamp identical with that of a stamp found in Wolter's possession. The fact that Wolter afterward denied having written to the college for a stenographer is expected to count against him, when it is shown by the testimony of several witnesses that such a card actually existed and when Wolter's notebook is produced in evidence, by which it is expected to show not only that Wolter had been in the habit of answering advertisements of stenographers applying for work, but that he had written to the Merchants' and Bankers' Business College and had seen and spoken to Miss Wheeler. In proof of the latter contention it will be pointed out that Miss Wheeler was known in the college and among her girl friends merely as Ruth Wheeler, as she never used her middle name, Amos. The fact that Wolter had entered Miss Wheeler's name in his notebook as "Ruth Amos Wheeler," will be pointed out by the prosecution as a proof that Wolter must have spoken with Miss Wheeler.

Next it is proposed to show that Wolter's card was handed to Miss Wheeler, and that she was seen to enter the Seventy-fifth street house soon after 9 a.m., March 23. The janitor of the building will testify that Miss Wheeler asked for Wolter's flat and that she went upstairs after he had given her the proper directions. Nobody ever saw Miss Wheeler leave the house. It is expected to show that a man answering Wolter's description was seen placing two bundles upon the fire escape of Wolter's flat about 10 a.m., March 23. In one of the bundles was afterwards found a charred human body, which was positively identified as that of Ruth Wheeler. The other bundle contained, among other things a night shirt which Wolter identified as his property. Another strong link is expected to prove the fact that the umbrella which Ruth Wheeler carried on the morning when she went to Wolter's flat, was found in the possession of Matie Miller, with whom Wolter lived in the flat on Seventy-fifth St., and with whom he moved to another flat in West One Hundred and Fifth street after the police had visited his rooms on Seventy-fifth street.

Mr. Moss will prove by the testimony of a salesgirl that Wolter on the afternoon of March 23, between two and three o'clock, purchased a can of black paint and a brush in a certain store and that he afterwards painted the marble around the fireplace of his flat, presumably to cover the grease which had dripped on the marble when Miss Wheeler's body was burned. He will also establish the fact that human bones, part of a shirt waist, such as had been worn by Miss Wheeler, her hatpins and puffs were found in the stove and fireplace of Wolter's flat. Expert testimony will be introduced to prove that the grease under the paint of Wolter's fireplace was human fat.

It is expected that the defence will make a general denial of Wolter's guilt, will cast doubt upon the identification of the body as that of Ruth Wheeler, will maintain that an identification of the body and of the hat pins, chain and shirtwaist was impossible under the circumstances. If everything else should fail, it is believed, the defence will rely upon a plea of insanity to save Wolter.

FRANCE AND GREAT BRITAIN.

France Drops Out of Race for Supremacy.

There has been much conjecture, especially in German diplomatic circles, as to the exact interpretation which is to be put on the fact that France has apparently dropped out of the race with Germany for naval supremacy. As against Germany's eventual fighting strength of thirty-eight battleships, France has announced her intention of resting satisfied with twenty-eight; she has determined to concentrate the whole of her fighting fleet in Mediterranean waters, thereby stripping her Northern and Atlantic coasts of everything but submarines and a few torpedo-boats; and she is carrying out this program with a bland and superior confidence which implies, at least to German observers, the existence of some hidden but powerful reason for believing that it will not endanger the safety of the Republic.

The first impulse of the majority of Teutonic critics has been to jump to the conclusion that the course was merely the outward manifestation of that entente which has been long known to exist, with more or less definite pledges of mutual support and co-operation between France and Great Britain, it is assumed, is to undertake the defence of the northern coasts of France against any attack by a hostile German fleet, while France, by concentrating all her fighting ships in the Mediterranean, has made possible the great reduction of British naval forces on that station and the consequent strengthening of the great North Sea fleet. No less conservative and well-informed a journal than The Spectator is inclined to corroborate the German theories and to see in France's attitude another demonstration of the well-developed understanding bftwoen Great Britain, France and Russia.

National Mining & Tunnel Company

Our mines are in the greatest camp in America, Leadville, Col., a camp which has produced "a million a month for four hundred months."

We have four hundred acres in the richest proven belt of the county, containing twelve mines, which have already produced to shallow workings over $2,000,000. Our big tunnel being driven in from the base of the mountain will cut these vast ore bodies at depth, and make their millions of dollars worth of ore accessible to us.

Within five months we should cut into our rich ore bodies, and become a large producer before the year closes. It is confidently believed that the Company can pay fabulous profits in the very near future.

Leadville, Colorado, Jan. 6.

Mr. C. L. T. Fisher,

President National Mining & Tunnel Co.,
Lynchburg, Va.

Dear Sir,—My active mining experience extends over a period of more than thirty years and my intimate experience on Sugar Loaf Mountain more than twenty years of that time.

I am acquainted with all the mines on this mountain and positively know that they have produced many millions of dollars in gold and silver values, and for every million that has been mined near the surface, you may confidently expect to extract ten millions along the line of your tunnel. Your advantage in drainage and great depth attained, together with the most economical system of mining makes your project the most safe and alluring that has ever come under my observation. Knowing well the success that will certainly be yours, I congratulate you.

VOL. XXXIII NO. 91 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO WEDNESDAY APRIL 20 1910 PRICE TWO CENTS

Child is Choked by a Swing Rope

Distressing Accident Reported in a Former Lakefield Family at Vancouver

Lakefield, April 19.—Word has been received that the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Hazlett, formerly of this place, met death in a peculiar manner at Vancouver. The little boy who was two and a half years old, was playing with his little sister in a swing suspended from the limb of an apple tree. The mother watched them for some time, but going out a little later found the little girl asleep on the ground and the little boy also apparently asleep with his head over the cord of the swing. Failing to awake him, she sent for a physician, who told her that life was extinct, the pressure of the cord upon the windpipe of the child having caused strangulation.

Canada and the British West Indies

The Royal Commission to investigate the possibility of increasing the direct trade between Canada and the British West Indies, and of which Mr. Fielding was a member, is now completing the round of the Islands with a view to understand the local conditions. It has discovered one thing which had long been known to those who were acquainted with the Islands. That is the fact that there is a great diversity of interests and a great divergence in the policy between what are known as the "sugar islands" and the "fruit islands." In order to arrive at a clear comprehension of the trade situation in the Islands it must be realized that neither in commercial interests nor in sentiment are the Islands a unit, and we have no doubt that whatever may have been the views of the members of the Royal Commission when they started on their journey to the Tropics, they have come to the full realization of the fact that to secure any increased trade with that part of the Empire, differential commercial and fiscal treatment must be extended to the two classes into which natural and industrial conditions have divided the Islands.

Of another thing the members of the Commission will almost certainly have assured themselves, and that is that there is no foundation for the suggestion that the people of some of the Islands cherish anti-British sentiments and look towards union with the United States. We doubt whether there is any other part of the Empire in which the people are more loyal to the flag or more proud of their traditions as British communities, which in times past have had to bear their share of the burdens which that loyalty entailed. But the people of the "fruit islands," of which Jamaica is the largest and most important, are naturally anxious that no policy should be initiated by their governments that would destroy or injure the markets for their fruit in the United States. The shipments to that country have assumed very large proportions and the fruit industry has brought with it a revival of the prosperity which at one time was enjoyed when sugar was the chief production, but which disappeared when high tariffs and European beet sugar altered the situation and caused the decay of the plantations. It is only reasonable, therefore, that the people of those islands should regard with anxiety any step that might impair the prosperity that the demand for their fruit in the United States has brought about.

At the same time there is a general desire for closer union and extended intercourse with Canada and other parts of the Empire. While the market for their fruit that is available in Canada is, of course, much smaller than that they have found in the United States, the people of the West Indies appreciate what Canada has done for them in reviving the sugar industry, and which in those islands where it is carried on has once more been placed in a prosperous condition. This help from Canada came exactly at the time when the American market was closed by the tariff legislation at Washington designed to aid Cuba and the new dependencies of the United States in the Pacific. What effect, if any, the negotiation of the Canadian-German commercial treaty may have on the West Indian sugar trade with Canada remains to be seen. From an Imperial point of view it will be unfortunate if the result should be a blow to the prosperity which the fiscal arrangements with Canada had brought about.

Within a few years a new factor will appear that should add very considerably to the importance and prosperity of the West Indian Islands That is the opening of the Panama be entirely changed by the opening Canal. The economic position will be entirely changed by the opening of that new waterway. The Islands will be in the route of vessels using the Canal. More than one of them will become way stations for the maritime traffic that will be developed, while they will be brought thousands of miles nearer the Pacific Coast and distance will no longer be an obstacle to a commerce with the North Pacific Coast which the diversity of the products of the two countries can scarcely fail to develop when the Canal is open.

CHIEF BROKE LEG OVER ROOSEVELT

SUCH A CRUSH TO SEE THE COLONEL THAT POLICE STEPPED IN AND WERE HURT.

Reception in Hungary by Royalty and Democracy—Ex-President the Lion of the Hour.

Budapest, April 18.—Col. Roosevelt's visit to Budapest has already cost the chief of police a broken leg, and if the enthusiasm of the Hungarian populace continues throughout his stay, there is no telling what the final count may be.

The chief of police was caught in last night's crush at the railway station, knocked down and trampled upon. He tried his best to save himself by telling the people who he was, but the great throng was bent on just one thing—getting as near Roosevelt as possible, and had the chief been the emperor, it is probable, the result would have been the same.

Roosevelt said the struggle at the station reminded him of a New York department store bargain rush. He was literally raised off the ground, and carried forty feet by the enthusiastic mob, but emerged without a scratch.

The colonel began a repittion of the old grind at 10.30 o'clock, at which hour he called on Archduke Joseph. With some friends, Roosevelt visited parliament, where legislative matters were almost abandoned while a reception was held in his honor. In the evening County Apponyi gave a dinner for Roosevelt, at which the legislative leaders, Archduke Joseph and Baron and Baroness Von Hengelmueller, were present.

Despite the attempts of royalty and the nobility to claim all of the colonel's time, he showed that he has lost none of his democratic spirit by breaking away from his entertainers long enough to visit Francis Kossuth, the leader of the United Opposition party. Kossuth is ill and unable to leave his house. He was overjoyed when the colonel was announced. This visit was wholly unexpected and was a startling revelation to the Hungarians of Roosevelt's democracy. It served to increase the enthusiasm of the people. A three-hour automobile trip over the city was the principal event of the afternoon.

VICE-REGAL PARTY

Will Arrive Saturday Noon by Canadian Pacific.

Earl Grey, governor-general, and party, will arrive in Peterborough on the 11.26 C.P.R. train from Toronto on Saturday, and will leave here for Ottawa on the mid-night C.P.R. train. He will be accompanied by the Earl of Lanesborough, military secretary, and Captain Fite, A.D.C. The letter received states that the program drafted at the special meeting of the City Council on Saturday night, is satisfactory to his excellency.

A meeting of the Reception Committee was held last night to make further arrangements for the reception to the vice-regal party.

75TH ANNIVERSARY.

St. Paul's Church Will Have Special Services Commemorative of Occasion.

St. Paul's Presbyterian church intend celebrating their seventy-fifth anniversary on the first and second Sabbaths in May. They will hold a series of special meetings in connection with this very special event. On the first Sabbath of May the Rev. Robert Johnson, D.D., of Montreal, will occupy the pulpit. In the afternoon a special service will be conducted for children and will be addressed by Dr. Johnson. On Monday evening, May 2nd, a public meeting will be held, at which representatives from the different ecclesiastical bodies of the city will give addresses. It is also expected that some of our public men, Hon. J. R. Stratton, Judge Huycke and a representative of the council will speak. On Wednesday evening, May 4th, the choir will give a sacred concert in the church. They will be assisted by Mr. A. L. E. Davies, basso, and Mr. Hollingshead, tenor. A program of great musical merit has been prepared. On the second Sabbath Communion will be observed at the morning service. An effort is being made to invite to this service as many of the former members of St. Paul's as can possibly attend. Then on the Monday evening following this Sabbath a social will be held from six to eight o'clock, after which there will be a public meeting when former members of St. Paul's will give addresses of a reminiscent character.

ORILLIA TO HAVE NEW UNION STATION.

Both C.P.R. and C.N.R. Will Use the New Structure.

Orillia, April 19.—Orillia will experience this summer the greatest boom in its history. The contract for the construction of the Orillia to Coldwater section of the C.P.R. will be let during the coming week. The C.N.R. will use their tracks into Orillia, from Atherley, coming into a union station with the C.P.R. at the foot of Mississauga street, in the heart of the business section of the town. The building of the bridges over the Narrows at Atherley and construction throughout the town, including yards and station, will amount to about $500,000, all of which is to be completed by November.

The town is installing, through Engineer Willis Chipman of Toronto, a modern sewage plant, and will commence this summer to reconstruct their waterworks system. One hundred and fifty thousand dollars will be expended on this work.

The Tudhope Carriage Company are erecting an automobile factory, and the E. Long Company a $50,000 machine plant.

Prompt relief in all cases of throat and lung trouble if you use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Pleasant to take, soothing and healing in effect. Sold by all dealers.

A CHIME OF BELLS.

Rev. Canon Davidson's Appeal Should Be Met.

Editor Morning Times:

Sir,—I was greatly pleased to read Rev. Canon Davidson's letter, and I am sure there will be a hearty response. I would just say here that from what I know about chimes, $1,500 is not nearly sufficient to purchase first-class chimes. $5,000 would be more like it, and I suggest that this amount be raised for the purpose. There is no reason on earth why the funds should not be subscribed. Even if it takes a little longer, it will pay to wait. Let everyone give something, no matter how little. I would suggest that a citizens' committee be formed, comprised largely of members of the Board of Trade, to further this most deserving object.

It was The Times that first suggested a chime of bells for St. John's. This was eight or probably ten years ago, and I am glad to think that after all these years your suggestion is likely to mature.

Thanking you for your space, I am

Yours truly,

J. W. CURRY.

How the Amendments Will Affect Peterborough.

There are some slight amendments to the Assessment Act that will affect the general result to some extent.

Heretofore the personal earnings of householders and heads of families have been exempted to the amount of $1,000. Now they are exempted to the extent of $1,200. The exemption on the personal earnings of non-householders and those who are not heads of families remains at $600.

Then the business tax assessment on newspaper properties has been reduced from 50 per cent. to 35 per cent.

Archbishop Orders Men Not to Speak at Methodist Church

A Montreal Sensation---Judge Lemieux and Dr. Dube Told Not to Address Temperance Meeting

Montreal, April 19.—The unusual action of Archbishop Bruchesi in forbidding Judge Lemieux of Quebec, and Dr. J. E. Dubé, a leading Montreal practitioner, to speak on Sunday night at the temperance meeting held at St. James' church LLLL ing held at St. James' Methodist church, is causing a great fuss here. They were advertised as speakers at this meeting, which was of a purely non-sectarian character and dealt only with anti-saloon matters, in pursuance of a campaign in which Archbishop Bruchesi has been one of the most active leaders.

It is supposed that the action of Archbishop Bruchesi has been dictated by the recent events at Rome with ex-President Roosevelt and Mr. Fairbanks. It is considered that his grace reasoned that if after these painful episodes at Rome, the cables should inform the Vatican that a Roman Catholic judge of the Quebec Superior Court had appeared in a Methodist temple on Sunday evening at a meeting presided over by a Methodist minister, the holy father and still more the alert Merry Del Val, would have a poor idea of the discipline maintained by Archbishop Bruchesi in this ultra-Catholic diocese of Montreal.

GOT BUSY ON SATURDAY.

It appears that Archbishop Bruchesi did not know of Judge Lemieux's engagement to speak at the Methodist church until Saturday, and he then kept the wires hot between here and Archbishop Begin at Quebec, until he had the latter's command that Judge Lemieux should not fulfill his engagement, the judge residing within the spiritua, domain of Quebec.

The whole affair has aroused great feeling amongst the Methodist and other Protestant circles in this city, and it is likely that the incident is by no means closed, and that it will not prove of great assistance to the temperance cause.

Both Dr. Dube and Judge Lemieux felt greatly mortified by the turn of events.

ANOTHER CASE.

The incident reminds people here of the time Rev. Dr. Barclay came to Quebec to preach in St. Andrew's Presbyterian church some years ago, and amongst those who went to hear him were Sir Francis Langelier and the Hon. John Hearn, M.L.A., both strong Roman Catholics. They were delighted with the sermon and told their friends so next day.

Next day, however, a polite note came from the palace to the effect that Cardinal Taschereau wanted to see them. They gave no head to the appeal, however, and another letter was received from the archbishop's secretary. Still, however, there was no answer, and the matter dropped out of the public mind.

Constable was Kicked to Death

Vancouver, April 19.—Answering a summons for aid by railway officials Constable Lane was killed last evening by a band of hoboes numbering at least seven, who had boarded the Seattle express as it pulled out on the Canadian side of Sumas. The constable boarded a southbound train and met the express two stations south of Mission. The hoboes were seated at their ease and defying the conductor in the smoking car when the constable arrived. He at once ordered them off, but his orders were met with a volley of oaths. The constable seeing that further parley was useless, resorted to force, and with the help of the train crew grabbed two of the men and rushed them towards the door.

In the melee which followed, the constable was thrown to the floor and was lost to view. The brakeman, conductor and fireman finally succeeded in getting rid of the men, who by this time, had taken up their position on the vestibule. A hasty examination of the constable on the floor revealed injuries inflicted by many feet. He died later.

Three of the men have been arrested and charged with murder.

Choate's Praise of Lord Kitchener

New York, Aoril 19.—"The greatest living soldier in the world," was the tribute paid by Joseph H. Choat to Lord Kitchener, field marshall of Great Britain, at the dinner given in his honor by the Pilgrims at the Waldorf-Astoria. More than 400 distinguished guests lionized the British visitor.

Lord Kitchener in his reply praised the United States military academy at West Point, and referred to the recent Globe-circling voyage of the Atlantic fleet as a great peace-promoting event. Two members of President Taft's cabinet, who attended, voiced the president's regret as being unable to meet the distinguished visitor.

Lord Kitchener said in part: "I have recently been in Australia, and naturally heard there a great deal about the visit of the American fleet. What seems to have struck everyone in the Commonwealth was not only the great courtesy and frank goodwill of the admiral and his officers, but also the good behavior and smartness and preparedness for war of the men and ships of the fleet.

"A few months ago I recommended that the Australian and New Zealand Governments take West Point as their model for the military college they require, and I hope the ideal I have thus placed before them will not appear to them unattainable."

A cablegram from Lord Roberts, president of the British Pilgrims, was read by Mr. Choate.

For the Old Fashioned Coffee Was Killing.

"I always drank coffee with the rest of the family, for it seemed as if there was nothing for breakfast if we did not have it on the table.

"I had been troubled some time with my heart, which did not feel right. This trouble grew worse steadily.

"Sometimes it would beat fast and at other times very slowly, so that I would hardly be able to do work for an hour or two after breakfast, and if I walked up a hill, it gave me a severe pain.

"I had no idea of what the trouble was until a friend suggested that perhaps it might be caused by coffee drinking. I tried leaving off the coffee and began drinking Postum. The change came quickly, and I am now glad to say that I am entirely well of the heart trouble and attribute the relief to leaving off coffee and the use of Postum.

"A number of my friends have abandoned the old-fashioned coffee and have taken up with Postum, which they are using steadily. There are some people that make Postum very weak and tasteless, but if it is boiled long enough, according to directions, it is a very delicious beverage. We have never used any of the old fashioned coffee since Postum was first started in our house."

QUEBEC AWAITS A MIGHTY RUSH

ANCIENT CAPITAL PREPARES TO RECEIVE THE SHIPLOADS OF IMMIGRANTS.

They Want More Dockage, and Sir Wilfrid Will Go Down to Look Around at Session's Close.

Quebec, Que., April 19.—When the Quebec harbor commissioners met yesterday, the president, Mr. J. B. Latiberte, read his report on his visit to Ottawa, concerning harbor improvements. The plans call for more dock room and space for additional tracks for a railway terminus which will necessitate the removal of the old Customs House, and other improvements in that locality.

Sir Willrid Laurier and Hon. Mr. Pugsley, after viewing the plans, promised to come down to Quebec and go over the ground immediately after the session is closed.

LOOKING FOR RUSH.

Quebec, Que., April 19.—The shipping people are looking ahead for a very heavy immigrant season this year, and the number of foreigners that are expected to pass through their hands at this port, bound most it for the West, will be extra large. ly for the West, will be extra large.

A first-class passenger steamer expected here shortly is the Donaldson liner Athenia, that left Glasgow for Montreal on Saturday. She inaugurates the Donaldson line's direct service this tear. Actually six steamers vice this year. Actually six vessels are on the ocean bound to the St. Lawrence from Europe. Two of these are Thomson liners, the Fremona, which sailed from Naples with a cargo of fruit on the 8th; the Iona, of the same line, which left Middlesborough on the 12th; the steamer Prinz Oskar, from Bremen, the Marchester, a trader, from Manchester, both sailing on Saturday, and the Cascapedia, of the Quebec Steamship Company, which left Glasgow yesterday.

After the sloppy winter months, everything is in readiness in the port of Quebec for the arrival of ocean steamers and the immigration officials here are ready to face the rush of new arrivals to this country.

PROBABLY ALL WERE KILLED

SANDY MOUNTAIN SLIDE FELL OVER ON TOP OF BALLAST TRAIN.

Serious Accident on G.T.P.—Twenty-five Men Killed or Injured at an Isolated Spot.

Montreal, April 19.—Fragmentary despatches were received here last night giving information of a disaster on the National Transcontinental line by which 25 men were overwhelmed by a landslide. As far as can be gathered the accident occurred at a Hudson Bay trading post called Cocococache, on the line of the National Transcontinental, about 100 miles north-west of La Tuque, which is nearly 200 miles north of Three Rivers.

It appears there was a slight landslide Sunday morning, the sandy side of a hill rolling down on the track. On Monday morning a gang of men were sent out to clear away the sand, and while they were at work, the side of the mountain broke away and rolled over them, killing almost the whole gang, consisting of twenty Italians, three Englishmen, and two French-Canadians. It is said that an entire ballast train was covered up.

The country where the landslide occurred is vert remote, a hundred miles away from telegraphic communication, and with only telephonic communication by the contractor's line to Le Tegue, which was broken by the landslide, making communication with La Tegue very difficult. The country there is considered by engineers to be the most difficult this side of the Rocky Mountains, consisting of a series of sadly broken and precipitous hills, through which the railway pursues a tortuous course in search of low grades.

Apparently the side of one of these sandy mountains became loosened with melting snow, and frost coming out, and so loosened the soil that it rolled over the track.

Cameron Wins the Boston Marathon

Boston, April 19.—The greatest of all Marathon races was won by Fred L. Cameron of Amherst, N.S. His time was 2 hours 26 minutes 52 seconds.

The winner represents the Ramblers A.A.C.

Clarence DeMar, of Dorchester, Mass., took second place nd gave Cameron a great race for the last five miles.

As Cameron, the winner, romped down Commonwealth avenue to the finish line he was wildly cheered by the thousands who lined the course. He was apparently fresh at the finish and showed no ill effects of the long run. DeMar's time was 2 hours 29 minutes 53 2-5 seconds.

James Corkery, of Toronto, was third.

The last lap of the great race was fought out between Cameron, DeMar, Corkery of Toronto, and Ryan of New York. This quartette set such a fast pace that the other runners found it impossible to keep up and dropped behind.

It first brought on a fit of indigestion, but unfortunately it developed into hiccoughs, accompanied by nausea and cramps. I was dreadfully ill for two days—my head ached and throbbed; I belched gas continually, and I was unable to sleep at night. A neighbor happened in to see me and urged me to try Nerviline. Well, I wouldn't have believed that any preparation could help so quickly. I took half a teaspoonful of Nerviline in hot sweetened water, and my stomach felt better at once. I used Nerviline several times, and was completely restored."

BRITISH IMMIGRATION INTO CANADA.

The statement by the officials of the Canadian Pacific Railway that the increasing immigration into Canada from the British Isles will require the addition of two large vessels to its Atlantic fleet, is very satisfactory. That great company is guided in its operations by purely business motives and the announcement referred to must be regarded as a proof that the stream of emigrants from the United Kingdom to Canada is likely to be permanent and to assume larger proportions than in the past. Besides the material advantage to the Dominion that these additions to our population will afford, there is a sentimental benefit in the movement, since the emigrants do not change either their nationality or the flag when they cross the Atlantic and strike out a new career for themselves on this continent. To the Empire also this diversion to Canada of a considerable part of the volume of emigration from the United Kingdom that in the past has gone to the United States is a gain of no little importance. The more rapidly that the overseas dominions of the King increase in population and wealth, the greater will be the security of the Empire as a whole against attack of aggression by foreign powers which envy the vast territories under the British flag, and would fain seize some of them. It will not be a very long period, as time is calculated in the age of a nation, before the great self-governing dependencies will equal in the aggregate the population of the United Kingdom. Situated as these dependencies are in the most fertile parts of the globe, generally with climates suitable for Europeans and at many points of great strategical importance, it is almost difficult to exaggerate the important position that the British Empire will hold in international affairs or the influence which it will be able to exert in favor of peace and the maintenance of law and order in the world.

will be longer before we forget it."

Harry did not speak. An odd confusion blurred his vision. Perhaps to cover this, he crossed the room to a small private safe which stood open in the corner, in which he kept his tithes and his charities. When Hugh, shrugging his shoulders as if to dismiss the unwelcome picture he had painted, turned again, Harry was putting into it some papers from his pocket. Hugh saw the action. His eyes fastened on the safe avidly.

"I say," he said after a moment's pause as Harry made to shut its door, "can you loan me another fifty? I'm flat on my uppers again, and the old man has been tight as nails with me since I came back. I'm sure to be able to return it with the rest in a week or two."

Harry stretched his hand again toward the safe, then drew it back, with compressed lips. He had met Hugh with persistent courtesy, and the other had found him sufficiently obliging with loans. Hugh's lowered gaze saw the arrested movement, and his cheek flushed.

"Oh, if it's inconvenient I won't trouble you for the accommodation," he said. "I dare say I can raise it."

The attempt at nonchalance cost him a palpable effort. Comparatively small as the amount was, he needed it. He was in sore straits.

"It isn't that it is inconvenient, Hugh," said Harry. "It's that I can't approve your manner of living late[r]—and I don't know where the fifty is [coming] from. Hugh's brow reddened [with] [sur]prise; I was expected [to] [ask] no accounting," he said [grimly], "if I do borrow a dollar or two now and then. What if I play cards and drink a little when I'm dry? I've got to have a bit of amusement once in awhile between prayers. You liked it yourself well enough before you discovered a sudden talent for preaching."

"Some men hide their talents under a napkin," said Harry. "You drown yours—in a bottle. You have been steadily going downhill. You are deceiving your father—and others—with a pretended reform which isn't skin deep. You have made them believe you are living straight when you are carousing; that you keep respectable company when you have taken up with a besotted and discredited gambler!"

"I suppose you mean Dr. Moreau," returned Hugh. "There are plenty of people in town who are worse than he is."

"He is a quack—dropped from the hospital staff for addiction to drugs and expelled from his club for cheating at cards."

"He's down and out," said Hugh sullenly, "and any cur can bite him. He never cheated me, and I find him better company than your sanctimonious, psalm singing sort. I'm not going to give him the cold shoulder because everybody else does. I never went back on a friend yet. I'm not that sort!"

"You never had a friend, Hugh," said Harry steadily. "You never really loved anybody or anything but yourself. You are utterly selfish. You are deliberately lying every hour you live to those who love you. You are playing a part—for your own ends! You were only a good imitation of a good fellow at college. You are a poor imitation of a man of honor now."

Hugh rose to his feet as he answered hotly: "And what are you, I'd like to know? Just because I take my pleasure as I please, while you choose to make a stained glass cherub of yourself, is no reason why I'm not just as good as you! I knew you well enough before you set up for such a pattern. You didn't go in much then for a theological diet. Pshaw!" he went on, snapping his fingers toward the well stocked bookshelves. "I wonder how much of all that you really believe! I imagine your friends don't call you 'Satan' now?"

"No," returned Harry quietly, "they don't call me 'Satan' now."

He went back to the safe.

The movement set Hugh instantly to regretting his hasty tongue. If he had only assumed penitence instead of flying into a passion he might have had the money he wanted just as well as not.

"There's no sense in us two quarreling," he said hastily. "We've been friends a long time. I'm sure I didn't intend to when I came in. I suppose you're right about some things, and probably dropping Moreau wouldn't hurt me any. I'm sorry I said all I did. Only—the money seemed such a little thing, and I—I needed it."

Harry stood an instant with his hand on the knob; then instead of closing the door he drew out a little drawer. He lifted a packet of crisp yellow backs and slowly counted out $100. "I'm trying to believe you mean what you say, Hugh," he said.

Hugh's fingers closed eagerly over the crackling notes. "Now, that's white of you after everything I said. You're a good fellow, Harry, after all, and I'll always say so." He pocketed the money with an air of relief and picked up his hat and cane.

Just then from the dusty street came the sound of carriage wheels and the click of the gate latch.

"It's Bishop Ludlow," he said, glancing through the window. "He's coming in. I think I'll slip out the side way. Thanks for the loan, and—I'll think over what you've said."

Avoiding the bishop, Hugh stepped toward the gate. The money was in his pocket. Well, one of these days he would not have to grovel for a paltry $50. He would be his own master and could afford to let Harry Sanderson and everybody else think what they liked.

"So I'm playing a part, am I?" he said to himself. "Why should your holiness trouble yourself over it if I am? Not because you're so careful of the governor's feelings, not by a long shot! It's because you choose to think Jessica Holme is too good for me. That's where the shoe pinches. Perhaps you'd like to play at that game yourself, eh?"

He walked jauntily up the street toward the door with the little turret window.

TORONTO PEOPLE ON BOARD WRECKED LINER.

Passengers Landed in Lifeboats With the Greatest Difficulty—Crew are Sticking to Ship.

TORONTONIANS IN WRECK.

Charles Walter, financial agent, 51 Brunswick avenue.

Miss Lillian Blanche Walter, elocutionist, 51 Brunswick avenue.

New York, April 18.—Cablegrams received at the New York offices of the Atlantic Transport Line today stated that the hole in the bow of the Minnehaha was not sufficiently large to permanently disabled the ship, and that unless the sea, which is now running high, becomes a more serious menace, the bow will be floated at high tide. The officials of the company say that owing to the dense fog, the vessel was proceeding at slow speed.

Among the passengers on the Minnehaha are:

Kenneth C. Grant, Harrisburg, Pa.
H. P. Heming, Hamilton, Ont.
A. G. Holmes, Pittsburg.
Robert King and Lazarus Reibenstein, Schenectady, N.Y.
Brabazon Lowther, Winnipeg.
Walter B. Murdock, Philadelphia.
C. Walter and Miss Blanche Walter, Toronto.

The liner struck the reef with terrific force and was immediately stranded.

The shock was so great that the passengers were thrown from their berths. Thinking that the vessel was doomed, they rushed in their night clothes to the deck. Most of the women were hysterical and the men showed but little more composure.

Capt. Layland and the officers immediately went among the passengers, assuring them that the boat was in no immediate danger. For a while it seemed that their assurances could not prevent the threatened panic, but the officers themselves were so cool that the passengers finally accepted their word and returned to their staterooms and dressed.

In the meantime the lifeboats were launched and the passengers, their courage returned, were taken ashore The manning of the lifeboats called for the best seamanship, as the heavy sea threatened constantly to overturn the boats. Within two hours, however, the last of the passengers had been landed.

BLOOD POISONING FROM AN ULCERATED TOOTH.

Lindsay, April 18.—Blood poisoning, resulting from an ulcerated tooth, caused the death in the Ross Memorial Hospital here of Harvey Reesor, a well known young Toronto man.

Mr. Reesor came to the home of his father here a week ago suffering from an ulcerated tooth, symptoms of blood poisoning were revealed and he went at once to the hospital. All that medical science could suggest was of no avail however.

Mr. Reesor was an electrical engineer, and was interested in the development of electrical power at Copper Cliff. His brother, Walter Reesor, is manager of the Lindsay Light Heat and Power Company. For some months past Mr. Reesor has made Toronto practically his headquarters.

TOOK VOTE AS TO EMPIRE'S WHEAT

London, April 18.—F. E. Smith, K.C., of Liverpool, states that at a private dinner in the House of Commons, the leading tariff reformers a month ago took a vote, after a discussion, which showed an overwhelming majority in favor of free Empire wheat.

J. A. Pease, speaking at Rotherham, said: Mr. Balfour's climbdown was a mere electioneering dodge. The party managers realized that a food tax was not popular, and so they were going to waive for a time the idea of taxing Canadian corn, a tax which Chamberlain said was essential for the unification of the Empire.

IF SICK--WHY PAY

Unless Health First Returns.

Here is what should and can be done!

Now you would not willingly pay for food that was worthless—would you?

Then why pay for medicine until you find one that proves to you its actual merit?

Positively knowing what Dr. Shoop's remedies can do for the sick, I say to you, "pay unless health first returns". And I back my positive with a signed contract to that effect. No pay" contract.

Positively please to the sick, and only the sick, is that "Dr. Shoop's Restorative is offered by free & it fails". Let others do the experimenting or else pass their prescriptions by.

If you need more strength, more vitality, more vigor or more vim, use my Restorative for 25 days and note the immediate improvement.

If not the Stomach, Heart, or Kidneys are wrong, then test Dr. Shoop's Restorative. For it does the Stomach nor stimulate the Heart nor Kidneys, for that is wrong. You regain lost energy through nature's vitalizers in medicines. The tonics that will best tell you how I am possessed.

These books also tell of a "Key Nerve," "the nerve," no larger than a silken thread, that tell how that nerve, until it fails, controls the Heart in power. In pause. In normal action or impulse.

These books will open up new and helpful views to those who are not well. They tell of the Stomach, and Kidneys, and to those who need more nerve power, nerves. They tell how the Restorative was especially made to reach and revitalize that weak or failing inside nerve. All of these books tell why I am able to say, "It is free if it fails."

This is why I say "take no chances on a medicine whose maker dare not bank it just as I do by this remarkable offer".

So write me today for the order.

I have supplanted honest and responsible druggists in nearly every community to follow my guarantee to the sick.

But write me first for the order.

All druggists sell Dr. Shoop's Restorative but all are not authorized to give the 25 day test. So drop me a line, describe and then avoid disappointment and delays. Tell me also what book you need.

A postal will do.

Best Yet, you are free to consult me or you could your home physician. My advice and the book below are yours—and without cost.

Perhaps as a word or two from me will clear up some serious ailment. I have helped thousands upon thousands by my private prescriptions and personal advice plan. My best effort is at your service with a signed contract. So write me what you have, it fresh in mind, for prompt and honest answer. Dr. Shoop Box 12, Racine, Wis.

The big shops of the Grand Trunk Pacific at Winnipeg are rapidly taking the form of finished buildings. The round house is already roofed in and more than one-half of the five thousand tons of steel used in the construction of the shops has been rivited in place. There will be thirteen seperate buildings, eight departEight buildings of steel construction and five buildings of reinforced concrete. The shops and grounds will cover 300 acres, and there will be seventeen acres of floor space in the thirteen buildings. The main building alone will be 160 feet wide, 600 feet long and 57 feet high. These shops will employ about 3,500 men to begin with, which force will be increased to 5,000 as business justifies. An Interesting Lecture.

The address given last night in the lecture room of St. Paul's church by his Honor Judge Huycke, under the auspices of the Brotherhood of St. Paul's church, was fairly well attended, notwithstanding the counter attraction in the Collegiate Institute, where Dr. Michell spoke before the Astronomical Society. Judge Huycke's subject was "Success," and contained much that was of interest and value to the young men present, as well as the older ones. A choice musical program was rendered, and dainty refreshments were served.

Refrigerator Cars for Dairymen.

Acting on behalf of the Eastern Ontario Dairymen's Association of which he is Secretary, R. G. Murphy on Saturday entered into negotiations with Dairy Commissioner Ruddick with a view to getting refrigerator cars on the railroads earlier in the season than has been the case in the past. The need of iced cars has been greatly felt in past years during the latter part of May and June.

Three Months in Jail.

Harry Harding was yesterday sentenced to three months in jail by Police Magistrate Dumble at the police court yesterday. He had been previously found guilty on the charge that he stole a watch and fob, and $30, and had been remanded to give him an opportunity to return the $30 to the complainant. This he failed to do. The watch and $12.16 found on the prisoner after being arrested, were returned to the owner, together with a grip and several articles of clothing which Harding had purchased after the theft.

Promising Crops.

Watkworth, April 19.—Fall wheat throughout the district is looking exceptionally well. The winter was favorable for the crops, and unless unfavorable conditions develop the farmers consider the outlook a good one.

The old fashioned way of dosing a weak stomach, or stimulating the Heart or Kidneys is all wrong. Dr. Shoop first pointed out this error. This is why his prescription—Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed entirely to the cause of these ailments—the weak inside or controlling nerves. It isn't so difficult says Dr. Shoop, to strengthen a weak Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, if one gains at it correctly. Each inside nerve has its controlling or inside nerve. When these nerves fail, then these organs must surely falter. These vital truths are leading druggists everywhere to dispense and recommend Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Test it a few days, and see! Improvement will promptly and surely follow. Sold by all dealers.

National Mining & Tunnel Company

Our mines are in the greatest camp in America, Leadville, Col., a camp which has produced "a million a month for four hundred months."

We have four hundred acres in the richest proven belt of the county, containing twelve mines, which have already produced to shallow workings over $2,000,000. Our big tunnel being driven in from the base of the mountain will cut these vast ore bodies at depth, and make their millions of dollars worth of ore accessible to us.

Within five months we should cut into our rich ore bodies, and become a large producer before the year closes. It is confidently believed that the Company can pay fabulous profits in the very near future.

Leadville, Colorado, Jan. 8.

Mr. C. L. T. Fisher,
President National Mining & Tunnel Co.,
Lynchburg, Va.

Dear Sir,—My active mining experience extends over a period of more than thirty years and my intimate experience on Sugar Loaf Mountain more than twenty years of that time.

I am acquainted with all the mines on this mountain and positively know that they have produced many millions of dollars in gold and silver values, and for every million that has been mined near the surface, you may confidently expect to extract ten millions along the line of your tunnel. Your advantage in drainage and great depth attained, together with the most economical system of mining makes your project the most safe and alluring that has ever come under my observation. Knowing well the success that will certainly be yours, I congratulate you.

Tariff Issue Contributed to Big Democratic Victory

Over 15,000 Voters Left Republican Standard to Elect New Congressman in Munroe County

Rochester, April 20.—The Democrats won another famous victory in Monroe county yesterday, equal to that of the election of Eugene N. Foss in Massachussetts, when James S. Havens, was elected Congressman by 5,900 majority as against a majority of 10,167 for his opponent, George W. Aldridge, in the last election. This had been a rock-ribbed Republican stronghold for 20 years, but Havens rode to victory on a platform of tariff reform in the interests of the consumer, lower duties on wool, removal of the duty on lumber and on iron ore, a tax on iron, preservation of the forests. A big feature of the election, however, was the fight against Aldridge as the head of a party boss system. A recent insurance investigation showed that he got $1,000 from the agent of the insurance companies. On this moral issue 20 clergymen came out for the election of Havens.

New York, April 20.— The Times this morning says: "The thousand dollar check sent to Aldridge would have accounted sufficiently for the majority of a thousand votes against him. The tremendous change from a Republican majority of 10,000 two years ago, to 6,000 majority for the Democratic candidate this year, demands other and further explanation. The Thirty-second district of New York has responded to the Fourteenth district of Massachusetts and in both districts the people have given their disapproval of the government's tariff policy. The people have made it very evident where they stand, and what they demand, for Monroe County proves itself to be, as everybody hoped, a community typical of the decent citizenship of the State.

Program of Reception to Governor-General

ALL ARRANGEMENTS HAVE BEEN ALL ARRANGEMENTS HAVE BEEN COMPLETED FOR THE OCCASION.

Will Be Met at the Station By the Mayor and City Council— A Drive Through the City and Trip Over Lift Lock.

The arrangements for the reception to his excellency Earl Grey, Governor-General of Canada, on the occasion of his visit here on Saturday, have been completed. The reception committee of the City Council held a meeting Tuesday evening, but the arrangements were not finally decided until this morning. There will be no guard of honor, his excellency having expressed the desire that there be none. The vice-regal party consisting of his Excellency Earl Grey, the Earl of Lanesborough, military secretary, and Capt. Fife, A.D.C., will arrive here on the 11.26 C.P.R. train from Toronto. They will be met at the station by Mayor Morrow and the members of the City Council, after which they will proceed to the Canadian General Works, where they will be shown through the plant, by the superintendent, Mr. E. G. Patterson. The governor-general expressed the wish that he would like to see the works and Mr. Patterson very kindly consented to keep the men working until one o'clock. From there they will go to the Quaker Oats Co. mills, where Mr. W. H. Denham, the superintendent has extended the same courtesy as Mr. Patterson. At half-past one luncheon will be served at the Oriental, at which, in addition to the distinguished visitors, there will be present the members of the civic bodies. At three o'clock they will go to Central Park where an address of welcome will be read to his excellency by Mayor Morrow. Following the proceedings at the park, the party will drive to the Wolfe street wharf, where they will go on board the Rosie Butler, for a trip up the canal and over the lift lock. The vice-regal party will return to their own car for dinner, and in the evening will be present at the presentation of the "Geisha" at the Grand Opera house.

Archbishop Tells Why He Stepped In

Montreal, April 20.—An official statement was issued yesterday by Archbishop Bruchesi in connection with the forbidding of Judge Lemieux to speak at the Methodist church on Sunday.

His grace, after expressing surprise that any fuss should be made about the matter, said that having arrived from Quebec with Mr. Justice Lemieux on Saturday morning, it was only when reading the papers in the afternoon that he ascertained that the judge and Mr. Dube were to address the meeting in St. Jesus' Methodist church. He then at once communicated with both gentlemen, intimating his desire that they should not speak at that meeting. The judge and the doctor in their turn made known to those who had invited them his grace's views on the subject. The result was that Ald. Carter and Mr. Roberts, president and secretary of the Dominion Alliance, respectively called at the archbishop's palace in the evening. There his grace explained to them that he could not allow Roman Catholics to address a meeting in a Protestant church, especially on a Sunday evening, immediately after the regular service, when all the congregation would be there, and when, as they informed him, the pastor of the church himself was to preside. This would be creating a dangerous precedent, and one which might be interpreted in a manner to do harm to his flock. The whole matter was simply one of discipline, it was against the traditions of the Church for Catholics to speak in Protestant temples.

PRAISES GEISHA PERFORMANCE

Musical Critic Speaks Highly of Our Talent.

The following report from Mr. Brockway, the musical judge of the Earl Grey Competition, has been forwarded through the secretary to Mr. R. J. Devey yesterday:

Peterborough Operatic Co., — The performance of an act of "The Geisha," by this organization on Tuesday evening, April 5th, calls for enthusiastic commendation. To organize from amateur ranks in a town the size of Peterborough, a company which could give so creditable a performance, is an achievement that arouses admiration and sincere praise. The performance brought forward one singer of remarkable quality, possessed of an exquisite voice, a fine musical sense and histrionic ability. The general spirit of the performance and the singing of the chorus in particular impressed me as remarkable and in the highest degree praiseworthy. I am moved to suggest to his excellency that if it is practicable that this organization should in some way receive honor able mention."

COLONIAL CRITIC PROVES USEFUL

DONALD MacMASTER, K.C., PROVES OF VALUE TO UNIONISTS IN BRITISH HOUSE.

He Knows His Subjects—Is Well Acquainted With the Inter-Colonial Laws and Can Talk Treaties.

London, April 19. Mr. Donald MacMaster, K.C., is proving himself a most useful member of the Opposition in the Commons in respect of colonial politics. He has now called for a return showing the constitutional position of dominions and colonies in the negotiation of commercial and other treaties with foreign powers.

Mr. MacMaster who won the Chertsey Division of Surrey for the Unionists in January by a substantial majority, is a Canadian, and possesses a thorough knowledge of Canadian history, law and politics. He has asked also, that the return shall include a certain important letter sent by the foreign secretary to the British Ambassador in Paris in the summer of 1907. The letter, subsequently laid on the table of the Canadian House of Commons had to do with the degree of independence conceded by Britain to Canada in negotiating treaties with foreign powers. This question is raised afresh by the fact that Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. Fielding have accepted President Taft's invitation to consider the feasibility of a treaty of reciprocity with the United States.

On behalf of the foreign office it is maintained that no treaty making has been or will be done by Canada without the knowledge and approval of the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs. It is doubted, however, whether this formal link between the Dominion and the Foreign Office implies any limitation whatever to Canada's treaty-making independence

THE LARGEST FAMILY.

Missouri Man Has Fifteen Daughters and Eight Sons.

Detroit, April 21.—Gottlieb Von Rensselear of Missouri, is being shown the largest avaible houses in Ann Arbor. Von Rensselear has decided that Ann Arbor is the proper place in which to rear his fifteen daughters and eight sons.

Four of the daughters are to be added to the university registration soon and when the eleven other daughters and eight sons and the mother and father are settled, Ann Arbor, it is said, will be the home of the biggest family in America.

They will bring four cows, which are said to be worth $1,000 each, and each is to be owned by one of the co-eds elect. Furthermore, it is announced each owner will care for her own stock.

WOMEN WERE MORE CHEERFUL

DIDN'T MIND PERIL, SAID ONE, BECAUSE SHE HAD HER POWDER PUFF.

Liner is Abandoned —Everybody Ordered Off as She is in Danger of Going to the Bottom.

Hughtown, St. Mary's, Scilly Islands, April 20.—Three small steamers and a schooner are standing by the wreck of the Atlantic Transport liner Minnehaha, which is in the grip of the rocks off these treacherous islands. All hope is practically abandoned of saving the steamer. Everybody has practically been ordered off the ship because of the danger of her slipping from the reef and going to the bottom.

All except sixty cattle and most of the cargo have been safely landed but there is no food for the cattle here. The officers and crew are expending all their energies in the work of lightening the steamer. They hope to get the remainder of the cargo and cattle ashore today.

The remainder of the cargo of the wrecked steamer Minnehaha was being thrown overboard today in the hope that the vessel thus lightened might escape from the reef upon which she struck, and be saved. Cases of motor cars, typewroters, sewing machines, and quantities of valuable merchandise were dumped into the waters. Many small boats hovered about the wreck picking up the flotsam.

MANY WEPT FOR JOY.

London, April 20.—The passengers of the Atlantic Transport liner Minnehaha, which still lies grounded on the rocks off Scilly Islands, have arrived here. They were met by a large party of relatives and friends.

The passengers were greatly fatigued after their hardships and experiences. All the men are enthusiastic over the pluck and calmness of the women passengers, many of whom wept for joy on greeting their friends.

Mrs. Mary Gregory, of Paterson, N.J., and Mrs. Bateman, another passenger, related their experiences. The latter affirmed that the women were more cheerful than the men. One, in fact, on being asked whether she realized their perilous position, replied: "Oh, yes, but I don't mind, I have my powder puff."

CAVAN NEWS.

Cavan, April 19.—The weather in this locality is unusually fine. The farmers are all busy seeding.

Baseball and other summer sports will shortly recommence.

Miss Lola Harkness was the guest of Peterborough friends last week.

We very much regret that Mr. S. Touchburne is soon to leave for the West, where in future he intends making his home. His many friends wish him every success in his new home.

The Ladies' Aid of Cavanville church, purpose serving ice cream and other refreshments on the baseball grounds during the summer.

The Sunday School of St. John's church has re-organized for the summer.

The juveniles of Cavanville and vicinity are busy angling for the "speckled beauties." They are being closely watched by the inspector of fisheries.

NORWOOD HONORS ESTEEMED CITIZEN.

Dr. Ford Presented With Illuminated Address—Free Masons Also Pay Tribute to Him.

Norwood, April 20.—A happy event took place last evening in the Methodist church here, when a beautifully illuminated address in book form was presented by the congregation to Dr. S. P. Ford, it being his 70th birthday, and an individual communion cup service bearing a suitable inscription was placed in the church as a permanent tribute to his Christian character. Numerous congratulatory letters from persons at a distance were read and several speeches of a reminiscent character made. It being the night for the regular meeting of the Masonic Lodge the latter adjourned and marched in abody to the church to unite with the large audience there gathered in doing hon or to their much esteemed district deputy grand master.

Dr. Ford has for forty-five years been a member of the Methodist church here and has represented the congregation at the annual and general conference more frequently than any other man. He is still in full vigor, doing a very large medical practice.

MASONIC LODCE OF INSTRUCTION

Yesterday was a gala day in local Masonic circles. A Lodge of Instruction was held in the city Masonic Temple, when the work of the Blue Lodge was exemplified by district visitors. The attendance was large, including visitors from Port Hope, Bowmanville, Keene, Norwood, Newcastle, Havelock, Lakefield, Millbrook and other district localities. A special train was chartered by the Ontario Lake front towns, reaching Peterborough at 3 p.m., and leaving for home at midnight. The special was a double-header with five coaches and a baggage. The Lodge of Instruction was presided over by Mr. Aubrey White, acting grand master of the Grand Lodge of Canada, in the Province of Ontario, assisted by Dr. Ford of Norwood, and Judge Harding of Lindsay, both deputy grand masters. His Worship Mayor Morrow read the address of welcome to the visitors in the afternoon.

The degree was exemplified by the Lakefield and Port Hope lodges, and left no room for criticism. Millbrook and Peterborough lodges participated in the preliminary and closing work of the several degrees. An exemplification of the examination of visitors by W. Bro. G. E. Bonycastle of Bowmanville was of a specially acceptable nature.

The whole function was one that leaves the brethren, both visiting and local, with pleasing memories. It goes without saying that the visitors were well looked after from their arrival to their departure by the members of the two city lodges.

Simpson Enters the 20-Mile Pro. Race

Toronto, April 21.—As was predicted the other day, Fred Simpson, the Peterborough Indian, has sent in his entry for the 20-mile race at the Island May 7. Simpson writes D. J. McCafferty that he is in excellent shape, and would be ready to make even the top-notchers step when he met them here. Fred when he is right is no slouch.

Percy Sellen, the little Toronto runner, entered today. He has been resting since the Polo Grounds Marathon, but resumed training today for a 15-mile race at Buffalo against all the cracks. From Buffalo he will come on to Toronto for the 20-mile race. He says he can do 20 miles and get a slice of the money anyhow. Sellen is in good shape right now.

The Wolter Case is Now Going on

New York, April 21.— The most damaging witness today against Albert W. Wolter, on trial for the murder of Ruth Wheeler, was Adelaide Wheeler, a sister of the murdered girl. She positively identified the pieces of charred clothing, necklace, and umbrella introduced as belonging to her sister, Ruth, and swore that the body shown here in the station house was that of her sister. She swore she could not be mistaken in the teeth, which were those of her sister.

Attorney Scott, for Wolter, subjected her to a merciless cross-examination, but failed to shake her. He tried to show that she could have been mistaken in her identification of the pieces of clothing, but she swore she could not be as she saw her sister put on the articles in question on the morning she disappeared. When her ordeal was finished she broke down and had to be assisted weeping from the stand.

An interested spectator at the morning session of the trial was Olga Netherson, who had a seat beside Judge Foster.

Capt. Hughes identified the bundle in which the body was found, the blood-stained shirt marked "W" the picture wire which was tied about the legs, and the other pieces found in Wolter's trunk, pieces of charred bones and corset steels found in the fire place in Wolter's room, and told of turning over the body to Prof. Larkin for examination.

MAKES A FAILURE OF LIFE.

Not Because He Lacks Brains or Ability, But Because His Liver is Slow.

An inactive lazy liver makes plenty of men and women seem intellectually dull. They really have the "go," but are weighed down, pulled down by a sluggish condition of the system. In consequence lots of good chances are lost, enjoyment missed and pleasures refused—all because of a poor working stomach and a disordered liver.

Men and women, wake up your livers, give relief to sluggish kidneys—they are working hard, but can't keep on forever doing duty for both the kidneys and livers.

Let Dr. Hamilton's Pills help you—let them drive those poisons from the blood that depress your mind and brain.

Let Dr. Hamilton's Pills give you such inward wholesomeness that body and spirit will tingle and glow with health and ambition.

You can depend on this—that Dr. Hamilton's Pills clear the skin, brighten the eyes, purify the blood, send energy, vim and good spirits circulating to every part of the body.

No other medicine makes people so healthy or keeps you always at your best like Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They are mild, curative and safe, 25c. per box, at all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Canada.

Million Dollars to Invest in Industries of Western Canada

This Sum Represented in a Salvation Army Party which went Through Winnipeg for B. C.

Winnipeg, April 20.—"The people on these three cars are bringing with them over a million dollars to invest in the industries of Canada."

Those spoke Envoy Officer Edward Adair of the Salvation Army, referring to two hundred immigrants from the Empress of Ireland, who, traveling under the auspices of the Army in three special cars, passed through Winnipeg last night bound for British Columbia.

The party represents a new type of Britaish settler. All had money, most of them quite a lot.

MARSHALL OF CATTLE FAME.

There was J. Marshall, Jr., of Lincolnshire, a well-known cattle breeder. His family, according to himself, have known naught of anything else but cattle for three hundred years. Marshall is a well-known figure at English agricultural shows. He has heard that there were openings in the cattle trade in Canada and he has come to see.

The three Salvation Army cars formed part of an immigrant special ten cars long. Over a thousand passengers from the liners Canada, Empress of Britain and Tunisian, were on board. Another large immigrant special arrived at five. The twenty-four hours that terminated at five this morning saw two thousand arrive, one of the biggest immigrant days in the whole history of the West.

A TORONTO MAN'S BROTHER IS SLAIN

JOHN McATAMNEY FOUND IN RIVER AT EDMONTON WITH FACE BATTERED.

Something of a Rover—Had Wandered From City to City—Brother Lives in Bolton Avenue.

Toronto April 19.—A despatch was received by the Star this morning that the body of a man, thought to be John McAtamney, of Toronto, was taken yesterday from the river at Edmonton, Alberta.

It is supposed that he was murdered and the body thrown into the river. The remains were of a man weighing in the neighborhood of 190 pounds, and had been in the water several months. The head was battered beyond recognition. The authorities at Edmonton are investigating the occurrence, and so far as they have discovered the last time the dead man was seen alive he was in an intoxicated condition in the company of a man who has since disappeared.

It is altogether probable that the dead man is the brother of Hugh McAtamney, 181 Bolton avenue, a painter, at present employed in the city yards near the Don River.

"I haven't seen or heard from my brother John in a couple of years," Mr. McAtamney stated to the newspaper man. "The last I heard from him was when he was in Cleveland. Since then I don't know where he is, and it is altogether likely that he went West.

"He came to Canada from near Antrim, County Derry, Ireland, about 10 years ago. After a while he went to Buffalo, and he ran a saloon there for some time on Main street, opposite the old ball grounds. From there he went to Cleveland, and I haven't heard from him since.

"I think he has been writing to his brothers in Ireland, but I didn't know. They're about the only ones that I know of who could tell whether he went West or not."

The despatch says the dead man weighed about 190 pounds, and if he is a brother of the Toronto man, he got considerably stouter since last seen.

"He didn't weigh more than 150 pounds when I saw him last," said Mr. McAtamney. "He didn't have any regular trade and I wouldn't be surprised if he took to prospecting or some thing like that in the West."

A few years ago another brother James, lived in Toronto, but he went back to Ireland with his wife and family to take up a farm there.

The police here have received no word from Edmonton relative to the finding of the body.

INDIAN'S CRIME WILL LIKELY GO UNPUNISHED.

Tuscarora Brave Who Pushed His Wife Into Rapids, Was Haunted By a Promise Made to Her.

Niagara Falls, April 20.—A peculiar situation has developed here as a result of the alleged confession that he murdered his wife here six years ago made at Waukegan, Ill., on Saturday last, by Foster Johnson, a Tuscarora Indian. Johnson says that he pushed his wife into the rapids above the falls on the American side, and that he then went to Rochester, and later returned to the reservation, where he first told the story of his crime.

The body was recovered, identified, and a coroner's jury held that she was a suicide. It is claimed by lawyers that the confession he made cannot be used against Johnson in a trial, and it is impossible to get corroborative evidence against him as there were no witnesses to the crime here on October 3rd, 1904.

The fire brigade made a fast run in response to an alarm from box 25 at corner Park and Hunter at 12.30 last night.

DESIRABLE EMIGRANTS.

The continued exodus from the United States to Canada of heads of families, who bring with them goodly sums of money, is startling the authorities on the other side of the line—and with good reason. Such an exodus, if continued, will remove a tremendous amount of money from the United States for circulation in the Canadian West, and the significance of this movement is therefore not to be lost sight of.

More than 12,000 American citizens with from $1000 to $5000 each, practically all farmers and heads of families, expatriated themselves between March 31, 1909, and March 1, 1910. They went from all portions of the country, but particularly from the Middle West, to take up Government homesteads in Canada. The full number of persons who came from the United States to Canada in this period was 25,376.

These figures were compiled as the result of an investigation which has just been completed by Commissioner-General of Immigration Fyefe. The figures and information which have been gathered by the Commissioner-General have surprised him, and the influx of American farmers into Canada will be called to President Taft's attention and efforts may be made to stem the tide.

The information discloses the fact that the best type of farmers of the Middle West were the ones who were selling out in the U. S. and bringing their money to Canada, have to take up fertile government lands.

The Bureau of Immigration estimates that the amount of money taken from the U. S. by the 25,370 persons who left that country to make their future homes under the British flag averaged $1000 to a man, this being, it is said, a conservative estimate. In the period from March 31st, 1909, to March 1, 1910, the sum of $96,370,000 was brought into Canada. The investigation also discloses that since March 31st, 1897, down to March 1, 1909, 485,169 person left the United States permanently to reside in Canada. If they took with them the same average amount of these who left between March 31, 1909, and March 1, 1910, they took $426,461,000.

In all cases the immigrants have brought into Canada $520,300,000 since 1897, practically all in gold.

Of the 25,376 persons who left in the last year 17,576 were American born and 7,794 were aliens who had gone to the United States to reside there permanently but changed their minds.

The old fashioned way of dosing a weak stomach, or stimulating the Heart or Kidneys is all wrong. Dr. Shoop first pointed out this error. This is why his prescription—Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed entirely to the cause of these ailments—the weak nerves or controlling nerve. It has no effect on the stomach, Heart or Kidneys. If one gains at it externally. Each little nerve has its centre or cable nerve. When these nerves fail, then these organs must surely falter. These vital truths must surely falter. These vital truths are leading druggists everywhere to dispense and recommend Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Test it a few days, and see! Improvement will promptly and surely follow. Sold by all dealers.

Chapter 4

INSIDE the study meanwhile the bishop was greeting Harry Sanderson. He had officiated at his ordination and liked him. His eyes followed in the simple order of the room, meeting with a light tinge of disapproval upon the violin case in the corner and with a deeper shade of question upon the jewel on the other's finger, a pigeon blood ruby in a setting curiously twisted of the two initial letters of his name. There came to his mind for an instant a whisper of early prodigalities and wildnesses which he had heard.

"I looked in to tell you a bit of news," said the bishop. "I've just come from David Stires. He has a letter from Van Lennap, the great eye surgeon of Vienna. He disagrees with the rest of them. Thinks Jessica's case may not be hopeless."

The cloud that Hugh's call had left on Harry's countenance lifted.

"Thank God!" he said. "Will she go to him?"

The bishop looked at him curiously, for the exclamation seemed to hold more than a conventional relief.

"He is to be in America next month. He will come here then to examine and perhaps to operate. Poor child! It will be a terrible thing for her if this last hope fails her, too, especially now, when she and Hugh are to make a match of it."

Harry's face was turned away, or the bishop would have seen it suddenly startled. "To make a match of it!" To hide the flush he felt staining his cheek Harry bent to close the safe. A something that had darkled in some obscure depth of his being whose existence he had not guessed was throbbing now to a painful resentment. Jessica was to marry Hugh!

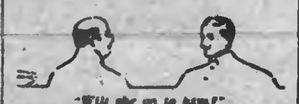
"A handsome fellow—Hugh!" said the bishop. "He seems to have returned with a new heart—a brand plucked from the burning. You had the same thing under, I think you told me. Your influence has done the boy good, Sanderson!" He laid his hand kindly on the other's shoulder. "The fact that you were in college together makes him look up to you—as the whole parish does," he added.

Harry was setting the combination and did not answer. But through the turmoil in his brain a satiric voice kept repeating:

"No, they don't call me 'Satan' now!"

* * * * * * *

The white house in the aspens was in gala attire. Flowers—great banks of bloom—were massed in the hall, along the stairway, and in the window seats, and wreaths of delicate fern trembled on the prim hung chandeliers. Over all breathed the sweet fragrance of jasmine. Musicians sat behind a screen of palms in a corridor, and a long scarlet carpet strip ran down the front steps to the driveway, up which passed bravely dressed folk, arriving in carriages and on foot, to witness the completion of a much boosted romance.



"Will she go to him?"

For a fortnight this afternoon's event had been the chat of the town, for David Stires, who today retired from active business, was its magnate, the owner of its finest single estate and of its most important bank. From his scapegrace boyhood Hugh Stires had made himself the subject of uncomfortable discussion. His sudden disappearance after the rumored quarrel with his father and the advent of Jessica Holme had furnished the community sufficient material for gossip. The wedding had capped this gossip with an appropriate climax. Tongues had wagged over its pros and cons, for Hugh's past had induced a wholesome skepticism of his future.

There was an additional element of romance, too, in the situation, for Jessica, who had never yet seen her lover, would see her husband. The great surgeon on whose prognostications she had built so much had arrived and had operated. The experiment had been completely successful, and Jessica's hope of vision had become a sure and certain promise.

The operation over, there had remained many days before the bandages could be removed—before Jessica could be given her first glimpse of the world for nearly three years. Hugh had urged against delay. If he had strongest reasons of his own he was silent concerning them. And Jessica, steeped in the delicious wonder of new and inchoate sensations, had yielded.

So it had come about that the wedding was to be on this hot August afternoon, although it would be yet some time before the eye bandages might be laid aside save in a darkened room. To her girlish, passionate identity Jessica had offered a sacrifice to her sentiment. She had promised herself that the first form her new sight should behold should be not her lover, but her [illegible] of romance.

It was a sweltering afternoon, and in the wide east parlor limp handkerchiefs and energetic fans fought vainly against the intolerable heat. There, as the clock struck a hundred pairs of eyes galloped between two centers of interest—the door at which the bride would enter and the raised platform at the other end of the room where

Cosgrave's Beer

Words of praise have ever prevailed in advertising "copy." That a producer should wax enthusiastic over his own wares is but human. But it's the praise of the consumer that counts—and it is to a discriminating and critical public that "Cosgrave's" refers you.

It is safe to say that no product of any kind enjoys a more enviable reputation than does this famous Cosgrave Beer of Toronto in markets where it is offered.

Its self-evident honesty of purpose, purity, brilliancy, body, and every other attribute that goes to make a perfect beer are ever in evidence.

PETERBOROUGH BRANCH — George St. G. C. WAINWRIGHT, Mgr.

SWELL WEDDING IS VERY POPULAR

New York, April 14.—When at four o'clock this afternoon Marjorie Gwynne, the beautiful daughter of Geo. J. Gould, and the acknowledged "catch of the season," becomes the bride of Anthony J. Drexel, jr., of Philadelphia, she will make good the promise made to her father two years ago that it would be an American man who won her heart and hand and no one of the small army of titled foreigners who even before her debut had designs on her hand and the purse that hand controlled.

Coming in the wake of a series of weddings between American heiresses and titled foreign bankrupts, Miss Gould's choice of an American husband today has struck a popular chord, and this afternoon's ceremony in addition to being one of the most brilliant and most lavish of the present decade, is probably one of the most popular unions of recent years in New York's ultra fashionable set.

TWO OLD FAMILIES UNITED.

The ceremony which will unite the wealthy house of Gould with the old Drexel family will be celebrated in St. Bartholomew's church. Bishop Searborough will officiate, assisted by Dr. Leighton Parks, rector of the church. After the ceremony the wedding party will return to the magnificent Gould mansion at Fifth avenue and 67th street, where a buffet collation will be served before the young people start on their honeymoon journey. The lavishness that marked the coming out party given her daughter by Mrs. Gould last fall pervaded to an equal extent the preparations for today's event. Thousands of dollars were spent upon the floral decorations of the church and house, which were turned into veritable bowers of pink and white roses, with backgrounds of palms and green vines. The wedding presents and bride's gifts to the bridesmaids are the most magnificent seen at any wedding in several seasons.

NUMEROUS BRIDESMAIDS.

Miss Vivaian Gould, sister of the bride, who makes her social debut next season, will be the maid of honor, and Miss Margaretta Drexel, the beautiful sister of the bridegroom, will be one of the bridesmaids. The other bridesmaids include some of the most beautiful girls of New York's most exclusive younger set. They are:

Miss Hope Hamilton, a cousin of the bride; Miss Marjorie A. Curtis, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. Holbrook Curtis, Miss Beatrice Claflin, and Miss Elsie Nicholl, little Miss Ellin MacKay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence H. MacKay, and Miss Edith Gould, third daughter of Geo. J. Gould, will be flower girls.

The bride's gown is of white satin charmeuse, cut princess. She will wear an overdress of white chiffon embroidered with orange blossoms, and a train embroidered with the conventional wedding flower. The tulle veil is fastened with a spray of orange blossoms, and the bridal bouquet is composed of these blossoms and white roses. The maid of honor and bridesmaids will wear gowns of delicate pastel shades. The frocks of the bridesmaids, save that the colsatin, veiled in blue and pink chiffon. The dresses are short, ending three inches from the floor. One of the novelties is the high shoes of blue satin, to be worn by the bridesmaids, instead of the usual slippers, and the big blue straw hats, wreathed in pink tulle, and finished off with a big bow of tulle, and a smashing pink ostrich plume, which stands straight up from the back in Chanticler fashion. The maid of honor's dress will be exactly like those of the bridesmaids, save that the colors are reversed.

The bridegroom will be attended by his brother, Armstrong Drexel.

A dozen different reports are in circulation as to where the young couple will spend their honeymoon.

Read the pain formula on the box of Pink Pain Tablets. Then ask your Doctor if there is a better one. Pain means congestion—blood pressure somewhere. Dr. Shoop's Pink Pain Tablets check head pains, womanly pains, pains anywhere. Try one, and see! 20 for 25c. Sold by all dealers.

If Sick

Don't risk even one single penny!

And I will tell you why I say this.

In the package every package of Dr. Shoop's medicine is also included Free Of Its Cost.

No one need risk even one single penny.

Just think what this means to the suffering!

No risk, of course, neither whatever one has. Health is the greatest boon of life. Without it one is but a burden to himself and others. Why not, then, at once regain health?

Why take any chances whatever?

Why purchase any medicine whose maker dare not back it just as I do by this remarkable offer?

And besides, I am not asking for you.

By "The Physician's Edition" of Dr. Shoop's Restorative I am asking the doctors in the land. They are the ones who prescribe medicines.

For twenty years Dr. Shoop's medicines have become thoroughly established all over America.

And I have gone to the best druggists in every locality where we are not represented and arranged with them to supply Dr. Shoop's Restorative to any one who asks in their store.

Just write me first for an order.

I have an agent in almost every community—but all druggists are now authorized to furnish the 50 day test.

So drop me a line, please—and then save all disappointments and delays.

Besides, you are free to consult me by letter as you would your home physician. Do so freely and fully—if you desire. My advice and the book I send you are yours—and without cost. Perhaps a word or two from me will save you an unnecessary ailment. I have helped thousands regain the health of my private prescription or personal advice alone.

Besides, the books will open up new and helpful ideas to you. They tell of my 39 years of success in curing the sick. They tell of the experiences of others who have been restored to health after all else had failed. All physicians' names are given. They print a few of the thousands of letters received from grateful men and women. Many of them tell how they have found health after years of suffering. Many tell how Dr. Shoop's Restorative has cured them of troubles of which they had scarcely dared to talk. How SENSATIONAL EXPERIENCES IN SEARCH OF A CURE.

$50 For One Specialist Alone!

The varied and costly experiences of some people who suffer from skin diseases and get into the hands of so-called "specialists" are rarely heard of. Almost daily the proprietors of Zam-Buk are receiving letters of gratitude from persons who have been cured by Zam-Buk, and in many cases these letters tell a story of suffering in the search for cure, which is truly pitiful.

Mr. Arthur Fairbank, of 547 Lansdowne-ave., Toronto, says: "Some time ago I had a bad eruption on my forehead, which I attribute to getting infected at the barber's. This eruption became very sore and spread over my scalp in the form of open sores. I went to a doctor, who treated me for it. Still the sores spread until almost the whole of my head was affected. As the doctor's treatment did me very little good I left it off and tried various home remedies. I also tried taking various aperient medicines to try and cure the outbreak through the blood. Still it was in vain!

"Then I tried blood mixtures, but not one of them did me any good. I was by that time in a shocking condition, and as a last resource I went to a skin specialist. He treated me for a period and it cost me over $50, but the sores got no better. They would itch and burn at times until I was nearly mad.

"One day a friend asked me why I had not tried Zam-Buk and gave me a little. That little bit of Zam-Buk did me more good than all the long treatment I had had from doctors and specialists. I immediately sent for a supply of the balm and started right in to give it a proper trial. Very soon I began to see and feel a great difference in the sores and I knew that at last I had got something that would cure me. Zam-Buk cured me and at a trifling cost. Indeed only a few boxes were necessary to do it."

Not only for skin diseases, but for cuts, burns, bruises, piles, inflamed surfaces, etc., Zam-Buk is unequalled. All druggists and stores, 50c a box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Refuse imitations.

Coughlin—Barnett.

The church of the Sacred Heart was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Tuesday last, when Miss May Barnett, daughter of Mr. Michael Barnett, Stewart street, was united in marriage to Mr. Patrick Coughlin of Buffalo, N.Y., The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. O'Brien, in the presence of the immediate friends and relatives of the contracting parties. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked charming in a dress of white English silk poplin with Irish lace and Oriental trimmings. She wore the conventional bridal veil and carried a white prayer book. She was attended by her sister, Miss Josie Barnett, who wore a pretty gown of bisu shade of grepe de Paris, with gilt trimmings and an Anna Held hat to match. After the ceremony the party drove to the home of the bride's parents where a dainty luncheon was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Coughlin left on the 4.36 train for their home in Buffalo, where they will reside at 759 North Division street.

NEW TIMBER POLICY.

Mr. Cochrane's New Timber Policy for the Province.

Mr. Cochrane's new timber policy is based upon the principle that the Crown domain should be something more than a happy hunting ground for private individuals. It is public property, and assuredly the Province should get some adequate returns for its exploitation. The ground rents and dues that may have been proper twenty-three years ago when the last change was made, are surely not adequate today in view of the wonderful changes in the North country has witnessed, and the inrush of population. Moreover the continuous holding of limits on payment of a small ground rent is not to the advantage of the Province. The public as owners, should get a fair share of the increment in stumpage value. For that reason the ground rent is advanced from $3 to $5 a mile, and the transfer fees from $1 to $5. Increases on stumpage dues will make the charge on pine logs $1.50 per thousand board feet, while the rate for square timber is advanced from $20 to $50 per thousand cubic feet. The cause for this advance is to prevent wasteful methods of harvesting our forest crop.

A radical change in the system of fire ranging makes the holders of limits responsible for the supervision of the lands leased. The government heretofore has paid half the expense, while the lease holders got practically all the advantages. The government, however, will still retain control over the fire-ranging system to see that it is thorough and effective The lumbermen will scarcely object to a preventive system of fire insurance that already has justified itself by saving millions of dollars.

It is possible that some individual companies may find the new regulations press heavily for a time. But in every change hardship is experienced by someone. Where the interest of the individual clashed with the interest of the Province, the minister of the Crown must stand by the Province. It is Mr. Cochrane's habit to think and act for the public. He represents the North country in the Cabinet, and he attends sedulously to its interests and its requirements but he is no one county man. His mining and timber legislation are conceived in the general interest of Ontario. Much of the efficiency of the Whitney Government is due to the initiative and the general administrative ability of the minister of lands and mines.

"PROVIDENCE, INCORPORATED."

(World's Work for April.)

"Providence, Incorporated" is the new nickname of Canada's great railroad. A Danish immigrant agent of the road invented the phrase and it ought to stick. The occasion was the inauguration of a new method of bringing farmers into the Northwest and the method itself is so radical that it deserves some free advertising.

The road owns much land. It is not satisfied with the man who lands at Ellis Island with $23 in his pocket. It goes after the very best class of farmers in Denmark, Sweden, Norway, and the mid-Continental areas. Its agents, who swarm everywhere, found much trouble in persuading satisfied and prosperous farmers on well tilled farms to leave those farms and take to the back plains, with the hardships of the pioneer's life before them. That problem was put before the Canadian Pacific officials. They set to work to solve it.

So, today, pioneering is going out of fashion. Instead of selling raw land to raw settlers, the railroad itself has gone into the pioneering business. It sells the lands, build the house and the barn, breaks the fields, plants the first crop, puts all the necessary tools under cover on the farm—and hands over the farm ready made. The new settler comes from a finished farm to a finished farm.

Two years ago this was an experiment; now it is a policy. As a result the cream of the industrial farmers of Central Europe and of our own Middle West is drifting into Canada by train loads.

Again, while our own government went slowly at the task of reserving and lands in the West, this railroad went into the irrigation business itself. It could not afford to wait for government methods or for the wasteful selections of private capital. Five years ago the financial papers announced that the railroad was going to reclaim some millions of acres of land in the Bow River country, Alberta. Now, a million acres are watered, sold to farmers—settled. The railroad's ditch diggers are moving on to the second million.

No ordinary farmer is wanted on these new acres. The railroad's agents are instructed to call for and demand the best irrigation farmers on earth to till these fields. A scientific farming expert is travelling through selected areas of Europe, lecturing on irrigation farming in Alberta. His lectures draw the very best of the farming experts of the old hard-working nations—and the promises that he makes are backed by guarantee that never has failed, the word of a railroad that does not lie.

In the face of such efforts, directed by the wisest brains in the pioneering business, free from every sort of government trammel, liberal beyond the experience of the past, is it any wonder that more than 60,000 of the best farmers in the United States last year went into Western Canada, carrying with them probably more than $100,000,000? The settlers on the new farms that are sold ready made need nearly $2,000 each to start with—and the figure is put high to be sure of getting the best men.

What machinery have the railroads of this country to compare with methods like these? When the Grand Trunk Pacific opens up, it will undoubtedly follow the same methods. It takes no prophet to see, in the progress of the railroad under these principles, the unfolding of the most efficient agricultural nation in the history of the world.

Experiments on Poor Children

SOME OF THOSE USED PROVED THAT THEY ARE OF UNDESIRABLE NATURE.

Storm of Protest Now—Doctor Attempts to Justify Practice—Valuable Knowledge Gained.

New York, April 19.—The Herald today prints a Philadelphia despatch which says:

As the result of investigations, it has been revealed that 160 children, inmates of Blockley, the great Philadelphia Hospital, and of St. Vincent's Home for Orphans, mostly very young children, and even babies less than a year old, have been used as human "material" for purposes of experiment of research by physicians of the William Pepper Clinical Laboratory of the University of Pennsylvania.

It is admitted that permanent disturbance of vision was sure to follow in one of the experiments practiced upon an orphan, and that one test if pursued might lead even to the destruction of the eyesight.

The experimental work consisted of inoculating or "instilling" into the babies Koch's tuberculin, in order to observe whether there would result a "reaction," which, according to one of the latest theories, would determine whether the patient was suffering from tuberculosis.

These tests were applied in four ways. Tuberculin was instilled into the eyes, was rubbed on the flesh of the child in the form of ointment, injected subcutaneously, and in the fourth, or scarification test, both bovine and human tuberculin were used.

The physicians add that in their experiments upon the orphan babies they had developed eight cases of conjunctivitis, or eye disease, two of them "severe and purulent," six severe and recurring. "Two developed corneal ulcers.

NO JUSTIFICATION.

This statement is made in the article:

"Permanent disturbance of vision is sure to follow in this last case from the central scar, even should the association lesion, which is at present in a very unpromising condition, clear up eventually.

"In fact we are strongly of the opinion that any diagnostic procedure which will so frequently result in serious lesions of serious lesions of the eye, irrespective of the way in which it produces them, has no justification in medicine."

These statements made in an authorized medical publication of tests made upon orphan children by prominent physiologists, have aroused a storm of protest among leading citizens here.

"The experiments were entirely justified," said Dr. John M. Cruice, medical superintendent of St. Vincent's Home, at the time the experiments were made, in an interview. "The one child mentioned in the report was not blinded, but suffered from a permanent defective vision. All the cases of conjunctivitis were subsequently cured." The physicians do not admit that they did what they should not have done. They say that after their experiments and the subsequent knowledge derived by the medical world such eye experiments should not be utilized.

National Mining & Tunnel Company

Our mines are in the greatest camp in America, Leadville, Col., a camp which has produced "a million a month for four hundred months."

We have four hundred acres in the richest proven belt of the county, containing twelve mines, which have already produced to shallow workings over $2,000,000. Our big tunnel being driven in from the base of the mountain will cut these vast ore bodies at depth, and make their millions of dollars worth of ore accessible to us.

Within five months we should cut into our rich ore bodies, and become a large producer before the year closes. It is confidently believed that the Company can pay fabulous profits in the very near future.

Leadville, Colorado, Jan. 6.

Mr. C. L. T. Fisher,

President National Mining & Tunnel Co.,
Lynchburg, Va.

Dear Sir,—My active mining experience extends over a period of more than thirty years and my intimate experience on Sugar Loaf Mountain more than twenty years of that time.

I am acquainted with all the mines on this mountain and positively know that they have produced many millions of dollars in gold and silver values, and for every million that has been mined near the surface, you may confidently expect to extract ten millions along the line of your tunnel. Your advantage in drainage and great depth attained, together with the most economical system of mining makes your project the most safe and alluring that has ever come under my observation. Knowing well the success that will certainly be yours, I congratulate you.

Of this continent, the opening article in the April Hampton's Magazine caintains some startling figures. We used to measure in millions, but Mr. Hampton when he comes to compute the possible wealth of only three commodities in Alaska builds from millions to billions and finally when he totals up he has the audacity to print $1,513,080,000,000. This includes the value of gold, copper and salmon only. All this wealth according to this writer is located in Alaska, which will be easy of access, when the new line is complete through the port of Prince Rupert, when the new line is completed. And when resources of the territory immediately surrounding Prince Rupert are added to the commercial possibilities of Alaska the prospect for traffic over the Grand Trunk Pacific will make the management begin to figure on a double track already.

Chinese Royalty Visits the United States

GREAT WAR LORD IN SAN FRANCISCO.

He May Also Visit the Dominion, Although Not Definitely Arranged —One of the Empire's Greatest Men.

San Francisco, April 22.—The Chinese quarter of this city is gorgeously decorated in the brightest oriental colors in honor of Prince Tsai Poy Lak, uncle to the Emperor of China, brother to the prince regent, and war minister of the Chinese empire, who is due to arrive here today on the liner Tenyo Maru. Never before have the members of the Chinese colony been in such a fever of excitement and never has Chinatown been as elaborately and magnificently decorated. Electric lights have been strung to the tops of the pagodas and Chinese flags are waving from the topmasts. Huge Chinese lanterns have been placed on both sides of the streets of Chinatown and at both ends Grant avenue, which runs through the quarter is spanned by magnificent triumphial arches. All the larger stores of the quarter are brilliantly decorated and the streets present a perfect riot of gold and colors.

Prince Tsai Poy Lak is coming to the United States and Canada with a large staff of his officers to study the American army methods. During his sojourn in the United States he will be the guest of the United States army and will be shown military courtesy. The prince will remain in San Francisco until next Monday, when he will start on his overland journey. The Chinese Six Companies have made the most elaborate preparations for the reception and entertainment of the distinguished visitor. The tug Golden Gate is ready to take the reception party out to meet the incoming liner. The party will include Chang Yin Tang, the Chinese minister to Washington, many distinguished army and navy officers, State and city officials and the reception committe of the Six Companies.

The prince and his escort will land at the transport dock and will be escorted through the city by federal troops, Chinese boys in uniform and the Columbia Park boys' band. The procession will march through China town, which will turn out to the last man, woman and child. Tomorrow evening the Prince will be the guest of honor at a banquet to be given by the Six Companies, which will also be attended by Gen. Barry, U.S.A., Admirals Osterhaus, Phelps and Milton, and other officers and officials.

"DECORATIVE ART"

INTERESTING ADDRESS BY MR. HAROLD WADELY.

Followed by a Choice Musical and Literary Program, Given Under the Auspices of the Women's Art Association.

Last night the gymnasium in the Y.W.C.A. was filled with an appreciative audience, assembled to hear the lecture on "Decorative Art," by Mr. Harold Wadley, manager of the Brinton Carpet Company, and to listen to the choice musical and literary program which followed the address.

Mr. Wadley demonstrated in a practical way by means of examples in the way of wall papers, friezes, draperies, floor coverings, pictures, ornaments, etc., how good and bad effects in decoration are obtained.

At the conclusion of the address a short but exceedingly enjoyable program in which Miss Halliban, Miss Choate and Mrs. Wadely took part, the latter possessing elocutionary talent of a high order.

Much praise is due the Woman's Art Association for organizing the affair, which passed off without a hitch

ROBBERS LOOT REVERED CHURCH

Moscow, April 21.—A diamond ornament valued at hundreds of thousands of rubles has been stolen from the greatly revered image of the Virgin in the Uspenski cathedral in the Kremlin, it was discovered today.

The theft, which was perpetrated during last night has thrown the Muscovites into great excitement, and their emotion is pitiful to witness.

Many precisious stones were cut out of the frames of the pictures of the Saints. The total value of the loot is estimated at $500,000.

The Uspenski, or cathedral of the Ascension, is one of three famous cathedrals in Cathedral Square, and stands near the center of the Kremlin. It dates back from the 15 century, and was designed by an Italian architect. It is the principal church, and contains many treasures. A ruble is equivalent to about 50 cents.

A Double Murder at Village of Shawville

Ottawa, April 21.—The village of Shawville in Pontiac was intensely excited last night when a shooting affray took place, resulting in the death of two young men, Harry Howes and Willie Dale were shot dead by Mike Murphy.

It seems seven or eight young men were teasing Murphy and his wife without any malicious intent, but it appears to have annoyed them, and Murphy chased them with a shotgun a few hundred yards, and fired four shots in all, the last shot killing the two young men.

The others ran in an old building, followed by Murphy with the gun, intending to shoot the others as well when one of the young men seized the gun and went to the aid of the two shot.

Murphy and his wife have been arrested and locked up.

Murphy and his wife, who are gypsies, have been camping on disputed territory for three years, and have been a nuisance to the public during that time. The united efforts of Shawville and Clarendon have been futile to drive them away.

Fourteen Jap Heroes Died by Degrees

Kobe, Japan, April 21.—A story of the heroism of Japan naval men was found today in the memorandum of the lieutenant commander of the Japanese submarine which sank at Kure last Friday. The submarine was raised and opened today, revealing that its three officers and eleven men had been asphyxiated.

The memorandum carefully explained the mechanical causes of the boat's sinking, and described the attempts to refloat it. The lieutenant praised the courage of his subordinates, all of whom said they were glad to die for Japan. Their last request was that the emperor would provide for their families.

The memorandum was continued until the writer wans overcome as he described the painful breathing of himself and comrades.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

BERLIN LOCKOUT TO BE SETTLED

TRADES ARBITRATION COURT DECIDES MEN SHOULD GET AN INCREASE.

Cost of Living Is Up—A Further Increase in Wages Will Be Granted on October 1st.

Berlin, April 21.—The out in the building trades in Berlin will in all probability be settled, in consequence of a decision by the Trades Arbitration Court, granting the men a small increase in wages, beginning August 13, with a further increase on October 1. The representatives of both sides have accepted this decision, and the court's terms are now in the hands of the master's and men's unions, who will probably accept them.

In the meantime many contractors in various parts of the empire, express a wish to discontinue the lockout, and the action taken in Berlin will strongly influence the movement."

The arbitrators considered the demand of the workers for an increase as fully justified, owing to the increased cost of living.

THE CROWN HAS PARKER'S GUN

OF SAME CALIBRE AS THE BULLET WHICH KILLED WM. MASTERS.

The Evidence is Strong—Witnesses Will Swear That They Saw the Prisoner Running Away From His Home After the Shooting

Tweed, April 21.—Interest is at high pitch in this town over the developments that are expected to occur at this afternoon's hearing of the adjourned inquest into the death of William Masters, who was shot on the road near his home a few miles from here recently.

Thirty-four witnesses will be heard before the completition of the investigation. It is expected that they will weave a strong web of circumstantial evidence about Robert Parker, the old hunter, who is being held as being the guilty pa

The Crown has in its possession the rifle of Parker, and it is of the same calibre as that of the bullet which killed Masters. Witnesses will be produced to show that after Masters was shot Parker was running away from his home, that he went to the bank and drew out all his money and then dodged hither and thither for several days until his friends advised him to give himself up.

Killed Man While Cutting Up a Pig

Cardinal, Ont., April 21.—Albert Holmes, formerly of Brousseville and who recently purchased a farm about two miles west of Cardinal from Mr. N. A. Bolton, suddenly attacked the latter, and murdered him.

It appears the two men were cutting up a pig when Holmes drew his knife across Bolton's neck, making a wound from which he died shortly afterwards.

It is said that the purchase of the farm has preyed upon Holmes' mind as he thought he had paid too much for it and it is believed he is insane as he took poison only last week.

Holmes escaped to the woods and, at latest accounts, had not been captured though a posse of men are in pursuit.

Bolton, the dead man, was well known throughout the neighborhood and was highly respected. He leaves a widow and one son. The deceased was about 40 years of age.

DID HE USE AN AXE?

Another report is that Holmes instead of using a knife, struck his victim on the back of the head with an axe, killing him instantly.

C. P. R. May Build Two More Vessles

St. John, N.B., April 21.—That the C.P.R. expects to have two new Empress steamers, 630 feet long, running on the Atlantic within two years is the announcement made privately by President Shaughnessy in Montreal yesterday.

Jacob A. J

This information was given to Jacob A. Johnston, who had an interview with Sir Thomas. Johnston is president of the Halifax Board of Trade and a member of the committee appointed to induce the C.P.R. to extend its rails to Halifax. Regarding this Sir Thomas said they had made a proposal to the government that each party should appoint a representative to estimate the value of running rights over the I.C.R. from St. John to Halifax, with a view to coming to an arrangement to use the Government tracks.

NEW FAIR GROUNDS.

The City is in No Position to Purchase Grounds.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I noticed the other night that application was made to the City Council by the directors of the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition, for permanent grounds for exhibition purposes. As the city is not in a financial position to warrant any expenditure whatever in this direction, I suggest that the 60 odd acres belonging to the corporation in the north end be set apart for this purpose. They are, to my mind, even more desirable than the present grounds. The expenditure of a comparatively small sum would put the place in shape. I commend this subject to the attention of the City Council.

Yours,
J. W. E.

POSTUM FOR MOTHER.

The Drink That Nourishes and Supplies Food for Mother and Child.

"My husband has been unable to drink coffee for several years, so we were very glad to give Postum a trial and when we understood that long boiling would bring out the delicious flavor, we have been highly pleased with it.

"It is one of the finest things for nursing mothers that I have ever seen. It keeps up the mother's strength and increases the supply of nourishment for the child if partaken of freely. I drank it between meals instead of water and found it most beneficial.

"Our five-year-old boy has been very delicate since birth and has developed slowly. He was white and bloodless. I began to give him Postum freely and you would be surprised at the change. When any person remarks about the great improvement, we never fail to tell them that we attribute his gain in strength and general health, to the free use of Postum and this has led many friends to use it for themselves and children.

"I have always cautioned friends to whom I have spoken about Postum, to follow directions in making it, for unless it is boiled fifteen or twenty minutes, it is quite tasteless. On the other hand, when properly made, it is very delicious. I want to thank you for the benefits we have derived from the use of your Postum."

Master's Son Believes that Parker Murdered His Father

Prisoner, Once Before Threatened to Shoot Dead Man—He Also Pointed a Rifle at Master's Two Sons

Tweed, April 21.—"I feel sure that it was Robert Parker who shot my father," said William Masters, son of William Masters, who was murdered on the road near his home in the settlement known as "Porto Rico," to a reporter this morning. He then told the story of the trouble that has existed between Parker and the murdered man for almost six years.

"It all arose over a fox which my brother and I found lying dead on the snow. It had been poisoned and, as there is no way of identifying the poisoner, such practice being against the law, we took it home and skinned it. When we had gone out my motherwas alone in the house, Parker came over with his rifle, walked into the house where the fox skin hung, and took it away with him, saying that it was his. A little later he met my father in the yard and raised his rifle and aimed at my father threatening to shoot. We had him up for that, but he was let off as he was an old man, the judge telling us that he did not believe he would bother us again. The trouble went on until two years ago, when he took our boats away out in the lake and let them drift down the river.

THEY GOT INTO A FIGHT.

"My brother and I met him in the road and accused him of it, and the three of us got into a fight. He had a Snider rifle with him, and I was so much afraid that he would shoot that I broke the rifle. He got away from us and went into the house, got another rifle, and, when we were going home, stood in the middle of the road and aimed at us and told us that he would kill us if we came a step nearer. He did this three times that day, and we had to wait until after dark to get home.

"When I found my father lying in the road I thought he had dropped dead until he was moved, and then I saw the blood and knew that he had been shot. I looked around and found a place back of some bushes where the ground had been tramped down and tracks leading away from it in a half circle to Parker's house."

Masters will be one of the principal witnesses at this afternoon's session of the inquest.

Eva Suter Is on Trial for Her Life

Bracebridge, April 21.—The trial of Eva Suter commenced here this morning. The accused was led to the dock at nine o'clock, when her lawyer, T. E. Godson, conferred with her for a brief period. The prisoner, though deathly white, appeared to take the proceedings calmly. Fourteen jurors were challenged. Six persons were absent when called as jurors.

The prisoner answered "Not Guilty" to the charge of murdering her child, Dola Suter.

O. M. Arnold for the Crown, outlined the case against theprisoner. The courtroom was comfortably filled.

Wm. Galbraith, Bracebridge, Ontario land surveyor, the first witness explained to the jury a map he had made of Lot 3, Con. 3, Draper, Suter's house. The witness computed that at the rate of two miles per hour it would take ten minutes and 25 seconds to walk from Suter's house to the spot where the body of the child was found.

Martin Suter, sr., farmer, father of accused, testified that a child was born to Eva Suter at his home in December, 1907. A physician was provided. Eva remained home with the child Dola. On September 20, 1909, a Monday, Eva took the child. Nicholas Wettlaufer, a neighbor called for Eva the Sunday previously.

At 1.30 Sunday night Eva came home, and witness said to her: "Eva if you won't be a better girl and behave yourself you will have to leave." To which accused replied, that she would be better off elsewhere." She came down next morning, Monday, September 20, about 11 o'clock with a valise in one hand and picked up Dola with the other. The child was bare-headed. That was the last seen of him, until found in the swamp.

ACCUSED HER FATHER.

Witness had been accused by his daughter of choking the child and of knocking her down twice, to which he had replied, "Eva, it's no use to throw it on your father's shoulders."

Eva had said she had dreamed her father had buried the child by an upturned root. The body was found face down, naked, buried with moss and leaves by an upturned root, with a string or piece of cotton tied round its neck.

Witness picked up the body when found, and placed it on the grass. They washed it. Eva was fifty or sixty feet away when the body was found. He carried the body to Constable Armstrong's buggy. The child Dola was in good health the day Eva Suter left home.

DIDN'T GET ALONG WELL.

Witness admitted there had been a friendly warfare between Eva and himself. He could not say whether Eva was in the house when he came downstairs at twenty minutes to one on Sunday night. She was not in the kitchen. Witness always looked at the clock whenever he entered the kitchen or left it. Witness had not seen Eva since the inquest until today. He had kept all the family away from Eva.

Mrs. Morrow was the only exception. Witness did not say words to the effect that he did not care whether Evahung or not, but witness could not have any mercy for Eva since she had put him into this position.

It was not more than four days after Eva left that he heard she had been seen without the child. About the end of September witness came to town and asked his son-in-law, Tom Morrow, to make inquiries about the child. Witness said the only reason he came up from the barn on the morning Eva went away was because he was hungry. He was reminded of his evidence at the inquest to the effect that he had come up to see that if Eva went she tookthe child with her. He admitted that he had not wanted the child on the place, and had only given Eva money once during the two and a half years she kept house for him.

Mary Suter, sister of the accused, was at home on the 20th of September last year. Eva was there with her child. Witness stated that Eva came home on Sunday, September 20th, when her father had said to Eva that she must come home earlier or leave. Eva was not in the habit of coming home late. Her father told Eva she must take the baby with her. Eva was not at breakfast with the rest. Witness detailed the events of the morning on which Eva went away. No conversation passed between Mr. Suter and Eva. Witness asked her sister if she was going to leave and where she was going. Eva did not answer. The baby was dressed in a red dress with a coat over it, with no shoes or hat on.

BOY NOT SWORN.

Admiral Suter, eleven years, a brother of the accused, was called, and was cautioned by Justice Middleton as to "the necessity of telling the truth, and the solemnity of the oath, which was not administered. Witness was with his father all afternoon, and knew he had not left the work they were at in the barn No body had told him what to say. Witness did not read the papers.

BACK-WEARY MEN.

"Foundry work compels men to work in the winter in very cold shops," writes Tunis T. Bolter, a well-known mechanic in Hamilton. "I contracted a very severe cold a few months ago which settled in my back and kidneys. I suffered constant pain, and in bending over my work and in heavy lifting, the pain at time was excruciating. My digestion got all out of order, doubtless because the kidneys didn't work right. My wife had used Dr. Hamilton's Pills as a family medicine and I took her advice and started them also. To my great delight a few doses helped me so much it was proof I was using a true remedy. Natural action of the kidneys was brought about, burning and aching ceased, and the back-lameness gradually disappeared. I no longer fear my work. I feel strong and robust, and with such a remedy as Dr. Hamilton's Pills at hand I will probably never again be sick. I advise every working man to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

No other medicine will regulate the system and maintain health like Dr. Hamilton's Pills—beware of the dealer who tries to induce you to take something else on which he makes more profit. Sold in yellow boxes 25c. Prepared by The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ontario.

COLD ON THE CHEST.

Had Suffered for Weeks—Used Fourteen Different Remedies Without Effect.

No stronger proof of the wonderful merit of Nerviline could be produced than the letter of Miss Lucy Mosher, who for years has been a well-known resident of Windsor, N.S.

"I want to add my unsolicited testimonial to the efficacy of your wonderful liniment. Nerviline." I consider it the best remedy for a cold sore throat, wheezing tightness in the chest, etc., and can state that for years our home has never been without Nerviline. I had a dreadful attack of cold that settled on my chest, that fourteen different remedies couldn't break up. I rubbed on Nerviline three times a day, used Nerviline as a gargle and was completely restored. I have induced dozens of my friends to use Nerviline, and they are all delighted with its wonderful power over pain and sickness.

"You are at liberty to publish this signed letter, which I hope will show the way to health to many that need to use Nerviline."

(Signed) "LUCY MOSHER."

A PRACTICAL FARMER.

In Committee of Supply at Ottawa the member for East Peterborough, scored against the Minister of Agriculture. Mr. Sexsmith is a practical farmer. For twelve years he has been a director of the Farmers' Institutes Therefore, he speaks with authority upon agricultural. He has looked over the Dominion Government farm near Ottawa, and found something wrong there. As a result he was able to poke fun at Mr. Fisher. The light and graceful manner of his attack quite pleased the Opposition members. This Government institution, he remarked, was called the Experimental Farm. On the occasion of his visit he found implements stored away for the winter all covered with clay. The ordinary tiller of the soil cleaned and oiled such utensils before laying them by for the season, but no doubt the authorities at the Experimental Farm were merely experimenting to ascertain the effect that mud would have upon them. He discovered farm machinery in an open shed, and encased with two or three inches of ice. Perhaps the Government wished to find out how complicated steel implements would weather such treatment. Hogs he discovered wallowing in filth, but this, of course was another scientific experiment. Finally, he compared the Ottawa farm with the Ontario Agricultural College, much to the advantage of the latter. All that the minister could do was to promise that he would institute an inquiry into the conditions described.

THE ASSESSMENT ACT.

There are some slight amendments to the Assessment Act that will affect the general result to some extent.

Heretofore the personal earnings of householders and heads of families have been exempted to the amount of $1,000. Now they are exempted to the extent of $1,200. The exemption on the personal earnings of non-householders and those who are not heads of families remains at $800.

Then the business tax assessment on newspaper properties has been reduced from 50 per cent. to 35 per cent.

prayer book in hand, in his wide robes and flowing sleeves, Harry Sanderson had just taken his stand. Perhaps more looked at Harry than at the door.

He resumed his usual magnetic self as he stood there, backed by the flowers, his waving brown hair unsmoothed, the ruby ring glowing dull red against the dark leather of the book he held But Harry Sanderson was far from feeling the grave, alien figure he appeared. In the past weeks he had waged a silent warfare with himself, bitter because repressed The strangest new thing that had sprung up in him he had trampled mercilessly under From the thought that he loved the promised wife of another a quick, fastidious sense in him recoiled abashed. This painful struggle had been sharpened by his sense of Hugh's utter worthlessness To that resting assemblage the man who was to make them solemn promises was David Stires' son, who had had his fling, turned over his new leaf becomingly and was now offering substantial hostages to good repute. To him Harry Sanderson, he was a fiancee, a marginless gambler in the futures of his father's favor and a woman's heart.

Only a moment Harry stood waiting; then the palm screened musicians began the march, and Hugh took his place, animated and assured, looking the flushed and expectant bridegroom. At the same instant the chattering and subdued ceased. Jessica, on the arm of the old man, erect, but walking feebly with his cane, was advancing down the roped lane.

Harry's eyes dropped to the opened book, though he knew the office by heart He spoke the time-worn adjuration with clear enunciation, with almost perfunctory distinctness. He did not look at Hugh.

"If any man can show just cause why they may not lawfully be joined together, let him speak or else hereafter forever hold his peace." In the pause—the slightest pause—that turned the page he felt an insane prompting to tear off his robes, to proclaim to this roomful of heated, gaping, fan fluttering humanity that he himself, a minister of the gospel, the celebrant of the rite, knew "just cause."

The choking impulse passed. The periods rolled on. The long white sleeve was slipped from the hand, the ring put on the finger, and the pair whom God and Harry Sanderson had joined together were kneeling on the white satin prie-dieus with bowed heads under the final invocation As they knelt choir voices rose

Then, while the music lingered, the hush of the room broke in a confused murmur, the white ribbon wound ropes were let down, and a voluble wave of congratulators swept over the spot. In a moment more Harry found himself laying off his robes in the vest room. With a sigh of relief he stepped through the wide French window into the garden. The strain over, he longed for the solitude of his study. But David Stires had asked him to remain for a final word, since bride and groom were to leave on an early evening train; the old man was to accompany them a part of the journey, and "the Stires place" was to be closed for an indefinite period.

It was not long before the sound of gay voices and of carriage wheels came around the corner of the house, for the reception was to be curtailed. One by one he heard the carriages roll down the graveled driveway. A last chime of voices talking together—Harry could distinguish Hugh's voice now—and at length quiet told him the last of the guests were gone.

The east room was empty save for servants who were gathering some of the cut flowers for themselves. He stood aimlessly for a few moments looking about him. A white carnation lay at the foot of the dais, fallen from Jessica's shower bouquet. He picked this up, abstractedly smelled its perfume and drew the stem through his buttonhole. He heard voices in the library, and, opening the door, he entered.

In the room sat old David Stires in his wheel chair opposite his son. He was deadly pale, and his fierce eyes blazed like fire in tinder. And what a Hugh! Not the indolently gay prodigal Harry had known in the past nor the flushed bridegroom of a half hour ago! It was a cringing, a haggard Hugh, with a stinking dread in the face, a trembling of the hands, a tense expectation in the posture. The thin line across his brow was a livid pallor. His eyes lifted to Harry's for an instant, then returned in a kind of fascination to a slip of paper on the desk, on which his father's forefinger rested, like a nail transfixing an animate infamy.

"We have married Jessica to a common thief!"

"Sanderson," said the old man in a low, hoarse, unnatural voice, "come in and shut the door. God forgive me! We have married Jessica to a common thief! Hugh, my son, my only child, whom I have forgiven beyond all reckoning, has forged my name to a draft for $5,000!"

Chapter 5

FOR a moment there was dead silence in the room. Harry's breath caught in his throat, and the old man's eye again impaled the hapless son Hugh threw up his head with an attempt at jauntiness, but with furtive apprehension in every muscle, for he could not solve the look he saw on his father's face, and said:

"You act as if it were a cool million. I'm no worse than a lot who have better luck than I. Suppose I did draw the five thousand You were going to give me ten for a wedding present I

Cosgrave's Beer

Words of praise have ever prevailed in advertising "copy." That a producer should wax enthusiastic over his own wares is but human. But it's the praise of the consumer that counts—and it is to a discriminating and critical public that "Cosgrave's" relies upon.

It is safe to say that no product of any kind enjoys a more enviable reputation than does this same Cosgrave Beer of Toronto in markets where it is offered.

Its well-ordered honesty of purpose, purity, brilliancy, body, and every other attribute that goes to make a perfect beer are ever in evidence.

SUCH A CRUSH TO SEE THE COLONEL THAT POLICE STEPPED IN AND WERE HURT.

Reception in Hungary by Royalty and Democracy—Ex-President the Lion of the Hour.

Budapest, April 18.—Col. Roosevelt's visit to Budapest has already cost the chief of police a broken leg, and if the enthusiasm of the Hungarian populace continues throughout his stay, there is no telling what the final count may be.

The chief of police was caught in last night's crush at the railway station, knocked down and trampled upon. He tried his best to save himself by telling the people who he was, but the great throng was bent on just one thing—getting as near Roosevelt as possible, and had the chief been the emperor, it is probable, the result would have been the same.

Roosevelt said the struggle at the station reminded him of a New York department store bargain rush. He was literally raised off the ground, and carried forty feet by the enthusiastic mob, but emerged without a scratch.

The colonel began a repittion of the old grind at 10.30 o'clock, at which hour he called on Archduke Joseph. With some friends, Roosevelt visited parliament, where legislative matters were almost abandoned while a reception was held in his honor. In the evening County Apponyi gave a dinner for Roosevelt, at which the legislative leaders, Archduke Joseph and Baron and Baroness Von Hengelmueller, were present.

Despite the attempts of royalty and the nobility to claim all of the colonel's time, he showed that he has lost none of his democratic spirit by breaking away from his entertainers long enough to visit Francis Kossuth, the leader of the United Opposition party. Kossuth is ill and unable to leave his house. He was overjoyed when the colonel was announced. This visit was wholly unexpected and was a startling revelation to the Hungarians of Roosevelt's democracy. It served to increase the enthusiasm of the people. A three-hour automobile trip over the city was the principal event of the afternoon.

Dr. Shoop's booklet on Rheumatism plainly and interestingly tells just how this is done. ORILLIA TO HAVE NEW UNION STATION.

Orillia, April 19.—Orillia will experience this summer the greatest boom in its history. The contract for the construction of the Orillia to Coldwater section of the C.P.R. will be let during the coming week. The C.N.R. will use their tracks into Orillia, from Atherley, coming into a union station with the C.P.R. at the foot of Mississauga street, in the heart of the business section of the town. The building of the bridges over the Narrows at Atherley and construction throughout the town, including yards and station, will amount to about $500,000, all of which is to be completed by November.

The town is installing, through Engineer Willis Chipman of Toronto, a modern sewage plant, and will commence this summer to reconstruct their waterworks system. One hundred and fifty thousand dollars will be expended on this work.

The Tudhope Carriage Company are erecting an automobile factory, and the E. Long Company a $50,000 machine plant.

Nearing Completition.

The big shops of the Grand Trunk Pacific at Winnipeg are rapidly taking the form of finished buildings. The round house is already roofed in and more than one-half of the five thousand tons of steel used in the construction of the shops has been rivited in place. There will be thirteen seperate buildings, eight departEight buildings of steel construction and five buildings of reinforced concrete. The shops and grounds will cover 300 acres, and there will be seventeen acres of floor space in the thirteen buildings. The main building alone will be 180 feet wide, 880 feet long and 57 feet high. These shops will employ about 3,500 men to begin with, which force will be increased to 5,000 as business justifies.

Another Detective Story.

Manitou Mineral Water.

A company has been organized at Winnipeg for the purpose of trafficing in Manitou mineral water. The Manitou Mineral Springs Company, Limited, will also have a sanatarium in Winnipeg, and are already shipping water to be used in the homes of those inflicted with rheumatism and skin diseases, and if testimonials are worth anything the new company is starting out well.

SAVED HER FINGER.

Mrs. R. E. Bedwell, of 337 Provencher Ave., St. Boniface, Winnipeg, says:—"Some time ago my children took diphtheria, and while attending them the poison entered a small scratch on the second finger of my left hand. This became very sore and blood-poisoning soon set in. For months after the children were quite well I was suffering from a shockingly bad finger. The scratch was caused originally by a pin, and in itself, was not at all serious. The consequences, however, of neglecting this scratch, were very serious to me.

When the blood-poisoning set in I tried poultices and salves I had in the house, but, however, did not leave the desired effect. Quite on the contrary the finger seemed to get more swollen, and I felt sure it was going to be lost. At last I got a box of Zam-Buk, and I cannot tell how pleased I was when I found that the pain was easier after the first application. I persevered with the Zam-Buk and in a few days the swelling began to go down, and the pain to leave the finger. I continued using Zam-Buk, and in a few weeks my finger was well in the place of the poisoned one. I have since used Zam-Buk for other purposes, and always find it a most excellent remedy. I have also used it to ease and cool sore eyes. We recommend Zam-Buk first and to the last. We have proved it to be all that is claimed for it."

All druggists and stores sell Zam-Buk, 50c. box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Send 1c stamp for sample.

The old fashioned way of dosing a weak stomach, or stimulating the Heart or Kidneys is all wrong. Dr. Shoop first pointed out this error. This is why his prescription — Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed entirely to the cause of these ailments —the weak inside or controlling nerves. It isn't so difficult, says Dr. Shoop, to strengthen a weak Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, if one goes at it correctly. Each inside organ has its controlling or inside nerve. When these nerves fail, then these organs must surely falter. These vital truths are leading druggists everywhere to dispense and recommend Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Test it a few days, and see! Improvement will promptly and surely follow. Sold by all dealers.

"PROVIDENCE, INCORPORATED."

(World's Work for April.)

"Providence, Incorporated" is the new nickname of Canada's great railroad. A Danish immigrant agent of the road invented the phrase and it ought to stick. The occasion was the inauguration of a new method of bringing farmers into the Northwest and the method itself is so radical that it deserves some free advertising.

The road owns much land. It is not satisfied with the man who lands at Ellis Island with $23 in his pocket. It goes after the very best class of farmers in Denmark, Sweden, Norway, and the mid-Continental areas. Its agents, who swarm everywhere, found much trouble in persuading satisfied and prosperous farmers on well tilled farms to leave those farms and take to the back plains, with the hardships of the pioneer's life before them. That problem was put before the Canadian Pacific officials. They set to work to solve it.

So, today, pioneering is going out of fashion. Instead of selling raw land to raw settlers, the railroad itself has gone into the pioneering business. It sells the lands, build the house and the barn, breaks the fields, plants the first crop, puts all the necessary tools under cover on the farm—and hands over the farm ready made. The new settler comes from a finished farm to a finished farm.

Two years ago this was an experiment; now it is a policy. As a result the cream of the industrial farmers of Central Europe and of our own Middle West is drifting into Canada by train loads.

Again, while our own government went slowly at the task of reclaiming arid lands in the West, this railroad went into the irrigation business itself. It could not afford to wait for government methods or for the wasteful selections of private capital. Five years ago the financial papers announced that the railroad was going to reclaim some millions of acres of land in the Bow River country, Alberta. Now, a million acres are watered, sold to farmers—settled. The railroad's ditch diggers are moving on to the second million.

No ordinary farmer is wanted on these new acres. The railroad's agents are instructed to call for and demand the best irrigation farmers on earth to till these fields. A scientific farming expert is travelling through selected areas of Europe, lecturing on irrigation farming in Alberta. His lectures draw the very best of the farming experts of the old hard-working nations—and the promises that he makes are backed by a guarantee that never has failed, the word of a railroad that does not lie.

An Enjoyable Affair.

On Wednesday evening a very pleasant affair took place at Coleman's, when two members of the B. A. C. Club were honored with a banquet. Dr. J. E. Middleton and Mr. D. B. MacRae. Dr Middleton is to become a benedict in the near future, and Mr. MacRae is leaving for Winnipeg to accept a position on the staff of the Free Press of that city. Dr. Middleton and Mr. MacRae were presented with gold signet rings, engraved with the insignia of the society. The presentation to Dr. Middleton was made by Mr. C. E. Sisson, and that to Mr. MacRae by Mr. Wallace Wood, and the recipients responded in appropriate words. Short speeches in which the two members were wished every success, were made by Mr. Leslie Turner, who presided, Messrs. Ford Turner, W. D. Campbell, F. Hetherington, W. Warne, W. Richardson and S. Hall.

An Ancient Mountain Race.

The most ancient people still living in the mountains of India are the Todas. Long before the arrival of the other tribes of the region the Todas were the kings of this country, which they hold in common without strife or treachery to one another. The Todas are a fine race, tall, well proportioned and with regular features. Their complexion is of a light brown, and their eyes are bright and intelligent. The men wear a linen or cotton garment that reminds a European of the Roman toga. Their bearing is proud and dignified; their countenances are pleasing; their fine straight hair is regularly cut and well kept. Their superior appearance, the mystery that surrounds them and the obscurity of their origin have caused certain students of ethnology to suppose that the Todas are descended from the soldiers of Darius or Alexander, the ancient conquerors of India.

Dear Guests at Hotels.

"To waken a deaf person who wishes to be called at a certain time in the morning is about the hardest proposition a hotel clerk runs up against," said a member of that fraternity. "To ring the telephone is useless, because the man can't hear. Knocking for the same reason is futile. Now and then a guest who has lost his hearing suggests that he leave his door open, so we can walk right in and shake him, but there are so many chances of somebody less guileless than ourselves walking in ahead of us that we can't consent to that simple expedient. It seems to me that the man who can patent a device for waking the deaf is sure of fame and fortune, not to mention the gratitude of the hotelkeeper of hotel clerks."—New York Globe.

National Mining & Tunnel Company

Our mines are in the greatest camp in America, Leadville, Col., a camp which has produced "a million a month for four hundred months."

We have four hundred acres in the richest proven belt of the county, containing twelve mines, which have already produced to shallow workings over $2,000,000. Our big tunnel being driven in from the base of the mountain will cut these vast ore bodies at depth, and make their millions of dollars worth of ore accessible to us.

Within five months we should cut into our rich ore bodies, and become a large producer before the year closes. It is confidently believed that the Company can pay fabulous profits in the very near future.

Leadville, Colorado, Jan. 6.

Mr. C. L. T. Fisher,
President National Mining & Tunnel Co.,
Lynchburg, Va.

Dear Sir,—My active mining experience extends over a period of more than thirty years and my intimate experience on Sugar Loaf Mountain more than twenty years of that time.

I am acquainted with all the mines on this mountain and positively know that they have produced many millions of dollars in gold and silver values, and for every million that has been mined near the surface, you may confidently expect to extract ten millions along the line of your tunnel. Your advantage in drainage and great depth attained, together with the most economical system of mining makes your project the most safe and alluring that has ever come under my observation. Knowing well the success that will certainly be yours, I congratulate you.

VOL. XXXIII NO. 94 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO SATURDAY APRIL 23 1910 PRICE TWO CENTS

Appeal from the North for Railway Facilities

APSLEY DISTRICT ANXIOUS FOR CONNECTION BY RAIL.

The Peterborough Business Men are Urged to Take Action in Order to Secure the Trade of the Great North Country.

To the Editor of The Times:

Sir,—Circulars from the Peterborough Distributing Agency have been coming to the residents of this locality semi-monthly for over a year, said agency supposed to be at 114 Hunter Street, east. About four months ago I wrote them a letter showing how it was almost impossible for parties up here to get to your city without trouble and expense, whereas with a money order and two cent stamp they could send to Eaton's for almost anything want ed and have the goods back within five days. I suggested Peterborough capitalists ought to form a company and build a road to Apsley and on as far north as enterprise and capital would permit. The P. D. C. had my letter published in The Review, and I got several marked copies, also a letter from F. H. Dobbin to give any information I could as to imports, exports, etc. Other letters were written for The Review by citizens, endorsing the proposition, and finally a map was given in some paper with sketch of proposed road from Peterborough via Burleigh, Apsley, Wilberforce and on to North Bay. That was encouraging, and I began to think something might be done, and that soon we would hear the whistle of the incoming train, but perhaps it may be like the one proposed some twenty odd years ago—die for want of push, and as the enclosed clipping from the daily Review shows how the more enterprising town of Lindsay can see good money in the road if it is built to their town, and Apsley go begging to Coe Hill. Well, if you must have it so, alright, but you are letting what I, and many others (among them some good prospectors) know a second Cobalt slip out of your grasp. There is mineral all through this section—gold, silver nickle, iron, copper, have all been found, besides other ore, and lately a first-class specimen of tin was found not five miles from Apsley. But, of course, if Peterborough is waiting for us to hand over a diamond mine before they get busy, why we will have to call a halt, as I have not heard of any diamonds having been found here, though if reports are true, Lindsay has got us there.

Tourists could reach good summer resorts via Apsley, and not far from Apsley either good fishing and hunting. If some of your citizens would come to Apsley I think we could show them some samples of ore that would surprise them. Build the road; it will pay.

Yours, etc.,
A RESIDENT.

Mark Twain Had a Million Says Publisher of His Books

New York, April 22.—According to members of the firm of Harper and Brothers, Mark Twain's publishers of late years, the noted humorist died a very wealthy man, worth probably $1,000,000 or more, even after he had sacrificed one great fortune to pay the debts of a failed publishing firm in which he was financially interested.

"A rough estimate—and by no means accurate—of the number of Mr. Clemens's books that have been published in America alone would be between 5,000,000 and 8,500,000," said a member of the Harper firm today. "It is no exaggeration to say even at this late day the works of Mark Twain are selling more rapidly than those of any other author, living or dead.

"Mr. Clemens' works have been translated into many tongues; how many we do not know, for he attended to his own business. We merely published his works in America. Other firms did so in England and France and the other countries where they were issued.

"Many years ago Mr. Clemens entered the publishing firm of E. T. Webster in Hartford. This firm published several of his books, but later failed, and it was this failure which caused Mr. Clemens' trip around the world on a lecturing tour, and was followed by the publication of his books 'Innocents Abroad' and 'Following the Equator.' He did not rest until he had paid all the debts of that firm.

"Then his books were published by the American Publishing Company of Hartford, but for the past ten years Mr. Clemens' works have been published by Harper's.

"While we do not care to say what we paid Mr. Clemens' for his numerous short stories which we published in our magazines or what royalties we paid him when the stories were later put into book form, it has been truly said that Mark Twain received more per word for his stories and higher royalties for them in book form than any living author. Mr. Clemens' income was enormous of late years. With a large sum of ready money always at his command it is probable that such bosom friends as H. H. Rogers assisted him in investing that money wisely and safely.

"A short time ago Mr. Clemens desired to have his works a part of every American household, and he entered into a contract with us to publish them in 25 volumes for $25. Of course, he couldn't receive big royalties on such a cheap set of books, but he sacrificed his usual heavy return for the sake of getting his books read. The way this set of books has sold, has astonished even the members of this firm. We have no work today which sells nearly so well.

"But Mr. Clemens has received immense royalties. Several years ago there was issued a special autograph edition of his books in twenty-five volumes at $12 a volume. Mr. Clemens's royalties were at least $75 on each of these sets, which today sell at an enormous premium, containing as they do Mr. Clemens' signature, and those of nearly every prominent American artist.

"Mr. Clemens' book will sell for years to come. Do not forget that. The European estimate of Mr. Clemens is greater than the American estimate. In America we regard him as a humorist. In Europe he is regarded as the greatest American philosopher. In time America will regard him as such. His books will live forever."

Native Mobs Threaten to Slay All the Foreigners in Changsha

Awful State of Unrest—Villages Reduced to Ashes and Students Burned to Death---Terror Reigns on Every Side—Flee to Gun Boats

Hankow, China, April 22.—The situation in Hunan province is reported as critical. Women and children are fleeing for their lives from Cahngshai the capital. A number of villages near that city have been reduced to ashes by native mobs. The kill all foreigners.

country is placarded with threats to kill all foreigners. This disquieting news was brought by missionary refugees who arrived here from Changsha and nearby missionary stations at 10 o'clock this morning. Many of them had traveled thirty miles on foot and reached Yangste Kiang River in rags. Their houses had been burned and they had lost all of their personal effects.

FLEE TO GUN BOATS.

The missionaries stated that gunboats in the river have their guns trained upon Changsha and nearby points and have afforded a refuge for many foreigners. Three thousand Chinese Imperial soldiers are occupying the strategic points of the capital, and detachements are being hurried to the outlying districts where rioting is reported.

Many Chinese have been killed. In one instance a technical school was set afire and thirty students were burned to death. When vessels approach Changsha to rescue the imperilled ones the Chinese mob saturated junks with kerosene oil from the looted stations of the Standard Oil Company, and setting them afire allowed them to float down the stream in an attempt to fire the oncoming steamers.

The viceroy of Hunan province and the governor of Changsha assert that they have the situation in hand and that order is practically restored, but the missionaries say that they fear further outrages.

The telegraph wires to the westward of the disturbed districts have been cut. Many missionaries remain at outlying posts.

AN ENJOYABLE CONCERT.

Delightful Entertainment Under Auspices of St. Andrew's Young Men's Guild.

The concert given last night under the auspices of the Young Men's Guild of St. Andrew's church was a decided success, the affair being most enjoyable. The program was a credit to those concerned, and was in perfect line with the efforts of the Guild in the past. The singing of Master Wilfrid Morrison delighted the audience and charmed the hearts of all. Miss Julia Choate also won fresh laurels by her violin playing, her skill justly entitling herto high rank among the artists of the country. Peterborough has every reason to be proud of this talented young lady, whose future is sure to be a brilliant one.

Master Wilfrid Morrison, the boy soloist, was the chief attraction of the evening. This talented little singer possess a wonderfully sweet voice, and captivated the audience with every number, being forced to respond to an encore on every appearance.

The readings given by D'Oscar Waring were also well received, and added greatly to the enjoyment of the large audience.

Mrs. C. S. McClelland, the talented organist of the church, played the accompaniments.

The program was as follows:

Six Hundred Millions of British Capital

The Monetary Times this week will publish a carefully compiled and splendidly written article by Fred W. Field showing that during the past five years over six hundred million dollars of British capital has come to Canada. Tabulated the figures are:

Canadian bank shares	$ 1,125,000
Investments with loans and mortgage companies	5,719,774
British insurance company investments	9,731,742
Municipal bonds sold privately	10,000,000
Industrial investments	22,500,000
Land and timber investments	19,000,000
Mining	56,315,580
Canadian public flotations in London	461,961,836
Grand total	$606,453,652

These figures were obtained after five months of careful investigation by the Monetary Times. The bringing in of such large amounts of capital has released the savings in the Canadian banks for further development. Canada's credit stands high in London, and this country has become an attractive field for investment.

The Defence Closes in the Wolter Case

New York, April 22.—Positively denying that he ever harmed Ruth Amos Wheeler, the young stenographer, whose body was found on a fire escape outside of the room he occupied, Albert W. Wolter took the stand in his own defence today. While plainly realizing his condition, it was apparent that Wolter had nerved himself for the ordeal, and as he told the story of his wanderings on the day the missing girl is known to have gone to his house, he looked straight at the jury, and his answers were given firmly. Skilfully guided by his counsel, he recited the alibi which he hopes will give him freedom. Wolter said he was born in Germany and had been in this country but two years. He lived with his parents while employed at a local piano firm. He met Katchen Mueller at a dance, and went to live with her. His parents objected and ordered him from their home.

He declared that during the time he and the girl were living together he was out of work, although he tried to find employment. Their expenses, he admitted, were paid from money the girl earned.

After his evidence was taken, the defence closed.

Railway Connection with the North Country

Elsewhere will be found a letter from an esteemed resident of Apsley, to which we would refer. A good deal has been written of late on the subject of railway connection with the north country, but, we believe, without giving the subject proper consideration, and hence without practical value.

The difficulty in the construction of railways at present, is the matter of finance. Formerly railways were built by the granting of bonuses from municipalities, assisted by government subsidies, which enabled promoters to bond the road for sufficient to finish and equip it. Municipal bonusing is now practically a thing of the past. Government aid is also difficult to obtain, so that without these no bonds can issue, hence no one ever thinks of financing the construction of a railroad by the sale of stock alone. Such a thing is not possible. So that the chances for a railway from Peterborough north, under these conditions are not at all hopeful.

There is only one other way that success may be achieved, and that is by interesting one of the great railways to build it as a feeder to its main line. And this brings us to refer to the effort which was made a few years ago. On that occasion a charter was secured for a road from Norwood by way of Warsaw and Jack's Lake, to Apsley and through to Coe Hill, to connect with the Irondale and Bancroft Railway. Although every effort was made to induce the C.P.R. to proceed with the work, nothing was done beyond securing a charter. Naturally, of course, Peterborough was not interested, as the proposed railway gave us the go by.

The only practical course to be pursued, that has any chance of success, is for Peterborough and the people of the back country to get together and endeavor to show the C.P.R. that there is good business for the road when built, and endeavor to have that company proceed with the work. Conditions have changed since the Norwood effort was made. Peterborough has developed into quite an important centre, the company, we believe, are seriously considering the advisability of making it headquarters for their Eastern Ontario system, and the importance of the country to our immediate north is gradually being recognized. If it can be shown that such a line is needed and will pay, the C.P.R. may be induced to undertake to build it. This is the only plan that has any chance of success.

MISCHIEF MAKER.

A Surprise in Brooklyn.

An adult's food that can save a baby proves itself to be nourishing and easily digested and good for big and little folks. A Brooklyn man says:

"When baby was about eleven months old he began to grow thin and pale. This was, at first, attributed to the heat and the fact that his teeth were coming, but, in reality, the poor little thing was starving, his mother's milk not being sufficient nourishment.

"One day after he had cried bitterly for an hour, I suggested that my wife try him on Grape-Nuts. She soaked two teaspoonfuls in a saucer with a little sugar and warm milk. This baby ate so ravenously that she fixed a second which he likewise finished.

"It was not many days before he forgot all about being nursed, and has since lived almost exclusively on Grape-Nuts. Today the boy is strong and robust, and as cute a mischief-maker as a thirteen months old baby is expected to be.

"We have put before him other foods, but he will have none of them, evidently preferring to stick to that which did him so much good—his old friend Grape-Nuts.

"Use this letter any way you wish, for my wife and I can never praise Grape-Nuts enough after the brightness it has brought to our household."

Grape-Nuts is not made for a baby food, but experience with thousands of babies shows it to be among the best, if not entirely the best in use. Being a scientific preparation of Nature's grains, it is equally effective as a body and brain builder for grown-ups.

Houses Must Be Moved.

By referring to the advertising columns of The Times it will be seen that the Canadian General Electric Company, is asking for tenders for the removal of houses owned by them at 462, 464 and 468 Albert street. Mr. E. G. Patterson, the general superintendent, informed The Times that it was proposed to extend the machine shop to Albert street, and the houses would of course have to be removed to make room.

BAPTIST SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Annual Service of Song Tomorrow Morning.

Tomorrow morning the annual Sunday school service of Murray street church will be held. This year one most attractive feature of the service will be the singing of the Sunday school hymns of long ago. The school orchestra will be present and some former superintends will take part in the service. The following are the hymns to be used. While these titles are familiar to those who were in Sunday school a quarter of a century ago, they are quite new to the children of today:

"In the Christian's home in glory."
"Around the throne of God in heaven."
"There is a happy land."
"I'll away I'll away to the promised land."
"Here we suffer grief and pain."

There is no doubt but what the capacity of the building will be taxed to accommodate those who will be anxious to participate in this unique service. The subject of the day will be "The past and the present."

DON'T WANT TO GIVE EVIDENCE

PROMINENT WINNIPEG MEN TRY TO RESCIND ORDER OF THE COURT.

May Come East—Alberta Commission May Come Here and Go to New York.

Edmonton, April 22.—The Great Waterways Royal Commission adjourned today until tomorrow afternoon.

Winnipeg, April 22.—The most curious aspect of the fight to prevent the inside facts about the $7,000,000 bonus to the Great Waterways Railway by the Alberta Government being revealed is under way in the Supreme Court today, where an effort is being made by Winnipeg men, wanted as witnesses before the Royal Commission which will sit here Tuesday, to rescind the order of the High Court, which legalized the commission's work in this province. Tuesday was the day named for the date for those witnesses to testify.

The hearing of the motion to rescind opened at 10 a.m., and an imposing array of legal talent was present.

This move has done more than any thing that has as yet developed to confirm the impression that some sensational facts about the case are to come out.

PUFFINESS UNDER EYES—SWELLING FEET

These Symptoms are Among the Surest Indications of Real Kidney Disease.

For nearly a year my kidneys failed to do their work, writes William F. Plunkett, a well-known dairyman residing in Britannia, "I had swollen feet so badly that at times I could scarcely walk, my skin grew yellowish, and a general puffiness under the eyes gave my face a very unnatural appearance. My strength failed, and as I am a working man, loss of time and the prospect of serious illness caused me great anxiety. I read of several cures from Dr. Hamilton's Pills and decided to get five boxes. Now I feel it my duty to testify that they are the best kidney, liver and stomach medicine on earth. While my kidneys were so badly affected after all I think it was because the liver and bowels were clogged up. Anyway in less than a month the swelling in my feet ceased—my skin lost its yellowish cast—my eyes grew clear and natural, and, considering my age is nearly sixty, I am as fit as most men. Dr. Hamilton's Pills are a wonderful medicine that every man can use to advantage."

Don't be misled into using any other pill but Dr. Hamilton's. Sold in yellow boxes at 25c. per box, all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Company, Kingston, Ontario.

HE WILL BE OFFICIALLY WELCOMED BY MAYOR MORROW.

Details of the Program as Arranged by the Reception Committee—Drive Around Town and Lunch at Oriental Hotel—Will Visit St. John's.

His excellency and vice-regal party will arrive on the noon C.P.R. train from Toronto today, and will be welcomed at the station by his Worship Mayor Morrow, and the members of the City Council. On the arrival of the distinguished visitors they will be taken to the Canadian General Electric Works, the governor-general having expressed a wish to see this plant. From there they will go to the big mills of the Quaker Oats Co., where they will be shown thrown this immense factory. At half-past one luncheon will be served at the Oriental Hotel to which are invited all the members of civic bodies, the local representatives in parliament and a few others. At three o'clock in the afternoon, at the Central Park, a civic address of welcome will be read to his excellency by Mayor Morrow, following which the party will go to the Wolfe street wharf, where they will take the "Bessie Butler" to go over the lift lock.

The Bessie Butler will be accompanied by steamer Otonabee, and his excellency will not only experience the trip over the lift lock but will witness the steamer Otonabee's ascent from the summit. Both steamers will proceed a short distance up the canal, and then return to the city.

To Visit St. John's Church.

Last night Rev. J. C. Davidson, rector of St. John's church, received a letter from the secretary of his excellency the governor-general, indicating that Earl Grey would like to visit that sacred edifice. His Worship Mayor Morrow, accordingly arranged to have the vice-regal party stop at the church on their way from the lift lock at 5.30 this evening. It will be remembered that St. John's church was paid a similar visit by a former governor-general, Lord Minto and Lady Minto, by desire of the latter during their visit to Peterborough.

Will Sing at St. Andrew's.

Master Wilfrid Morrison, who was the chief attraction at the concert under the auspices of the Young Men's Guild of St. Andrew's last night and who delighted all present with his wonderful singing will sing at both the morning and evening services at St. Andrew's church tomorrow.

"It cured me," or "It saved the life of my child," are the expressions you hear every day about Chamberlain's Cholera, Colic, and Diarrhoea Remedy. It is true the world over where this valuable remedy has been introduced. No other medicine in use for diarrhoea or bowel complaints has received such general approval. The secret of the success of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is that it cures. Sold by all dealers.

Murderer Holmes is Still at Large---The Whole Country Alive

Brockville, April 22.—The murder of Nathan Bolton by Albert Holmes on the farm of the latter yesterday morning, just outside the village of Cardinal, has stirred the whole country side into a fever of excitement, which knows no bounds. The brutal nature of the crime is without parallel in the little farming settlement, and the prominence of the men lends additional interest to the tragedy. Careful inquiry fails to reveal the slightest motive for Holmes' terrible act. He and Bolton were evidently on the most friendly terms and there was no reason why he should murder him. After committing the deed Holmes immediately hiked to the adjoining woods. On the next farm, he passed a boy named Geo. Perry, who says Holmes was in a highly excited state of mind. He warned Perry to keep away from him on pain of his life, and intimated his intention of committing suicide upon reaching the woods.

COLD ON THE CHEST.

Had Suffered for Weeks—Used Fourteen Different Remedies Without Effort.

No stronger proof of the wonderful merit of Nerviline could be produced than the letter of Miss Lucy Mosher, who for years has been a well-known resident of Windsor, N.S.

"I want to add my unsolicited testimonial to the efficacy of your wonderful liniment.

TESTIMONIAL NO. 3785

"Nerviline," I consider it the best remedy for a cold sore throat, wheezing tightness in the chest, etc., and can state that for years our home has never been without Nerviline. I had a dreadful attack of cold that settled on my chest, that fourteen different remedies couldn't break up. I rubbed on Nerviline three times a day, used Nerviline as a gargle, and was completely restored. I have induced dozens of my friends to use Nerviline, and they are all delighted with its wonderful power over pain and sickness.

"You are at liberty to publish this signed letter, which I hope will show the way to health to many that need to use Nerviline.

(Signed) "LUCY MOSHER."

All sorts of aches, pains and sufferings—internal and external—yields to Nerviline. Accept no substitute; 25c. per bottle, or two for $1.00. All dealers or the Catarrhozone Company, Kingston, Ont.

SATURDAY, APRIL 23, 1910.

FRENCH AGGRESSION.

There was quite a lively debate in the Senate at Ottawa over the request that there should be another French Canadian Senator and High Court Judge for Ontario. This request came as a result of the meeting of the Educational Conference held some time ago,

Referring to this matter, the Kingston Standard says that it should be the aim of all of us, no matter of what race or creed, to build up a homogeneous Canadian people with common aspirations and ideals. A request to appoint either a judge or a senator, because he is a French-Canadian or an English Canadian makes for a division along the racial lines. That is the very thing we must try to avoid. A judge or a senator should be appointed not because he is French or English but because he is fit for the position and has rendered service to the State.

If we carry this idea to its legitimate conclusion, then we shall have the Germans in Canada, of whom there is a large number, and the Jews who are steadily increasing in numbers and every other race demanding the appointment of a judge or a senator of their own nationality. When the matter is looked at in this way, the absurdity of the request is at once evident. No government can for a moment consider a request of such a nature. Nationality except Canadian nationality can not be taken into account in making appointments to the senate or the judiciary.

The fact is that there has been no demand made by the French Canadian people in Ontario for either of these positions. The demand was made by some ftiends of an aspirant or aspirants for these appointments. A hunger for office was the cause of the whole movement.

Another Detective Story.

The experiment of publishing in weekly instalments the best detective and mystery stories, which was begun by the New York Sunday World six months ago, has proved a great success. That newspaper now announces that on Sunday, May 1, it will begin publication of "That Mainwaring Affair," the exciting realistic romance written by Ralph Henry Barbour.

had to have the money then, and you wouldn't have given it to me. You knew that as well as I do. Besides, I was going to take it up myself, and you would never have been the wiser. He promised to hold it. It's a low trick for him to round on me like this. I'll pay him off for it some time. I don't see that it's anybody else's business but ours anyway," he continued, with a surly glance at Harry.

Harry had been staring at him, but with a vision turned curiously backward—a vision that seemed to see Hugh standing at a carpeted desk in a dewer hung room, while his own voice said out of a lurid shadow, "Will thou have this man to be thy wedded husband"—

"Stay, Sanderson," said the old man; then turning to Hugh, "Who advanced your money on this and promised to 'hold it?'"

"Dr Moreau."

"He profited by it?"

"He got his margin," said Hugh sullenly

"How much margin did he get?"

"A thousand."

"Where is the rest?" David Stires' voice was like a whip of steel.

Hugh hesitated a moment. He had still a few hundreds in pocket, but he did not mention them.

"I need most of it. I—had a few debts"

"Debts of honor, I presume?"

Hugh's sensibility quivered at the fierce, grating irony of the inquiry.

"If you'd been more decent with spending money," he said with a flare of the old effrontery, "I'd have been all right! Ever since I came home you've kept me strapped. I was ashamed to stick up any more of my friends. And of course I couldn't borrow from Jessica?"

"Ashamed!" exclaimed the old man with harsh sternness. "You are without the decency of shame! If you were capable of feeling it you would not mention her name now!"

Hugh thought he saw a glimmer through the storm cloud. Jessica was his anchor to windward. What hurt him would hurt her. He would pull through!

"Well," he said, "it's done, and there's no good making such a row about it. She's my wife and she'll stand by me, if nobody else does!"

No one had ever seen such a look on David Stires' face as came to it now—a sudden blaze of fury and righteous scorn that blighted it like a brand.

"You impudent blackguard! You drag my name in the gutter and then try to trade on my self respect and Jessica's affection. You thought you would take it up yourself and I would be none the wiser! And if I did find it out you counted on my love for the poor, deluded girl you have married to make me condone your criminality, to perjure myself, to admit the signature and shield you from the consequences. You imagine because you are my son that you can do this thing and all still go on as before. Do you suppose I don't consider Jessica? Do you think because you have fooled and cheated her and me and married her that I will give her now to a caught thief, a common jailbird?"

In the thoughts that were darting through Hugh's mind there was none now of regret or of pity for Jessica. His fear was the fear of the trapped spoiler who discerns capture and its consequent penalties in the patrolling bailiffs he dashed upon him. He studied his father with heated, calculating eyes as the old man turned to Harry Sanderson.

"Sanderson," said David Stires once more in his even, deadly voice, "Jessica is waiting in the room above this. She will not understand the delay. Will you go to her? Make some excuse—say you can think of—till I come."

Harry nodded and left the room, shutting the door carefully behind him, carrying with him the covering, helpless look with which Hugh saw himself left alone with his implacable judge. What to say to her? How to say it. He mounted the stair as if a pack swung from his shoulders. He paused a moment at the door, then knocked, turned the knob and entered.

There in the middle of the blue-lit room in her wedding dress, with her bandaged eyes, and her bridal bouquet on the table, stood Jessica. Twilight was near, but even so all the shutters were drawn save one, through which a last glow of refracted sunlight sifted to fall upon his face. Her hands were clasped before her. He could hear her breathing—the full, hurried respiration of expectancy.

Then, while his hand closed the door behind him, a thing unexpected, anomalous, happened—a thing that took him as utterly by surprise as if the solid floor had yawned before him. Slim fingers tore away the broad encircling bandage. She started forward. Her arms were flung about his neck.

"Hugh, Hugh!" she cried. "My husband!"

The pleasure was stricken suddenly from Harry's face. An odd, dazed recognition, a touch of mortification, of self reproach, dashed it from chin to brow. Despite himself he had felt his lips meeting to an answering kiss beneath her own. He drew a gasping breath, his hand nervously caught the bandage, replaced it over the eyes and tied it tightly, pushing down her protesting hands.

"Oh, Hugh," she pleaded, "not for a moment—not when I am so happy! What does it what I dreamed it must be! Why did you make me wait so long? And I can see, Hugh! I can really see! Let it stay off, just for one little moment more!"

He held her hands by force. "Jessica, wait," he said in a broken whisper. "You must not take it off—again—not now!"

An incredible confusion enveloped him. His tongue clove to the roof of his mouth. That note had the naive ful confidence of complete trust. It dismayed him; not only had it heightened and horrified the realization of what she must presently be told, it had laid a careless hand upon his own secret, touching it with an almost cruel mockery. It had overthrown in an instant the barricades he had been piling. The pressure of those lips on his had sent cowering to the furthest

DOUBLE TRACK IN WEST.

The C.P.R. Has 900 Miles of Double Track.

Winnipeg, April 22. — When this stretch of double track is completed the Canadian Pacific will have nearly five hundred miles of continuous double track west of the Great Lakes and the value of such a service over a route that otherwise would be crowded with trains waiting on sidings and trying to make time along the main track, is too apparent to call for detailed demonstration. At the present rate of progress, the Canadian Pacific soon will have its main line double tracked across the entire breadth of the Prairie Provinces and thus will be enabled to make very fast time in its transcontinental service. It is the double track from Winnipeg to Fort William that makes it possible for the C.P.R. to run summer trains to the lake resorts at Kenora in such fast time have summer homes at the lake and go back and forth daily in excellent time and most conveniently.

SEEDING GENERAL

Throughout the West—Large Acreage Opened Up.

Winnipeg, April 20.—The West has had the earliest spring on record. March was like June, and April started in like mid-summer. The farmers taking advantage of the weather conditions have been rushing their work and the western crop promises to be some weeks earlier than for years. In Manitoba the easier old-time farmers who have had experience with western weather for 25 years, have been holding back operations fearing a return to blizzards and frosts, but in the newer settlements of Saskatchewan and Alberta and amongst the new-comers from Ontario and the States, there has been no timidity and they have been on their land from the first of the spring weather early in March.

Even the Manitoba sourdoughs have now decided that the predicted cold spell is not coming and are hard at work, so that seeding operations are now general throughout the West.

INCREASE IN ACREAGE.

The acreage for 1910 will be from 10 to 25 per cent. larger than ever before. The early spring has given the farmers time to prepare an enormous amount of land, while the thousands of settlers who poured into the West last fall—and have been flooding the country all spring, will make an enormous difference. The majority of these newcomers go through to Saskatchewan and Alberta, so that Manitoba's acreage will not likely be seriously affected and although there will probably be an increase it will not be large. Saskatchewan and South Alberta will see the largest increase. In Central Saskatchewan it is predicted that there will be 50 per cent. increase in the acreage this summer, while the same is true of Southern Alberta where the Americans have been heading in large numbers. The big ranches are being rapidly broken up and the Americans are introducing agricultural methods on an enormous scale and are turning over thousands of acres with steam plows.

THE PREMIER PROVINCE.

Last year the acreage in Manitoba under wheat was 2,800,000. This was a little under the acreage of the year before and about 300,000 acres less than 1906, the banner year in Manitoba's history. This year it is expected the acreage under wheat will reach about 3,000,000. In 1909 was Saskatchewan's high-water mark for its wheat field. It was the first year Saskatchewan passed Manitoba as a wheat producing country. Not only did it pass Manitoba, but fairly distanced it and Saskatchewan today may be recognized as the premier wheat growing Province of the Dominion. There have been many estimates of the crop, but the figures probably the most accurate place it at 84,000,000 bushels. Manitoba's yield last year was 52,706,000 bushels. This year it is predicted that Saskatchewan's acreage will actually run 5,000,000 under wheat. However that is probably Western optimism. Alberta's acreage under wheat last year was 330,000 and the yield was 6,250,000 bushels. This year it will probably run 400,000 acres.

Nearing Completition.

The big shops of the Grand Trunk Pacific at Winnipeg are rapidly taking the form of finished buildings. The round house is already roofed in and more than one-half of the five thousand tons of steel used in the construction of the shops has been rivited in place. There will be thirteen seperate buildings, eight departEight buildings of steel construction and five buildings of reinforced concrete. The shops and grounds will cover 300 acres, and there will be seventeen acres of floor space in the thirteen buildings. The main building alone will be 180 feet wide, 880 feet long and 37 feet high. These shops will employ about 3,500 men to begin with, which force will be increased to 5,000 as business justifies.

GREAT CROP EXPECTED.

Seeding in the Great West Attains New Figures.

Winnipeg, April 22.—No more convincing of crop expectations for 1910 could be adduced than the activity of the railroads in work of preparation for handling the grain next fall. Up to last year, there was a good deal of complaint on this score, but the 1909 crop was handled with despatch and smoothness, and there has been less of the frothy talk of government ownership of railroads than there was during the time when the big cooporations were really put to it to get rolling stock turned out fast enough to meet their requirements of rapidly increasing traffic in freight and passenger transportation. To meet this year's needs, the Canadian Pacific has placed an order for over $2,000,000 worth of box cars alone, and is doing a great deal of new trackage work to provide shipping facilities for new districts and to increase those already in service. A new double track between Winnipeg and Portage la Prairie comes under this latter head and will constitute a very great addition to the freight and passenger service of the West.

Tell Some Sick One

It Is Free If It Fails.

Will you do an act of kindness?
Will you tell some sick friend of this, our remarkable offer?

Tell him or her, that you have learned of a medicine (a certain cure for pain) that is the talk of the town. It is absolutely and unconditionally free if it fails.

And you, an invalid, already know of its almost marvelous and instantaneous effects.

For 20 years it has been the standard remedy for Stomach, Kidney and Blood ailments everywhere in America.

When the "vitals" or controlling nerves of these vital organs begin to fail, it is Dr. Shoop's Restorative that has quickly vitalized, and strengthened, and brought these nerves and organs back to health again.

I do not dose the Stomach, nor stimulate the Heart or Kidneys—for that is all wrong.

Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes direct to the cause of these ailments—the failing, diseased inside or controlling nerves. And herein lies the keynote to my success.

When these nerves are again made well and strong, then that is the certain end of all such sickness.

To me it is a great satisfaction that I am the only physician able to say to the suffering sick, Take my prescription for full 21 days, and if it fails to help you, the entire expense is mine—not yours.

Then why should the sick take any chance on any other medicine, when maker dare not back it just as I do by this remarkable offer?

I also have a Rheumatic Remedy—and that remedy is covered by the same identical offer to help, no pay" proposition.

Besides, you are free to consult me just as you would your home physician. My advice and the book below are yours—all without cost.

Perhaps a word or two from me will clear up some sorter's ailment. I have helped thousands upon thousands by my private prescriptions or personal "drug" plan. My best effort is merely words of simple reason.

Do not run a-mail you an order as soon. Take the message to a sick friend.

A card will bring the correspondence.

I will have a full session like. Any "drug" store where you can come to simply go for the 25 cent.

But if you will write me to-day, for all druggists in the United States and Canada have my prescriptions, I will immediately give a course. Address Dr. Shoop, Box 12, Racine, Wis.

Write them that I sent them.

Trouble With Dog Bylaw.

Lindsay is having trouble enforcing the by-law passed there recently forbidding dogs running at large in the town. The cause of the trouble is that Magistrate Moore went out accompanied by his dog, which was unchained. The dog, being a pretty well trained animal, kept close to Mr. Moore until a stray cat happened to loom up on the horizon, and then the dog refused to pay any attention to his master's voice. An information was laid before Magistrate Jackson, but he would not take any action. The council is in a quandary what to do under the circumstances, and talk of laying the matter before the Attorney-General.

The old fashioned way of dosing a weak stomach, or stimulating the Heart or Kidneys is all wrong, Dr. Shoop first pointed out this error. This is why his prescription — Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed entirely to the cause of these ailments—the weak inside or controlling nerves. It isn't so difficult, says Dr. Shoop, to strengthen a weak Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, if one goes at it correctly. Each inside organ has its controlling or inside nerve. When these nerves fail, then these organs must surely falter. These vital truths are leading druggists everywhere to dispense and recommend Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Test it a few days, and see! Improvement will promptly and surely follow. Sold by all dealers.

National Mining & Tunnel Company

Our mines are in the greatest camp in America, Leadville, Col., a camp which has produced "a million a month for four hundred months."

We have four hundred acres in the richest proven belt of the county, containing twelve mines, which have already produced to shallow workings over $2,000,000. Our big tunnel being driven in from the base of the mountain will cut these vast ore bodies at depth, and make their millions of dollars worth of ore accessible to us.

Within five months we should cut into our rich ore bodies, and become a large producer before the year closes. It is confidently believed that the Company can pay fabulous profits in the very near future.

Leadville, Colorado, Jan. 6.

Mr. C. L. T. Fisher,

President National Mining & Tunnel Co.,

Lynchburg, Va.

Dear Sir,—My active mining experience extends over a period of more than thirty years and my intimate experience on Sugar Loaf Mountain more than twenty years of that time.

I am acquainted with all the mines on this mountain and positively know that they have produced many millions of dollars in gold and silver values, and for every million that has been mined near the surface, you may confidently expect to extract ten millions along the line of your tunnel. Your advantage in drainage and great depth attained, together with the most economical system of mining makes your project the most safe and alluring that has ever come under my observation. Knowing well the success that will certainly be yours, I congratulate you.

VOL. XXXIII NO. 95 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO MONDAY APRIL 25 1910 PRICE TWO CENTS

The Governor-General's Visit to Peterborough

Saturday was a gala day for Peterborough, her principal streets, places of business, both public and private, testifying by a plentiful display of flags and bunting that this city appreciated the honor done her by the visit of his Majesty's representative in Canada, Earl Grey, our governor-general. His excellency, accompanied by the Earl of Lascelles, military secretary, and Capt. Fife, A.D.C., arrived by the noon C.P.R. train. His Worship Mayor Morrow and the City Council met the vice-regal party, and with his worship the mayor walking by his side his excellency was escorted through the large gathering to the carriage that awaited him at the north side of the station. The members of the council followed and took the carriages that were waiting for them. His excellency stepped from the rear coach as the band played "God Save the King." He walked up the station platform the immense crowd cheering loyally and the distinguished visitor smiled a gracious acknowledgment of the very hearty reception accorded him. As his excellency was proceeding to his carriage the band played with fine effect, "O Canada," and "Rule Britania."

From the station the governor-general's carriage was driven to the plant of the Canadian General Electric Company, and the party was shown through the premises by Mr. Frederick Nicholls, the general manager of the company, and Mr. G. E. Patterson, the superintendent of the works. His excellency expressed surprise and satisfaction at the size and excellent equipment of the large plant.

From the C.G.E. the party were driven to the Quaker Oats mills, which again evoked congratulatory comment from his excellency.:

EARL GREY.

Luncheon at Oriental.

Luncheon was served in the Oriental Hotel in a way that reflected credit upon the culinary and artistic possibilities of the city. Miss Host Graham, had even excelled himself in the appetising and dainty menu presented for delectation of the distinguished visitor and his hosts.

Among the invited guests were members of the City Council, Board of Education, Separate School Board Water Commissioners, City Poor Trust, License Commissioners and members of Parliament.

Short speeches were the order of the day, as a long program was ahead for the guest of the day.

Mayor Morrow, in proposing the health of the King, spoke practically as follows:

Your excellency and gentlemen, on an occasion like the present, I feel that it is a great honor, indeed, to preside at this complimentary luncheon to his Excellency Earl Grey, the honored representative of the King, in this, our fair Dominion.

I am sure that we are all proud of this city in which we dwell, proud that we live in Ontario, the banner province of the Dominion; proud, too of the fact that we are citizens of the greatest of the overseas Dominions, and no less proud that we belong to the great and glorious British Empire.

Let me direct your thoughts across the sea to him who is the honored head of the great Empire, a monarch who is beloved by his own people, and held in the highest regard by the whole civilized world, to him who has justly earned that proud title of "Peace Maker." So gentlemen, let me give you as our first toast, "His Imperial Majesty, King Edward the Seventh.

After the singing of the National Anthem his worship arose and called upon Hon. Mr. Stratton to propose the next toast, "Our Honored Guest, His Excellency, the Governor-General."

Hon. Stratton, M.P.

Mr. Stratton said on rising to discharge his pleasant duty that the gathering need not fear that he was going to inflict a speech. He said that just half a century ago, Peterborough was honored with a visit from his Majesty King Edward the Seventh, then the boyish Prince of Wales. Today they were honored with a visit from his Excellency Earl Grey, the worthy representative of our great King. Since Canada has enjoyed the boon of self-government it had been blessed with the best sovereigns that ever sat on the throne of the British or other empires. While they had been fortunate in this regard, they had been no less fortunate in the vice-regal representatives whom they had been privileged to receive and honor and [illegible] these none had been more worthy of honor both from personal and official consideration than the [illegible] incumbent of the office of Governor-General. His Excellency [illegible] whom they delighted to honor and welcome to Peterborough. He said that it was safe to say that no representative of the King in Canada had been more widely known or held in higher esteem than his excellency.

During the elapsed five years of his vice-regal regime which they all regretting was drawing to its constitutional close his excellency had graciously, industriously and intelligently identified himself with the interests of Canada. He had taken an earnest interest in every phase of the national welfare, political, material, moral, social and humanitarian. He had, Mr. Stratton ventured to say, a large faith in the boundless resources of Canada and in the progressive and aspiring spirit of the Canadian people.

He had been a good friend of Canada, had spoken many a good and potent word for her and he would, the speaker was sure, do so again many a time, long after his official association with Canada had ended. Apart from his constitutional duties his excellency had shown a wide and industrious philantrophic activity. He had given head and impulse to great movements whose good effects would endure long after the close of his vice-regal term. Mr. Stratton ventured to say that the present occasion suggested how greatly his influence and actions had promoted the interests of music and the drama and the higher forms of culture, and that thousands would bless his memory for the noble work done and fostered under his initiative and influence on behalf of those afflicted with our most dread disease.

They had loyally and enthusiastically honored the toast of the King and he was sure they would receive with no less warmth the toast he had the honor to propose. He then asked the gathering to join in the toast "Our Honored Guest, Earl Grey, Governor-General of Canada."

The toast was received with enthusiasm amid cheer after cheer.

After the toast to his excellency had been duly and enthusiastically honored, Earl Grey said emphatically that he could or would not miss an opportunity of seeing Peterborough, a city of which he had heard much and favorably. As Peterborough seems to be run on schedule time and there is a long afternoon program he would cut his speech short. He spoke in very flattering terms of the C.G.E. Co., and the Quaker Oats, respective factories that he had just visited. The electric magnetic clutch, with its immense tenacity and holding power reminded him of the sympathy joining Britons all over the world. He concluded by thanking those present for the honor they had done him. The lunch ended with the National Anthem.

After luncheon, his excellency, accompanied by his personal staff, mayor and the City Council, proceeded to the armories where the civic address was read by Mayor Morrow and replied to by his excellency. The vice-regal party then took backs to the wharf and boarded the "Bessie Butler," for the trip over the lift lock, after which they proceeded to St. John's church, where the earl was received by the rector.

SEEDING GENERAL

Throughout the West—Large Acreage Opened Up.

Winnipeg, April 20.—The West has had the earliest spring on record. March was like June, and April started in like mid-summer. The farmers taking advantage of the weather conditions have been rushing their work and the western crop promises to be some weeks earlier than for years In Manitoba the easier old-time farmers who have had experience with western weather for 25 years, have been holding back operations fearing a return to blizzards and frosts, but in the newer settlements of Saskatchewan and Alberta and amongst the new-comers from Ontario and the States, there has been no timidity and they have been on their land from the first of the spring weather early in March.

Even the Manitoba scoordoughs have now decided that the predicted cold spell is not coming and are hard at work, so that seeding operations are now general throughout the West.

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets will brace up the nerves, banish sick headache, prevent despondency and invigorate the whole system. Sold by all dealers.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

LARGE SUM DONATED.

Chimes Fund Now Nears the $8,000 Mark.

During the evening service at St. John's church last night, the Rector, Rev. J. C. Davidson, broke the pleasing intelligence to his flock that the fund for the proposed set of chimes, for that sacred edifice, now in hand, amounts to nearly nineteen hundred dollars ($1900), including contributions from late members of the church now residing out of town.

The reverend gentleman expressed the pleasure it gave him, to find that he, and those assisting him in raising this fund should have met with so hearty a response within about two weeks. He also remarked that certain small sums had been offered toward the chimes fund by several people whose zeal for the cause excelled their pecuniary condition and that, with all due gratitude to these persons, he had refused to accept their money. It now seems that Peterborough is practically assured of having a set of chimes that will be a credit to the city.

FUNERAL OF LATE CHIEF OF POLICE.

A Large Attendance of Members of Fraternal Societies and Citizens Generally.

The remains of the late Chief of Police, Geo. I. Roesel, were interred in the Little Lake cemetery yesterday afternoon with Masonic honors. The funeral cortage was very large, including his Worship Mayor Morrow, the City Council, members of the two local Masonic lodges, and brethren of Court Chemong, I.O.F., and the Home Circle, together with a large number of citizens in general.

The poll bearers were Police Constables McGinty, Adams, Newhall, Meagher and Mebarry. At the cemetery the Masonic pall bearers from the hearse to the grave were: Rt. Wor. Bro. H. Rush, V. Wor. Bros. H. C. Winch, G. H. Winch and Alex. Gibson, and Wor. Bros. T. F. Matthews and John Crane. The burial service was read by Rev. Mr. Webb of Murray street Baptist church, while the beautiful and impressive Masonic funeral service was conducted by Rt. Wor. Bro. H. Rush, assisted by Wor. Bros., A. P. McLean, Morrow, Wilson and Hill, present master and past masters of Peterborough Lodge, respectively, of which the deceased was a faithful and esteemed member and past master.

No city official stood higher in the esteem and respect of this community as did the late Geo. I. Roesel, which was fully demonstrated by the large attendance at the last sad rites yesterday afternoon, notwithstanding the inclement weather.

CHURCH DID NOT BENEFIT.

Interesting Discussion Regarding Hotel on Church Property.

A heated discussion that took place Saturday evening on George and Hubter street corner between two well-known citizens, was listened to attentively by a number of citizens, among them a Times representative. The raison d'etre for the controversy was a letter in a local contemporary over the nom de plume "South End." The writer of this letter seemed to cast some blame on St. John's church because a licensed hotel, now to be deprived of said license, was operated on the church property. A sympathizer with the writer of this letter on Saturday evening, endorsed the sentiments of nom de plume. A bystander, not a commencient of St. John's, hearing what was said, stardily took up cudgels in contradiction of the sentiments expressed by the sympathizer. Several other gentlemen entered into the discussion. It was clearly shown that neither St. John's church nor its congregation were responsible for the hotel in question, because years ago, the land, which alone belongs to the church, was leased for a long term to a bank which desired it for building purposes. When the bank referred to failed, the building, under no control whatever by St. John's church, was leased as a hotel. In fact the church derives no pecuniary benefit from the actual building, whether used as an hotel or, say, a dry goods store. Fortunately the champion of the church's cause, presented his facts so clearly and conclusively that the discussion entitled amicably.

Lindsay Seems Weak on Ball.

The outlook for a town league does not present a very roseate hue. There are all sorts of rumors in circulation regarding certain teams organizing, but this turns out to be only gud. In view of the situation existing, the only proper thing to do is to gather together the strongest nine that can be produced in town, and enter it in either the Mariposa League or the Midland League that is, of course, if Lindsay is wanted in these organizations. — Lindsay Post.

A Gala Day Performance of the Geisha

The Governor-General Expresses His High Appreciation of the Opera.

A Red Letter Day in the History of Peterborough Local Amateur Operatic Talent—Two British Peers Present.

The opera house was crowded from footlights to the last tier of gallery seats, on Saturday night, when the third performance in Peterborough of "The Geisha" was given under the distinguished patronage of his Excellency Earl Grey, Governor-General of Canada. The elite of the city were present, and floral offerings amid enthusiastic applause interspersed the evening's really high class musical offering. Encores were called for so frequently that the talented conductor, Mr. R. J. Devey, was compelled in the last act to limit the responses to permit of a final curtain drop by eleven-thirty.

The vice-regal and adjoining boxes were appropriately draped with national ensigns, and surmounted with blue masque dome designs, in quite an artistic manner. Elaborate souvenir programs were supplied by the opera house.

The governor-general was received at the stage door by Mr. W. E. Conway on behalf of the Peterborough Amateur Operatic Company, and ushered up to his private box. His excellency was accompanied by the Earl of Lascelles, M.V.O., his military secretary, Capt. Fife, A.D.C., Hon. J. R. Stratton and his Worship Mayor Morrow. The vice-regal box was the center one of the right hand trio. Hon. J. R. Stratton and party occupied the box on his excellency's right, while the mayor and party occupied the one immediately facing that of the distinguished visitors. On Earl Grey entering his box the whole house rose with one accord and remained standing while the orchestra played the National Anthem. Court etiquette was observed in every particular on this the first occasion any representative of his majesty has honored Peterborough's opera house with his presence.

The talented company of amateur operatic performers, if anything excelled themselves on Saturday night. The rough edges so apparent in most amateur offerings were conspicuously absent, and the whole performance was characterized by its very near approach to professionalism of no inferior degree of merit. As the piece has been fully described before it is unnecessary to go into details. Suffice it to say that the work of the Peterborough Operatic Company on this occasion reflects the fullest measure of credit on the little city of Peterborough. Miss Lavina Hallihan possesses operatic talent of exceedingly great promise. Her voice is highly acceptable to the most critical taste, her enunciation charmingly clear, and her gesture histrionically appropriate to her character of the Geisha which called for many encores. Mrs. Devey's conception of Molly Seamore is true to life, especially in the Rickshaw act with Mr. Chandler, which elicited rounds of applause. Miss Lillian Dean makes a charming French interpreter and her comedy received well earned approval. Mr. Maclaren, as the Chinaman, took the leading comedy part in an irresistbly humorous manner. Mrs. Firth's interpretation of the character of Lady Wyane was properly dignified.

Mr. Nat Greenslagh was acceptably correct in his delineation of the Marquis Imari.

Mr. Lee possesses a sweet tenor voice, and his duet with Miss Hallihan took the house by storm. Messrs. Leo Chandler, John King, R. Sutcliffe, Mr. Hickey and Master Cyril Devey sustained their charactors as naval officers in a highly creditable manner. The chorus and Geisha quartette were not found wanting by any means, and in fact the whole offering is worthy more than one attendance. The staging of the opera was admirable, presenting many pretty pictures.

FLORAL OFFERINGS.

Miss Hallihan received four handsome boquets, including one from the governor-general and one from the mayor.

Mrs. Devey received three floral offerings, including one from his excellency and one from the mayor.

Miss Dean was the resipient of two floral tributes, and Mrs. Firth of another.

Mr. R. J. Devey presented each member of the company with crimson rose sprays, which they wore during the performance.

His excellency, after the performance, congratulated Mrs. Devey upon the highly successful results of her active co-operation with Mr. Devey in training the company. In fact he expressed to the company his unqualified appreciation and enjoyment of the whole offering. His excellency was bade farewell in three rousing British cheers.

After luncheon at the Oriental, Earl Grey asked Mr. Devey what occasioned the staging of the Geisha in so elaborate a manner. When informed that Mr. and Mrs. Devey were personally responsible for $1,000 worth of costumes, his excellency laughingly remarked that there would be no need for him to enquire as to whether Saturday's night production had placed the venture beyond debt.

AT ST. ANDREW'S.

Rev. H. Clarke Occupied the Pulpit Yesterday.

The Rev. H. Clark of Honan, China, preached in St. Andrew's church yesterday morning. Mr. Clark's address was most interesting throughout and the people will long hold him in remembrance. Mr. Clark organized the school work in Honan, for which the late Mrs. Maxwell gave the money for the erection of the building.

VERDICT MURDER TWEED INQUEST

PARKER WILL COME UP FOR PRELIMINARY TRIAL NEXT WEEK.

Inspector's Evidence — Fitted Boots Into Tracks—Calibre of Rifle Bullet—Circumstantial Evidence.

Tweed, April 22.—"We the jury find that William Masters came to his death on April 8, 1910, as the result of a bullet which passed through the heart, and that the shot was fired by some person or persons to us unknown."

The above verdict was returned at the close of the second hearing of the inquest into the murder which has roused all Hungerford Township and a large part of Hastings county.

Robert Parker, who is at present on remand on a charge of murder, did not appear at the inquest yesterday. He is being held in custody at Belleville, and will be brought up before the associated magistrates in this town on Thursday, April 28, for his preliminary hearing.

SON PROSPERED IN WEST.

Mrs. Parker was alone on the little farm until two of her sons came home from the West a few days ago. The other son is still in the West. It is understood that the young men have prospered. At any rate a large sum of money has been brought forward to pay for a good defence. Mr. D. K. Stewart, of Madoc, and Mr. William Carnew of the firm of Porter & Carnew of Belleville, were present at the inquest. Mr. E. Gus. Porter will defend Parker at his trial.

The interest aroused in the case was so great that the town hall would not hold the crowd that gathered and people stood outside the open door in crowds, and waited for hour while the jury deliberated, although it was the hour for supper.

FITTED BOOTS IN TRACKS.

Yesterday's evidence made a strong advance in the case for the prosecution. Provincial Inspector Miller, of Kinrade murder fame, has worked steadily on the case and has brought out much evidence, important amongst which is the fitting of Parker's boots in the footprints leading from the spot where the tragedy occurred, and the finding of the rifle and revolver in the house at Porto Rico, as the cluster of houses is called, for some reason known apparently to none who live nearby.

Provincial Inspector Miller, who took charge of the case since April 10th, gave evidence, "I saw Parker in the jail," said he, "and after warning him, asked him if he could throw any light on the matter. He turned to me and said: 'These Masters are bad people; they have been a trouble to me for a long time.' I asked him if he had seen any of them on the morning of the shooting. He said he had not. I asked him where he was on that morning. He told me he had got up at 8, had gone to Tweed for his newspapers, had come back and read the papers and had then returned to Tweed. He said that he had passed the farm where the Coulter boys were at work, he had said 'Hello boys!' and they had said 'Hello!' back. He admitted having a revolver and a rifle but said he hadn't used them that day.

"I found the rifle and revolver in the house after the shooting," said Inspector Miller.

HEARD THE SHOT.

Wesley Badgley was coming to town with a load of hay from his farm five miles away, when he heard a shot, apparently from a rifle, in the direction of the spot where Masters' body was found.

Crown Attorney Anderson asked a point blank question: "Do you know who shot Masters."

"No, I don't."

"Have you heard anything or have you any ideas that would lead to you any idea that would lead you to an opinion as to by what means Masters came to his death?"

"No."

Addison Coulter, a brother of a foregoing witness, said he had seen Masters drive up the Concession road at about half-past nine or earlier, and had seen him turn to the left. The next time he saw him he was dead.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Chief Howard Should Go to the Syracuse Meeting.

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Sir,—I read with some interest a letter over the signature of "Citizen" in Saturday's Examiner in reference to the Fire, Water & Light Committee deciding not to send Fire Chief Howard to the Fire Chiefs' meeting in Syracuse next August. I quite agree with the writer in saying that the city should send this local fire fighter. While Chief Howard is unquestionably a most efficient officer and a thoroughly qualified fire fighter, no man "knows it all." Peterborough has been singularly fortunate in the matter of serious fires. Still the old Latin saying "In bello pace paratus," applies very pointedly to this question. A man with Chief Howard's practical knowledge and intelligence, could not fail to learn many things at such a meeting that must, sooner or later be of great advantage to the brigade and consequently to our ratepayers. The expense for sending him to Syracuse would be insignificant in comparison to the results. It is not making too rash a statement to say that this trip might be repaid to the city a hundred fold at one serious fire, through some one new idea the chief might pick up at the meeting of expert fire-fighters. It is to be hoped that arrangements may be made to send Chief Howard to Syracuse.

WATER STREET RESIDENT.

Song at St. Andrew's.

Last night the auditorium of the church was filled to hear Master Wilfrid Morrison of Toronto, who assisted in the praise service at St. Andrew's throughout the day. His rendering of "There is a Green Hill" and "Holy City," was appreciated by the large congregation. Wilfrid Morrison will return to assist in the anniversary of the organization of the church to be held May 8th, and the congregation reunion May 9th. The Rev. T. Crawford Brown, M.A., of New St. Andrew's, Toronto, will be the preacher on that occasion.

GREAT CROP EXPECTED.

Seeding in the Great West Attains New Figures.

Winnipeg, April 22.—No more convincing of crop expectations for 1910 could be adduced than the activity of the railroads in work of preparation for handling the grain next fall. Up to last year, there was a good deal of complaint on this score, but the 1909 crop was handled with despatch and smoothness, and there has been less of the frothy talk of government ownership of railroads than there was during the time when the big corporations were really put to it to get rolling stock turned out fast enough to meet their requirements of rapidly increasing traffic in freight and passenger transportation. To-meet this year's needs, the Canadian Pacific has placed an order for over $2,000,000 worth of box cars alone, and is doing a great deal of new trackage work to provide shipping facilities for new districts and to increase those already in service. A new double track between Winnipeg and Portage la Prairie comes under this latter head and will constitute a very great addition to the freight and passenger service of the West.

BACK-WEARY MEN.
"Foundry work compels men to work in the winter in very cold shops," writes Tunis T. Bolter, a well-known mechanic in Hamilton. "I contracted a very severe cold a few months ago which settled in my back and kidneys. I suffered constant pain, and in bending over my work and in heavy lifting, the pain at time was excruciating. My digestion got all out of order, doubtless because the kidneys didn't work right. My wife had used Dr. Hamilton's Pills as a family medicine and I took her advice and started them also. To my great delight a few doses helped me so much it was proof I was using a true remedy. Natural action of the kidneys was brought about, burning and aching ceased, and the back-lameness gradually disappeared. I no longer bear my work. I feel strong and robust, and with such a remedy as Dr. Hamilton's Pills at hand I will probably never again be sick. I advise every working man to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

PREPARE FOR LUMBAGO!

If You Have "Nerviline" Handy One Rubbing Will Cure the Pain.

Thousands Use "Nerviline."

The "strike" of lumbago is like a bolt of lightning—you never know when it is coming or where it is going to strike. Probably the one certain thing about Lumbago is the fact that it can be cured by Nerviline—the only liniment that penetrates deeply enough to reach the congested cords and muscles.

LETTER NO. 4875

"Years ago I strained my back and suffered considerably with weakness over the spine," writes Darius P. Millan, a well-known farmer, residing near Kingsville. "Then lumbago attacked the weak spot, for days at a time, I would have to lie up in bed bed, unable to move or turn. Liniments, poultices and hot applications failed to bring the desired relief, and I was in despair of ever getting really well again. I at last decided to test "Nerviline." I got five bottles from the drug store and had it rubbed on three times a day. The stiffness and pain left my back quickly, and by continuing Nerviline I was completely cured of Lumbago."

This is similar testimony to that of nearly five thousand Canadians who have written unstinted words of praise to the manufacturers of Nerviline. For the cure of lumbago, sciatica, neuralgia and rheumatism there is no liniment with one-fifth the pain-relieving power of Nerviline!

Refuse any substitute. Large 25c bottles of Nerviline, or five for $1.00 at all dealers. or the Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

EDUCATION AND CRIME.

The English have long indulged the complacent habit of comparing their criminal statistics with those of other and less law-abiding lands. But a recent blue book disconcerts them with figures showing the progressive increase of crime in England during the past ten years. In 1900 the number of prisoners tried for indictable offences was 53,000. In 1905 it was 61,000. Of late it has risen to 70,000.

Various reasons are assigned. Emphasis is laid on the fact that the largest increases were in industrial districts and the deduction is drawn that the cause is unemployment. Constables are almost unanimous in the opinion that the trouble is largely due to a growing leniency in imposing sentence.

But the fact should be recognized that there is no necessary correspondence between an advance in public education and an advance in public morality. Education, it is true, equips the young, but as often with a weapon for evil as with an implement for good. After all, the grist of crime, in England and America, is ground through the elementary schools. If religious instruction is impracticable, then at least ethical instruction should not fail. The social sense should be cultivated and the young citizen taught his duties as well as his rights. The ensuing benefit, whether in public or in private life, would be marked.

Another Detective Story.

The experiment of publishing in weekly instalments the best detective and mystery stories, which was begun by the New York Sunday World six months ago, has proved a great success. That newspaper now announces that on Sunday, May 1, it will begin publication of "That Mainwaring Affair," the exciting realistic romance written by Ralph Henry Barbour.

Satan Sanderson

Author of "Hearts Courageous," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1909, THE BOBBS-MERRILL COMPANY

CONTINUED.

Dread of his future a great wave which dimmed her locks might ever again furl-ed. "What a dear goose you are!" she said. "The light didn't hurt them—indeed, indeed! Only to think, Hugh! Your wife will have her sight! Do go and tell your father. He will be waiting to know!"

Harry made some incoherent reply. He was desperately anxious to get away. His thought was a snarl of tatters threaded by one lucid purpose—to spare her coming self abasement this sardonic humiliation.

He almost ran from the room and down the stair.

Chapter 6

At the foot of the stair Harry paused, drawing a deep breath as if to lift a weight of air. He needed to get his bearings, to win back a measure of calmness.

As he stood there Hugh came from the library. His head was down, and he went furtively and slinkingly, as though dreading even a casual regard. He snatched his hat from the rack, passed out of the house and was swallowed up in the dusk. David Stires had followed his son into the hall. He answered the gloomy question in Harry's eyes.

"He is gone," he said, "and I hope to heaven I may never see his face again!" Then slowly and feebly he ascended the stairs.

Ten, fifteen minutes passed, and old David Stires re-entered the room, went feebly to his wheel chair and sat down.

"I have told her," he said presently in a broken voice. "You are kind, Sanderson, very kind. God help us!"

"What has God to do with it?" fell a voice behind them. Harry faced about. It was Jessica as he had first seen her in the [illegible] room with the bandage across her eyes.

"What has God to do with it?" she repeated in a hard tone. "Perhaps Mr. Sanderson can tell us. It is in his line."

"Please"— said Harry.

He could not have told what he would have asked though the accent was almost one of entreaty. The harsh satire touched his sacred calling. Coming from her lips it affronted at once his religious instinct and his awakened love. It was all he said, for he stopped suddenly at sight of her face, pain frosted, white as the folded cloth.

"Oh," she said, turning toward the voice, "I remember what you said that night right here in this very room—that you sowed your wild oats at college with Hugh—that they were a thin crop! You were strong and he was weak. You led, and he followed. You were 'Satan Sanderson' ahead of the Saints, the set in which he learned gambling. Why, it was in your rooms that he played his first game of poker. He told me so himself! And now he has gone to be an outcast, and you stand in the [illegible] a coward, you the Rev Hen[illegible] Sanderson! You helped to make him what he has become! Can you undo it?"

Harry was looking at her with a stricken countenance. He had no answer ready. The wave of confusion that had submerged him when he had restored the bandage to her eyes had again welled over him.

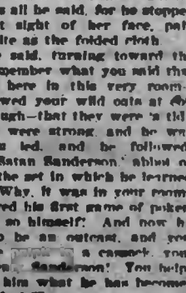
"I am not excusing Hugh now," she went on wildly. "He has gone beyond excuse or forgiveness. He is as dead to me as though I had never known him, though the word you spoke an hour ago made me his wife. I shall have that to remember all my life—that and the one moment I had waited for so long, for my first sight of his face and my bride's kiss! I must carry it with me always. I can never wipe that face from my brain or the sting of that kiss from my lips—the kiss of a forger, of my husband!"

The old man groaned. "I didn't know he had come here!" he said helplessly. "Jessica, Hugh's sin is not Sanderson's fault!"

In her bitter words was an injustice as passionate as her pain, but for her life she could not help it. She was a woman wrenched and torn, tortured beyond control, numb with anguish.

To Harry Sanderson her words fell with a wholly disproportionate violence. It had never occurred to him that he himself had been individually and actively the cause of Hugh's downfall. The accusation pierced through the armor of self esteem that he had linked and riveted with habit. The same pain of mind that had spurred him on that long ago night to the ordination vow had roused him to new life a shared, a scathed, a rekindling sin.

"It is all true," he said. It was the inveterate voice of conscience that spoke. "I have been deceiving myself. I was my brother's tempter—a stumbling-block—and I see it now."



She did not catch the deep contrition in the painful utterance. She stood an instant quivering, then turned and, feeling blindly for the door, swept from their sight.

White and breathless, Jessica climbed the stair. In her room she took a key from a drawer and ran swiftly to the attic studio. She unlocked the door with hurried fingers, tore the wrappings from the tall white figure of the prodigal son and seized a heavy mallet. She lifted this with all her strength and showered blows upon it and shimmering grain powder [illegible] white dust fill the studio.

AN IMMENSE CROP.

Railroads Already Preparing to Move Grain.

Winnipeg, April 22. — Seeding throughout the West has made new records this year. Carefully collected reports covering the whole West, show that the crop is fully three weeks ahead of any recorded year in this respect, and since last week's storm may retard but cannot injure the crop, a seeding season quite a fortnight in advance of last year in a practical certainty. Besides the extreme earliness of seeding the area under crop will be very largely increased and new settlers will be enabled to get in much more work than usual, to the end that they will get crops of flax this year or, at the very least, will make great progress toward big crop areas for next year.

PROMINENT WINNIPEG MEN TRY TO RESCIND ORDER OF THE COURT.

May Come East—Alberta Commission May Come Here and Go to New York.

Edmonton, April 22.—The Great Waterways Royal Commission adjourned today until tomorrow forenoon.

Winnipeg, April 22.—The most curious aspect of the fight to prevent the inside facts about the $7,000,000 bonus to the Great Waterways Railway by the Alberta Government being revealed is under way in the Supreme Court today, where an effort is being made by Winnipeg men, wanted as witnesses before the Royal Commission which will sit here Tuesday, to rescind the order of the High Court, which legalized the commission's work in this province. Tuesday was the day named for the date for these witnesses to testify.

The hearing of the motion to rescind opened at 10 a.m., and an imposing array of legal talent was present.

This move has done more than any thing that has as yet developed to confirm the impression that some sensational facts about the case are to come out.

NOT GUILTY OF CHILD MURDER

EVA SUTER ACQUITTED AND THE CROWD IN COURT APPLAUDED VERDICT.

Took But 15 Minutes—Judge Warned Them That Verdict Might Reflect on Another.

Bracebridge, April 22.—In spite of Judge Middleton's warning as to the possible effect of their acquitting Eva Suter of killing her two-year-old child, the jury yesterday found a verdict of not guilty inside of fifteen minutes.

The prisoner is only 22 years of age and rather good-looking. She appeared in court dressed in light blue with a white hat and was always composed.

She followed the evidence of different witnesses without the least apparent tremor or feeling. When on the stand as a witness her replies to counsel's questions, while low and sometimes hardly audible, were quick and evidently given without hesitation or wavering. She showed a marked calmness as compared with her father, who was very excitable.

Eva Suter took the stand in her own defence, and swore she got home about 9.30 the night before the murder. Her father had made improper proposals to her, and that was the reason she was not on friendly terms with him.

Telling of the murder, she said when she reached the woods her father was standing there. He asked her to go into the bush and talk it over. He proposed to her to come back and go on as usual. When she refused he pushed her down and as he held her down he took the baby and choked it. He then threw it on the moss and led her to the road and threatened to do the same with her if she ever told. She then went on to Bracebridge, ten miles away.

When Eva took the child away from home it had no hat or boots on, though evidence showed the child had both. It was also shown that several offers had been made to adopt the boy.

Catharine Wettlaufer swore she saw Eva Suter pass her place just after dinner, going toward Bracebridge, but she did not have the child with her. The Wettlaufer place is just the past the swamp where the body was found.

HAD BEEN STRANGLED.

Dr. Colbeck of Haileybury, gave evidence as to holding a post-mortem examination and finding the body that of a healthy child, with no marks of violence on it except the the cloth around its neck. It was twisted and tied. In his opinion the child was a well nourished one and come to its death through strangulation.

A girl friend of the accused swore to meeting Eva on the Bracebridge road at Sharp's Hill. She was then riding towards town with George Baker. Some time afterwards she wrote to Eva and enquired after the child. Her reply was put in as an exhibit, but only certain parts were allowed to go to the jury. It read in part: "Dear Sis—I got your letter and was glad to find you take such an interest in Dola. I met Albert Fawcett on the road and he took Dola with him, but could not take me. I haven't him with me here for there is fever at the house and I have left him with Mr. Burt, the English minister. He is just crazy to keep him."

Anthony Weis also gave corroborative evidence about finding the body.

Albert Fawcett swore he knew Eva Suter and knew the locality, but on that day he was far away in Medora, and had nothing to say to Eva then or ever about the child.

DOUBLE TRACK IN WEST.

The C.P.R. Has 900 Miles of Double Track.

Winnipeg, April 22. — When this stretch of double track is completed the Canadian Pacific will have nearly five hundred miles of continuous double track west of the Great Lakes and the value of such a service over a route that otherwise would be crowded with trains waiting on sidings and trying to make time along the main track, is too apparent to call for detailed demonstration. At the present rate of progress, the Canadian Pacific soon will have its main line double tracked across the entire breadth of the Prairie Provinces and thus will be enabled to make very fast time in its transcontinental service. It is the double track from Winnipeg to Fort William that makes it possible for the C.P.R. to run summer trains to the lake resorts at Kenora in such fast time have summer homes at the lake and go back and forth daily in excellent that many Winnipeg business men time and most conveniently.

Oddfellows at St. James' Church.

Last night the Oddfellows of Peterborough demonstrated that this splendid order is still strictly to the fore. At 6.15 the members of Otonabee Lodge I.O.O.F. No. 18, and Peterborough Lodge, I.O.O.F. No. 111, met at Oddfellows Hall, and in large numbers marched out to St. James' church to attend service. The pastor, Rev. Mr. Brown preached an eloquent sermon eminently suited to the brethren present.

Lindsay Has Many Girls.

Lindsay's Board of Trade is considering the question of trying to get a white wear factory in that town because there are so many girls there, so that these Scugog belles may get employment. What is the matter with Lindsay's young men? Why not import a few gross of wedding rings and, if necessary, a few more parsons? Surely would a growing demand for every kind of household necessity impel manufacturers to locate there to fill the increased demand.

Bowlers Gather Tonight.

Everything seems to indicate that bowling-on-the-green will be more popular than ever during the coming summer. Several gentlemen who have only been interested spectators in past years have expressed their intention to personally take part in the game during the coming season. The Brock street green is in splendid shape for this interesting and healthful pastime. Those who are modest about the possible result of their virgin effort on the green may be re-assured, as the elementary points of the game are easily picked up and beginners may be sure that the older players will give every encouragement and assistance to them. Those who are intending to join should be on hand this evening.

The old fashioned way of dosing a weak stomach, or stimulating the Heart or Kidneys is all wrong. Dr. Shoop first pointed out this error. This is why his prescription — Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed entirely to the cause of these ailments—the weak inside or controlling nerves. It isn't so difficult, says Dr. Shoop, to strengthen a weak Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, if one goes at it correctly. Each inside organ has its controlling or inside nerve. When these nerves fail, then these organs must surely falter. These vital truths are leading druggists everywhere to dispense and recommend Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Test it a few days, and see! Improvement will promptly and surely follow. Sold by all dealers.

Little Local Lines

The first double header in the City Baseball League, will be played on Saturday, May 21st.

There was a large attendance at Murray street Sunday school yesterday morning, to avail themselves of the school rally in the auditorium.

Old Probs seems to have been wrong for once in his predicitions for yesterday. No cold weather or snow.

Local Oddfellows yesterday evening, including Rebecca Golden Link Lodge, attended St. James' church.

Saturday evening, shortly after 7 o'clock, a young Englishman, walking, or rather staggering down George street, had a flask of whiskey in his possession. Some 37 different times the flask was changed from side to inside coat pocket. At the corner of Hunter street at the 36th transference, it fell to the pavement and was changed to fumes and broken glass. Such expressions as "blooming, blarsted," etc., etc., were the most mild terms used by this son of Albion.

Farmers throughout the county this week will wear the smile that means good crops ahead.

Peterborough's citizens by flag and bunting demonstrated their loyalty to the King's Canadian representative on Saturday.

The C.G.E. Angling Club will hold an excursion to Rice Lake on the steamer "Stoney Lake on Saturday. The outing, as usual will undoubtedly prove a great success.

A drizzling rain impelled the thousands of citizens, who gathered at Central Park Saturday afternoon to see and hear Earl Grey, had to resort to the armories.

The acoustics of the armories are excellent: Every word spoken by his Excellency the Governor-General being distinctly heard throughout the entire building.

The boy who cannot swim, but wants to swim, should leave his name with the Y.M.C.A. secretary, as arrangements are to be made for a swimming class.

A young Englishman employed at the C.G.E., Co., was heard Saturday night telling of his excellency's visit to the works. "Say," remarked this employee, "I was the only bloom bey man had sense enough to come to the salute when the governor-general passed: And do you know he smiled at me."

Comparatively few farmers availed themselves of the opportunity to see and hear the governor-general on Saturday. Spring work on the farm will wait for no one.

Contemporary papers are devoting much space to a recently organized immense milling concern. Peterborough, however, will still hold a little better than her own in mill products.

Mr. G. W. Howson, local immigration officer is a busy man these days. He is daily in receipt of letters from Great Britain from parents and relatives of young men whom they would like to get placed on farms in this part of the country.

The C.P.R., through their Toronto solicitor, are formally advertising their intention to apply to the Board of Railway Commissioners for authority to construct and operate the new Quaker Oats spur line, south of Simcoe street.

What has become of that bylaw designed some weeks ago to thin out the too numerous canines of Peterborough? The law must have been either tagged and put away on the shelf to ripen or been muzzled. Dogs are as numerous here as in Constantinople.

As there seems to be a discrepancy here as to the pronounciation of the word "Geisha," it might be noted that Governor-General Lord Grey pronounces the word Gisha, not Gaesha. Several ladies will possibly remark, "I told you so!"

His Excellency Earl Grey spoke in emphatic approval, on Saturday, of the chimes for St. John's church. All that now lies between the musical tones of these bells and the public enjoyment of the same are the first few dollars still required.

Our mines are in the greatest camp in America, Leadville, Col., a camp which has produced "a million a month for four hundred months."

We have four hundred acres in the richest proven belt of the county, containing twelve mines, which have already produced to shallow workings over $2,000,000. Our big tunnel being driven in from the base of the mountain will cut these vast ore bodies at depth, and make their millions of dollars worth of ore accessible to us.

Within five months we should cut into our rich ore bodies, and become a large producer before the year closes. It is confidently believed that the Company can pay fabulous profits in the very near future.

Dear Sir,—My active mining experience extends over a period of more than thirty years and my intimate experience on Sugar Loaf Mountain more than twenty years of that time.

I am acquainted with all the mines on this mountain and positively know that they have produced many millions of dollars in gold and silver values, and for every million that has been mined near the surface, you may confidently expect to extract ten millions along the line of your tunnel. Your advantage in drainage and great depth attained, together with the most economical system of mining makes your project the most safe and alluring that has ever come under my observation. Knowing well the success that will certainly be yours, I congratulate you.

Pride of the German Nation Swept Aloft by Gale—A Bad Wreck

Zeppelin II. and British Army Airship were Wrecked—Germany Overjoyed That It's Secrets Did Not Pass Into Hostile Hands

Berlin, April 26.—The big dirigible Zeppelin II., pride of the German nation, for whose construction a large popular fund was subscribed, following the disaster to Zeppelin I., is almost a total wreck today following an involuntary ascent with one soldier aboard.

It will cost $125,000 to repair the airship, or one-half its original cost, but official Germany is so overjoyed that it did not drift into hostile hands and that its secrets are still safe that the seriousness of the accident has been discounted.

Zeppelin, II., was en route from Hamboerg to Cologne, and was forced to take to the earth at Wellberg because of a sudden storm. While the craft was anchored and presumably secure the wind increased in violence and a fierce gust smashed the ropes.

Before the guardsmen could get to the scene the Zeppelins was drifting before the gale and soon passed out of sight.

Death of Dr. E. G. Stratton at Oakland, California

Mrs. James Stratton, Gilmour St. received a telegram yesterday morning from Mrs. E. G. Stratton, wife of Edwy. G. Stratton, advising her of his sudden death, which took place on Sunday evening the 23rd of April, at Oakland, California. Dr. Stratton was the youngest son of the late James Stratton, and a brother of the Hon. J. R. Stratton, M.P., West Peterborough, A. H. Stratton, Mrs. Hunter, Mrs. T. F. Matthews and the Misses Roey and Mary Stratton.

Dr. Stratton upon receiving his degree, was offered and accepted the position of superintending physician of the Marine Hospital, Detroit, in which position he remained for several years. Subsequently he was offered and accepted the position of Medical Advisory to the Soldiers' Home at Orting on the Puside Slope In this position he remained for several years and resigned with a view to spending some time on the continent. He was absent in Europe four years and visited every country in the old world. While on the continent he took the advantage of walking the leading hospitals, and was an acknowledged surgeon. Dr. Stratton had been practicing medicine in the Western States for the past twenty years and his death was quite unexpected by the family as no intimation of his sudden serious illness had been received until the announcement of his death.

The family are in communication with regard to the arrangements of his funeral, particulars of which will be announced later.

Dr. Stratton had many schoolmates and friends in Peterborough who will regret to learn of his sudden death, and the family will have the sincere sympathy of the community in their sad bereavement. He was a favorite in Peterborough in his early school days and although absent from the city for many years has still many warm friends who will exceedingly regret to learn of his sudden death. Returning a few times into he visited his mother and family, since which time he had not been in Peterborough. The deceased was 42 his 42nd year and leaves to mourn his loss his aged mother, two brothers and four sisters, besides his wife. At the time of his death he was residingat Oakland, California.

His First Trip.

Mr. Robert Pinchin, manager of the Otonabee Navigation Company, returned last night from Stony Lake, where he spent Sunday. This was Mr. Pinchin's first trip to Stony Lake since he took the management of the Otonabee Company.

Youth Was Arrested.

Last night a gentleman residing on Elm street, called at the police station, and laid a complaint against a boy of some 14 or 15 years of age. It seems that the Elm street man has, for some time, been annoyed by boys throwing stones at his door. Last night he laid in wait and captured not only a boy who had thrown stones but one of the stones thrown, which he brought to the station. He knew that the so-claimed aggressor bought papers for sale at Murphy's book store on Charlotte street. P. C. McGinty, being advised went to Murphy's and collared the lad. The case will be tried this morning. The Elm street man claimed that his door was decorated (?) from top to bottom by stones thrown by boys of the neighborhood.

Busy Sunday

Murray street Baptist church was the center of attraction for many of our citizens on Sunday. Our report was unfortunately crowded out by earlier arrivals of news. Still it might even yet be noted that Rev. J. R. Webb, the pastor, was assisted by ex-superintendents of the church. Mr. Wm. Aldridge read the morning lesson, and Dr. Scott led in morning prayer. Dr. Browett assisted the pastor in the conducting of the service. The music was under the direction of Mr. Finch Miller, and the choir was composed of children from the Sunday school.

During his sermon Mr. Webb read an impressive message from Lt.-Col. E. B. Edwards of Edmonton, who was superintendent of the school for many years. Miss Bessie Elcome presided at the organ most acceptably.

MORE MONEY TO BE SPENT HERE THAN EXPECTED.

The C.G.E. Co. Improvements Will Cost a Larger Sum Than at First Thought.

There is the best of reasons to expect that the Canadian General Electric Co., will spend more in this city than announced at first, and on which sum of expenditure was based the agreement between the company and the city.

In conversation recently with his Worship Mayor Morrow, Mr. Frederick Nicholls, the general manager of that company, remarked that he made some of the plans for the extensions to the local plant of the company and had also prepared some of the estimates of cost. He found that the company would have to spend a much larger sum than was anticipated. An immediate expenditure of at least $500,000 would have to be made and within a very short time extensions and additions to the plant will have to be made at an additional expenditure of $500,000 making the total cost $1,000,000.

GREATEST OF AMERICAN HUMORISTS

That Mark Twain was the greatest of American humorists, and one of the greatest in the world, is freely admitted. But he was a great deal more than that. He not only made his readers laugh but he made them think. The laughter that he provokes is not seldom due to the puncturing of a lie or a pompous absurdity; to the sudden revelation of a truth that has been obscured by some hoary tradition or convention. Clear thinking, in his case, produced clear writing.

Although the "Jumping Frog" was the first of his writings that brought him fame, it is by no means a fair specimen of his work. His distinctive qualities first appeared in "The New Pilgrim's Progress." That book contains numerous exaggerations and laughable absurdities, but it is not the exaggeration or the absurdity that is distinctive. It is the determination to relate what the traveler really felt, not what the guide books and rhapsodical writers told him to feel. It is the essential sincerity of the book that appeals to humanity as fresh and original.

Take, for instance, the story of the man who amplified the collection of relics from famous places. He had been laboriously gathering pieces of rock all the way from Gibraltar to Asia Minor, when it suddenly occurred to him that they all looked pretty much alike. So he got a bag of stones from one place, and solemnly labelled them Rome, Naples, Milan, Florence, and so on, until the historic shores of the Mediterranean were all represented. This is not more flippancy, or vulgar contempt for history and tradition. It is glorified common sense. It illustrates the truth that such relics, as they do not even faintly suggest the place from which they were taken, are so much useless lumber. Happily since the voyage of the Quaker City, the camera has come to be recognized as an essential part of the traveler's equipment; and the camera really does tell a story.

Another instance. Huckleberry Finn is going down the Mississippi on a raft with Jim, an escaped slave. It occurs to him that he is doing a wicked thing in helping to conceal the fugitive; that he is robbing Jim's mistress of a piece of property. The voice of conscience tells him that he ought to betray the old negro to the slave hunters. But the memories of their vagabond comradeship crowd upon him, and his heart sets his conscience right. He decides to conceal the slave, even at the risk of perdition. This is not a bit of grotesque nonsense. It is the account of a false, conventional morality overcome by the greater morality that springs from the affections.

Mark Twain had a marvelous insight into the boyish heart. His boys are neither prigs nor monsters of wickedness, but real boys, who live in a little world of their own, filled with romance and with innocent wildness. Huck Finn, despite his vagabond upbringing, is a more solid character than Tom Sawyer. Jim, the escaped slave, is a fine specimen of the faithful, tender-hearted African, as good in his way as Uncle Tom.

In descriptions of scenery and other incidents of travel, the great humorist excelled. "Roughing It" is one of the best specimens of work of this kind. The description of the stage coach ride across the continent, of the Mormon City, of life in Nevada in the days of the silver excitement, are full of life, vigor and freshness. The reader seems to inhale the air of prairies and mountains, to be on terms of personal acquaintance with stage drivers and miners. It is no mere jester that has passed away, but one of the greatest of Americans.

SENATE MAY THROW OUT THE KING ANTI-COMBINE-MEASURE

Several Senators Were in the Commons' Chambers Yesterday Morning—Bill Does Not Protect the Producer

Ottawa, April 25.—Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King's combines' bill came up again in committee of the House this morning. It is rumored that the bill will meet strenuous opposition in the Senate, and this report was strengthened by the presence today of several senators in their gallery in the House.

Mr. King moved two amendments to section 5 of the bill. Originally the bill stated that where a combine was suspected a request could be made to a high court judge for an investigation by "six or more persons."

"Persons" were defined by the first amendment who must be "British subjects, resident in Canada, and of full age."

MUST SUFFER HARM.

The second amendment to section 5 provides that the six complaints must show that the alleged combine operates to their detriment as consumers. Before the insertion of this amendment any philanthroptic half dozen malcontents could lay a charge of conspiracy on behalf of "consumers." Now they must be injured consumers before their complaint will be recognized.

Major Currie asked why producers were ignored, while the woes of consumers were considered. Mr. King replied that the bill was experimental legislation, and that if it was successful further steps would be taken, perhaps next year.

British Alarmed Over the Chinese Uprising

London, April 26.—Alarm over the Chinese uprising is admitted today by officials of the foreign office, who believe that only skilful handling of the situation by the other powers can prevent the most serious outcome.

Today's despatches indicate that the rioting in Chang-Sha and other parts of the Hunan Province has continued almost without interruption since the initial outbreak.

Should the discontent and anti-foreign feeling now manifested in Hunan sweep over the province, the foreign office doubts the ability of the Chinese government to protect the lives of foreigners.

Wolter Hardly Seems to Realize His Fate

New York, April 26.—The vapid brain of Albert Wolter, who last night heard with sleepy indifference a jury find him guilty of the murder of little Ruth Wheeler, apparently contained today no well defined realization of the fate that is to be meted out to him in the electric chair.

The stolid youth slept soundly through the night in the Tombs Prison, and the keepers had to shake him roughly to arouse him today. Wolter had nothing to say about the verdict. He will be sentenced on Wednesday, and immediately thereafter removed to Sing Sing for execution. The jury was of one mind. The flame scarred hand of the girl clutching a lock of Wolter's hair told a story of the girl's choking and burning in the open fireplace.

"We have trusted to God that this man should receive this punishment," said Pearl Wheeler, sister of Ruth, "and the verdict is just."

A vote of thanks was tendered the directors and officers of the company for the satisfactory way in which they performed their duties.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Advocates P. C. Newhall as Coming Chief of Police.

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Dear Sir,—Without meaning any disrespect to the late Mr. Geo. I. Rosenal, so lately removed from our midst, the question of his successor must necessarily occupy the minds not only of our Police Commissioners, but of the citizens general. The office of chief of police of a city this size, and particularly of a manufacturing city so centrally located is one of deepest responsibility. It may be said that the commissioners are fully able to make a choice of this nature appointee without outside advice. Still we are the people who pay the salary, and, as such are surely allowed a suggestion. Mr. Editor there is on the force a young man with a broad experience in police matters in cities many scores of times the population of Peterborough. Surely experience in such a city as Liverpool or London should be of the greatest practical benefit to a policeman. These great shipping cities have of necessity, within their walls, criminals from all parts of the world. Should not a man trained on the force of such cities, from his cosmopolitan experience be better able to prevent or detect crime than the most upright and well meaning man without such experience. I refer to P. C. Newhall. I know that this officer has had a difficulty in the past and that certain citizens have said that he was so keen on getting a conviction they would not believe him on oath. Fudge, and again I say fudge! P. C. Newhall is, I admit disliked particularly by lawbreakers, and possibly by some not law breakers. Still take the officer's whole record on the Peterborough force. Who has been the direct means of arresting outside pickpockets and other criminals in a proportion of possibly 100 to 1, instead of his standing on the local force as 1 to 5. Put Newhall on as a chief and crime would dwindle in our city as would a snowball in a hot oven. I think if a consensus of our merchants were taken ait would be almosy un were taken it would be almost unanimous for the candidate I mention.

THETFORD MINES.

Financial Future of This Company Now Assured.

The directors of the Thetford Mines Asbestos Reserve Co., were here on Monday, 18th instant, accompanied by their mining engineer; it is said that the financial future of this company is now assured, and that they will soon have 250 men working on the mine and construction of a 500 ton mill. The company owns 150 acres of land adjoining the Jacobs, Johnsons, and Kings Mines, in Thetford, and has already expended several thousands of dollars in development, showing the same quality of fibre at the same dept. These mines, at dept, are producing the finest and silkiest fibre in the world. The location of the property is said to be the best possible, in the heart of the Serpentine belt of the Thetford District, and an unequalled opportunity in the asbestos field today for Canadian investors. Their prospectus and map of the Asbestos-Mining District, are full of desirable information for any one interested in asbestos production.

Ray Gets His Excellency in Camera.

Mr. R. M. Roy, Peterborough's energetic photographic artist, seized the opportunity of Earl Grey's visit to the city to secure a large number of excellent views in which our governor-general occupies the limelight. These views are being exhibited in the studio windows. The pictures include views of the lift lock and pictures taken at the Canadian General Electric Company are shown. One taken at the Electric Works shows the large number of employes of the big concern assembled to give his excellency a cheer as he was leaving the works.

German Fleets' Defects Revealed by Practice

Gunnery Poor and Cast-Iron Discipline Has Trampled Out Initative and Power of Individual Thought and Decision

Berlin, April 25.—It is now an open secret in this city that some very serious defects and short comings were revealed in the German naval manoeuvres last year, and the emperor and his naval advisers are greatly chagrined at the result of these operations.

In the first place it is known throughout the fleet that the gunnery of the ships was extraordinarily poor. Even in the newer ships, mounting the latest pattern guns, and equipped with the most modern sighting and ranging appliances, the number of hits scored was very disappointing. The gunnery records of the British navy are very eagerly scanned here, and the Kaiser is asserted to have spoken his mind very strongly upon the poor showing achieved by his fleet.

As a result, it is probable that the present system of gun training in vogue in the German fleet will be radically altered. Already the allowance of ammunition for training purposes is almost twice as much as is allowed in the British navy, and it is now proposed to increase this allowance. It is asserted by those in a position to know that both the gunnery officers and the gun crews themselves are equally at fault. The officers do not seem to exercise sufficient care in ranging their target before giving the order to fire. The captains of the gun crews for their part, are content to accept the range is given them from the control stations and not to check it for themselves.

The presence of the Baltic fleet in the operations was merely an attempt to swell the importance of the fleet, and to set in some measure as a set-off to the recent visit of the British fleet to the Thames. The eight Siegfrieds comprising it were all built between 1900 and 1907 and their designed speed was only 15.5 knots an hour, while their armament consists of three 9.4-inch guns and ten 3.4-inch guns. Their fighting value is practically nil, and, in the words of an officer upon one of the vessels, "two British cruisers could wipe them all out."

Things were almost as bad in the High Seas fleet itself. Germany really possesses only twenty-four battle ships that can be regarded as of any real fighting value. Of these only six teen were manned by full crews, but the others being nucleus crews of varying strength. The largest battleships taking part in the manoeuvres was about the same size as the British Albion class that is now being withdrawn from Britain's main battlefleets and is being relegated to the reserve.

CHILD RETURNED TO MOTHER.

Magistrate Edmison Gives Judgment in the Fobert Case.

His the Fobert case, which has been before Magistrate Edmison for the past several months, pending an investigation by the Children's Aid Society, his worship has made an order giving the child over to the society. The child will now be handed over to the mother, who lives in Detroit, on probation.

The uncle of the child secured possession of it and the mother took steps to have the child returned to her. There were circumstances in the case which called for an investigation, and now if the mother shows herself capable of taking proper care of the child, it will remain in her possession.

LIVER LAZINESS.

Those Who Lack Energy and are Unsuccessful Should Read This Closely.

"I am only thirty years old, yet for almost two years I have felt more like seventy-five. I have found it difficult to sleep at night and in the morning feel so depressed and heavy that effort was difficult. My hands were always clammy and perspiration on slight effort would break out all over me. It was not unnatural that I should begin to brood over the chance that I would soon be unfit to do my work, and this dread made my sleepless nights perfect misery. After repeated trials of medicine and mixtures Dr. Hamilton's Pills gave me the first glimpse of hope. From the very first I could see they were different from other pills. They didn't gripe and acted as naturally as if nature and not the pills were cleansing my clogged up system. My spirits rose, I felt much better, the sluggish action gave way to normal activity. Dizziness and headaches ceased, appetite, good color and ambition to work returned and have remained, I am like a new man and I thank Dr. Hamilton's Pills for it all."

This was the experience of J. E. Parthurst, a well-known grocer dealer in Jefferson. Follow his advice, use Dr. Hamilton's Pills for your stomach, kidneys and liver, and you will enjoy long life and robust good health. All dealers sell Dr. Hamilton's Pills, in Yellow boxes, 25c. per box, from the Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

The Pope to Pursue "Back from Elba"

Frenzied Attack in Vatican Paper Sets Paris Talking---Roosevelt Compared to Napoleon but no Resemblance

Paris, April 25.—While Theodore Roosevelt stood lost in contemplation at the tomb of Napoleon; while he was permitted to hold, briefly, the sword of Austerlitz and other relics of him who returned from Elba, Paris was discussing an article by Frederic Masson, on the iront page of the Echo de Paris.

In it Masson, an exact historian, who has put forth a systematic series of Napoleonic studies, and who was elected one of the 40 immortals seven years ago, volunteered reasons why Paris seems apathetic toward Mr. Roosevelt. The best informed say that Masson wro'e on behalf of the vatican's organ. They say, too, the vatican for the Echo, which is that the vatican purposes to pursue relentlessly the incident in Rome, and to make it an issue should Mr. Roosevelt seek a renomination for president, the vatican knowing Mr. Roosevelt is bending every energy to "Ave, Caesar." He writes:

"This violent quest for publicity, this organization of trumphal marches through the capitals of Europe, this seeking for applause, this handshaking, these dinners, royal and municipal; these imperial receptions, all mapped out as if a manager were promoting a tourist agency or an illustrated journal, a boot blacking parlor or a Jew quack medicine man make one think Roosevelt is rather a pupil of Barnum than a disciple of serious and visitous republicans."

Has No Ethiopian Population.

A leading commercial traveller, who sells dry goods, in almost unlimited quantities, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, yesterday was introduced to a Times' representative. In conversation, this veteran knight of the grip, remarked, "Say, you people of Peterborough don't know by one hundred per cent. how fortunate you are. I have just got back from a trip to Jamaica, Trinidad and other West India Islands, and also through the Southern States. I have spent some twenty-four hours in your city and not a darkey have I seen. In all my travels, on this side of the Atlantic I have never seen a city or a town the size of Peterborough without meeting at least a few black faces. You people should continue on the apparent course you have inaugurated and eliminate the blacks. How would your mechanics at the Electrical Works, the Quaker Oats Co., Green's foundry or, in fact, any of your factories like to work shoulder to shoulder to a "smelly darky."

This traveller touched a key that may not often be heard or sounded by our citizens, but there is a whole lot in what he remarked.

CHILDREN'S CHEST TROUBLES.

Nurse Carrington Says Her Long Experience Proves the Safest Remedy is to RUB ON NERVILINE!

Every mother knows how difficult it is to get a young child to take a cough mixture. Seldom will one help unless given in large doses, and the result is to completely upset the stomach and make the child sick.

Speaking of the promptest cure for chest troubles and children's colds, Nurse Carrington says: "In all my experience in nursing I haven't met any preparation so dependable as Nerviline. It is the ideal liniment. Every drop you rub on is absorbed quickly, sinks through the pores to the congested muscles, eases, relieves and cures quickly. Especially for chest colds, pain in the side, stiff neck, earache, toothache, I have found Nerviline invaluable. In treating the minor ills of children Nerviline has no equal. I think Nerviline should be in every home."

A million bottles of Nerviline used every year—this is itself a burden of proof that it is the ideal liniment for the home. Refuse anything your dealer may offer instead of Nerviline. Large bottles 25c., five for $1.00. Sold everywhere, and by the Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

AMERICAN CAPITAL IN CANADA.

A statement has been issued at Ottawa on the amount of American capital invested in Dominion industry and enterprise. The total is placed at $227,000,000, which is probably a moderate estimate.

In referring to the above the Chicago-Record Herald says:

"American capital goes to Canada for the same reason that prompts American farmers and miners to go there—opportunity. Canada is sound, prosperous and largely undeveloped; she needs plenty of muscle, brain and gold. She is getting these things, and will continue to get them for decades. There is nothing strange, regrettable or marvelous about the phenomenon, and we are not disposed to think that any sensible American does regret it. Canada is a good neighbor and excellent customer, and the richer she is the better for our producers and traders. Under any policy our capital and land-hungry farmers would find Canada alluring.

"Still, it is true, that a certain or uncertain proportion of American capital has been forced into Canada by our high tariff, and that liberal reciprocity would tend to keep such capital at home. Here is, in truth, a good argument for reciprocity, though not a new one. There are other good pro-reciprocity arguments as there are for such complete freedom of trade between the United States and Canada as James J. Hill and others are advocating. The barriers between the two people are purely artifical.

CONSUMPTION.

The year 1909 will be marked in the calendar as a red letter year in the history of the crusade against consumption. The movement received a great impulse from the congress of distinguished physicians which was held in Washington, U. S. in the autumn of 1908 to consider the further measures to be taken to stamp out this dreadful enemy to the life and happiness of mankind.

Canada in common with the rest of North America, perhaps we should say the whole civilized world, has participated in the renewed and increased activity which resulted from the deliberaotions of the congress.

Never since the organization of the Canadian Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis has there been such activity displayed in Canada in this fight for life. Older branch associations have been re-invigorated, new associations have been formed which are showing in many cases a vigorous activity. Several new institutions for the relief and treatment of consumptives have been opened and the demand for our literature has been larger than ever. Take it all in all 1909 was a year of great progress in the work of the association.

The tenth annual meeting will be held in Montreal on the 7th June next and preparations are being made to make this one of the best, if not the best meeting in the history of the Association.

Fateful and passionate as the scene in the library had been, her going left a pall of silence in the room. Harry Sanderson looked at David Stires with pale intentness.

"Yet I would have given my life," he said in a low voice, "to save her this!"

Something in the tone caught the old man. He glanced up.

"I never guessed," he said slowly—"I never guessed that you loved her so."

But Harry had not heard. He did not even know that he had spoken aloud.

David Stires turned his wheel chair to the Korean desk, touching the bell as he did so. He took up the draft and put it into his pocket. He pressed a spring; a panel dropped and disclosed a hidden drawer, from which he took a crackling parchment. It was the will against whose signing Harry had pleaded months before in that same room. The butler entered.

"Witness my signature, Blake," he said and wrote his name on the last page. "Mr. Sanderson will sign with you."

An hour later the fast express that bore Jessica and David Stires was shrieking across the long skeleton rail road bridge, a dotted trail of fire against the deepening night.

Chapter 7

HARRY SANDERSON as he walked slowly back from a long ramble in knickerbockers and Norfolk jacket over the hills was not thinking of the sights and sounds of the pleasant evening. He had tramped miles since sundown and had returned as he set out, gloomy, unrequited, a follower of baffled quest.

Set back from the street in a wide estate of trees and shrubbery stood a great white porched house. Not a light had twinkled from it for nearly a year. The little city had wondered at first, then by degrees had grown indifferent. The secret of that prolonged honeymoon Harry Sanderson and the bishop alone could have told, for the bishop knew of Hugh's criminal act. He was named executor of the will that lay in the Korean chest, and him David Stires had written the truth. His heart had gone out with pity for Jessica, and understanding. The secret he locked in his own breast, as did Harry Sanderson, each thinking the other ignorant of it.

Since that wedding day no shred of news had come to either. Harry had wished for none. To think of Jessica was a recurrent pang, and yet the very combination of the safe in his study he had formed of the letters of her name! In each memory of her he felt the fresh assault of a new and tireless foe—the love which he must deny.

Outcast and criminal as Hugh was, castaway, who had stolen a bank's money and a woman's love, he was still her husband. Hugh's wife! What could she be to him? And this fevered combat shot through with yet another pang, for the waking smart of comparison which had risen at Jessica's bitter cry, "You helped to make him what he has become!" would not down. That cry had shown him in one clarifying instant the follies and delinquencies of his early career reduplicated as through the facets of a crystal, and in the polarized light of conscience Hugh—loafer, gambler and thief—stood as the type and sign of an enduring accusation.

But if the recollection of that wedding day and its aftermath stalked always with him—if that time had seemed to cling again and again to his lips as he sat in the quiet of his study—no one guessed. He seldom played his violin now, but he had shown no outward sign. As time went on he had become no less brilliant, though more inscrutable; not less popular, save perhaps to the parish heresy hunter, for whom he had never cared a straw. But beneath the surface a great change had come to Harry Sanderson.

Tonight as he wended his way past the house in the suburbs, through the clatter and commotion of the evening, there was a kind of glaze over his whole face—a shell of melancholy.

Tomorrow began Harry's summer vacation, and he had planned a month's pedestrian outing through the wide ranch valleys and the farther ranges, and this should set him up again.

Now, however, as he walked along he was bitterly absorbed in thoughts other than his own needs. He passed more than one acquaintance with a stare of nonrecognition. One of these was the bishop, who turned an instant to look after him. The bishop had seen that look frequently of late and had wondered if it betokened physical illness or mental unquiet. More than once he had remembered, with a sigh, the old whisper of Harry Sanderson's early wildness. But he knew youth and its lapses, and he liked and respected him. Only two days before, on the second anniversary of Harry's ordination, he had given him for his silken watch guard a little gold cross engraved with his name and certain big the date.

At a crossing the sight of a knot of people on the opposite side of the street awoke Harry from his abstrac-tion. A lanky man gesticulating arrested a portentous street preacher, who was holding forth in a shrill voice. Beside him on a short pole hung a dripping gasoline flare, and the hissing flame lit his bare head, his thin features, his long hair and his bony hands moving in vehement gestures. A small medicine chest on four wheels stood beside him and on its front was painted in glaring letters:

Leprosy in New York.

New York, April 26. — Suffering from what is believed to be leprosy in an advanced stage, an unfortunate woman, cuddling an eight months' old baby to her breast, was found by Dr. Trask, of Bellevue Hospital to-day. The woman was discovered living in a squalid east-side tenement house which fairly swarmed with lodgers. The living in the three room tenement were five children, besides the victim's baby; a young woman, two men and their wives. Ten days ago a woman with leprosy came to this city from Baltimore. She was dost track of. The case will be reported to the health department.

Teach First Aid to Employees

One of the most popular movements on the Canadian Pacific Railway, of recent organization, is that of first aid to the injured, carried on under the auspices of the St. John Ambulance Association. First of all, the question, "What is first aid?" is best answered by stating what its objects are. To teach people outside of the medical profession to render assistance to any person suffering accident or sudden illness until the arrival of the doctor. To teach people what not to do in case of accident, so that there shall be no likelihood of a sympathetic but ignorant public causing unnecessary pain and suffering through improper treatment. That in case of emergency, that is, bleeding, poisoning, choking or drowning, a life may not be sacrificed for the want of a little elementary knowledge on the part of the bystander.

The Canadian Pacific Railway center of the St. John Ambulance Association have, for some time past realized the value of this movement to their employes themselves, as is seen from the fact that they have a large and complete organization at their works in Montreal, both in the car and locomotive departments, and now every shop has its quota of ambulance men, so that no matter in what part of the works an accident may happen there you will find an ambulance man, ready and willing to give immediate help.

The cost of instruction and the books and first aid material necessary are furnished by the management free of charge.

The class is taken in hand by one of the company's instructors, whose duty it is to teach the practical work, such as the proper application of bandages and splints to various parts of the body and lifting and carrying the injured on stretchers, etc. Before the instructor allows his class to go up for final examination they are expected to answer a series of test questions and to do the practical work in connection with them.

EXAMINATIONS.

As soon as the instructor considers the class ready for examination he makes his report to the proper quarter and a medical officer of the Canadian Center of the St. John Ambulance Association is appointed to examine the class as, for obvious reasons, no lecturer is allowed to examine his own class. After the examination the men are given one hour per week in which together for practice, and are by this means kept up to a proper state of efficiency; also at stated intervals the men are inspected by a medical officer appointed by the management so that the company can find out for themselves if their men are up to the mark and able to do the work required of them.

One thing strictly impressed in all ambulance men is the exact relative position first aid has to do with the medical profession. The ambulance man is given clearly to understand that he is not expected, or in a position to supplant the doctor, or to treat any accident to its final solution, for the simple reason, the work of the ambulance men ends where the doctors begin. As an incentive to employes to obtain the certificate, the management grant certain privileges. For instance, other things being equal, the man holding a first aid certificate has preference of employment, preference for promotion and also granted an extra pass over and above the usual annual pass and on the same conditions.

Mr. Lacey R. Johnson, assistant superintendent of motive power, is the chairman of this organization on the Canadian Pacific, and Mr. S. A. Gidlow is secretary.

The old fashioned way of dosing a weak stomach, or stimulating the Heart or Kidneys is all wrong. Dr. Shoop first pointed out this error. This is why his prescription — Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed entirely to the cause of these ailments —the weak inside or controlling nerves. It isn't so difficult, says Dr. Shoop, to strengthen a weak Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, if one goes at it correctly. Each inside organ has its controlling or inside nerve. When these nerves fail, then these organs must surely falter. These vital truths are leading druggists everywhere to dispense and recommend Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Test it a few days, and see! Improvement will promptly and surely follow. Sold by all dealers.

The C.P.R. Has 800 Miles of Double Track.

Winnipeg, April 22. — When this stretch of double track is completed the Canadian Pacific will have nearly five hundred miles of continuous double track west of the Great Lakes and the value of such a service over a route that otherwise would be crowded with trains waiting on sidings and trying to make time along the main track, is too apparent to call for detailed demonstration. At the present rate of progress, the Canadian Pacific soon will have its main line double tracked across the entire breadth of the Prairie Provinces and thus will be enabled to make very fast time in its transcontinental service. It is the double track from Winnipeg to Fort William that makes it possible for the C.P.R. to run summer trains to the lake resorts at Kenora in such fast time have summer homes at the lake and go back and forth daily in excellent that many Winnipeg business men time and most conveniently.

Rheumatic poisons are quickly and surely driven out of the blood with Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy — liquid or tablet form. Dr. Shoop's booklet on Rheumatism plainly and interestingly tells just how this is done. Tell some sufferer of this book, or better still, write Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis., for the book and free test samples. Send no money. Just join with Dr. Shoop, and give some sufferer a pleasant surprise.

National Mining & Tunnel Company

Our mines are in the greatest camp in America, Leadville, Col., a camp which has produced "a million a month for four hundred months."

We have four hundred acres in the richest proven belt of the county, containing twelve mines, which have already produced to shallow workings over $2,000,000. Our big tunnel being driven in from the base of the mountain will cut these vast ore bodies at depth, and make their millions of dollars worth of ore accessible to us.

Within five months we should cut into our rich ore bodies, and become a large producer before the year closes. It is confidently believed that the Company can pay fabulous profits in the very near future.

Leadville, Colorado, Jan. 6.

Mr. C. L. T. Fisher,
President National Mining & Tunnel Co.,
Lynchburg, Va.

Dear Sir,—My active mining experience extends over a period of more than thirty years and my intimate experience on Sugar Loaf Mountain more than twenty years of that time.

I am acquainted with all the mines on this mountain and positively know that they have produced many millions of dollars in gold and silver values, and for every million that has been mined near the surface, you may confidently expect to extract ten millions along the line of your tunnel. Your advantage in drainage and great depth attained, together with the most economical system of mining makes your project the most safe and alluring that has ever come under my observation. Knowing well the success that will certainly be yours, I congratulate you.

Member of Colo. 13th General Assembly.

Little Local Lines

The Charity Board met last night and transacted routine business.

Mr. Birmingham last night spoke in St. John's church on Brotherhood work.

Sunday last was Passover Sunday, and as such duly observed by the local Hebrew contingent.

Knox Church Young People's Guild met last night when a social evening was enjoyed.

A young man was fined at the police court yesterday morning for disorderly conduct in a restaurant.

Judging by the number of chimneys on fire that are daily calling out the brigade, Santa Claus will have easy access to many homes next Xmas.

A chimney fire took place yesterday morning at the residence of E. A. Lewis, 544 Stewart street. It was extinguished by the brigade before any damage had resulted.

The 34th Field Battery will go into camp at Pettawawa on June 23rd Any one wishing to join the battery should make application to Major Young.

Every day more and more boats pass through the locks. Every thing seems to indicate an immense traffic between Peterborough and Rice Lake during the coming season.

The Presbytery of Peterborough will meet at Port Hope tonight at 7.30 for the purpose of inducting the Rev. W. H. Brokenshire, M.A., with the pastoral charge of Mill Street Presbyterian church of that town.

Much interest was most evidently taken in the letter in yesterday's Times relative to St. John's church not being responsible for an hotel being located on church property.

Peterborough may have its very rare fits of depression but fortunately we are without any Ethiopian population. See what a dry goods traveller has to say in this issue.

Latest telegrams say that the Western fruit crop is destroyed by frost. This will not prevent a chill running down many local spines when they pay 32 cents a pound for butter here tomorrow.

Yesterday afternoon a gaily plumaged king fisher, delighted the residents of Water street, living in front of Victoria Park with its raviously voice.

Mr. Edwards, proprietor of the Crystal, will, this morning, sign a lease of the Grand Opera House for the summer months. These interested in high-class vaudeville are now assured of some place to go during the hot evenings of the coming summer.

Yesterday afternoon Towser and Rover met in a Water street yard. As they investigated the contents of a garbage pail, conversation naturally led to the recent bylaw, passed by the City Council, designed to eliminate the surplus of canines. Towser with a low growl remarked to Rover. "Don't you worry. That bylaw is a dog-gone failure as far as cutting off our species here is concerned."

That "hold-up" scare that caused so much talk throughout the city yesterday proves to be a canard. The whole affair proves to be the result of a joke whereby or wherein a young man lost his coat, and said coat was at the police station.

Wireless telegraphy is now a science. Still for quick transmission of news tell a lady on, say Gilmour street, that Miss ———— is engaged to Mr. ————, but this is a secret. If this quietly given tip is not transmitted to, say, Perry or Water street as quickly as any C.Q. D. wireless message, call the writer an insulator.

The new manager of the Otonabee Navigation Company, is confident that his company has a heavy traffic in both passengers and freight this coming season. The new manager seems to be the right man in the right place, and to understand the steamboat business from Alpha to Omega.

The Ontario Treasury Department charges a $25 license fee a year for every moving picture machine in public use. Yesterday one of the local owners of such places of amusement was notified that the government would not issue a license for less than a year and would not give a rebate should the machine be used for less than a year.

The Good Book tells us how Pharoah the King of Egypt, thinking to get what slang users would term a "skiddoo" on the Israelities, told them to make bricks without straw. Now whilst straw is not necessary in the manufacture of bricks now, it was then. The city bylaw calculated to do away with the thousands of dogs in Peterborough, reminds one of that old edict of Pharoah's as there is no provision for a man to gather in the canines.

Eggs Worth the Present Prices.

Mr. Conard Schuvert, 56 Victoria Avenue, owns thirteen hens, from which he received between sixty and sixty-five eggs each week, and they are not small ones either. Both eggs were laid by the same hen last week.

Astronomical Note.

Getting up to see the comet disturbs a good night's rest, but it is worth while. About four o'clock a.m. the gazer sees a large luminous spot in the east, and luminous streamers resembling a comet's tail in appearance. These extend from the horizon well up into the meridian. Later on, the luminous spot develops into the comet. As it comes into view the stars sink into insignificance, the streamers disappear and the luminosity which has held profession in the east is succeeded by the first rosy tints of dawn. Get up and see for yourself.

Enjoyed Stolen Meal.

Sunday night some one forced an entry into the outer kitchen of Mr. W. H. Robertson's house, 526 Water street, and carried off everything that was in the refrigerator. They first ate their fill, drank the milk and cream, and then carried off the remainder, including several jars of fruit and other articles of food. It must have been someone who was well acquainted with the place, as the outer gate was fastened on the inside, as well as the doors of the outer kitchen, and were opened by drawing the bolts. The door was covered with burnt matches, the thieves evidently taking time to enjoy their repast.

Whiskey Taken for Artificial Leg.

Yesterday morning, M. Chubb, an Indian from Hagersville, was fined $5 in the police court for having imbibed in the white man's firewater. Chubb did not have the necessary V. to pay, so will for the next fortnight be the guest of Governor Nesbitt. Chubb, who pleaded guilty to the impeachment of "drunk," had the usual Indian romance to tell. He did not remember the name of the man who furnished him with the liquor. He said that he was on his way to visit relatives at the Allanwick reserve after a trapping trip.

A doctor had told him to take a little whiskey medicinally, as he had a bad attack of bronchitis. Unfortunately the "red eye" seems to have affected both the sound and the artificial limb as well as his thinking machine The mate of the Str. Rainbow had him arrested.

Bull and Stallion Show Saturday.

Everything seems to indicate that the Bull and Stallion shows to be held at the Exhibition Grounds next Saturday afternoon will be a great success.

The breeders of the district are very much interested in the show, and there will be a large representation in both divisions. The admission to the grounds will be 10 cents, and the gates will be opened at 1.30.

BRITISH SEALING STEAMER LOST

Every Probability That Vessel Crashed Into an Iceberg During Dense Fog—Loss of Life Placed at 187

St. John's, Nfld., April 26.— The steamer Aurora has been sunk with all hands, 167 men, according to a report brought here by the sealing steamer Bothie, which arrived late last night.

The Aurora has been missing since April 1st. Though there are several vessels of that name, it is believed that the one lost is a sailing vessel owned by the Consolidated Steaming and Ice Co., of Grimsby, E.G. It is believed that she went down after smashing on an ice berg in a heavy fog. No trace of her has been found since the first of the month.

ANXIOUS FOR FURTHER NEWS.

Further reports are anxiously awaited from other vessels on the fishing banks.

EVERYTHING POINTS TO LOSS.

Although no definite information regarding the fate of the Aurora has been obtained, according to the Bothis, a thorough search has been made in all the waters where she would be likely to be found—in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, or along the Labrador coast, as well as in Atlantic waters. Everything points to her loss.

SAME FATE AS ERIC.

It is possible that she met the same experience as the steamer Eric, which was towed here by the Bithic. The Eric was rendered helpless when an iceberg broke her propellor. Had it not been for the arrival of the Bothic, she would have been left at the mercy of the heavy ice floes now coming south.

Arrogant and Vulgar Display---The Drexel-Gould Wedding

Philadelphia, April 26.—Characterizing the Drexel-Gould wedding as a "vulgar and sensational" event, the Rev. Dr. George Chalmers Richmond in a sermon at St. John's Episcopal Church, pointed out the lessons he thought should be drawn from the circumstances attending the alliance of two of America's wealthiest families.

"What an awful sight that was," he said, "at the Gould-Drexel wedding in New York! Thousands of women scrambling for a place to view the pageantry of that sensational and vulgar affair. Crowds of women were dashed against the wedding party, fought with the police, tore one another's hats, simply to see a very ordinary sight.

METHODS CRITICIZED.

"The bride was a girl who is unknown in our great world of moral upbuilding and reform, a girl who inherits wealth largely made by a grandfather, whose methods would not be countenanced in these days of finer moral vision and larger human sympathies, a girl who has nothing to boast of but this money.

"She was married to a youth who has never helped any social, religious or moral movement of his city in any exceptional degree, as is expected of one whose inheritance along financial lines calls especial attention to his power.

"I am surprised that these people allowed their wedding gifts to be advertised in the newspapers. It was bad taste, to say the least. I am sorry that these so-called high fliers did not set a better example.

"In the end the pair will probably land in the divorce court; a bad and sensational beginning means a bad ending.

EFFECT ON WAGE EARNERS.

"This arrogant display of plutocratic wealth stirs up the spirit of anarchy in the hearts of our wage-earners and toilers, who today never expect to eat of silver plates and who have not tasted a good meal in years. The affair was not one to please a lover of democracy; it made one think of Russia. Such a wedding should have been celebrated quietly after the divorce court proceedings which have recently brought disgrace on the whole Gould family.

"So far as the Drexel family is concerned, we never hear of them doing anything to help our political or social life out of its disgraceful condition. These people are not our great citizens. They are the remnants of an old order of industrial prosperity, they are our social idlers; they can give dinner parties and yachting jaunts, but their moral and spiritual output is of little value in the upbuilding of our civic life."

IMMIGRATION OFFICER BUSY.

Mr. Howson Gets Position for Several Young English Immigrants.

As noted in yesterday's issue of The Times, Mr. Howson, local immigrant agent, is a busy man these days. The flood of English immigrants is over on the flow, and Mr. Howson yesterday morning had his hands full. Quite a number of English immigrants, young men, were at Mr. Howson's office with bag and baggage. They included two boys, already referred to in these columns as coming from the old country. These boys are well set up, strong, healthy looking intelligent lads and certainly ought to make good in this country. The younger one is going with Mr. Howson's brother in Otonabee, and the elder one is also going on a farm with the latter's son-in-law. These two places are adjacent; a fact which is greatly appreciated by the boys.

Thos. Croly, his wife and five children arrived here during the morning from Manchester, per steamship Mongolian. Croly is a first-class machinist, and the local officer is endeavoring to secure him employment in some of the manufacturing concerns. Three young men who came to Mr. Howson were placed on farms inside of half an hour after their arrival.

A young married couple want to come to Canada if they can secure employment. This is a "tip" for local farmers.

THE WOULD-BE-SUICIDE WARNED AND LET GO.

P. C. McGinty Saves a Man From an Apparent Attempt at Suicide.

P. C. McGinty yesterday modestly wore the laurels won the preceding night by saving a young man from what bore every evidence of would-be suicide. It seems that Frank Johnston, a Halifax young man, while under the influence of liquor wandered to the river at a point near the C.P.R. bridge, and presumably was preparing to cut his throat with a razor he carried with him when his actions were noticed, and the police notified. P. C. McGinty hurried down to the spot and arrested Johnston before he could commit this rash act.

At the police court yesterday morning Johnston was charged with having imbibed too freely of the bowl that raises trouble. The magistrate allowed him to go after warning him to brace up and mend his ways.

Canada Cares Not for Reciprocity

Chicago, April 26th—Reciprocity in trade between Canada and the United States is a matter of indifference according to Dr. Robert A. Falconer, president of the University of Toronto, who is visiting the University of Chicago.

"It is not the same with Canada as it was fifty years ago," said Dr. Falconer. "Then Canadians appeared at Washington praying for low tariffs that would allow them to live. Now Canada is able to exist without help from other nations. Reciprocity with America is a matter of indifference to us. There was some talk of reciprocity a short time ago, but the overtures came from the United States. We have full self government. It used to be held the more a self governing dependency has the more it is seperated from the home country. This has proved untrue. Although we are independent we have all the closer affection for Great Britain."

CORRESPONDENCE.

A Suggestion Relative to Office of Chief of Police Worth Consideration.

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Dear Sir,—I read with much interest the letter in your paper signed "Merchant" in which the writer proposed P. C. Newhall's name as a good candidate for the vacant office of chief of police. Mr. Newhall has, during his term as policeman done splendid service in the city. He has shown ability, detective skill, close attention to business and is a most efficient officer. Still when he is proposed as chief of police there are many things to consider. I will not call attention to the recent liquor trials, where citizens swore they would not believe this officer on oath. This, in itself, is not any real grounds whereby to damn this officer's prospects. There are other things of more importance in choosing a chief of police. The chief must be a man of integrity, intelligence, muscle, a judge of human nature and a man who will devote his best efforts towards the prevention of crime. Mr. Newhall has most of these attributes. Still suggestions may be made in this connection that are possibly worth considering. In the City of Quebec, and other cities and towns, one good man occupies the dual position of chief of police and chief of the fire brigade. By this dual position many good points are attained, and a large saving of revenue is effected in the respective communities. One man can, at a fair remuneration perform the duties of both jobs. Should a serious fire break out the chief of the brigade calls out policemen to assist the firemen. Should a riot, caused by strike or otherwise occur the chief of police as head of the brigade calls out the firemen. I might say Sir, that this matter or suggestion is not altogether original with myself but has been suggested to my knowledge by several professional men of Peterborough. We all know that Peterborough of late has had heavy expenses and that the ratepayers are charged just about as heavily as they can stand. Now with the saving effected by having one man perform the duties of both offices a saving of from one to two mills a year could be effected. The fees that now go to the chief of police could be made to revert to the city treasury. With an efficient assistant chief of the brigade the chief himself could devote enough time to the duties involved as head of the police department, as he need not attend a fire until a second alarm was sounded, i.e., if at the moment he was engaged with police duties. Hoping to hear the views of some of our citizens as to this suggestion, I am Sir,

TAXPAYER.

THE WEATHER.

Fresh winds and showery.

THE MUNRO HOUSE TO BE MUCH ENLARGED.

It will be remembered that among those hotel keepers told that they must use the three months' grace given them, in which to get a permanent license, was Mr. R. J. Munro. Without intending any criticism of the action of the Licenses Commissioners in this matter, it might be noted that many people were surprised that the Munro House was in a secure manner. Mr. Munro has taken steps to improve and enlarge his hotel, steps in fact that he has contemplated for some time. He has taken the store at present occupied by Doris and Godfrey, harness dealers, at the corner of Hunter and Water streets. It is his intention to remove the partition at present separating the store and the hotel, thus making one fine large rotunda. The main entrance will then be at the corner and the one on Hunter street now used would be closed. The stairs will be turned around and sitting rooms will be built along the east wall of the rotunda, also new lavatories. A new system of heating will be placed throughout the building and all changes necessary to make it a thoroughly modern hotel will be made. Mr. Munro intends making these alterations just as soon as possible.

SULTANA DISASTER

ANNIVERSARY OF ONE OF THE GREAT HORRORS.

Occurred Forty-five Years Ago — Over Two Thousand Persons Perished—The Survivors Hold Reunion.

Knoxville, Tenn., April 27.—The society of the survivors of the famous Sultana disaster held its annual reunion to-day in the town of Prospect, a short distance from this city. The day was the forty-fifth anniversary of the burning and sinking of the steamboat on the Mississippi and the handful of survivors who miraculously escaped death met to exchange reminiscences of the disaster, which was one of the most appalling of the nation's history.

The steamboat Sultana was built at Cincinnati in 1853 and was a regular packet running between New Orleans and St. Louis. During the Civil War the boat did considerable business for the Government of the United States in transporting troops along the Mississippi River.

On the ill-fated trip that marked the end of her career the Sultana left New Orleans, April 21, 1865, and arrived at Nicksburg, April 24, remaining there twenty-six hours. At Vicksburg 1,965 soldiers, or about two full regiments, and thirty-five Federal officers who have been paroled, having been in the Confederate prisons at Andersonville, Macon and Cahaba, and also two companies of infantry, were taken on board, making more than 2,200 persons on the boat. The homes of the soldiers were in Tennessee, Kentucky, Indianna, Michigan, Ohio, Wisconsin, Illinois, Nebraska, Kansas and West Virginia the larger number being from Tennessee and Kentucky.

Every available foot of space was occupied by the soldiers and the regular passengers. In fact the boat was greatly overcrowded. On the morning of April 26 the Sultana reached Memphis, where a large quantity of sugar was unloaded Early on the morning of the next day the boat left Memphis. About four o'clock that afternoon occurred the terrific explosion which destroyed the boat and sent hundreds of souls to death. The explosion occurred near Hen and Chicken Island, one of the four boilers of the boat bursting. The vessel caught fire and it was at once evident that the vessel was doomed and with it the majority of those on board.

Hundreds of the passengers jumped from the burning boat to the water only to be swallowed by the current. A few were saved by clinging to the pieces of the wreckage. Others man aged to swim for miles only to perish from exhaustion.

Seven boats were hurriedly sent from Memphis to pick up all the survivors who could be found. Some of these were taken to Memphis, others to St. Louis and Cairo. They were placed in military hospitals, where they remained until they had recovered from their injuries. But nearly all of the 2,200 persons on board the ill-fated craft had perished.

Every family and especialy those who reside in the country, should be provided at all times with a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment. There is no telling when it may be wanted in case of an accident or emergency. It is most excellent in all cases of rheumatism, sprains and bruises. Sold by all dealers.

Presentation to Mr. Devey by Members of the Geisha Co.

Last night a pleasing function was held in St. John's church Sunday school. This was a social gathering of the Geisha Company which so recently won high encomiums from his Lordship Earl Grey, Canada's governor-general. The members of this highly commendable local amateur opera company spent a very pleasant reunion in the school house. Refreshments were served of a dainty nature after the evening's program was over. The leading feature of the evening was the presentation by the members of the company to Mr R. J. Devey, their organizer and instructor, of several handsome pieces of silverware, accompanied by a suitable address. The members of the company recognize the work that Mr. Devey had done in forwarding the opera and thus tangibly showed their appreciation of his efforts. Mr. Devey replied to the address in fitting terms, and thanked those present for their very beautiful gift.

ZAM-BUK IN 3 ACCIDENTS.

It would seem that Zam-Buk, the famous healing balm we hear so highly spoken of everywhere, is particularly useful in the family circle. A report sent by Mrs. E. Davey, 786 Ellice Ave., Winnipeg, will illustrate this. She says: "My little boy, of three, while playing, fell from a verandah to the ground, cutting his forehead badly. Instead of calling a doctor who would undoubtly have put in a number of stitches, I bathed the wound well, and applied Zam-Buk. The little fellow, although suffering keenly, soon had relief from his pain. In the course of three weeks by applying Zam-Buk daily, the wound in his forehead was nicely healed.

"Since then I have also used Zam-Buk for a boil which came upon my cheek and which proved very painful and looked unsightly. Zam-Buk soon drew the boil to a head and it then quickly banished it.

"Another time my baby was scalded on her left thigh and calf of leg with boiling water. This was a severescald and the child suffered cruelly, screaming from pain. Directly it was done I thought to use Zam-Buk as we had a box in the house, and spreading some on lint I wrapped up the baby's limb. Next morning the rested much easier and I applied a fresh bandage with Zam-Buk. I kept up this treatment daily and was rewarded by seeing a great improvement each time I dressed the wound. In a very short space of time the scalds were all nicely healed.

"I cannot recommend this wonderful healing preparation too highly for family use, and I have such great faith in its healing powers that my house is never without a box.

For all skin injuries and diseases, piles, eczema, salt rheum and face sores Zam-Buk is absolutely unequalled. 50c. box all druggists and stores, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Refuse all substitutes.

A NEW STEAMER.

Stony Lake Cottagers and Tourists Will Have Good Service.

Tourists and cottagers at Stony Lake will have good service this coming summer. In addition to the splendid service given by the Otonabee Navigation Company of this city, the Stony Lake Navigation Company, controlled by those veteran steamboat men of the upper lakes, the Youngs of Young's Point, will cater to the requirements of those visiting the northern waters.

The Stony Lake Co., have launched their fine new steamer "Islanda" which is to replace the Majestic. This new steamer will soon be ready to accommodate the thousands who yearly leave Lakefield for the upper lakes. The Islanda is built to accommodate some 225 passengers. This steamer will be very attractive in appearance. She will have a dining room, a feature that was lacking in the Majestic, and her stern cabin will be handsomely fitted out in panels and mirrors while her equipment includes two lavatories conveniently situated.

The crew of the Majestic with the exception of Mate Copperthwaite, will be in charge of the new boat. Capt. Pat Young will be in command with Fred Young as engineer, Pete Ayotta and a mate yet to be selected will complete the crew. The personnel of the other crews will be as follows: Stony Lake, Capt. W. Scotland, Mate Sam Duval, Engineer W. Gilman. Empress, Capt. Billy Robinson, mate and purser, Fred Holland, Engineer Ed. Condin.

It is understood that the managements of the Otonabee Navigation Co., and the Stony Lake Navigation Co., will this coming season work in harmony. Thus the traveling public are assured of perfect accommodation and a splendid service.

Miss Dina Archambault has returned to the city after spending a few weeks in Rochester, N.Y.

Don't Know What to do with Money

Toronto, April 26.—The late Miss Christian Scott of Peterborough, willed $1,000 to St. Paul's Presbyterian church there, for the maintenance of a mission church in the South Ward, and today the trustees of St. Paul's asked Mr. Justice Riddell what they should do with the money. His lordship directed that the matter go to trial.

Between the making of the will and Miss Scott's death St. Paul's did establish a mission church in the South Ward. This mission is now an independent church, and it is known as Knox church.

"Shall we pay the money to St. Paul's church, the congregation of which is again building, or shall we establish another mission in the South Ward?" ask the trustees of St. Paul's.

CAPTURED KACHANIK PASS

Great Strategy Shown — Sixteen More Battalions Being Rushed—

Constantinople, April 26.—The Albanian risings have again become serious, and the government has decided to despatch two brigades of reinforcements, equal to sixteen full battalions to the affected districts from Smyrna and Baloniki.

Latest reports says several thousand Albanians attacked eight Turkish battalions near Shtimiya, Northern Albania, and successfully prevented the Turkish occupation of Dulya Pass. The Albanians then captured Kachanik Pass, and seized a military train convoyed by 150 Turkish soldiers, who were disarmed and

The capture of Kachanik endangers communications with Uskub and threatens the complete isolation of the Turkish army in Kossovo Plain, in Upper Albanian.

Constantinople, April 26.— Sixty thousand Albanian rebels and government soldiers are fighting in Northern and Eastern Albania. Both sides are being reinforced, and before the end of the week 100,000 men will be engaged.

It is reported the rebels have cut off the arms of several hundred prisoners to ensure their non-combatancy.

New Building for Queen's.

Kingston, Ont., April 27.—Many alumni of Queen's University returned to their alma mater to-day to attend the celebration of Convocation Day, one of the features of which will be the laying of the corner stone for the new chemistry building. Sir James P. Whitney, Premier of Ontario, will officiate at the corner stone laying. At the Convocation exercises the honorary degree of LL. D. will be conferred upon Prof. T. R. Glover, of Cambridge, England, a graduate of Queen's, and Rev. T. A. Love, of Quebec, a former Latin professor in the university.

SOUR RISINGS FROM STOMACH.

Those Who Experience Fulness and Pain After Meals, Stomach Disorders and Indigestion, Should Read Below.

"When I was working around the farm last winter I had an attack of inflammation," writes Mr. E. P. Dawkins of Port Richmond. "I was weak for a long time, but well enough to work until spring. But something went wraing with my bowels, for I had to use salts or physic all the time. My stomach kept sour, and always after eating there was pain and fulness, and all the symptoms of intestinal indigestion. Nothing helped me until I used Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Instead of hurting like other pills, they acted very mildly, and seemed to heal the bowels. I did not require larger doses to get results with Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and feel so glad that I have found a mild yet certain remedy. Today I am well—no pain, no sour stomach, a good appetite, able to digest anything. This is a whole lot of good for one medicine to do, and I can say Dr. Hamilton's Pills are the best pills, and my letter, I am sure, proves it."

NERVILINE.

Fifty years ago Nerviline was used from coast to coast and in thousands of houses this trusty liniment served the entire family, cured all their minor ills and kept the doctor's bill small. Today Nerviline still holds first rank in Canada among pain-relieving remedies—scarcely a home you can find that doesn't use it.

TESTIMONIAL NO. 4396

From Port Hope Ont., Mr. W. T. Greenway, of the Guide newspaper staff, writes: "For twenty years we have used Nerviline in our home, and not for the world would we be without it. As a remedy for all pain, earache, toothache, cramps, headache and disordered stomach, I know of no preparation so useful and quick to relieve as Nerviline.

Let every mother give Nerviline a trial; its good for children, good for old folks—you can rub it on as a liniment or take it internally.

Wherever there is pain, Nerviline will cure it. Refuse anything but Nerviline, 25c. per bottle, five for $1.00, all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

THE THIRD DEGREE.

There is something to think over in the statement made the other day by a New York judge that "I believe that confession evidence is dangerous evidence. If I could have my way, I would seal the mouth of every police officer, so that never, under any circumstances could he testify to anything said by anyone while under arrest." This opinion of Judge Crain's will probably not be shared by criminal authorities, who will doubtless point out that many who are guilty would escape punishment if nothing they said prior to being instructed by their solicitors could be taken in evidence. If, however, Judge Crain had said that confessed evidence, when forced, is dangerous evidence, his statement could not have been successfully disputed. The "third degree," and other forms of mental and physical torture whereby admissions are wrung from prisoners, are happily not as much in favor in Canada as in the United States, and it is well that this should be the case.

The comment quoted was part of the court's pronouncement upon a charge of murder in the second degree. The prisoner, a young man, declared that a confession which he was alleged to have made was wrung from him after rough handling and short rations and various promises on the part of the police. Such methods of obtaining evidence the court described as "abhorrent and subject to condemnation," the judge concluding his remarks as follows:

Every statement obtained from any defendant should be obtained under such conditions that the light of day can be shed upon it, the fullest disclosures made, and every fair-minded man convinced that the statement was unqualified, voluntary and perfectly understood by the man making it. If, as a result of such methods, fewer convictions result, there will be no loss to the community and a somewhat heightened respect for the administration of justice.

Canadian law requires that a prisoner must be warned that anything he said would be taken in evidence if a confession is to be admissible in court. It should be the object of constables and detectives to obey the spirit as well as the letter of this law, and to impress upon their prisoners the importance attaching to thing they may say after being arrested. As for the third degree, which involves the torturing of prisoners in order to obtain evidence against them from their own lips, Canada can afford to leave this travesty of justice to those across the border who choose to practise it. It is founded upon the presumption that a prisoner is guilty before he is proven so, a presumption absolutely at variance with the basic principles of British law. It may not be true that all confession evidence is dangerous, but undoubtedly some of it is, and this is doubly so when force of any kind is used to secure the confession.

HALLELUJAH JONES.

Suffer me that I may speak, and after that I have spoken mock on.—Job xxi, 3.

From over the way Harry gazed at the tall, stooping figure pitilessly betrayed by the thin alpaca coat, at the ascetic face burned a brick red from exposure to wind and sun, at the flashing eyes, the impassioned earnestness. He paused at the curb and listened curiously, for Hallelujah Jones' with his evangelism mingled a spice of the zeal of the socialist. In his thinking the rich and the wicked were mingled inextricably in the great chastisement. He was preaching now from his favorite text: "Woe to them that are at ease in Zion."

Harry smiled grimly. He had always been "at ease in Zion." He wore sumptuous clothes. The ruby in his ring would bring what this plodding exhorter would call a fortune. At this moment Hede, his dapper Finn chauffeur, was polishing the motor car for him to take his cool evening spin. That very afternoon he had put into the little safe in the chapel study $2,000 in gold which he had drawn, a part for his charities and quarterly payments and a part to take with him for the exigencies of his trip. The street evangelist over there preaching paradise and perdition to the grinning yokels often needed a square meal and was lucky if he always knew where he would sleep.

The thread of his thought broke. The bareheaded figure had ended his harangue. The eternal fires were banked for a time, while, seated on a camp stool at his melodeon, he proceeded to transport his audience to the heavenly meads of the New Jerusalem.

Two, three verses of an old fashioned hymn he sang, and after each verse more of the bystanders, some in real earnestness, some in impious hilarity, shouted in the chorus:

"Palms of victory!
Crowns of glory!
Palms of victory I shall wear!"

Harry walked on in a brown study, the refrain ringing through his brain. At the chapel gate lounged his chauffeur awaiting orders.

"Bring the car round, Hede," said Harry, "and I sha'n't need you after that tonight. I'll drive her myself. You can meet me at the garage."

The study was pitch dark, and Rumsey halted on the threshold with a low ominous growl as Harry fumbled for the electric switch. As he found and pressed it and the place flooded with light, he saw a figure there, the figure of a man who had been sitting alone, beside the empty hearth, who rose, shrinking back from the sudden brilliancy.

It was Hugh Stires.

Chapter 8

HARRY SANDERSON stared at the apparition with a strange feeling, like rising from the dead. The aristocratic features were ravaged like a wished blade. Dissipation, exposure, shame and unbridled passion had each set its separate seal upon the handsome countenance. Hugh's clothes were shabby genteel and the old sinking grace of wearing them was gone. A thin beard covered his chin, and his shifty look, as he turned it first on Harry and then nervously over his shoulder, had in it a tainted dread, a dogging terror, constant and indelmable. From bad to worse had been a swift descent for Hugh Stires.

The wave of feeling ebbed. Harry drew the window curtains, swung a shade before the light and motioned to the chair.

"Sit down," he said.

Hugh looked his old friend in the face a moment; then his unsteady glance fell to the white carnation in his lapel as he said, "I suppose you wonder why I have come here."

Harry did not answer the implied question. His scrutiny was deliberate, critical and inquiring. "What have you been doing the last year?" he asked.

"A little of everything," replied Hugh. "I ran a bucket-shop with Moran in Sacramento for awhile. Then I went over in the mining country. I took up a claim at Smoky Mountain. That's worth something or may be sometime."

"Why did you leave it?"

"Why did you leave it?"

Hugh touched his parched lips with his tongue. Again that nervous, sidelong look, that fearful glance over his shoulder.

"I had no money to work it. I was to live. Realdea, I'm tired of the whole thing."

The backward glance, the look of dread were tangible tokens. Harry translated them.

"You are not telling the truth," he said sharply. "What have you done?"

Hugh flinched, but he made pallen [illegible] "Nothing. What should I

THE FUTURE EMPIRE.

Increase of Immigration Will Require Two More Vessels.

The recent statement by the officials of the Canadian Pacific Railway that the increasing immigration into Canada from the British Isles will require the addition of two large vessels to its Atlantic fleet, is one satisfactory to all Canadians, says The Ottawa Journal. The Company is guided in its operations by purely business motives and the announcement referred to must be regarded as a proof that the stream of emigrants from the United Kingdom to Canada is likely to be permanent and to assume larger proportions than in the past.

Besides the material advantages to the Dominion that these additions to our population will afford, there is a since the emigrants do not change sentimental benefit to the movement, since the emigrants do not change either their nationality or the flag when they cross the Atlantic and strike out a new career for themselves on this Continent.

To the Empire also this diversion of the volume of emigration from the United Kingdom that in the past has gone to the United States is a gain of no little importance. The more rapidly the overseas divisions of the British Empire increase in population and wealth, the greater will be the security of the Empire as a whole against attack or aggression by foreign powers, and the more secure will be the peace of the world.

It will not be a very long period as time is calculated in the age of a nation, before the great self-governing dependencies will equal in the aggregated the papulation of the United Kingdom. Situated as these dependencies are in the most fertile parts of the globe, generally with climate suitable for Europeans, and at many points of great strategical importance, it is almost difficult to exaggerate the important position that the British Empire will hold in international affairs or the influence which it will enable to exert in favor of peace and the maintenance of law and order in the world.

The old fashioned way of dosing a weak stomach, or stimulating the Heart or Kidneys is all wrong. Dr. Shoop first pointed out this error. This is why his prescription — Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed entirely to the cause of these ailments—the weak inside or controlling nerves. It isn't so difficult, says Dr. Shoop, to strengthen a weak Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, if one goes at it correctly. Each inside organ has its controlling or inside nerve. When these nerves fail, then these organs must surely falter. These vital truths are leading druggists everywhere to dispense and recommend Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Test it a few days, and see! Improvement will promptly and surely follow. Sold by all dealers.

A Well Situated Boat House.

Mr. R. B. Rye the energetic boat house proprietor, whose place of business is located near the street railway wharf is now busily engaged getting ready for the coming summer. The launches will be afloat in about ten days or a fortaight. Many new canoes are being added to the racks of this extensive boat house. Judging by the large patronage given to Mr. Rye during the past year, and the early opening of spring this year, Mr. Rye should be kept busy counting his V.'s and X.'s and having them taken in cart loads to his bank. The boat house is one of the most admirably situated in any part of the Province, and with proper advertising, Mr. Rye should, not only be a benefactor to those enjoying an easily attained outing on a beautiful stretch of water, but the owner of a business that must prove a little Gowganda.

PROMINENT WINNIPEG MEN TRY TO RESCIND ORDER OF THE COURT.

May Come East—Alberta Commission May Come Here and Go to New York.

Edmonton, April 22.—The Great Waterways Royal Commission adjourned today until tomorrow forenoon.

Winnipeg, April 22.—The most curious aspect of the fight to prevent the inside facts about the $7,000,000 bonus to the Great Waterways Railway by the Alberta Government being revealed is under way in the Supreme Court today, where an effort is being made by Winnipeg men, wanted as witnesses before the Royal Commission which will sit here Tuesday, to rescind the order of the High Court, which legalized the commission's work in this province. Tuesday was the day named for the date for these witnesses to testify.

The hearing of the motion to rescind opened at 10 a.m., and an imposing array of legal talent was present.

This move has done more than any thing that has as yet developed to confirm the impression that some sensational facts about the case are to come out.

Rheumatic poisons are quickly and surely driven out of the blood with Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy — liquid or tablet form. Dr. Shoop's booklet on Rheumatism plainly and interestingly tells just how this is done. Tell some sufferer of this book, or better still, write Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis., for the book and free test samples. Send no money. Just join with Dr. Shoop, and give some sufferer a pleasant surprise.

National Mining & Tunnel Company

Our mines are in the greatest camp in America, Leadville, Col., a camp which has produced $425,000,000.00, and is now producing over $1,250,000.00 per month.

We have four hundred acres in the richest proven belt of the camp, Sugar Loaf Mt., containing twelve mines, which have produced to shallow workings of 150 feet, over $2,000,000. Our big tunnel being driven in from the base of the mountain will cut these vast ore bodies at depth, and make their millions of dollars worth of ore accessible to us.

Our tunnel is now in 900 feet and progressing at the rate of 225 feet per month. We will reach our mines in five months and become a big producer before 1911 closes.

J. C. F. Christian,
Mining Engineer,
Leadville, Colorado, January 15, 1909.

From comparatively shallow surface workings, the mines of Sugar Loaf Mountain have a record production of $12,000,000 in gold, silver lead and from some mines, copper producing ores.

The organizers of your company, realizing the conditions existing, readily grasped the situation and have successfully gathered under one head 400 acres of the most valuable mining property in the State of Colorado.

Petty Burglars.

Last night an attempt was made to force an entrance into the rear of Mr. W. H. Robertson's residence. The fellow tried to break the lock, but was frightened away by the furious barking of the dog inside. It was no doubt the same party who stole the contents of the refrigerator during Sunday night.

No Licenses at South Beach.

The License Commissioners for East Peterborough have considered the applications for renewals of licenses and for new licenses. The application of the South Beach resort for a license was considered, but the commissioners decided that they would not grant the license. No change was made in the other licenses in the district.

Diarrhoea should be cured without loss of time and by a medicine which like Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy not only cures promptly, but produces no unpleasant after effects. It never fails and is pleasant and safe to take. Sold by all dealers.

English Immigrants Get Jobs.

A party of sixteen immigrants arrived in the city yesterday morning on the early C.P.R. from the east. They came over on the Victoria, landing at St. John on Sunday. The newcomers are from different parts of England. Six of the party made themselves known to Mr. Howson, the local immigration agent and were sent to the farmers in the vicinity and the remainder were placed during the afternoon.

Your tongue is coated.
Your breath is foul.
Headaches come and go.
These symptoms show that your stomach is the trouble. To remove the cause is the first thing, and Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets will do that. Easy to take and most effective. Sold by all dealers.

Preseveran Mine Makes Good.

The mine owned by Mr. John Seabrooks at Preseveran, three miles from Havelock, seems to have made good. Sample of ore from this mine recently sent to the Canadian labbratories, Toronto, show the following values in gold and copper from the assay:—Gold values per ton, $7.20; silver values per ton, 70 cents; copper values per ton at 13.5 per lb., 19.20 or a total value of $21.10 per ton. This is the mine that an important mining company secured an option on a year and a half ago but on account of the drop in the value of copper, they did not think it was desirable to start operations at the time.

"APRIL SHOWERS BRING MAY FLOWERS."

This is the time when Hanging Baskets, Vases and Window Boxes should be refilled. Call up the West End Greenhouses, Phone 21, and leave your order to have them called for and filled, according to your instructions.

Three Burning Chimneys.

The local fire brigade had its work cut out yesterday during the noon hour. Between 11.45 and 1 o'clock no less than three alarms of fire reached the station by telephone. The first was from Aylmer street north. As a heavy wind was blowing when the alarm rang out, people on the streets took much interest in the possible results. The fire laddies were, to use a slang expression, "Johnny on the spot," and responded quickly. The fire turned out to be a chimney at the home of Mr. David Fowler on Murray street. Here about $5 worth of damage was done to wall paper destroyed.

The other two alarms were from George street. In the latter two cases, only burning chimneys caused the respective alarms, and no damage was done in either case.

Many Trout Streams.

The Toronto Star says: In Manvers township, a short distance from Lindsay there are a great many trout streams some of which are controlled by fishing clubs. One at Cadmus is controlled by a Toronto party of which the late Mr. Foy was a member. The Lotus Fishing Club, of Lindsay, has trout preserves in that township, while another lease, club has a preserve near Nestleton, on the branch line, Burketon to Bobcaygeon C.P.R. There is every chance for a man to fish down this way—if he pays for the privilege.

Y.W.C.A. NOTES.

VOL. XXXIII NO. 96 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO THURSDAY APRIL 28 1910 PRICE TWO CENTS

PURSE WAS MADE UP TO $118,000

CONTRIBUTIONS FOR THE FIELDING FUND HAVE NOT YET BEEN CLOSED.

SIR WILFRID PLEASED

The Money is Being Put in a Trust Fund—List of Donors Is Anonymous.

Ottawa, April 27.—The presentation of a large purse to Hon. W. S. Fielding was made last night. A small party gathered in the restaurant of the Commons, including Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Hon. Wm. Harty, and the members of the committee having the matter in hand.

It is understood that the subscriptions have been converted into securities and invested in trust for Mr. Fielding, the total amount reached the splendid sum of $120,000. The list of donors is of course anonymous, and Mr. Fielding is made aware only of the fact that the future of himself and family is provided for, and that after many years of faithful and splendid work for his country and for the Liberal party he may now be comparatively free of any financial worries.

It is a testimony to his honor and integrity as a public man to say that after many years of office, both as Premier of Nova Scotia, and Finance Minister of Canada, Mr. Fielding has accumulated no personal fortune. The testimonial represents the gratitude of the people whom he has served so long and well, and is in a sense only a partial and unsolicited payment of a just debt due him for long years of invaluable service in the public interest.

A brief statement was handed out by the committee, as follows:

"At the close of the last session of Parliament a committee of Senators and members of the House of Commons, and some influential gentlemen outside, were formed for the purpose of receiving subscriptions for a testimonial to Hon. W. S. Fielding in recognition of his long and able service as member of Parliament and Finance Minister. The response to the appeal of the committee was most satisfactory, and was not limited by party affiliations Many contributions were received without solicitation.

"Although the subscription lists are not yet closed, the committee felt, as the House is likely to be prorogued next week, that they should ask Mr. Fielding to accept the evidence of public favor and appreciation which his political and personal friends had furnished. The testimonial was most complimentary and worthy of the contributors and recipient.

"Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who was present at the presentation last night, expressed his delight with the honor paid his distinguished colleague."

Bed Folded Up on a Sleeping Couple

New York, April 27.—Groans from the apartment occupied by Willard Smith and wife in a boarding house on West Thirty-sixth street early today attracted the attention of other tenants. When they broke down the door and entered they found the couple doubled up in their folding bed. Smith was dead, his neck having been broken, and Mrs. Smith was nearly smothered. The bed was closed while they were asleep. Mrs. Smith was taken to the hospital and will recover.

Smith was a wealthy wall paper manufacturer, with a factory in Waterbury, Conn. He and Mrs. Smith arrived here two days ago and went to the boarding house, which was their usual stopping place while in this city.

NOT JUMPING FOR HALF A BILLION

CONGRESS AND SENATORS NOT EAGER FOR ROCKEFELLER'S FOUNDATION.

A Gift to Humanity—Fear Estate May Escape Taxation—Object of Fund is Too Vague.

Washington, April 27.—John D. Rockefeller is tired of waiting for Congress to accept his half-billion dollars a "gift to the human race," and it is expected here today that he will take steps immediately to incorporate his "foundation" under the laws of some State.

Starr J. Murphy, the oil king's attorney, has let it be known that Rockefeller was displeased at the delay and lack of enthusiasm. Representatives of the proposed "foundation" have become convinced that it will be impossible to overcome the objections of Senators Heyburn and La Follette.

Though there appears to be a majority in favor of the proposition in the Senate, it is pointed out that these two vigorous objectors could cause so much delay that it could not pass at this session; Besides, it is said that they might injure the feelings of the head of the oil trust, in their discussion of the matter in the open Senate. Heyburn fears that the bill would relieve the entire Rockefeller estate from taxation. La Follette and others think that the terms of the measure are too vague and indefinite, being directed generally for the "benefit of humanity."

Word received here today indicates that Rockefeller will wait no longer It is "immaterial to him whether Congress grants the charter or not," it is said, as he sent it to Washington instead of Albany more to "lend dignity" to the proposal.

Every family and especially those who reside in the country, should be provided at all times with a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment. There is no telling when it may be wanted in case of an accident or emergency. It is most excellent in all cases of rheumatism, sprains and bruises. Sold by all dealers.

CAUGHT WITH FISH FILLED WITH SPAWN.

Inspector Moore Captures a Batch of Illegally Caught Fish.

Mr. F. J. Moore, local fisheries inspector, Lakefield, succeeded in confiscating a batch of fish, which had been caught in Stony Lake by two men, one day last week. On opening the fish they were found to contain thousands of spawn—sufficient eggs to fill a quart jam—thus illustrating the enormous destruction of the fish by catching them during the close season. The fishermen will be, and should be fined.

POLICE COURT NEWS.

Yesterday was a busy day at the police court. One well known face, at least known to every habitnee of the local justice mill, "Mousie" McDonald, was charged with vagrancy. "Mousie" claimed to have a job at the Albion Hotel. Acting Chief Adams, however, discounted Mousies' story, so the accused was handed out a $2 fine with the alternative of fifteen days on the hill. As Mousie has not been clipping the coupons from his Standard Oil bonds recently he chose the security of Castle Nesbitt.

A Toronto citizen admitted having sampled too freely of the extract of corn, and was given a meal ticket with rooms included at the stone mansion overlooking Victoria Park.

John Peters, a descendant of the haughty redskin owners of the country before their successors, the white people introduced law and liquor, was charged with breaking the Indian list law. For two weeks he will reside in the government residence on the hill instead of Rama.

A youth who seems to have been spending money faster than he makes it, last Monday tried an experiment in low finance. He called at the repair shop of John Downs on George street, and prevailed upon the proprietor to part with a pair of boots, the property of one Henry Truesdale, which he took to Jay's second-hand store on Aylmer street, leaving with 60 cents in his pocket The proprietor of the repair shop complained and the young lad was arrested.

His worship, with some apparent hesitancy let the young fellow go with a warning on his paying the costs, $2.20.

Local Furs for the German Market

Yesterday afternoon Messrs. W. Lesh & Sons, George Street, sent one of the largest consignments of raw furs to Leipsic, Germany, that has left Peterborough for some time. This shipment consisted of fifteen large bales of raw muskrat skins. As Messrs. White Bros.' drays, laden with these bales, stood in front of Messrs. Lesh' store, a local photographer took a "shot" at the shipment. Mr. Geo Lesh, head of the firm, in reply to a question put by a Times representative, told the latter that muskrat skins are in great demand, prices going as high as ninety cents each. These furs will be dressed ready for the German trade, where there is a great demand for this line of fur. The shipment included over one thousand rats, all of good quality. Every one of these skins came from rats caught near this city, most of them down the Otonabee River, between here and Rice Lake. Although so many skins were in this shipment there was not one but what was brought direct to Messrs. Lesh & Sons' store by the Indians and other trappers.

FORMAL OPENING OF SLENDID NEW QUARTERS OF THE T.A.S.

The Society, which Has Now 1,200 Members, Celebrated the Opening of Their New Quarters with a Splendid Concert---Program for Tomorrow Night

Last night an important event, as regarded from the standpoint of temperance, was celebrated. This was the formal opening of the splendid new quarters of the Total Abstinence Society of St. Peter's church. The local temperance organization, has now over twelve hundred members. Up to last night the T.A.S. had their rooms on George St., over the Great North-West Telegraph offices, but owing to the rapidly increasing membership it was, some months ago decided to secure more commodious quarters. The stores formerly occupied by Messrs. Rich. Hall & Son, on Simcoe street, were secured for this purpose and at once extensive improvements were begun. The new quarters of the T.A.S. are now completed and occupied by this grand local temperance organization.

A short description of the premises may be of interest. To begin with the new home of the T.A.S. is centrally located. The street front of the new T.A.S. premises is very attractive. It is built with red pressed brick with large plate glass windows in the ground floor. There are two entrances, one into the main assembly hall and the other into the hall leading into the various apartments. The assembly hall is 70 by 40 feet in dimensions. It has a commodious stage 20 by 15 feet in size, with footlights and dressing rooms to the west. The hall will accommodate between four hundred and fifty to five hundred people. The whole building is steam heated and the electric light system of the very latest type.

As one goes upstairs to the second floor one finds a fine suite of rooms. The reception room is first met with Here the society's banking office is located for the benefit of customers. A telephone for general use is here also. To the north is the ladies' room and across is the library. The library has tables with marble tops for convenience of members. A pool room is found to the east. This room is well furnished and very cheerful in looks. It contains six tables. Off this room is the committee room and bath rooms.

The gymnasium and recreation and card rooms are in the top floor. The gymnasium is specially worth attention, being one of the best fitted up in the Province. It is 70 by 21 feet in size. The ceiling is 16 feet high. The floor is of hardwood and the walls covered with burlap. The recreation room is 50 by 21 feet. A splendid kitchen is provided ready catering to socials, at homes, etc. This kitchen is furnished with an up-to-date gas range.

Mr. J. E. Belcher, the local architect, has inaugurated a building or rather transferred a building that is a credit to him and the T.A.S.

The new home of the society will be known as the St. Alfonsis Lyceol

The program last night was a splendid one, Miss Margaret McCann who appeared for the first time before a Peterborough audience, made a very favorable impression. 5,000 MEN KILLED IN THREE DAYS' BATTLE

"Kill and Spare No One," is Order Given to Turks in Fighting the Albian Rebels

Constantinople, April 27.— Five thousand men on both sides have fallen in the three-day battle that is still being waged on the plains of Kosovo between the Turkish troops and the Albanian rebels, according to semi-official statements made here today. The rebels are said to have captured several guns. The lack of adequate means of communication continues, but the reticence of the Turkish authorities is regarded as an admission of the correctness of the government's position. "Kill and spare no one," is the order given to the Turks. Not a Christian soldier has been sent to the front, for fear that the converts would show mercy.

ARMY OF 90,000 TURKS.

The government is draining every resource to find troops fit for service against the Albanians. Within a few days, it was announced today, the force in the field will have increased to 90,000. This, however, is largely contingent on the Turks' breaking through the rebel lines or capturing the railway.

The prisoner was today sentenced to death in the electric chair at Sing Sing by Judge Warren W. Foster in the Court of General Sessions. Ruth Wheeler was killed just one month and three days ago.

HIS LAWYER SAYS HE WILL PRODUCE MAN ACCUSED IN DETROIT.

Blamed for Wife's Death—Jury Says Directly or Indirectly Husband Was Responsible.

Detroit, April 27.—Detectives McCarty and Kunkel are this morning looking for Arthur J. Best, whose wife was drowned off a cake of ice at the foot of Woodward avenue on the night of March 13th.

A coroner's verdict yesterday afternoon returned a verdict blaming Best for the death of his wife, and recommended that he be re-arrested, and that the police take immediate steps After the jury returned the verdict, Prosecutor Vanzile ordered Chief of Detectives McDonnel to get his men at work and arrest Best.

It was rumored that Best was in Detroit yesterday, but police officers were unable to locate him.

Best's Canadian lawyer, J. W Hanna, of Windsor, says he will place Best in the hands of the police any time, and officers are now in Windsor looking for him. The last the Detroit police heard from him he was in Harrow, Ontario, visiting his mother.

COMPLIMENTARY CONCERT FOR MISS HALLIHAN.

Prominent Citizens Join in Showing Tangible Appreciation of Local Singer.

A few days ago a number of citizens met to discuss the idea of a complimentary benefit concert to Miss Lavina Hallihan, whose splendid work in the "Geisha" Company received such commendatory remarks from the governor-general. The object of the concert is to afford our citizens an opportunity of evidencing in a tangible manner their appreciation of Miss Hallihan's musical abilities and thereby enable her to further prosecute her musical studies An executive committee has been formed composed of Messrs. MacFarlane Wilson, W. McIlroy, F. D. Kerr, W. Rudkins, R. J. Devey and R. Gliddon. Mr. Wilson was elected chairman, Mr. Kerr, secretary, and Mr. McIlroy, treasurer.

A number of other leading citizens are now being asked to help this commendable movement by becoming honorary members of this committee.

MEMORY FOOD.

A Case Where Memory Was Strengthened by Grape-Nuts.

Food that will actually help the memory as well as agree perfectly with a delicate stomach is worth knowing of.

A good wife out in Iowa who did not know which way to turn to get food that would agree with her husband, who was left in a weakened condition after a serious illness and could scarcely retain any food in his stomach, was one day induced to try him on Grape-Nuts, the famous ready-cooked breakfast food, and from the first he began to improve rapidly. In three months he had gained 30 pounds.

She says that his stomach has recovered so completely that he can now eat any kind of food.

She mentions the boy of an intimate acquaintance, who was so delicate and thin that his appearance was pitiable and he had no appetite for any ordinary food. He was put on Grape-Nuts and liked the crispness and sweetish taste of the new food and took to it. His improvement began at once, and he is now a healthy, plump boy.

"I know that Grape-Nuts will do more for weak stomachs than any medicine. The claim that it will build up and strengthen the brain has been proven to my certain knowledge. Sister, who writes for the press, and is compelled to memorize a great deal, has been using Grape-Nuts and says she is surprised at the result. There is a marked improvement in her memory and the brain works more perfectly and with better results."

BACK TO PRISON TO FINISH TERM

Samuel Rowatt, Who Killed His First Wife Abused His Second—Had Liberty on Parole—One Day Saved His Neck

Toronto, April 27.—May 4th has been Samuel Rowatt's fatal day. The fatal assault was committed on May 3, 1897, his wife died as a result on May 4, 1898; he was released from Kingston penitentiary on May 4, 1907. He married his present wife on May 4, a year ago, and he will come up for sentence on May 4, next.

Released in 1906, after serving nine years of a twenty-year sentence for the manslaughter of his wife, Samuel Rowatt was this morning before Magistrate Denison in the police court for committing a brutal assault on his second wife, with a prospect of having his patrol repealed. Should he be convicted of this last assault he will have to serve the remainder of his sentence which will mean a further seven years.

The story of Mrs. Rowatt disclosed a sad state of domestic affairs since the two were made one on May 4th last.

"Last night my husband came home," she declared, in the witness box, whither she carried her infant child. "He was drunk, and was in a horrible temper. He started to break up the furniture, and when I told him to stop he turned on me and struck me on the head with a teapot."

"Is that the first time he has assaulted you?" asked Crown Prosecutor Corley.

"Oh, no," she said. "I'm afraid of my life. Whenever he gets drunk he goes crazy and I catch it. Two days after we were married he struck me, and two weeks after we were married he threatened to kill me."

"Did you know he was a murderer when you married him?" asked the magistrate.

"No. I didn't know that," she replied.

"Didn't you throw some hot water at me?" he asked.

"No, I didn't," she answered emphatically.

Magistrate Denison commented that it seemed as though the license of Rowatt would have to be revoked. In the meanwhile he will be remanded for a week.

It is thirteen years ago since the tragedy that Rowatt has suffered for was perpetrated. The police recall it as a most brutal crime. Coming home drunk one day he shot his wife three times. One of the bullets glanced on to her spine. As she was on the way to the hospital in an ambulance she felt that here days was numbered.

"I'm never going to get better," she told Detective Wallace, who accompanied her there. She lingered for a year, and died twelve months after to a day. The time that had elapsed prevented a charge of murder being preferred against Rowatt, and he was convicted of manslaughter and sent to the Kingston penitentiary for 20 years. Good conduct earned him an early discharge and on May 4th, 1907, he was released.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Advocated Mr. Howard as Chief of Police.

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Dear Sir,—I read the letter in your paper yesterday in which a writer recommended that when a new chief of police is appointed, the new man should be the head of both the fire brigade and the police. Your correspondent did not mention any names in his letter. There is no misunderstanding the meaning of his letter. He evidently was thinking of Chief Howard of the fire brigade. The man who wrote that letter has a good head on his shoulders. Chief Howard is just the kind of man for chief of police. He is clever, fearless, well posted, knows every foot of the town and would make a fine chief of police.

The man who wrote that letter knows, for sure that the people of Peterborough are taxed as high as a man can afford to pay, with provisions the price they are now. If Chief Howard could be made chief of police as well as chief of the brigade, Peterborough would save about $2000 a year and get better work than she does now. I would like other ratepayers to give their opinions. We could save money and get better service by employing Chief Howard to run both jobs.

Respectfully yours,
J. L. RIDPATH.

The First Aerial Derby Has Started

London, April 27.—The first aerial derby in history started this afternoon, when Louis Paulhan, the dare devil Frenchman, and Graham White the Englishman, who made the attempt last week, set off in rival aeroplanes, to capture the $50,000 prize offered by Lord Northcliffe for a trip to Manchester, 186 miles away, with but two stops, the distance to be covered in 24 hours.

Paulhan left first, getting off, despite adverse winds, at 5.30 p.m. At 6.32 White set off. Both aviators were wildly cheered by the crowd which had gathered early and waited all day for the start.

About 6 p.m., Paulhan reached Berkhamsteed, 28 miles from the starting point. He had traveled at the rate of 42 miles an hour. The wind was then dropping at Paulhan was at an altude of 500 feet.

Paulhan at 6.37 passed Bletchley, 47 miles from the start, one quarter of the way to Manchester. He was flying splendidly.

When Roosevelt Reaches London

London, April 26.—The arrival of Col. Roosevelt in London on May 16 will make the early part of the London "season" the liveliest the British capital has ever known.

Already every prominent hotel has its rooms engaged for the three weeks Roosevelt will be here.

Ambassador Reid will be the colonel's principal entertainer. Aside from the King and Dorchester House the Reid's city house and Wrest Park, their country place, will be temporary centers of English social activity.

The King and Queen will give the first State ball of the season at Buckingham Palace.

At Chesterfield and Sutherland houses, the American Duchesses of Roxburghe and Marlborough, formerly Misses Goelet and Vanderbilt, will entertain. Other hostesses will be the Marchioness of Dufferin and Ava, the Countess of Granard and Essex. Ladies Cheylesmore, Naylor-Leyland, Newborough and Innis-Ker, and Mrs. John Ward.

Among Americans who have indicated that they will be here at the time of Roosevelt's visit are Countess Szechenyi, J. Pierpont Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt, Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius, Jr., Mrs. Ogden Goelet, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Goelet, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, and Mrs. Ogden Mills.

Struck by Train

The little two-year-old child of John Robinson, who lives on Bonicord street, near the Monaghan road, was struck by a G.T.R. engine last night. The child's condition is serious. It was reported late last night that the little one had succumbed to its injuries, but on inquiry it was found to be only a rumor.

Secured B.A. Under Difficulties.

Kingston Standard: Miss Hazel Sanderson, Peterborough, who passed her examinations at Queen's and secured her B. A. degree, is deserving of the highest praise. Miss Sanderson was sick in the General Hospital and her physician advised her not to take her examination. She was determined to write and the doctor finally yielded. She was allowed to sit up in bed an hour each day and write under the supervision of a lady on Queen's staff.

Mr. William Graham of Viamede, was in the city yesterday. Mr. Graham said there was every indication of a very busy season at the lakes this year.

Grew Dull, Lost Snap, Vim.

A man never realizes the strain of life until failing ability to work brings it sharply home to him. "I am an insurance agent," writes Mr. W. E. Nemmo of Montreal, and to make commissions, a man must have both energy and snap. My digestive organs began to give out; first a sluggish action of the bowels filled my blood with humors. A little scratch would fester and my face get red and pimply. Hot rushes of blood to the head made me very irritable and prevented sleep. I thought I could exercise it off, but the more I did the more strength I lost. Finally I asked my druggist to recommend a pill that would cure constipation and slow-acting liver—he endorsed Dr. Hamilton's. The first dose told me he had hit it right. So active yet so mild in action—no trouble to take Dr. Hamilton's Pills. I think them a wonder. I am now as fat as ever, bless all gone, energy enough to get business and give me pleasure and interest in life. Dr. Hamilton's Pills I consider a wonder."

COLD ON THE CHEST.

Had Suffered for Weeks—Used Fourteen Different Remedies Without Effect.

No stronger proof of the wonderful merit of Nerviline could be produced than the letter of Miss Lucy Mosher, who for years has been a well-known resident of Windsor, N.S.

"I want to add my unsolicited testimonial to the efficacy of your wonderful liniment.

TESTIMONIAL NO. 3785 "Nerviline," I consider it the best remedy for a cold sore throat, wheezing tightness in the chest, etc., and can state that for years our home has never been without Nerviline. I had a dreadful attack of cold that settled on my chest, that fourteen different remedies couldn't break up. I rubbed on Nerviline three times a day, used Nerviline as a gargle, and was completely restored. I have induced dozens of my friends to use Nerviline, and they are all delighted with its wonderful power over pain and sickness.

"You are at liberty to publish this signed letter, which I hope will show the way to health to many that need to use Nerviline.

CANADA AND RECIPROCITY.

Continentalism is the new term for an old ideal. The old term was condulged themselves in a feverfd advocacy of closer trade relations with the United States the people of the Republic did not even listen. Now tariff revisions has become a potent battle-cry amongst our neighbors, and reciprocity has a host of advocates. The argument is that Canada and the United States being so much alike physically, having a practically homogeneous population, and similar ideals should exchange products as freely as possible, scaling down customs dues in accordance with the ideal of tariff for revenue only. There is no difference in the argument of 1910 and that of 1890. But it is used by different people. Is there any reason why Canadians should be more attentive to it now than Americans were formerly?

The Chicago Tribune says that President Taft will do what he can to get more intimate relations with Canada. "It matters nothing to him or to other Americans that those intimate relations would deal Imperial Federation a body-blow. The interests of the country outrank Mr. Chamberlain's grandiose plans."

But what of the interests of Canada? Of course it is plain that the reciprocity campaign in the United States is wholly selfish. The population of the Republic begins to see as end to much of the natural resource of the country. The time grows alarmingly near when the whole agricultural product of the United States will not suffice to feed its own people. Iron ore beds are being exhausted. Timber and pulpwood are scarce. It is incumbent upon the United States to find new fields whence raw materials may be drawn.

If reciprocity were effected the role played by Canada would be that of Lady Bountiful. We would strip our fields, mines and forests for the advantage of American industry. On the other hand, by reason of the deafness of Washington in other days Canada has developed its industries, and has found new markets across the seas. The result has been unexampled prosperity to our people. Is there any reason why we should imperil our industrial fabric to accommodate our neighbors? If we remain firm in our attitude, the prospect is all the brighter for us to have our raw materials manufactured, or partly manufactured, within our borders.

Moreover, the "grandiose dream" of Mr. Chalkberlain is on the way to fulfilment. Our interest in the welfare and progress of the British Empire should induce us to stand "pat," and await the future with confident expectation.

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets will clear the sour stomach, sweeten the breath and create a healthy appetite. They promote the flow of gastric juice, thereby inducing good digestion. Sold by all dealers.

CONTINUED.

Hugh shivered under the regard. Did his face really tell so much?

"I don't care to be seen in town," he said. "You wouldn't either, probably, under the circumstances." His gaze dropped to his frayed coat sleeve. In his craven fear of something that he dared not name even to himself and in his wretched need he remembered a night once before when he had sidled into town drunken and reviled to a luxurious room, a refreshing bath, clean linen and a welcome.

"You're the only one in the world I dared come to," he said miserably. "I've walked ten miles today, for I haven't a red cent in my pocket, nor even decent clothes," he ended.

"That can be partly remedied," said Harry after a pause. He took a dark coat from its hook and tossed it to him. "Put that on," he said. "You needn't return it."

Hugh caught the garment in another moment he had exchanged it for the one he wore and was emptying the old coat's pockets.

"Don't mind?" said Harry with sudden contempt. "Don't you suppose I know a deck of cards when I see it?"

The thin scar on Hugh's brow reddened. He thrust into his pocket the pasteboards he had made an instinctive move to conceal and buttoned the coat around him. It fitted sufficiently.

"Look here, Harry," he began, "you were a good fellow in the old days. I'm sorry I never paid you the money I borrowed. I would have but for—what happened. But you won't go back on me now, will you? I want to get out of the country and begin over again somewhere. Will you loan me the money to do it?"

Hugh was eager and voluble now. The main to whom he appealed was his former hope. He had come with no intention of throwing himself upon his father's mercy. He had wished to see anybody in the world but him.

"If you will, I'll never forget it, Harry!" he cried. "Never, the topmost day I live! I'll use every dollar of it just as I say! I will, on my honor!"

"Honor!" he said. "Have you enough to swear by? You are what you are because you are a bad egg. You were a gentleman, but you choose to be a rogue. Do you know the meaning of the word honor or right or justice? Have you a single purpose of mind which isn't crooked?"

"You're just like the rest, then," Hugh retorted. "Just because I did that one thing you'll give me no more chance. Yet the first thing I did with that money was to square myself. I paid every debt of honor I had. That's why I'm in the hole now. But I get no credit for it, even from you. I wish you could put yourself in my place."

Harry had been looking steadily at the sallow face with its hoof print of the sister not seeing it but hearing his own voice say to Jessica: "I was my brother's keeper. I see it now." And out of the distance, it seemed, his voice answered:

"Put myself in your place! I wish I could! I wish to God I could!"

The exclamation was involuntary, automatic, the cumulative expression of every throe of conscience Harry had endured since then, the voice of that remorse that had cried insistently for reparation, dinning in his ears the fateful question that God asked of Cain. Suddenly a whirl of rage seized him, unmeasured, savage, malicious. He had despised Hugh, now he hated him—hated him because he was Jessica's husband and, more than all, because he was the symbol of his own self-abasement. A daredevil side of the old Sanderson character that he had chained and barred rose up and took him by the throat. He struck the coat outstretching with his fist, feeling a red mist grow before his eyes.

"So you paid every 'debt of honor' you had, eh? You acknowledge a gamester's honor, but not the obligation of right action between man and man! Very well. Give me that pack of cards. You want money—here it is!"

He swiftly turned the shining combination of the safe, wrenched open the door and took out two heavy canvas bags. He snapped the cord from the neck of one of them, and a ringing stream of double eagles swept jingling on the table. He dipped his hand in the yellow pile. A thought and as the heels of runaway horses was careening through his brain. He felt an odd lightness of mind, a tense tingling of every nerve and muscle.

"Here is two thousand dollars—gamble if you win it—for you shall play for it, you gambler, who pays his debts of 'honor' and no other! You shall play fair and straight, if you never play again!"

Hugh gazed at Harry in a startled way. This was not the ministerial Harry Sanderson he had known—this figure with the white, infuriate face, the sparkling eyes and the strange, veiled look. This reminded him of the reckless spirit of his college days, that he had patterned after and had stood in awe of.

"How can I play," he said, "when you know very well I haven't a red cent?"

Harry stuffed the gold back into the bag. He snatched the cards from Hugh's hand and a box of wax, an octagon wafers from his desk. There was a strange light in his eye, a tremor in his fingers.

"It is I who play with money!" he said. "My gold against your contempt! Each of those hundred red disks represents a day of your life—a day, do you understand—a red day of your sin! A day of yours against a double eagle! What you win you keep. But for every counter I win you shall pay me one straight, white day, a clean day. Head for decency and for the right!"

Hugh's eyes were fastened on the gold in Harry's fingers. Two thousand dollars! If luck came his way he could go far on that—far enough to escape the nameless terror that pursued him in every shadow. Money against red wafers? Why, it was plenty if he won and if he lost he had staked nothing. What a fool Harry was!

Harry saw the shrewd, calculating look that came to his eyes. He caught his wrist.

"Not here!" he said hoarsely. He

A De Wolf Hopper Song Free.

By special arrangement with the publishers of the music from the new song play, "A Matinee Idol," in which De Wolf Hopper is now appearing at Daly's Theatre, New York City, the New York World will publish next Sunday, May 1, the words and music of De Wolf Hopper's new comic song, "Nonsense," which is making a tremendous hit in the play.

As the demand for copies of next Sunday's World will be very large, owing to this unusual musical treat in store for its readers, it will be wise for all who desire to obtain the song to order next Sunday's World in advance from their newsdealers.

It Is Free If It Fails.

Will you do me one of kindness?
Will you tell some sick friend of mine, or
Some sick person you know of, that I will send them a Full size box of Dr. Shoop's Restorative, the only Remedy that comes ready to use, that is made entirely
Without the use of drugs, and that will positively

I do not ask you to buy Dr. Shoop's Restorative for Your friend, but merely to tell me of some sick one
Who you think would like to try it at my risk.
I do not offer this Restorative for stimulation
Or Heart or Kidney disease—but there is all wrong.
Dr. Shoop's Restorative is good direct to the Sickness.

To me it is a great satisfaction that I can Offer my physician this to any in the shortest
Time, by my prescription for full 30 days, and
If it fails to help you, the entire expense is Without Penalty.
Then why should the sick take any Chance on any other medicine, when Another does not back it just as I do by
This remarkable offer?
I also have a Rheumatic Remedy—and this

National Mining & Tunnel Company

Our mines are in the greatest camp in America, Leadville, Col., a camp which has produced $425,000,000.00, and is now producing over $1,250,000.00 per month.

We have four hundred acres in the richest proven belt of the camp, Sugar Loaf Mt., containing twelve mines, which have produced to shallow workings of 150 feet, over $2,000,000. Our big tunnel being driven in from the base of the mountain will cut these vast ore bodies at depth, and make their millions of dollars worth of ore accessible to us.

Our tunnel is now in 900 feet and progressing at the rate of 225 feet per month. We will reach our mines in five months and become a big producer before 1911 closes.

J. C. F. Christian,
Mining Engineer,
Leadville, Colorado, January 15, 1909.

From comparatively shallow surface workings, the mines of Sugar Loaf Mountain have a record production of $12,000,000 in gold, silver lead and from some mines, copper producing ores.

The organizers of your company, realizing the conditions existing, readily grasped the situation and have successfully gathered under one head 400 acres of the most valuable mining property in the State of Colorado.

EDUCATION AND CRIME.

The English have long indulged the complacent habit of comparing their criminal statistics with those of other and less law-abiding lands. But a recent blue book disconcerts them with figures showing the progressive increase of crime in England during the past ten years. In 1900 the number of prisoners tried for indictable offences was 53,000. In 1905 it was 61,000. Of late it has risen to 70,000.

Various reasons are assigned. Emphasis is laid on the fact that the largest increases were in industrial districts and the deduction is drawn that the cause is unemployment. Constables are almost unanimous in the opinion that the trouble is largely due to a growing leniency in imposing sentence.

But the fact should be recognized that there is no necessary correspondence between an advance in public education and an advance in public morality. Education, it is true, equips the young, but as often with a weapon for evil as with an implement for good. After all, the grist of crime, in England and America, is ground through the elementary schools. If religious instruction is impracticable, then at least ethical instruction should not fail. The social sense should be cultivated and the young citizen taught his duties as well as his rights. The ensuing benefit, whether in public or in private life, would be marked.

A PRACTICAL FARMER.

The Member for East Peterborough Speaks.

In Committee of Supply at Ottawa the member for East Peterborough, scored against the Minister of Agriculture. Mr. Sexsmith is a practical farmer. For twelve years he has been a director of the Farmers' Institutes Therefore, he speaks with authority upon agricultural. He has looked over the Dominion Government farm near Ottawa, and found something wrong there. As a result he was able to poke fun at Mr. Fisher. The light and graceful manner of his attack quite pleased the Opposition members. This Government institution, he remarked, was called the Experimental Farm. On the occasion of his visit he found implements stored away for the winter all covered with clay. The ordinary tiller of the soil cleaned and oiled such utensils before laying them by for the season, but no doubt the authorities at the Experimental Farm were merely experimenting to ascertain the effect that mud would have upon them. He discovered farm machinery in an open shed, and encased with two or three inches of ice. Perhaps the Government wished to find out how complicated steel implements would weather such treatment. Hogs he discovered wallowing in filth, but this, of course was another scientific experiment. Finally, he compared the Ottawa farm with the Ontario Agricultural College, much to the advantage of the latter. All that the minister could do was to promise that he would institute an inquiry into the conditions described.

FRENCH AGGRESSION.

Lively Debate In the Senate at Ottawa.

There was quite a lively debate in the Senate at Ottawa over the request that there should be another French Canadian Senator and High Court Judge for Ontario. This request came as a result of the meeting of the Educational Conference held some time ago.

Referring to this matter, the Kingston Standard says that it should be the aim of all of us, no matter of what race or creed, to build up a homogeneous Canadian people with common aspirations and ideals. A request to appoint either a judge or a senator, because he is a French-Canadian or an English Canadian makes for a division along the racial lines. That is the very thing we must try to avoid. A judge or a senator should be appointed not because he is French or English but because he is fit for the position and has rendered service to the State.

If we carry this idea to its legitimate conclusion, then we shall have the Germans in Canada, of whom there is a large number, and the Jews who are steadily increasing in numbers and every other race demanding the appointment of a judge or a senator of their own nationality. When the matter is looked at in this way, the absurdity of the request is at once evident. No government can for a moment consider a request of such a nature. Nationality except Canadian nationality can not be taken into account in making appointments to the senate or the judiciary.

The fact is that there has been no demand made by the French Canadian people in Ontario for either of these positions. The demand was made by some friends of an aspirant or aspirants for these appointments. A hunger for office was the cause of the whole movement.

TRADES ARBITRATION COURT DECIDES MEN SHOULD GET INCREASE.

Cost of Living Is Up—A Further Increase in Wages Will Be Granted on October 1st.

Berlin, April 21.—The out in the building trades in Berlin will in all probability be settled, in consequence of a decision by the Trades Arbitration Court, granting the men a small increase in wages, beginning August 13, with a further increase on October 1. The representatives of both sides have accepted this decision, and the court's terms are now in the hands of the master's and men's unions, who will probably accept them.

In the meantime many contractors in various parts of the empire, express a wish to discontinue the lockout, and the action taken in Berlin will strongly influence the movement.

The arbitrators considered the demand of the workers for an increase as fully justified, owing to the increased cost of living.

AMERICAN CAPITAL IN CANADA.

Amount of American Money Invested in This Country.

A statement has been issued at Ottawa on the amount of American capital invested in Dominion industry and enterprise. The total is placed at $227,000,000, which is probably a moderate estimate.

In referring to the above the Chicago Record Herald says:

"American capital goes to Canada for the same reason that prompts American farmers and miners to go there—opportunity. Canada is sound, prosperous and largely undeveloped; she needs plenty of muscle, brain and gold. She is getting these things, and will continue to get them for decades. There is nothing strange, regrettable or marvelous about the phenomenon, and we are not disposed to think that any sensible American does regret it. Canada is a good neighbor and excellent customer, and the richer she is the better for our producers and traders. Under any policy our capital and land-hungry farmers would find Canada alluring.

"Still, it is true, that a certain or uncertain proportion of American capital has been forced into Canada by our high tariff, and that liberal reciprocity would tend to keep such capital at home. Here is, in truth, a good argument for reciprocity, though not a new one. There are other good pro-reciprocity arguments as there are for such complete freedom of trade between the United States and Canada as James J. Hill and others are advocating. The barriers between the two people are purely artificial.

CONSUMPTION.

This Will be a Red Letter Year for Canada.

The year 1909 will be marked in the calendar as a red letter year in the history of the crusade against consumption. The movement received a great impulse from the congress of distinguished physicians which was held in Washington, U. S. in the autumn of 1908 to consider the further measures to be taken to stamp out this dreadful enemy to the life and happiness of mankind.

Canada in common with the rest of North America, perhaps we should say the whole civilized world, has participated in the renewed and increased activity which resulted from the deliberations of the congress.

Never since the organization of the Canadian Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis has there been such activity displayed in Canada in this fight for life. Older branch associations have been re-invigorated, new associations have been formed which are showing in many cases a vigorous activity. Several new institutions for the relief and treatment of consumptives have been opened and the demand for our literature has been larger than ever. Take it all in all 1909 was a year of great progress in the work of the association.

The tenth annual meeting will be held in Montreal on the 7th June next and preparations are being made to make this one of the best, if not the best meeting in the history of the Association.

Boys Too Young After Jobs.

Local merchants and others, who are in the habit of employing young boys are advised to make sure that they are over fourteen years of age. Complaints have been made and in some cases boys under this age have been found playing truant from school and employed at stores and other places. One youngster who essayed to play a dual role in this respect, received a reminder yesterday morning, on his return to school that may bear fruit.

Preparing for the Season.

The steamer Water Lily with a large scow went north yesterday and will be away about ten days engaged in removing wood from points on Ball Lake to Sturgeon Point for use of the steamer Manita during the coming season. About two hundred cords of wood will be required to get up steam aboard the Manita during the summer months.

From Moosejaw to Buy Local Goods

As an indication of the success of Peterborough industries, it might be mentioned that yesterday, Mr. Frank O'Neill, a harness maker of Moose Jaw, Sask., now on aneastern business trip, came the whole way to place a large order for goods with Ackerman's harness factory. Mr. O'Neill spoke in glowing terms of business conditions in the far West, and also of the reliability of Peterborough made harness.

Chimes Fund Increasing.

The St. John's church chimes fund seems to be very popular. In addition to the amount subscribed as noted in Monday's issue of The Times further sums have since been subscribed. The chimes fund now totals $2000. Letters have been received from Mr. T. F. Matthews and Mr. Hill strongly endorsing the fund as one appealing to the public in general. Great credit is due to Rev. Canon Davidson, the rector, and Mr. Alex. Elliott, for the good work done in a cause that will result in a public benefit.

The old fashioned way of dosing a weak stomach, or stimulating the Heart or Kidneys is all wrong. Dr. Shoop first pointed out this error. This is why his prescription — Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed entirely to the cause of these ailments —the weak inside or controlling nerves. It isn't so difficult, says Dr. Shoop, to strengthen a weak Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, if one goes at it correctly. Each inside organ has its controlling or inside nerve. When these nerves fail, then these organs must surely falter. These vital truths are leading druggists everywhere to dispense and recommend Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Test it a few days, and real Improvement will promptly and surely follow. Sold by all dealers.

Hon. W. S. Fielding, minister of finance, has been presented with $120 000, by his political friends. Pshaw! The idea of a trifling sum like that. We defy any one to prove that any newspaper reporter in Peterborough has ever accepted, let alone been offered, so insignificant an honorarium

It must cost a lot advertising the multitude of patent medicines now on the market. As far as the benefit derived from some of them goes sufferers would derive more good from a month or two in Peterborough with trips to Kawartha and Rice Lakes during the summer.

A keeper at the Bronx Park Zoo, was yesterday clawed and bitten by a bear. He should come to Peterborough and get sympathy from a local government official who spent one whole night up a pine tree to avoid wolves the settlers have heard howl some years before.

VOL. XXXIII NO. 99 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO FRIDAY APRIL 29 1910 PRICE TWO CENTS

OLD MAN WAS KILLED NO MOTIVE KNOWN

INTEREST IN THE STONY CREEK MYSTERY IS STEADILY INCREASING.

Looks Like Foul Play—The Evidence That Murder Was Committed by Some One is Strong.

Hamilton, April 28.—A little white business card bearing the name of J. Williams, a local stove dealer, which was smeared with a stain closely resembling blood was found yesterday afternoon in a coat on a dray in a stable belonging to the Finton homestead, a mile east of Stoney Creek, where Friday, Elijah Finton, one of Saltfleet's wealthiest farmers was found Monday afternoon with his skull crushed in. A thorough investigation by the police yesterday and the result of the autopsy which was made known only to them resulted in Chief Twiss of Dundas, declaring last night that it was a case of coldblooded murder.

The red stained card may play an important part in the chain of evidence the police are weaving. They have a theory but what it is they refuse to disclose.

If this is true the theory the police at first adopted has been shattered.

COULD NOT FIND INSTRUMENT.

Chief Twiss and the officers under him made a thorough search of the scene of the murder yesterday in the hope of finding the instrument with which the fatal blow was struck. Their efforts were futile, but they discovered an old well on the farm which they intend dragging today.

George Lynch Staunton, who acted for Florence Kinrade, has been retained by the family. The police have failed to establish a motive for the crime. That there was no sordid motive behind it is evident, as the jewelry in the old man's clothes was not taken.

"It all points to one center," said the chief last night, "but what that is I am not prepared to state at present."

ENGLISH AVIATOR IS FLYING ON

WHITE ROSE TODAY TO CONTINUE HIS TRIP TO MANCHESTER.

The Winner is Received—Tells Lord Mayor He Would Have Been Pleased if White Had Equaled Him.

London, April 28.—Claude G.White undismayed by the fact that Paulhan had won the $50,000 first money in the flight from London to Manchester, reconsidered his determination to abandon the trip, and started at 5.02 this afternoon to complete if possible his own flight to Manchester.

He left from Polesworth, where he had been forced to descend, and was flying fast at an elevation of about 200 feet, when he passed out of sight of the village.

FASTER THAN TRAINS.

Manchester, April 28. — Paulhan was given an official reception by the Lord Mayor of Manchester this afternoon, prior to his departure for London. He told the lord mayor that he would have been very happy if White had arrived at the same time he did.

Paulhan's actual time, officially determined, as already given, at 4 hours and 11 minutes, is considerably less than the average running time of the trains from London to Manchester, and only 41 minutes more than the fastest express when covering the route. A movement is on foot to erect a memorial on the field where Paulhan finished, in commemoration of the Frenchman's superb flight.

Louis Paulhan is 27 years old. While a mechanic in the workshop where the dirigible balloon Ville de Paris was constructed less than two years ago, he won a prize for a toy aeroplane in M. Lepine's toy exhibition. The prize was an aeroplane offered by M. Voisin, but it had no motor in it, and Paulhan had to continue his work until he could raise sufficient funds to buy one. Friends came to his aid and bought him a propeller.

ROYAL COMMISSION.

Investigating the Great Waterways Railway Deal.

Winnipeg, April 28.—The Alberta Royal Commission appointed to investigate the Great Waterways Railway deal opened up this morning, and, despite the attempt to hold up the proceedings, most of the witnesses summoned were on hand. W. S. Clarke, president of the company, however, was not on hand. The chief interest centered in the evidence of G. D. Minty. Before testifying Mr. Minty made a statement that he was Minty made a statement that he appearing voluntarily. He objected to the statements which had been made by Mr. W. R. Walsh that he had fled from the commission at Mr. Bennett, he said, had [illegible] a hounder from Winnipeg.' [illegible] that declaration have been privileged by the commission.

"Never has a witness been so defamed," said Mr. Minty.

W. R. Walsh, counsel for the commission, claimed that he was examining Minty not voluntarily but under order of the courts of Manitoba, take back, and he had no apologies to make. He left Edmonton the night before the commission sat and left his testimony in an uncompleted stated He also did not produce all the documents desired. "I have not a word to take back." Mr. Bennett also said he was prepared to repeat every statement he made at Edmonton.

The commission came face to face with a startling turn when Mr. Minty announced that on April 20th he resigned his position as solicitor for the Great Waterways Railway Company, and handed over all documents to E. R. Clarke, brother of W. R. Clarke, and president of the construction company. All he had saved was the minute book of the railway company, so that Mr. Minty has no documents to present. The last he had heard from Mr. Clarke was by telephone. He did not know where he was, but thought he had gone to Kansas City.

IMPRESSIBLE JIMMY WILL WALK AGAIN.

Port Hope Veteran Pedestrian to Undertake Port Hope-Toronto Walk Again.

Mr. James Reynolds received a reply from Mr. John Seip of Galt, this morning, stating that he would accept his offer of $500 to $1,000 to walk to Toronto and return in 34 hours on June 20th. Reynolds, it will be remembered, offered the above wager, or $300 to $600 that he could make the journey in 35 hours on May 24th. Mr. Seip preferred to wager more money and allow Jimmy less time.

Jimmy is quite pleased that his offer has been accepted, and an agreement is now being prepared. Mr. Reynolds will go to Toronto in a few days with the agreement and also $50 to bind the bargain.—Port Hope Guide.

Very often the cheapest and poorest production yields most profit. Some dealers with their own profit in view try to "push" inferior preparations when Zam-Buk is asked for. They talk about "just as good" or "practically the same," etc.

Not one dealer knows what is in Zam-Buk! If any dealer tells you that something else is "just as good," ask him how he knows!

Besides, the imitation is never as good as the genuine article. When buying Zam-Buk, therefore, be sure and see the name on the packet. The name is protected by law, and therein lies your safety.

QUEEN'S TO DROP CHURCH FEATURES

Its Denominationalism to be Abolished if the Report is Adopted—Commission is 10 to Nine

Kingston, April 28.—By a vote of ten to nine, the commission of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, appointed to take up with the Board of Trustees of Queen's the question of making certain changes in the constitution of the university, decided yesterday afternoon to recommend to the assembly that the report of the joint committee be adopted.

Two reports will be submitted to the assembly—a majority report and minority report. The letter signed by the nine who voted nay will set out that there was not sufficient information before the commission as to what effect the changes proposed would have on the future course of Queen's. The report of the committee removes denominational restrictions regarding the board of trustees.

The following are the principal constitutional changes, recommended by the commission:

The corporation shall consist of trustees, professors, graduates, and benefactors, instead of all members of the Presbyterian church. None of the trustees must of necessity be members of the Presbyterian Church. Now 27 of the 37 trustees must be members of that church.

That laymen as well as ministers shall be eligible for the position of principal. At present the principal must be a minister of the Presbyterian Church.

The board of trustees to consist of chancellor, rector (who shall be elected by students every three years), principal, minister of education for Ontario, assessor appointed by minister, two members to be appointed by the corporation of Kingston, one member from each affiliated college, six members to be elected by university council, six by graduates, four by benefactors, and twelve by present board of trustees.

That $200,000 be set apart by the university for its endowment and maintenance of theological college, with accommodation, light, heat and attendance satisfactory to the board of management of Queen's University. This same being given to the theological hall.

The theological faculty shall be governed by a board of management, consisting of 25 members, appointed by a general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, five to retire annually.

"The advocates of the changes," replied the principal, "hope they are such that the university will retain the sympathy and interest of the Church. Of course, the adoption of the report recommended by the Commission would mean that the university would pass from the control of the church, although the faculty of theology would still be a part of the university."

WILL Guard Theodore Roosevelt in London

London, April 27.—The Intelligence Department of the British Foreign Office, the most mysterious secret service in the world, has been detailed to gaurd Theodore Roosevelt during his stay in England.

Scotland Yard will, of course, hedge the colonel around with detectives and uniformed police, but they will not be called to account should any harm befall the colonel. The responsibility will fall upon the Intelligence Department.

This bureau's agents will be constantly in the crowds and nearest to Roosevelt. They already know the whereabouts of most of the anarchists, cranks, and malcontents in Great Britain, and none of these will be allowed within gunshot of the colonel.

The agents of the department are mostly drawn from the lists of army officers. They are the brainest men in the service, but of modest means, who piece out their meagre pay by work in the secret service.

HONORS IN PARIS.

Paris, April 27. — French soldiers fought, cannons were wheeled in action and a regiment of dashing cuirassiers charged against the smoking batteries today, all in honor of Col. Roosevelt.

In the way of thrills, it almost equalled the real thing, and as the battle ended with the charge of the cuirassiers the colonel rose in his saddle and cheered.

Two brigades of infantry, two regiments of cavalry participated in the sham fight. Roosevelt was accompanied on the field by Major Mott, military attache at the American embassy and Gov. Dalstein, who directed the manoeuvres.

This afternoon Roosevelt went to Versailles. Tonight he will probably see "Chantecler," Rostand's famous play, in which the characters appear as birds and animals.

Principal Gordon Favors the Change

Kingston, April 28.—Principal Gordon, when asked today if he had any thing to say regarding the recommendations of the Commission of the General Assembly regarding the proposed changes in the constitution of Queen's, said that he thoroughly approved of the recommendations and hoped that they would be adopted by the Assembly.

"Do the proposed changes mean a total seperation of Queen's and the Presbyterian Church?" was asked.

"The advocates of the changes," replied the principal, "hope they are such that the university will retain the sympathy and interest of the Church. Of course, the adoption of the report recommended by the Commission would mean that the university would pass from the control of the church, although the faculty of theology would still be a part of the university."

SERIOUSLY SHOT BY A COMRADE

ALBERT ROSEBROOK, A YOUTH OF 16, BADLY WOUNDED AND IN HOSPITAL.

Had Dispute Over a Gun—Both He and Albert Beer Wanted to Have the First Shot at Crows.

Guelph, April 28.—As a result of a dispute as to who should have the first shot out of a rifle, Albert Risebrook is at present a patient in the GeneralHospital here.

The affair took place about eight o'clock at night on the farm of Mr. Alex. McCready, near Moffatt, where the wounded man and a companion, Albert Beer, were out shooting crows. When the first object of their search came in view, both marksmen wanted first shot, and a dispute arose. The wounded man says that Beer shot at him, while Beer contends that it was an accident. Risebrook also states that Beer had shot at him on other occasions.

The bullet, which was from a 22-calibre rifle, entered the wounded man's back, penetrated the muscle, and afterwards passed through the spinal column. The bullet has not been located. The lining of the spinal cord was torn, and a portion of a broken bone was pressed down against it.

An operation this morning relieved this, and also gave life to the patient's right limb, which was paralysed as a result of the accident The patient is resting easily, but his recovery cannot be assured for at least a couple of days. An investigation is being made. Risebrook is 18 years of age.

BLIND 15 YEARS NOW SHE SEES

MRS. HEMSTEAD OF 66 PALMERSTON AVENUE, HAS HER SIGHT RESTORED.

Operation on Each Eye—Performed by Dr. F. C. Trebilcock—Nervous Trouble Cause of Blindness.

Toronto, April 28.—After being blind in both eyes for 15 years, a skilful operation has restored her sight to Mrs. Elizabeth Hemstead, a widow, who resides at 66 Palmerston avenue.

When she was 35 years old, Mrs. Hemstead suffered from nervous troubles, which are supposed to have blinded her. Until last summer all was dark to her. Then Dr. F. C. Trebilcock, of 722 Spadina avenue, operated on one eye, and when the bandages were removed after two weeks, Mrs. Hemstead was able to see quite plainly out of it. For nine months she has been able to get around and even venture out on the streets with only one eye to give her sight.

The operation was so successful that she resolved to try to restore the sight of the other eye also, so at the Western Hospital on Tuesday, she underwent a second operation, Dr. Trebilcock again officiating. Although the bandages are yet on the eye, Mrs. Hemstead asserts that she knows the second operation is just as great a success as the first.

Mrs. Hemstead is the mother of eight children, most of them grown up. She has many friends in the city who will be delighted to hear that her sight is restored.

DO YOU USE PILLS?

If in Doubt About the Right Pills to Use Read the Following. Letter Carefully:

"I am one of those persons whose system requires aid," writes Mr. Young Gledhil, from Picton, "but it is so easily affected by reason of the great sensitiveness of the bowels that ordinary drastic pills inflict great injury to the delicate coating and excite such persistent activity as to be with difficulty checked.

"I wish in the highest terms to express the great value of Dr. Hamilton's Pills in cases like mine, and I am sure also for elderly people and the very weak, there is no pill like them.

"Speaking of my own experience with Dr. Hamilton's Pills, I can say they have proved the most stimulating pills for the liver I have found. I have proved their tonic action upon digestion, and the same results have been secured by friends upon whom I have urged their use. The manufacturers are to be congratulated upon possessing so valuable a prescription and the public should know that so valuable a remedy has been placed at their command."

No other pill for constipation, for liver, kidney, or stomach trouble, compares with Dr. Hamilton's Pills; they are mild and sure always to restore health. Refuse substitutes. Sold by all dealers. 25c. per box, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

THIEVES BREAK IN AND STEAL —NOTHING.

Burglary at the Crystal Awards the Perpetrators Nothing.

During the "wee sma' hours" of yesterday morning a determined effort at burglary was carried on at the Crystal, Peterborough's popular place of cheap amusement. When Mr. Edwards, on Wednesday night, after the evening performance was concluded, went to get his cash from the office, and to count up his tickets as usual, something, possibly a presentment, warned him to take even the few coppers he sometimes leaves in the till. This premonitory warning meant a saving to him of just as many coppers as he might otherwise have left.

At the rear of the Crystal, towards Water street, are two fire escape doors, opening from the stairs leading from either aisle. Between these doors is another door located there before the Crystal was in operation. Yesterday morning when the "cleaning up" staff arrived they found that the central door had been forced and the glass broken. The thieves had evidently gone at once to the ticket office looking for money. The door between the auditorium and the "seat of Ceasar" was forced open. The cash drawer was not only forced, but broken to pieces in the thieves' frantic search for the "unearned increment." As noted above, Mr. Edwards had fortunately removed even the coppers that are sometimes left in the till. Acting Chief of Police Adams has the burglary in hand and has clues that will probably result in arrest of the thieves. It is thought that boys were the enterprising but baffled burglars.

MEETING FOR TONIGHT TO DISCUSS THE CHIMES

It Now Seems That Peterborough Will Have Bells That Will Be a Credit.

Owing to the great interest that has been aroused, and the splendid financial co-operation offered in connection with the St. John's church chimes, it is now suggested that this matter be taken up in a broader way. The committee that has done such efficient work in collecting funds for this generally popular movement have called a meeting of subscribers for tonight at eight o'clock in the Bank of Montreal Chambers. As a slight indication of what is possible, it is worth recording that yesterday a member of the committee made use of the following expressions:

"It is becoming to be more and more generally realized that the whole city is necessarily interested in this movement as any mistake might result in jarring and unpleasant sounds while a beautiful richtoned chime would waft pleasing melodies over the whole city and suburbs."

It now seems more than probable that St. John's church will soon have a set of chimes that will be a credit to the city at large, and incidentally a last tribute to those to whose exertions the chimes were possible.

BRITAIN DOESN'T NEED ASSISTANCE

Kitchener Says She Can Take Care of Herself without Children's Aid—West Indies and Trade

London, April 28.—Lord Kitchener interviewed with reference to the defence of Australia, said that for £1,700,000 a year Australia will, in due course, have a complete system that will make here secure against attack. She will no longer need to look to the Mother Country for an instant, for aid in the event of danger. The amount of money is but trival to such a rich country.

Kitchener added that England is not decadent. Whatever anyone may say or think her sons are as good as ever and as full hearted. She is quite able, under God, to determine her own destinies. She needs help from none of her children or from strangers. She can quite take care of herself.

"She has yet full youth of days, I assure you," said Kitchener.

WEST INDIES AND CANADA.

London, April 28.—Dickson Poynder, speaking to the West Indian Club emphasized the necessity of West Indian sugar marchants employing modern methods in reference to the prospect of reciprocity between the Islands and Canada. He hoped that the West Indies as a whole would come into the scheme. He believed that the people of Canada and the Islands realized that this rare opportunity was not one to be missed to improve and increase their trade interests, to unite two important parts of the British Dominions, and add another bridling link to the chain of Empire.

THOSE EMPIRE MESSENGERS.

POPE RECEIVES SBARRETTI.

Rome, April 28.—The pope received in private audience Monsignor Sbarretti, who presented his report on the position of the Catholic Church in the Dominion.

"NO ENGLISH NEED APPLY."

London, April 28.—The publication of the "No Englishmen Need Apply" advertisement, and the editorial repudiation thereof in the same paper, "Western Canada," has aroused comment here. The Globe says that we have met Canadians in England who were quite satisfied to conditions of work here as some Englishmen admittedly at times in Canada. There is rather too much what we may call "slow old country" patter about a good many of our visitors, and an assumption of superiority that is unconsciously amusing.

Big Strike Looming Up in the Labor World

Montreal, April 28.—Strikes, lockouts and a protracted labor war loomed largely on the horizon today when international labor union leaders of the Paper Hangers and Decorators, Iron Workers, Bricklayers and Builders arrived in Montreal to discuss the situation. All the trades have made demands for increase in wages before the 1st of May. So far no satisfactory answers have been received from employers. It looks as though all hands were preparing to strike.

Lord Kitchener Has Got The Baton

London, April 28.—King Edward handed Lord Kitchener the baton of Field Marshal at an audience at Buckingham Palace today.

The government seems to have decided definitely that Lord Kitchener shall take up the Mediterranean appointment in spite of the popular clamor in favor of placing him at the head of the home forces.

In the House of Commons this afternoon, Richard Burdon Haldane, Secretary of State for War, stated that it was proposed that Kitchener should shortly commence his duties as Field Marshal and commander-in-chief of the Mediterranean, with headquarters at Malta.

New York, April 22.—According to members of the firm of Harper and Brothers, Mark Twain's publishers of late years, the noted humorist died a very wealthy man, worth probably $1,000,000 or more, even after he had sacrificed one great fortune to pay the debts of a failed publishing firm in which he was financially interested.

PAULHAN WON THE RACE AND $50,000

Trial on Charge of Wife Murder

Toronto, April 28.—George Tate Blackstock, K.C., received word today from the attorney-general's department that he had been appointed Crown prosecutor, to act at the trial of Archie MacLachlan, which takes place at Whitby on May 9th.

MacLachlan, it will be remembered, is the young man whom a coroner's jury and a magistrate found guilty of murdering his wife at Uxbridge last fall. The house in which the family lived caught afire shortly before midnight, and when the flames were extinguished, the dead bodies of his wife and two of his children were taken from the house.

Medical evidence at the inquest went to show that a quantity of strychnine was found in the stomach of the dead woman, and since then the bodies of the two children were exhumed for examination. The results of the examination will be forthcoming at the trial.

FLEW FROM LONDON TO MANCHESTER, 186 MILES, WITH BUT ONE STOP.

Was Cold and Exhausted — White, His English Rival, Generously Acknowledges His Superiority.

"Paulhan is the world's greatest aviator. By the side of him I am a novice. Three cheers for Paulhan. Although I didn't win the prize, I wish Paulhan luck." — Claude G. White.

"I said I would win the $50,000 prize. I would have liked to finish without a stop, but it got too dark and too cold. My admiration for White's plucky flight is the highest." —Louis Paulhan.

Its length—London to Manchester, 186 miles.

Time—From start to finish, 12 hours; in actual flight by Paulhan, 4 hours 11 minutes.

Competitors— Louis Paulhan of France, winner, and Claude G.White of England, loser. The latter was forced to give up after flying 107 miles.

London, April 28.—If the Englishman, White, instead of the Frenchman, Paulhan, had won the great aeroplane race from London to Manchester, and the $50,000 prize that went with the victory, England's cup of happiness would be running over today.

There is no disposition to withhold from the dashing Frenchman the laurel for the greatest performance in the history of aviation, but that a clever ruse on his part, the product of his more nimble mind, had almost as much to do with the victory as his skill, is the statement freely made today.

White is at Polesworth, 107 miles from London, having made his descent there at four o'clock this morning.

Nearly all of the conditions of the race favored Paulhan. Not only is he a far more experienced aviator than White, but he got a start of 72 minutes on the Englishman. His machine was in better condition than that of white's, which had just come from the repair shop. In addition Paulhan used a Farman racing machine, while White's machine, also a Farman, was not of the racing type.

Paulhan declared today that the London Manchester trip, 186 miles, may easily be made without a stop. "I could have done so yesterday," he said, "but for the cold and darkness. My fuel was sufficient and the machine worked perfectly. I could have continued another hundred miles under favorable weather conditions."

KISSED BY HIS WIFE.

One of the first persons to greet Paulhan at Manchester was his wife, who had kissed him good-bye at Hampstead at the start of the race, and then journeyed on to Manchester on a special train.

Henri Farman, builder of the successful machine, was also in the crowd of 5,000 that pressed around the Frenchman when he stepped from his machine the recognized aero plane hero of the world.

The flight was not only the most spectacular on record, but in many respects the most daring. Most of the flying was done after dark, and Paulhan and White were able to pick their course only by the lights along the railway track. The start was made in a strong wind that frequently caused the machines to swerve and dip dangerously.

But none of this seemed to faze Paulhan, who had always been noted for his recklessness.

White, with characteristic British pluck, accepted the gage of battle thrown down by the Frenchman and proved himself a really great aviator by reaching Polesworth without a mishap.

HIGH WIND BEAT WHITE.

The seventy minutes that Paulhan gained on White at the start was man this morning, when he assembled man this morning, when he ascended at Roade at 2.50 this morning, or one hour and 19 minutes before Paulhan re-ascended at Lischfield. He was 63 miles behind Paulhan at the time, however, and his attempt to steal a march on Paulhan was of no avail, and at 4 o'clock, still 79 miles from Manchester, he alighted a second time. A high wind forced him to descend, and not trouble with his motor, as at first reported.

Notwithstanding that it was announced early last evening that both aviators had alighted for the night thousands of people in Manchester and London remained awake all night to hear the result.

All of Manchester was out when Paulhan arrived there at 5.32, and the police had to form a solid cordon about him, to get him to the auto that whisked him away to his hotel.

Gypsy Murphy Sent on for Trial

Shawville, Que., April 28.—Magistrate Rainville of Aylmer, has sent Michael Murphy, Shawville, who recently shot and instantly killed Harry Bowes and William Dale here, up for trial.

Annie Murphy, the wife, is having her preliminary hearing here this afternoon. She is charged with complicity. A Toronto lawyer named Holmes wrote the coroner here offering to defend Murphy, but a reply was sent back intimating that his services were not needed, and that there were Quebec lawyers on the spot to act.

Prove the Presence of Rheumatic Virus, Which is Cured Quickly by Nerviline—Rub It In.

"A few weeks ago I ate some green vegetables and some fruit that was not quite ripe. It first brought on a fit of indigestion, but unfortunately it developed into hiccoughs, accompanied by nausea and cramps. I was dreadfully ill for two days—my head ached and throbbed; I belched gas continually, and I was unable to sleep at night. A neighbor happened in to see me and urged me to try Nerviline. Well, I wouldn't have believed that any preparation could help so quickly. I took half a teaspoonful of Nerviline in hot sweetened water, and my stomach felt better at once. I used NerviHine several times, and was completely restored."

BACK TO THE LAND.

Mr. W. J. White, inspector of Canadian immigration agencies in the United States, makes the prediction that Canada will receive this year 150,000 people from that country. Of these 35 per cent. will be native Americans, 20 per cent. returning Canadians, 15 per cent. natives of the British Isles, and 30 per cent. Germans and Scandinavians. No problem of assimilation presents itself in regard to this addition to our population. It all traces its origin to Northern Europe—roughly speaking, to the portion of the European continent lying north of the 50th parallel of latitude. By a natural process, we are obtaining exactly the sort of population we would have picked. It is an immense gain to Canada, and at first sight appears to be an immense loss to the United States.

But only at first sight. It is better for the United States that these people should move into Canada and become producers of food than that they should move into American cities and become food-consumers, adding to the cost of living. When the American farmer leaves Dakota, Minnesota, Iowa, or Nebraska, his old farm is not deserted, but is taken up by some other American possessed by the land hunger. "Back to the land," is a cry which has been taken up with vigor by the United States Government, by the governments of various States, by the railway companies, by men like James J. Hill. There is a movement toward the Southern States, now recovering from the blight of slave labor, and toward Mexico. Irrigation is converting deserts in fertile tracts. Intensive farming is taking the place of the wasteful prodigal methods of the old days.

In this way there is a rivalry for settlers and farmers, but it is a healthy rivalry, benefitting the whole, North American continent. The American farmer who moves into Canada and raises wheat or cattle helps to make bread and meat plentiful in both countries. The farmer who moves into a Southern State helps to make tropical and semi-tropical foods of all kinds, as well as cotton, more plentiful in both countries. The strain upon the great cities is relieved. The power of trusts, combines and monopolies is weakened when men go back to the soil, and when new centers of population are formed.

Coughs that are tight or distressing, need quick and certain help from Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy. On this account Druggists everywhere are favoring Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy. The tender leaves of a harmless lung-healing mountainous shrub give to Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy its curative properties. These leaves have the power to calm the most distressing Cough, and to soothe and heal the most sensitive bronchial membranes. Test it once yourself and see. Sold by all dealers.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

UNPLEASANTRIES OF LAW.

It would seem to be time that the marriage laws of Quebec and Ontario were made to harmonize. According to the statutes of Lower Canada a youth cannot marry without consent of his parents, if he is under age. People in Ontario who are not aware of this law sometimes form alliances that become not only embarrassing but troublesome. The case of the Gober wedding is an evidence. Miss Gober, Principal of a ladies' college in Kingston, was married to W. Agnew, a Montrealer, under twenty-one years. Under the Quebec law the ceremony was illegal and a fight has been going on in the courts ever since until the other day when the tie was annulled. Now the bride finds herself without a husband, and with nothing to solace her feelings except the satisfaction of having waged a good fight. It is regrettable that the happiness of two persons should be thus blighted by a difference in laws in neighboring provinces.

SOUTH AFRICA'S NATAL DAY.

The suggestion is advanced by Mr. H. R. Pousette, Canadian Trade Commissioner at Durban, that May 31st, the first natal day of United South Africa, be celebrated by the flying of flags on every school from coast to coast throughout the Dominion, opens the question of general recognition of the national holidays of sister colonies.

In the Almanac of the Empire another day is to be printed in red, inasmuch as it celebrates the formation of a new and self-governing nation within British domains. The event cannot but be regarded as one of high and far-reaching importance. It marks the incorporation into the Empire of a people who were only the other day our enemies, a sturdy and virile race, descendants of the Huguenots, and those Dutchmen who showed such heroism and fortitude in the struggle which finally freed Holland from the power of Spain. In the union, both Briton and Boer have much over which to feel glad.

The celebration should afford a good opportunity to present to the minds of the school children of Canada an object lesson in the greatness of the Empire to which they belong, and the importance of the events happening within its confines. It should also reveal the kinship of one people with another, and the cordial interest one maintains in the other.

The suggestion of Mr. Poussette is a splendid one, and if no more than a few flags were put up the act would serve a unifying purpose.

AN OPPORTUNE TIME.

A statement issued by the Department of the Interior shows that out of a total area of 334,000,000 acres in the Canadian West, the surveyed area is only 145,000,000 acres. The total area homesteaded is only 44,000,000 acres, and the total area under grain crop last year was less than 12,000,000 acres. Of this less than 7,000,000 acres produced 147,000,000 bushels of wheat. The total area cultivated is only about 1.26 of the total land area. Yet, upon this small area 147,000,000 bushels of wheat were produced. When 28 times this amount of land is cultivated and producing wheat the output almost staggers estimation. It certainly goes to show that the future of the grain-growing and milling industry will be the greatest of all our industries. The Maple Leaf Milling Company would seem to be starting their enlarged operations at a most opportune time.

FRENCH AGGRESSION.

There was quite a lively debate in the Senate at Ottawa over the request that there should be another French Canadian Senator and High Court Judge for Ontario. This request came as a result of the meeting of the Educational Conference held some time ago.

Referring to this matter, the Kingston Standard says that it should be the aim of all of us, no matter of what race or creed, to build up a homogeneous Canadian people with common aspirations and ideals. A request to appoint either a judge or a senator, because he is a French-Canadian or an English Canadian makes for a division along the racial lines. That is the very thing we must try to avoid. A judge or a senator should be appointed not because he is French or English but because he is fit for the position and has rendered service to the State.

If we carry this idea to its legitimate conclusion, then we shall have the Germans in Canada, of whom there is a large number, and the Jews who are steadily increasing in numbers and every other race demanding the appointment of a judge or a senator of their own nationality. When the matter is looked at in this way, the absurdity of the request is at once evident. No government can for a moment consider a request of such a nature. Nationality except Canadian nationality can not be taken into account in making appointments to the senate or the judiciary.

The fact is that there has been no demand made by the French Canadian people in Ontario for either of these positions. The demand was made by some friends of an aspirant or aspirants for these appointments. A hunger for office was the cause of the whole movement.

AMERICAN CAPITAL IN CANADA.

A statement has been issued at Ottawa on the amount of American capital invested in Dominion industry and enterprise. The total is placed at $237,000,000, which is probably a moderate estimate.

In referring to the above the Chicago Record-Herald says:

"American capital goes to Canada for the same reason that prompts American farmers and miners to go there—opportunity. Canada is sound, prosperous and largely undeveloped; she needs plenty of muscle, brain and gold. She is getting those things, and will continue to get them for decades. There is nothing strange, regrettable or marvelous about the phenomenon, and we are not disposed to think that any sensible American does regret it. Canada is a good neighbor and excellent customer, and the richer she is the better for our producers and traders. Under any policy our capital and land-hungry farmers would find Canada alluring.

"Still, it is true, that a certain or uncertain proportion of American capital has been forced into Canada by our high tariff, and that liberal reciprocity would tend to keep such capital at home. Here is, in truth, a good argument for reciprocity, though not a new one. There are other good pro-reciprocity arguments as there are for such complete freedom of trade between the United States and Canada as James J. Hill and others are advocating. The barriers between the two people are purely artificial.

CONSUMPTION.

The year 1909 will be marked in the calendar as a red letter year in the history of the crusade against consumption. The movement received a great impulse from the congress of distinguished physicians which was held in Washington, U. S. in the autumn of 1908 to consider the further measures to be taken to stamp out this dreadful enemy to the life and happiness of mankind.

Canada in common with the rest of North America, perhaps we should say the whole civilized world, has participated in the renewed and increased activity which resulted from the deliberations of the congress.

Never since the organization of the Canadian Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis has there been such activity displayed in Canada in this fight for life. Older branch associations have been re-invigorated, new associations have been formed which are showing in many cases a vigorous activity. Several new institutions for the relief and treatment of consumptives have been opened and the demand for our literature has been larger than ever. Take it all in all 1909 was a year of great progress in the work of the association.

National Mining & Tunnel Company

Our mines are in the greatest camp in America, Leadville, Col., a camp which has produced $425,000,000.00, and is now producing over $1,250,000.00 per month.

We have four hundred acres in the richest proven belt of the camp, Sugar Loaf Mt., containing twelve mines, which have produced to shallow workings of 150 feet, over $2,000,000. Our big tunnel being driven in from the base of the mountain will cut these vast ore bodies at depth, and make their millions of dollars worth of ore accessible to us.

Our tunnel is now in 900 feet and progressing at the rate of 225 feet per month. We will reach our mines in five months and become a big producer before 1911 closes.

J. C. F. Christian,
Mining Engineer,
Leadville, Colorado, January 15, 1909.

From comparatively shallow surface workings, the mines of Sugar Loaf Mountain have a record production of $12,000,000 in gold, silver lead and from some mines, copper producing ores.

The organizers of your company, realizing the conditions existing, readily grasped the situation and have successfully gathered under one head 400 acres of the most valuable mining property in the State of Colorado.

CANADA AND RECIPROCITY.

Tariff Revision Has Become a Potent Battle Cry.

Continentalism is the new term for an old ideal. The old term was confined themselves in a feverish advocacy of closer trade relations with the United States the people of the Republic did not even listen. Now tariff revisions has become a potent battle-cry amongst our neighbors, and reciprocity has a host of advocates. The argument is that Canada and the United States being so much alike physically, having a practically homogeneous population, and similar ideals should exchange products as freely as possible, scaling down customs dues in accordance with the ideal of tariff for revenue only. There is no difference in the argument of 1910 and that of 1899. But it is used by different people. Is there any reason why Canadians should be more attentive to it now than Americans were formerly?

The Chicago Tribune says that President Taft will do what he can to get more intimate relations with Canada. "It matters nothing to him or to other Americans that those intimate relations would deal Imperial Federation a body-blow. The interests of the country outrank Mr. Chamberlain's grandiose plans."

But what of the interests of Canada? Of course it is plain that the reciprocity campaign in the United States is wholly selfish. The population of the Republic begins to see an end to much of the natural resource of the country. The time grows alarmingly near when the whole agricultural product of the United States will not suffice to feed its own people. Iron ore beds are being exhausted. Timber and pulpwood are scarce. It is incumbent upon the United States to find new fields whence raw materials may be drawn.

If reciprocity were effected the role played by Canada would be that of Lady Bountiful. We would strip our fields, mines and forests for the advantage of American industry. On the other hand, by reason of the deafness of Washington in other days Canada has developed its industries, and has found new markets across the seas. The result has been unexampled prosperity to our people. Is there any reason why we should imperil our industrial fabric to accommodate our neighbors? If we remain firm in our attitude, the prospect is all the brighter for us to have our raw materials manufactured, or partly manufactured, within our borders.

Moreover, the "grandiose dream" of Mr. Chamberlain is on the way to fulfilment. Our interest in the welfare and progress of the British Empire should induce us to stand "pat," and await the future with confident expectation.

How Uncle Sam Converts Bullion Into Beautiful Coin.

In a vault in the mint at Philadelphia are piles of bricks made of solid gold. Each brick is only as large as a cake of kitchen soap, but it weighs about forty pounds. In another vault the silver bullion is kept. These bricks are much larger and much heavier. Both of these metals are to be made into money for the United States. When the gold coins are to be made the precious metal is mingled with copper and other metals to make it hard. Pure gold is so soft that it can be scratched with the finger nail, so is never used even for jewelry. After the gold has been hardened by adding the other metals to it it is made into ingots, which look like long gold wedges. They are about a foot long, as wide as a twenty dollar gold piece and two inches thick.

When the silver comes from the melting room it, too, is poured into strips or bars. The ingots of both metals are treated in the same way in the making of coins. One might think that our gold pieces and silver coins are made in molds, but a visit to the mint would show that to be untrue. The precious metals are rolled out into thin bands until they are of a certain width and thickness. These strips of gold or silver are then run under steel punches, which cut the metal into disks.

Each piece is then weighed by very exact scales, for each coin must contain so much gold or silver. After the weighing these blanks are converted into rims of gold, so that all the dirt may be eaten off of them. When dry, the blanks are put into long tubes, through which they pass one by one between two dies. The upper die stamps the face of the coin, while the lower stamps the back. The great pressure of the two dies coming together has just force enough to make the impressions on the coins clear and distinct.

GRAY SQUIRREL'S LUCK.

How It Came About That He Secured a Handful of Nuts.

Gray Squirrel had a nest up in a maple tree near the kitchen door, from which he could peep down to see what Mrs. Reed, who lived in the house, put out a crisp crust of bread or a couple of nuts for his breakfast. Every morning he would watch, and kind Mrs. Reed never forgot to throw out something nice for him.

That morning, when Gray Squirrel peeped down at the house, there on the porch stood the grocery boy with a small basket of nuts. The boy knocked at the door, but no one replied, so he finally placed the basket on the sill and went away.

Now, Gray Squirrel knew that never before had Mrs. Reed put so many nuts on the porch for him, and who else could she be buying nuts for? And, besides, that was where his nuts were always put. No sooner did the boy leave the yard than down the tree scampered Gray Squirrel in a hurry. He sat right there and ate one nut, holding it between his front paws, as squirrels always do. Then, taking them one at a time in his mouth, he carried them up to his nest till his nest was filled.

There were only a few nuts left in the basket when Mrs. Reed came out to see if it were there, and how surprised she was to see that they were almost all gone! She glanced up at the tree where Gray Squirrel sat chattering his thanks and said: "Gray Squirrel, you've been a little pilferer. Those nuts were not all for you."

But Gray Squirrel only chattered faster and looked straight at her with his bright eyes, as much as to say, "I thank you for leaving so many nice nuts for me."

A Coin and Card Trick.

Place on the forefinger of your left hand, held upright, a card; on the card place a fifty cent piece. You can remove this card without disturbing the coin. To do this you must flip the card forcibly with the middle finger of the left hand. The pasteboard will be propelled across the room, and the coin will remain upon the finger.

A Trick With Money.

Place, for example, on a table three pieces of money in this manner:

O O O

and propose to any one to take away the middle one without touching it.

How to do it: Take the right hand piece and place it upon the left; consequently the middle one has become the right hand one and is no longer in the middle.

Questions and Answers.

What is born at the same time of the world, destined to live as long as the world and yet never live to be old? The moon.

Why are clouds like a contentment? Because they hold the rains (reins).

Why should a hen be called absurd? Because we wish her to lay on.

Why is the letter G like the sun? Because it is the center of light.

The Lime Juice Club.

Sir Richard McBride, president of the Lime Juice Club, called on The Times yesterday, and stated that a meeting of the club would take place this evening, in the Hall of Wisdom. He expected that all the old members as well as several hundred new ones, would be present. A full report of the proceedings will appear in The Times tomorrow.

Hogs to Fatten at Buckhorn.

Yesterday Messrs. W. A. Stabler & Son, bought eighty-six live hogs on the market for Messrs. Matthews & Sons. The firm of Stabler shipped a carload of prime cattle, including forty-three veal calves to the Toronto market. They also bought a car load of hogs for fattening purposes from Indian River. These hogs will be distributed between Peterborough and the cheese factory at Buckhorn. Messrs. Stabler also sent some store hogs to Lakefield.

Local Ladies Dress Well.

Yesterday a commercial man, who travels for one of Montreal's largest dry good houses, in conversation with a Times representative, remarked in a most emphatic way: "In my business I travel from Halifax to Vancouver, and twice every year go to Europe. I want to tell you Mr. ————, that in all my travels I never met with a town or city, even twice the size of Peterborough, where the average woman you meet on the streets is as well dressed as are the ladies of your city. Now, this is no "josh" or compliment, its a real fact that Peterborough has the best dressed women of any town its size I was ever in."

Not Seriously Injured.

Little Clarence Robinson, son of Mr. John Robinson, Boasecord St., whose life was saved by the prompt action of G.T.R. section men on Wednesday night at the ill-fated spot where little Frances O'Brien was recently killed, was reported yesterday as being none the worse for his narrow escape. Foreman Armstrong of the G.T.R. sectionmen on Wednesday, by a narrow margin, grasped the little toddler from certain death, just before a train passed. Fortunately the engineer of the approaching train saw the warning given him by the sectionmen who saw the child playing on the tracks and put on the emergency brake.

The old fashioned way of dosing a weak stomach, or stimulating the Heart or Kidneys is all wrong. Dr. Shoop first pointed out this error. This is why his prescription — Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed entirely to the cause of these ailments —the weak inside or controlling nerves. It isn't so difficult, says Dr. Shoop, to strengthen a weak Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, if one goes at it correctly. Each inside organ has its controlling or inside nerve. When these nerves fail, then these organs must surely falter. These vital truths are leading druggists everywhere to dispense and recommend Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Test it a few days, and see! Improvement will promptly and surely follow. Sold by all dealers.

Miss McCann Again Scores.

Last night Miss McCann was again welcomed by an enthusiastic and appreciative audience in the splendid new T.A.S. Hall on Simcoe street. The Australian vocalist once more delighted a local audience by her grand voice and clear articulation. This, the second opening night of the local temperance society was well attended and a program equally as good as that of Wednesday was presented. This vast society of practical temperance advocates are to be congratulated, not only on the splendid work they have accomplished in the cause of temperance, but on the result of their efforts in getting so commodious and well furnished a home.

Illegal Fish Causes Trouble.

In all due confidence a little story of an George street merchant is here given. It seems that this enterprising merchant is particularly fond of fish, but especially of maskinonge. A few days ago, or, to be exact, six days ago he bought a fine maskinonge from an Indian. Now his love for fish stilled the dictates of his conscience. Maskinonge at this time of year is among the forbidden fruit. Theref[illegible] are now on the taboo list. The merchant, six days ago paid a price for a ten-pound maskinonge in proportion to the risk he and the seller ran. On the night of his purchase, the merchant was particularly busy. The fish was put away in a sandsack apot in his store cellar. Next day business called him from town and the fish was forgotten. For [illegible] that two days, [illegible] and eventually to the odors [illegible] an [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]
